Two Narrowly Escape Death In Plane Accident

Two Hilltop men narrowly escaped death Nov. 7 when planes in which they were flying collided in mid-air with other craft.

One of the two air crashes occurred just east of Lockbourne when two Navy corsairs collided. Lt. (j.g.) W. S. Keller, 171 S. Eureka-av, piloted one of the planes and Lt. (j.g.) D. M. Coil, Delaware, manned the second. Both planes landed safely at Port Columbus.

The second air crash occurred in the vicinity of the Sullivant Avenue Airport. A Navy training plane piloted by Lt. (j.g.) Carl E. Flam of Middleport and a civilian plane, bought at a war surplus sale, owned and flown by Stanley W. Young, Jr., of Westerville were involved in the accident. After the collision, the Navy plane flew on to land at Port Columbus. Young landed his craft at the Sullivant-av field. The second Hilltop man, Robert C. Sullivan, 2479 Sullivant-av, was uninjured as he landed in Young's damaged plane.

Phil Young Is "Fair" After Auto Crash

Phil Young, 314 N. Burgess-av, a 16-year-old West High baseball pitcher, was listed as "fair" at Mt. Carmel Hospital after striking a tree at 12:45 a. m., Nov. 8.

According to police, Young was driving down Broad-st when he passed a police cruiser. Not having a driver's license, he sped up. After crashing two red traffic lights in his haste, the police took up the chase. A wild ride through streets and alley-ways followed. Police reported during the chase, Young's auto reached 70 miles an hour.

As he turned on Eldon-av, the car swung out of control and struck a tree.

An emergency squad ambulance took him to Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Anyone between the ages of three and eight is invited to attend this session during which one-half hour is devoted to coloring and painting; another to singing games; and the last with a visit to meet Mother Goose and her friends who will appear each Saturday in costume.

Any girls between the ages of 10-15 who are interested in playing in the Glenwood Girls' Sport Program, on Monday afternoons, may call Miss Matthews at the center. For girls between the ages of 15 and 20, a basketball league has been formed for Monday evenings. Practice for the latter will be held on Monday evening at 7:45.

Boys Show Interest In Aviation In New Pre-Flight Study Course

By Myron Seifert

West High School is the only high school in the city that offers something different in the way of elective courses for senior boys. It is called "pre-flight". Developed during the war, it is restricted to 12th grade boys.

The class is directed by O. C. Montgomery, physics instructor. Here the boys learn the elementary principles of flying, in a regular class and laboratory period. The boys are expected to master the technique of plotting an aerial course, the general mechanics of the airplane and other necessary incidentals to aviation.

A prerequisite for the course is math and it is advisable to take physics since many pre-flight principles are based on elementary physics laws, Mr. Montgomery said.

In this class, the boys learn the theory of flying. Two boys who have pilots' licenses, however, say that the class is invaluable if one is planning to fly.

The class meets seven periods a week, and one regular high school credit, as in any other recognized courses, is given upon satisfactory completion of the work.

The military situation as it is today, including the emphasis in selective service of youth and national defense, has given added impetus to the work.

Condensed soups were first canned in 1869.

Mary Henize Helps Plan "Y" Program To Be Given Nov. 18

An Old World Market, international dinners, and a Club Internationale will be features of the World Fellowship Night observance at the YWCA Thursday, Nov. 18.

Helping to plan the numerous events of the evening is Mary Ellen Henize, 136 Columbian-av, of the Business Girls' club.

The evening's program will include a variety of "international" features, beginning with a European and an Oriental dinner. The dinners will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m., and reservations may be made through Monday, Nov. 15 by calling Ad. 9121.

Following the dinner hour, an Old World Market will take the spotlight, with guests visiting the treasure shops to select handmade articles, colorful home decorations, tasty sweets, and other items.

Also participating in the celebration will be members of the Y-Teen club at West High School. These girls will mingle with guests in their roles of flower and balloon vendors.

It Really Is Nerve-Wracking

Our editorial for the week was written by a reporter on a downtown daily in a story carried last week headed "Parking Space Easy To Find IF . . . It follows, in part:

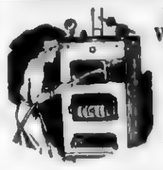
If you are one of the harried thousands looking for a place to park downtown you'll have no trouble finding one—if:

1: You're lucky.

2: You park at least a mile from the downtown area.

3: You arrange to make your trip downtown at around 2 a. m. when parking places are as available as handshakes at a political meeting.

4: You park in downtown parking lot. (At times not so easily done).



5: You give up in disgust and drive into the river, screaming appropriate condemnation on the inventors of this modern gasoline contraption.

The city is trying to do something about the I-can't-find-a-place-to-park-fellow, according to the reporter.

We offer this solution: Do your shopping, insofar as possible, in your home community. Residents of the Hilltop should let this be little bother to them. Hilltop stores offer a wide array of merchandise at prices really lower in many instances than you will pay downtown.

In any event if you shop on the Hilltop you won't have to park so far away you have to take a bus to get to the shopping district. Save the wear and tear on your nerves, buy on the Hilltop.

News of Rome

By Mrs. E. C. Sheets

After a four month illness at the home of a daughter, Mrs. James Whalen, Buena Vista-av, died there last week. She was buried Friday afternoon after services in the Columbus Heights Church.

She was a native of Delaware, O., one of five daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Emerson. She is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Arthur Cottrill, Delaware; Georgeann Emerson, Columbus; Mrs. L. A. Browne, Los Altos, California; and Mrs. Stanley Stall, Greenfield, California.

She was an active member in the DAR and the WSCS, and an employee of the Larkin Co., in Buffalo for 25 years. Because she was a great admirer of Rev. and Mrs. Horace Dewey who were missionaries in China, the Monitor Class, the WSCS and the Columbia Heights Church gave their flower offering, in the name of Mrs. Ella McKendree, to Rev. and Mrs. Dewey, rather than send flowers for her services.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Sampson (La Donna Coulter), announce the birth of a son in Mt. Carmel Hospital. They have named him Roger Beech.

The ladies of the Monitor Class had their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. George Barret, Lennox-av. Sixteen members enjoyed the delicious refreshments served by the hostess. It was decided to hold their meeting every two weeks until the Bazaar. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Harold Kings.

Mrs. and Mrs. Robert Denman entertained the Rome Card Club Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Kent Richey were the guests for the evening.

The WSCS of the Columbia Heights Church will hold its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Russel Brooks, Maple-dr, Wednesday, Nov. 17th, instead of at the church. It will be pot-luck.

We are glad to welcome to our community, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Geiple of Columbus, who have purchased the Ivan Rings property on Lennox-av.

Mrs. Royar and three sons spent Thursday afternoon visiting with her sister, Mrs. Ruth Frizzel, who now is located on Duncan-st. Mrs. Frizzel has lived for several years on the Hilltop.

Mr. Royar and Mr. Amicon of Grandview are deer hunting in Canada. Mrs. Amicon was dinner guest at the Royal home Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder entertained her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Jackson, and two daughters of Huntington, Ind., over last week-end

Mr. and Mrs. Cordell of Maple-dr, are in Atlanta, Ga., attending the Rabbit Convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Yeater entertained Mr. and Mrs. Jobe, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Hienzman, Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Romesier and Mrs. Emma Elliott spent last week visiting at Painesville and Cleveland. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Claris E. Jones, former residents of Columbus.

Briggsdale And Brown Road

By Mrs. Harry C. Downing

Mrs. Arthur P. De Vennish, 1509 Harrisburg-pk, Briggsdale, was elected chairman of the John Earl Briggs Ray of the Columbus Cancer Clinic when the group met for its October meeting at the home of Mrs. Joseph B. De Vennish, 2215 Harwitch-rd. The Ray is composed entirely of relatives of Dr. Briggs. Mrs. Lewis, Morehead, Sr., Groveport, was made vice chairman, Mrs. Merritt Cheney, Briggsdale, treasurer, and Mrs. Joseph Briggs, III, secretary, Mrs. Joseph Briggs, Sr., Briggsdale, is to serve again as honorary chairman. She is Dr. Briggs' grandmother. Mrs. Claude Briggs will be pad chairman and Mrs. Arthur P. De Vennish, Jr. was made chairman of sales tax stamps.

Mrs. George Goodrich, Mrs. Walter Poenisch, Mrs. Paul Wichterman and Mrs. Walter Spanable of the Wilson district and Mrs. Harry Downing of Briggsdale, attended the annual school of instruction of the Columbus and Franklin County Council of the PTA last Thursday at the Southern Hotel.

The Laurel Class of Briggdale Methodist Church held an all day class meeting last Wednesday at the home of Anna Dyer, Dyer-rd.

Mr. and Mrs. William Eisenbach, Big Run-rd, spent last Thursday and Friday with the former's parents in Pandora, O.

Robert Himler of Twenty-second-av, Columbus, was the week-end guest of Richard Goodrich, 1905 Jackson-av.

John Jones, Jr., of Briggsdale, was honored on his twelfth birthday last Wednesday when his mother arranged a surprise party in his school room with the entire class, its teacher, Carrie McKinley, and Mrs. Harry Downing and son, Steve, as guests.

Charles Thompson and his daughter, Carolyn, age eight months, 1684 Linnet-av, were injured one evening last week when their car was demolished in a collision with another, one mile south of Columbus on the Harrisburg-pk. Both have been released from the hospital although the baby suffered a concussion and a leg fracture. The second car was driven by William Sothard, 1631 Harrisburg-pk.

Mrs. William Eisenbach and Mrs. Wendell Lewie, 2278 Big Run-rd, are to be hostesses at a plastic demonstration this evening at their home. Mrs. Cook will be the demonstrator.

Anyone wishing to help the Wilson School Mothers with their quilting may call RA. 9090 or RA. 0347. The quilt is set up at the home of Mrs. Alfred H. Robertson, 1053 Brown-rd.

Vision Care Is Needed By One Out Of Every Two In America

Seventy million Americans do not see properly and need professional vision care, according to the American Optometric Association.

Reports on millions of visual examinations, covering all age groups, show that one out of two persons needs glasses or some other form of correction to see most effectively.

"Visual inefficiency ranks second only to neglected teeth among the country's most prevalent health problems," said Dr. John B. O'Shea, Northampton, Mass., optometrist, who is president of the association. "Fortunately, however, fewer than five per cent suffer from any disease of the eyes.

Modern Life More Exacting

"Most vision difficulties are non-pathological and can be corrected by proper professional attention. To improve the visual status of the nation, we need:

"First, to recognize our deficiencies for such exacting tasks as driving an automobile and handling our jobs in a technological civilization.

"Second, to recognize the fact that modern science can correct most visual handicaps."

Dr. O'Shea pointed out that good vision is much more important today than in the past. He said that the average American reads about 16 times as much as his grandfather did, he drives an automobile on increasingly crowded highways, and he works at a job that requires accuracy of vision both for good production and for safety.

"The science of visual care has made more progress in the last two decades than in all previous history," he said. "By taking advantage of corrective measures available today almost no one needs to be handicapped by inefficient vision.

Progress In Correction

"Until a few years ago glasses were prescribed for almost all visual problems which were not caused by disease. Today millions are achieving correction by visual training, exercises which train muscles and nerves used in seeing. Now, too, we know much more about lighting and other factors which can aid vision.

"Modern optometry tries to prevent visual difficulties as well as correct them."

Dr. O'Shea said that although visual problems increase with age, persons under 40 are most likely to neglect their difficulties. He said that visual inefficiencies often creep up so slowly that one is unaware of them unless he is examined.

"Many persons consider themselves in need of visual assistance only when they become unable to read small print," he said. "In reality, by that time their capacity for continuous seeing at bench or book or other near task usually has been lowered considerably. Proper periodic professional visual attention is the best way to assure efficient seeing ability for work, study or play."

Los Angeles claims to have had the first movie theatre in operation, back in 1902 when the admission was 10 cents.

He Will Head Xmas Seal Sale

Harold K. Schellenger

The appointment of Harold K. Schellenger, director of public relations for the Byer and Bowman Advertising Company, as chairman for the 1948 Christmas Seal Sale for Columbus and Franklin County was announced this week by Mrs. Hymes Pitner, president of the Columbus Tuberculosis Society.

Mr. Schellenger, who resides at 516 Piedmont-rd, was director of public relations at Ohio State University for 15 years before accepting the position with Byer and Bowman. He is chairman of Community Health Services, Inc. and the Community Services Council. The Christmas Seal sale will open on Nov. 22, and continue until Christmas.

"Christmas Seals provide the only source of income for the Tuberculosis Society," Mrs. Pitner said, "and the extent of our program depends entirely upon a successful sale of seals."

BIBLE COMMENT

FOR NOV. 14

Prophets of Israel Have for Us A Moral Message

WHAT of the past, present, and future? Among almost all peoples there have been wise men, soothsayers, magicians, who professed to have an uncanny knowledge of events and an insight into the future. But the prophets of Israel are unique in history in the place that they occupied in the life of the nation and in their character of courage, firmness and integrity.

Who were these prophets and what exactly was their role? They were many, as we can see from various references in the Old Testament. But the prophecies of only 12 "Minor Prophets," and a few "Major Prophets," have come down to us.

The "Minor Prophets" were not minor in the sense of being inferior in character, courage or forcefulness to the "Major Prophets," but only in the fact that their prophecies and their careers were on a lesser scale. Also, here and there we have glimpses in the pages of the Old Testament of prophets of whom we have no recorded writings, but whose integrity and moral courage revealed the high quality of the prophetic office—men like Nathan, who rebuked King David in a display of fine fearlessness (II Samuel 12), and Micaiah (I Kings 22), who had equal courage in speaking the unpleasant truth to kings.

The Hebrew prophets had convictions, and they suffered for their convictions and their words. But they never flinched, or compromised the word of God.

What, then, was their role? Two views, sometimes conflicting, prevail. In the one view these Hebrew prophets were foretellers, predicting events to come, reaching even far down into the future.

In the other view the prophets were forthtellers, speaking to their times, with their prophecies to be interpreted in the light of those times, and the events that were happening.

In foretelling or in forthtelling, it is the moral qualities of vision and of judgment that dominate all. We read the prophets in vain unless we get their moral message.

During World War II, the U. S. Navy for the first time had more installed diesel power than steam power.

We believe no cemetery in the Columbus area has as many sections with appropriate Memorial Shrines dedicated to members of fraternal organizations and their families as are in Sunset. Witness the section set aside for all Masonic organizations, Spanish-American War Veterans, Fraternal Order of Eagles and veterans of all wars. The Memorial Shrine, recently erected on the last-named sections, is a dignified work of art. All of the Shrines must be seen to be fully appreciated.

You are invited to drive in over our recently re-surfaced roads, and inspect them.

West Captures City Title By Defeating North 19-0 In Downpour Friday Night

By Paul Wichterman

For the second consecutive year West High School will retain the Chic Harley trophy, emblematic of wearing the City League football crown. The honor was assured by a 19 to 0 victory over North last Friday night on a rain-drenched gridiron at Magly Feld.

The occasion was one of great rejoicing for the many Hilltop fans who helped make up the nearly 7500 who sat through an almost constant downpour of rain that started shortly after 6 o'clock and continued throughout the evening. It was the ninth West win in the 35 game series between the two schools. The Polar Bears have dominated the series by winning 24 of the contests while two resulted in ties.

Although the Cowboys still have Linden McKinley to meet tomorrow night, last week's victory assured the Hilltoppers of their seventh City League title. The Linden-West game will be played at Magly Field tomorrow night at 8. There will be 7200 seats available for fans to watch this game. West now enjoys five league wins and has lost only one game in the last 19 contests.

Winning the championship this year was something of a personal triumph for Coach Mack Pemberton and his associates, Dave Randall and Fred Heischman, since they started the season with only one of last year's first stringers and only three lettermen. It was the second grid title to be won by West since Pemberton came to the Hilltop school three years ago.

There could be little doubt of the West superiority in the minds of the fans following last week's tilt. The Cowboy line was great. It outcharged the Polar Bear offensive at almost every turn, while Quarterback Paul Theisen turned in his best performance of the year. The soggy field definitely handicapped North's speed merchant, Lockwood, but it did not explain why Rodger Moritz, plunging fullback, could not penetrate the West line more effectively.

The Cowboys scored first midway in the onening quarter. Taking possession of the ball on their own 40, the Hilltoppers marched down to the Polar Bear 9-yard stripe. At that point Theisen gambled on a pass play that was good to Jim Rudolph, who raced into the end zone. The try for extra point was not good.

Again the Cowboys staged a march from the North 42 with Dick Culbertson accounting for 9 yards. Theisen made it first down on the 28 but two plays later he cocked his arm for a pass and the slippery ball slid off the palm of his hand for an interception by a North player. The bad break was quickly reversed, however, when on the second play Charles Zepp fumbled and Theisen recovered on the visitors' 29

Culbertson failed to gain but Gene Brown raced to the 9. On a reverse Culbertson carried to the 3 and with 25 seconds remaining on the big clock, Theisen pushed over for the second touchdown. Theisen again rushed the ball on the quarterback sneak and made good the extra point.

The visitors tried desperately to get back in the ball game during the third period but they were never able to dent the West 35-yard stripe.

Again it was Culbertson who gave the fans something to cheer about as he reeled off 37 yards, running from his own 35 to the North 28. However, West was forced to kick and again North tried to start a rally. This was broken up when Lewis Seiple fell on a Polar Bear fumble on the West 45.

This time West moved as far as the 14 but the North line held and the visitors took the ball. The triumph was short lived, however, for two plays later Cliff Voss recovered a Polar Bear fumble on the 15, setting the stage for the third West TD. Brown, on a double reverse, squirmed and bucked his way down to the 2 and then Theisen carried the slippery pigskin into pay dirt.

With the Cowboys leading 19 to 0 the North cause began to look hopeless but few of the fans were leaving their seats. The visitors fumbled three or four more times but recovered in each instance, and the game came to a close with the ball on North's 43-yard marker. Only twice had the visitors been able to get into Cowboy territory and then never inside the 35-yard line.

The scene that followed in the West dressing rooms was one that could come only after a championship has been won. Coaches Pemberton, Heischman and Randall were tossed under the showers, clothes and all, but they could get little wetter than they were already.

If anyone complained about the incessant rain, it was the visitors. The West fans were drenched but having just won another championship, they loved it.

Aquinas Team Scores 6-0 On Reserves

By Dave Miller

West's reserve football eleven took its second straight loss on the chin last Thursday afternoon when the team bowed to league-leading Aquinas' reserves, 6 to 0. It was the winners' fourth victory of the season in as many outings.

The overall record for the local reserves stands now at four wins, three losses. On Sept. 23, the West Siders beat the Pataskala varsity, 29 to 13, and on the following Thursday trounced Bexley's second stringers, 20 to 6, at West. Then, they opened City League play with an 8 to 0 loss to East, but kept on fighting by downing South's seconds, 6 to 0. On Oct. 21, the Hilltoppers slaughtered a weak Central eleven, 40 to 0, and then on Oct. 27, in a non-league encounter, the Grandview seconds took a 13 to 0 decision.

Queer thing of the Cowboys' loss to Grandview was the fact that Bexley, whom West beat rather easily, earlier in the season, beat Grandview, 14 to 0.

The Cowboy eleven, coached by Adam Brandt, backfield, and Clarence Geuth, line, tried vainly in the opening minutes of the second half to tie the game up with Aquinas, but loss the ball on downs. However, George Crissinger, tall left end for the locals, intercepted a Russ Rechling pass and ran some 65 yards into Aquinas territory, but, West had a penalty called on them, nullifying the play.

Aquinas scored on an end sweep late in the second quarter from about six yards out. The pass for the extra point was knocked down and there was no more scoring the remainder of the contest.

The first string offensive team reads like this: George Crissinger and Harry Bradley, ends; Dick McDermitt and Bob Tewell, tackles; Dick Will and Bob Thatcher, guards; Paul Ellingsworth or Jerry Frye, center; Don Nafsger, quarterback; Willy Evans, Earl Potts or Dick Briggs, halfbacks; and Ronnie James, top scorer of the team, fullback.

The schedule this week will be the same as the varsity schedule this past Friday, except the field is just the opposite. This Thursday, the locals travel to North, South goes to East, and Linden meets Central on the Pirate helm.

Football Banquet Always A Success

We know of no other event sponsored by a local organization that has a more hearty response than the annual football banquet for the West High team.

Started many years ago, it has become an annual affair, regardless of the number of games the boys have won. In three out of four times in the last four years the group has been honoring a championship team. The Hilltop can well be proud of this record.

The Hilltop Business Association is to be congratulated on this fine affair and all who attended the meeting Tuesday night were well pleased with the program. A tasty meal served by the home economics department and under the direction of Miss Emma Uncapher added to the enjoyment no end.

Dale Rose, former West coach and now coach at Capital University, did a nice job as toastmaster of the evening and the little stunts injected along the way made this program different.

Mack Sauer, publisher of the Leesburg Citizen at Leesburg, O., gave one of his rapid fire addresses filled with humor at every point and had the crowd in stitches throughout the evening. On the serious side he left some good thoughts by way of some of his own poetry.

All in all the party was a big success.

A Plea For Divorce Of Police From Politics

It is interesting to note that local city officials are advocating changes in the police department which would provide for the establishment of a police commissioner and other changes with the purpose of taking the police department out of politics.

Back in the June issue of the magazine, "Real Detective", an article headed "A Plea For Divorce of Police From Politics," written by Hilltopper Leo Phillips, former chief of detectives of the Columbus police department, was a feature.

In that article Leo advocated just this thing. He endorsed the Peterson Plan, that of the mayor appointing a committee composed of outstanding citizens, this committee to recommend qualified candidates for the position of executive head of the police department (police chief, police commissioner, etc.).

We believe the plan has merit and should be examined and acted upon.

Guaranteed Starting

Harold Smith, mail carrier at the Hilltop Post Office, a resident of Harrisburg, has his own guaranteed starting.

One morning last week he had a very difficult time getting his car started and was late to work. He parked it across from the Post Office and intended to have a garage man work on it when he came in at noon.

When noon came his car was not around. A few days later it was reported found at Lorenz, S. Carolina, none the worse for wear but apparently able to start.

Legion Breakfast Was A Fine Get-Together

When Camp Chase Post of the American Legion held an open house on Armistice Day the early morning breakfast of ham, eggs, potatoes and good coffee was enough to get anyone in a fine frame of mind for the day ahead.

But even more so, it provided an opportunity for many men of the community to meet and exchange a friendly greeting. The party was a success in every respect and one that should be repeated. All who partook of the post hospitality have a warm feeling for the boys.

Rejuvenated Alumni To Meet Tonight

By Myron T. Seifert

West High's rejuvenated alumni association will hold its initial meeting tonight, Nov. 18, at 8 o'clock in room 101, West High School, William Woolson, 211 N. Terrace-av, announced this week.

Purpose of the meeting, Woolson advised, is "to perfect an organization and make plans for the year."

All former students and graduates of West High are invited to the meeting, he said.

A membership drive with a goal of two thousand members will be launched Friday, Nov. 19, and continued several weeks.

Next week's edition of The Hilltop Record on Tuesday, Nov. 23, will carry an alumni association blank-form to be filled in and mailed to the newly elected treasurer of the Hilltop group. A 75c fee will be charged all members, Mr. Woolson said.

Tentative plans already call for an alumni-senior reception for the January class to be held in the school auditorium, Saturday, Jan. 22.

A variety show, sponsored and consisting of an all alumni cast, will be staged some time during the year, the prexy added.

Also on the agenda, an alumni reunion of all classes will highlight the school year some time next spring.

During the first part of the basketball season, an alumni game and dance will be held. The game will be designated an "alumni game"; however, no actual alumni will compete in the contest. The dance following the game will be sponsored by the local association.

Finally, plans to provide an alumni room where pictures and records of alumni interest may be filed, is in the offing.

Tryouts For Little Theatre To Be Nov. 21

The Hilltop Little Theatre announced this week that on Sunday evening, Nov. 21, tryouts will be held for the forthcoming production, "The Night of January 16th," the third of the 1948-49 season. A cast of 22 persons is needed.

Members of the casting committee with Lucille Bogue as chairman will hold the tryouts at the Hilltop YMCA, 2585 W. Broad-st, at 7 p. m.

Persons interested in amateur theatricals are invited to the meeting, whether or not they are active members of the group.

Thomas Yates Is Winner In Prof. Pig-Skin Contest

Hooray for OSU! Their exciting victory made some of the entry blank scores look a bit anemic, but Professor Pig-skin joined the rejoicing in ole Columbus.

Thomas Yates, 2820 W. Broad-st, picked all the winners and the closest possible scores and is the winner of the $10 first prize.

Coming in with a very close second second to receive two passes to the Westmont was Jack Winestaffer, 571 Nashoba-av.

Third prize, a free haircut at the Ezzo Barber Shop, goes to Bob Fette of 2182 Union-av.

There's just one more judging before the Professor takes his football, pen and paper and hibernates for the winter months.

BERMAN'S BRANCH OUT

Berman's Department Store, 1204-6 W. Broad-st, announced this week the opening of an army and navy surplus department, handling new surplus goods exclusively. Due to the large quantities purchased, exceptionally low prices appear on jackets, trousers, arctics and other wearing apparel.

HCC To Have Yule Party

The Hilltop Community Council, following out its program of activities for the Hilltop community throughout the year, announced at its meeting last week the Fourth Annual Christmas Party to be held Tuesday, Dec. 28, 2 o'clock, at the YMCA headquarters, 2585 W. Broad-st.

The program will be in charge of members of the various Hilltop PTA groups, and will be for children of elementary school age. Santa Claus is expected to be present to present the treat.

Paul Clements, claims manager of the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. and a member of the board of directors of the Columbus Big Brother organization, presented the problems and objectives of his organization to the council at the meeting last Thursday. Richard B. Pontious, field work secretary, and several Hilltop men who are also members of the Big Brothers were present.

Temperance Group Seeks Co. Local Option Vote

In a state-wide campaign which ended Nov. 1, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and the Temperance League of Ohio carried a battle for county-governed local option to citizens of 44 counties.

Object of the campaign was to file a petition through the initiative and referendum method which would make it possible for the people to vote on the local option issues by counties instead of by individual precincts, as has been done in the past.

Goal of the two temperance organizations was 100,000 signatures. With this aim, the Temperance League of Ohio and the WCTU divided the state and began canvassing the 22 counties which each organization was assigned.

On Nov. 1, at which time the signatures were filed with Secretary of State Hummel, there were 88,470 names on the petitions. Necessary for passage were 70,000 signatures.

Thus far, the temperance organizations have succeeded in eliminating beer from 50 per cent of the state of Ohio and hard liquor from about 70 per cent.

Local chairman of the WCTU is Mrs. Ethel Titus Worthen, 2567 W. Broad-st. Mary B. Ervin is president of the organization. Rev. McNaught heads the Temperance League of Ohio.

Local Carpenter Discovers Body Of Drowning Victim

Jack Kingery, 381 S. Ogden-av, a carpenter, was working at a Riverside-dr filling station on Monday, when he spotted the body of an overall-clad man, floating down the Scioto River.

Kingery first saw the body when it was near the Hayden Run Bridge, and notified the State Highway Patrol.

After recovery of the body it was disclosed that the drowning victim was Joseph F. Sickels, a tenant farmer, at 3144 Bethel-rd.

Dibbles Agree That "Good Things Come In Pairs"

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Dibble, 268 Letchworth-av, were in "quite a whirl" for a while last week. They became great-grandparents twice, within 14 minutes, on Monday.

Their two grandsons, Lloyd Dibble, 771 Yearling-rd, and Ralph C. Mitchell, 428 Columbian-av, are the proud new papas.

The Mitchell baby, Ralph III, arrived at 4:27 p. m. in White Cross Hospital. Charlene Marie Dibble was born at 4:13 p. m. in St. Ann's.

The Dibbles have quite definitely decided that "good things come in pairs."

Mrs. Dibble is the former Dorothy Jewell. Mrs. Mitchell is the former Elizabeth Tiller.

Local Teacher Collects Dolls; Wants To Retire; Pick Oranges

Miss Bess Sperry, 2255 W. Broad-st, first grade teacher at West Broad Street School, has a collection of dolls at her home which includes one from almost every existing country.

Miss Sperry and her sister, Mrs. Edward Hakola, a former West Broad Street School teacher, are both active in church activities, and like to travel. For several years in the summer vacation months while school was not in session the women traveled, to California, to Canada, to Georgia, and any other spot to which their fancies might lead them. It was during these trips that they unconsciously began collecting dolls for class room and Sunday School class use.

After they had assembled any number of the delicate figures, they put them on display in glass encased sectional bookcases at their home. Friends knowing of their hobby began bringing them dolls from India, Cuba, and many far-away places.

Upon her return from India, a friend of Mrs. Hakola (the former Catherine Sperry), brought dolls to the local women which represented every caste of the Indian population.

Dorothy King, former principal of Dana-av School, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cook, of 81 N. Warren-av, did much traveling, and being friends of the doll collectors made it a point to pick up a collection-piece for them at each point of interest where they might visit. Mrs. Cook had fallen under the charm of doll collecting too, and upon her death several years ago, her family presented Miss Sperry with Mrs. Cook's entire collection.

In addition to this collection, Miss Sperry has another case filled with about 200 tiny figurines. These are an assemblage of anything in miniature.

"Our family's roots are firmly fixed on the Hilltop," the local teacher said. "My parents lived all their lives in the old Camp Chase area, and all my brothers and sisters lived here as children."

After teaching at Bellows Avenue School for three years, Miss Sperry came to the Broad Street School in 1911. That's the year the building was completed. In 1921 after a strenuous teaching season she accepted the position of fourth and fifth grade teacher in an Hawaiian school. At that time her brother, Colonel J. R. Sperry, now of Atlanta, was stationed in Hawaii, and had learned of the teaching vacancy. She lived with his family during that teaching year, which she called her "vacation." The following year found her back on the Hilltop.

This life-long Hilltopper is particularly fond of small children, thus she enjoys teaching the first grade. In addition she acts as secretary of the Primary Department of Hoge Memorial Church. Her students no doubt benefit from the fact that she is a member of the Tusitala Story League. Members of this organization are required to know enough tales so that upon a moment's notice they might entertain most any type audience.

Two other members of the Sperry family are Howard, who lives in Atlanta, Ga., and Walter, whose home is in Aurora, Ill.

"You know," Miss Sperry said, "it has always been my ambition to retire, then settle down in some warm place where I could reach out of the window and pick as many oranges as I could see."

Benefit Performance

The Huston Players will present a benefit performance, "At Sunset", at Oakley Avenue Baptist Church on Sunday, Nov. 21, at 8 p. m. A silver offering will be taken.

Thanksgiving Union Services To Be Nov. 25

Other features of the program will be a president's proclamation by Rev. Patrick Heard; scripture lesson, Rev. Harold Dutt; prayer, Rev. Clayton F. Lutz; and benediction, Rev. Jacob Ashburn.

Rev. Denver H. Smoot, president of the Hilltop Ministerial Association, will preside.

No Developments On Golf Course

Latest reports on the city's proposal to buy the Jaeger farm, Trabue-rd between Wilson-rd and the N. Y. Central Railroad, for a 36-hole municipal golf course and park area show no definite plans under way as yet.

Mayor Rhodes said last week that thus far the 250-acre tract has been priced too high for purchase by the city. "However," the mayor added, "we are still working on it, and we hope to arrive at a reasonable price before much longer."

Neat Cleaners Has New Rural Service

James E. McCarty, proprietor of Neat Cleaners, Sullivant and Central-avs, this week announced a new dry cleaning service available to residents of the suburban areas west and south of the Hilltop.

He said that a full-time truck will be placed in service on a daily schedule in that territory which will include New Rome to the west and Briggsdale to the south.

According to McCarty, this move will make possible the same speedy service and quality dry cleaning as is now available to his customers residing within the city limits.

In addition to the regular dry-cleaning this service includes mending of rips and tears, and replacing broken buttons, at no extra charge. Other services offered include alterations, hats cleaned and blocked and garment dyeing.

Attends American Premier In Cleveland

James N. Cain, 160 S. Harris-av, recently attended the first American performances of new string quartets by William Walton and Ralph Vaughn-Williams. The performances took place in the Cleveland Art Gallery and were given by the world-famed Walden String Quartet. Admission was by invitation only. Mr. Cain believes that the new quartets are among the greatest of our time. Columbus will have a rare opportunity this winter because the Walden String Quartet plans to play these new works when they visit our city. The first concert is to be given Nov. 29 at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts.

This Way To Game

Going to the West-Cincinnati Hughes football game?

If so, these directions may be helpful if you don't already know your way around in Cincinnati.

The game is to be played at 3 p. m. at Walnut Hills Field and the best route is to take Route 3 through Norwood a short distance, turning right on Blair-av. The field is near Xavier University.

Two Buses To Take Band To Cincinnati

Two chartered buses will carry West High's famous marching band to the Queen City, Friday, Nov. 19, when the Hilltop footballers will gambol on the green in a spirited contest with Cincinnati Hughes at Walnut Hills, near St. Xavier University.

The buff and brown music makers will perform at mid-period before the many spectators, ringing down the curtain of the Hilltop serenaders football season of 1948.

The band will open the mid period show with a Hi formation, and change into a block CH, representing the competing school.

A realistic locomotive and smoke scene, with cheers led by the West High cheerleaders, will highlight the afternoon performance.

Finally a little brown jug will be formed and the band will sing the popular doggerel, "Little Brown Jug."

The finale will consist of forming a block W, emblematic of all that West High School stands for, winding up the show with "Hail the Cowboys."

Junior and senior high bands have been invited to play in the Columbus Citizen parade, Wednesday, Nov. 24.

Local Post First To Reach Goal

Camp Chase Post of the American Legion was the first of the larger posts in the state to attain its membership goal, it was announced this week. The goal was 500 by Armistice Day.

A stag party is being held at the post headquarters, Broad-st and Burgess-av, Saturday, Nov. 20. The event is headed by Earl Konkler as chairman. Others on the committee are Don Stout, Larry Scales, Don Novak, Frank Morgan and V. C. Fiscus. It will start at 1 p. m. and continue until late that evening.

Record Lauded By Ministerial Group

The Hilltop Record was complimented this week by the Hilltop Ministerial Association on its stand in the matter of issuance of local liquor permits. The following letter was received:

"The Hilltop Ministerial Association has voted unanimously to recommend your stand on the liquor question. We want to commend you for the letter which you wrote to our governor. Anything which we can do to help, we are willing to cooperate."

ROBBERY NETS $95

An unshaven bandit with a nickel-plated revolver got about $95 Tuesday night in a W. Broad-st gasoline station holdup.

Jerry Metzger, 164 S. Eureka-av, attendant at the station, 2425 W. Broad-st, told police the man took $90 of the station's cash and $5 from him.

Metzger said the bandit took him at gunpoint to a nearby alley, told him to start walking "and keep walking or I'll drill you." Then the assailant fled.

McDONALD ELECTED

C. J. McDonald, 2432 Sullivant-av, was one of four men recently elected as directors of the Franklin County chapter of the Ohio Retail Package Dealers' Association.

TWO NEW PLEDGES

Ruth Platt, 223 S. Roys-av, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Platt, is one of the recent pledges to Delta Gamma at Ohio Wesleyan University. Jean Williams, 52 Powhatan-av, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Williams, is a pledge of Alpha Chi Omega at the college.

LEAVES $65,240 ESTATE

Candido Capretta, 175 Letchworth-av, who died last Oct. 22, left an estate of $65,240, according to an inventory filed Tuesday in probate court. The estate included $51,500 in real estate and the remainder in personal property.

Petitions Get No Action From City Council

An effort on the part of residents in the vicinity of Mound-st to secure bus transportation for their community has apparently run up against a stone wall so far, it was indicated this week. But people of that community do not intend to give up their fight. Instead, it appeared that the fight is just getting under way.

It was understood that several petitions bearing signatures of residents who might use the bus service have been presented to city officials within the past year but no action has been taken other than to pass the petitions on to someone else and in each case they have failed to show up again.

Two weeks ago a petition bearing numerous names was forwarded to city council and this past week it was routed to the city traffic commission. This body, of which E. O. Melvin of the Hilltop is a member, states they have nothing to do with the matter.

It has been pointed out that two obstacles are in the way of an extension of the Mound Stroet bus line. First is the grade crossing just west of Central-av, and the second is the necessity for large scale street repairs in Mound-st to make a bus line safe.

Any grade crossing elimination program would be extremely costly, with the city being required to pay 85% of the cost and the railroad 15%.

The area west from Central-av to Whitethorne is in need of repairs and should have a permanent street like that street west from Whitethorne to Wayne, it is pointed out. Mound-st, west from Wayne-av, would require widening and grading down to the level of the intersecting streets. Such street building would require the facing property owners to bear 35% of the cost and the city would spend 65%. But at present the city claims no money for such a program is available.

It is believed that the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. would cooperate in providing the bus service if these improvements were made.

Residents of the Mound-st area are becoming more and more perturbed as time goes on and no further action is taken. Hundreds of new homes in this area are without any transportation. Many people are walking great distances to make connections with the bus on Mound-st.

Courtney, Spratley Named To Committee

The blood center will be open on Dec. 7. Any donor may make an appointment by calling the American Red Cross, MA. 6841.

Blood donated here will be used for local citizens.

Baby Sitting Is Big Business For John Saint

By Myron T. Seifert

Girls, here's the answer to a maiden's prayer—a "saint" both literally and figuratively.

By virtue of his name John Saint, 194 N. Hague-av, a sophomore at West High School, performs saintly service to a legion of Hilltop parents, who find it necessary at times to entrust their off-spring into the hands of a boy they can depend upon.

Yes, John is a bona fide baby-sitter and a splendid example of what a singular job a male can do.

Some day, some hopeful femme will thank her lucky-stars that John Saint (now only 15, girls) is familiar with the duties of "cradling."

A saintly apostle of rearing children on schedule, John loses little time in catering to the needs of the kids in nocturnal hours. Feeding, for example, must be carried out to the letter; and parents' and doctors' instructions are cheerfully followed.

For John, baby-sitting is more than a pastime; he has made it a genuine business.

His regular customers depend upon his services on Monday, Thursday and Saturday evenings from the hours of 6 to 12 p. m.

Like any busy man, he keeps a schedule of his appointments. Other nights of the week he takes in additional "newcomers." In fact as he says, "Business is booming."

On Saturday night, he shares the honors with his sister, Margaret, a junior at West High School; together they are paid $5 for their services in caring for five children ranging from one to 10 years of age.

Because he likes youngsters John has an inherent interest in his job.

A versatile short-story teller, he has in his narrative repertoire, a wide variety of recitals.

"I can tell the kids almost any type of story that is amusing and worthwhile," he said.

"I've made it a point to learn a great number of both stories and songs, and I try to entertain them," he chuckled.

Sometimes, in the case of year-olders, the youngster "set up a howl," but John has a technique for pacifying the child's cries — he has a saintly "touch," a secret which he alone possesses.

Keeping the kids out of mischief is no major problem for him; he improvises games for the youngsters, keeping them interested and busy.

Many of them tire of toys and games they have at home, so John has his own "stock of trade" attractions.

Child psychology to him is just a name; but principles—to his common sense — are carried on in the "area" of finding the child's interest—and from there on the work is easy.

Averring that "cradling" and "walking the floor" practices spoils the child, John tries to learn why the baby cries. Perhaps hunger, safety-pin punishment, wet diapers and a score of other reasons prompts junior's out-cries.

"Get at the cause and the rest is easy," our guardian advises.

And the kids like John, which makes the baby-sitter's life one of ease. Any of his clients can tell you that the kids are "always glad when John comes."

As to changing diapers, he is past-master. "I detest, most of all, bathing them, and putting them to bed," he added.

Much of his school home-work is carried on after the kids are once tucked in bed. "I have ample time for my lessons and reading too," he said.

Folks always leave a snack for him, which he always relishes. Reading comic books, playing records, and listening to the radio, and an occasional nap take up much of his evening.

Coming from a family of baby-sitters, all of whom are West High students, he has three sisters who are also "experts." Besides Margaret, mentioned above, Delores, 14, also helps him.

So we salute John Saint as baby-sitter deluxe, already a veteran of more than two years' experience caring for Hilltop "kids."

12 Presented Numerals At Capital U.

Coach Dale Rose of Capital University, former West High School coach, announced today that five former West High students had been awarded varsity football letters Thursday morning in the college chapel, and seven had received freshmen numerals.

Receiving varsity letters were Clarence Baker, Ernie Dahlen, Gene Shade, Bob Schlegel and Bob Miles.

The seven West alumni receiving freshmen numerals were Fred Findels, Dick Hershberger, Edgar Moore, Jim Price, Bob Smith, Bob Wolfe and John Young.

Husband Can Do The Wash This Simple Way

"Washing made easy" is the motto at the Hilltop Self-Service Laundry at 2331 W. Broad-st. The 30 Bendix washers and the five dryers make it possible.

The operation is so automatic that many women are doing the wash and the shopping at the same time. After putting nine pounds of clothes into a machine, a dial is turned which starts the procedure. Soap is added after the machine has filled itself with the proper amount of water. The "almost human" helper washes and rinses three times without further human aid.

Returning just as the machine finishes the third rinse and is automatically stopping, the housewife takes the clothes in a cheery red cart to the dryer. Another dial—another action. The clothes begin to swirl dry in the heat produced within the dryer. Within 30 minutes the clothes are fluffy and dry.

The housewife needs to bring only the clothes. Soap, bleach and starch can be purchased at the shop. For a small fee the attendants will take care of the clothes, putting them into the machines and folding them.

So simple that a husband can do the wash! "Many Hilltop women — and men — are availing themselves of the opportunity of using the machines," said one of the attendants. The same number "Hilltop housewives and husbands are finding that the porcelain-covered helpers are making the drudgery of wash-day disappear.

Parents Need To Plan Meals For Children

A breakfast survey made by Red Cross Nutrition Service last spring in one county school showed interesting results.

Only 12 per cent of the parents in that school got "A" in breakfast planning. Sixty per cent had "Fair" and 10 per cent "Poor." The other nine per cent flunked flat as their children had no breakfast at all, say Red Cross authorities.

Public schools are open again and it is time to give serious thought to meal planning for the health and welfare of our school.

These boys and girls of ours need good food. Unless they eat three well-planned meals a day, all their food needs won't be met. Now that school is starting, we must be sure that they go to bed early and get up that few minutes earlier so that they have time to eat a good breakfast. Let's include orange or grapefruit, hot cereal, milk and toast or bread. Plan to have eggs four times a week. If not at breakfast, we may use them at some other meal.

Breakfast should furnish one-quarter to one-third of the day's food. Remember that we should have every day a green or yellow vegetable, citrus fruit or tomato, and two other servings of vegetables or fruit. We need one quart of milk for each child and a pint of milk for each adult. Add to this a serving of meat, poultry or fish and a serving of whole grain cereal plus enriched bread and butter or fortified margarine. Somehow we should include at least four eggs per person every week.

It would be very hard to eat all these in less than three meals and it is almost impossible for children to get an adequate nutritious diet unless they eat a good breakfast. A good grade for parents in all departments of meal planning will mean higher marks on our children's report cards, too.

For further information or for a speaker for your club group call Nutrition Service, Franklin County Chapter, American Red Cross, MA. 6841.

Must Not Be Human Wheelbarrow If We Are to Retain Freedom, Milligan

Pointing to the words of Thomas Paine, Fred Milligan, Ohio Director of Commerce, speaking at the Thursday meeting of Hilltop Kiwanis Club on Armistice Day, advised, "Those who would enjoy the blessings of freedom must bear the fatigues of supporting it."

In perhaps the most stirring address ever delivered before the local Kiwanis Club Milligan spoke on "An Uncompleted Mission," which he presented in story form, starting with the return to Wright Field of a B-17 and crew at the conclusion of the war.

After returning from chow the crew saw that a sign had been placed on their ship reading "This aircraft is surplus to the requirements of the Army Air Forces." The crew was dismissed with the report, "Your mission is complete."

Bill Jones, the tail gunner on the B-17 went on home to start in life anew. And on Armistice evening, four years later, Bill and his Dad began to talk about the things that were troubling Bill. "When our crew said good-by we were determined that there should never be another war. Now, we all have the jitters for fear of another war. We were certain that the United Nations would succeed but now the Gallup Poll says a majority of Americans don't believe the UN will succeed." The inflation spiral as well as housing shortage led Bill to remark, "I'm beginning to feel like surplus and I'm wondering if our mission was complete."

Dad tried to comfort Bill by pointing out that he too, a veteran of World War I, had felt the same way. Dad traced the events that led to Pearl Harbor, the history of the United States and the many cycles of panic and war that this country has gone through.

"Could this historical cycle enslave the United States?

"I heard Rev. Norman Peale, famous New York pastor, say, 'Those early pioneers reared like lions for freedom. We bleet like sheep for security.'

"In the face of difficulties encountered by Americans they today have the finest standard of living on the face of the globe, the finest in communications and transportation and our life expectancy has been increased from 37 years to 65 years.

"These things have been done in spite of war and depression cycles," said Dad. "And if we can make progress in every other field of activity we can eliminate wars and depressions."

"But how, Dad?"

Dad then listed the objectives as follows:

1. A lasting peace. We must believe in the inevitability of peace. It was Abraham Lincoln who said: "Public opinion is everything. With it nothing can fail. Without it nothing can succeed."

2. While we are perfecting the necessary international machinery for lasting peace we must be militarily strong. Back in 1937 Gen. Douglas MacArthur said, "The battlefield was the bed upon which every great nation was born into the world. The battlefield was the couch on which their worn-out bodies expired. Let us be prepared lest we, too, perish."

3. Economic stability of the kind that is not the peak, not the valley but the plateau is needed. The key to economic stability is restraint—to prevent overexpansion, to prevent overspeculation. The best cure is the simple one of living within the income and this applies to government as well as individuals.

4. Freedom of the individual is the next objective. Anything less than freedom leads to slavery and slavery is unbearable. We must guard against the philosophy that man has only those rights granted him by government.

5. The final objective is political vitality. We must exercise our rights to govern ourselves. In 1900, 75% of the eligible voters went to the polls. In 1940 this had declined to 63%, in 1944 it was only 55% and in 1948 it was less than 50%. This apathy leads to dependency and dependency will lead to bondage.

"We can either adopt the cynical attitude that we can't do anything about it or we can do something. If we adopt the former we will become human wheelbarrows—someone who is picked up, carried by someone else, put down and stays there until someone picks him up and carries him again.

"No, Bill, your mission is not complete. No American's mission is ever complete so long as he desires freedom for himself and his children, for freedom is everybody's job and, as Tom Paine said, 'Those who would enjoy the blessings of freedom must bear the fatigues of supporting it'."

Six Starches For Laundry Needs

There were only two kinds of laundry starches not so very long ago—cooked and cold. But now you have your choice of half a dozen, says Eleanor Cock, who tells you how to make them in McCall's.

"Cooked starch is the standby of the veteran housekeepers. Where there's a big family wash it is the most economical method. Beginners sometimes fail to cook it to the proper stage of clarity. Then the iron may stick, starch spots show.

"This is our method: mix ¼ cup of solid (lump, cube or powder) starch with ¼ cup cold water. Add 1 quart boiling water gradually. Cook until mixture boils and clears; stir constantly. Cool tightly covered to prevent scum forming. Use undiluted for cuffs and collars; diluted with 2 to 4 parts water for medium to light starching jobs.

"Cold starch used to be your only other choice. When in a hurry you mixed solid starch (lump, cube or powder) with cold water and ironed garment still wet. Ironing was difficult, finish was stiff.

"Hot water starch. Use only powdered starch with an equal amount of cold water. Then add boiling water. Cooking not needed.

"Liquid starch. Just add water.

"Dehydrated starches and crystalline starches are made the same easy way and are soon to appear."

Newark Game To Open West Cage Season

By Dave Miller

The West High basketball forces will inaugurate their 1948-49 cage campaign on Dec. 3, with a game at Newark to meet the 1948 Central Ohio semi-final winners.

Coach George Williams cut his squad down to 17 members last Monday, from the large number out for the winter sport. However, the number will rise again when at least 30 members of the football team will try out.

Coach Williams will be saddened by the loss of his five lettermen at mid-term. The returning lettermen are Don Speakman and Charlie Weeks, forwards; Paul Theisen, center; and Dick Culbertson and Charlie Frasher, guards. Speakman, Weeks and Theisen will graduate at mid-season. The five who will probably be the starting team throughout the opening part of the season are seniors and none will return for next year's team.

Others on the team include Ray Altman, Bill Earl, Russ Friend, Ron McElwee, Paul Thompson, Eugene Thompson, Dick Wray, Fred Adams, Larry Frazier, Ralph VanAtta, Jim Lang, Howard Shivers, Leroy Hood, Jack Gammon, Dave Caton, Ted Fladt and Jack Winnestaffer.

Adams, Frazier and Hood received reserve letters from last year's won-7, lost-5 reserve team. All three are good prospects for this year's varsity. Friend, McElwee, P. Thompson, E. Thompson, Wray and Caton all received varsity letters at West Junior last season while VanAtta, Lang and Shivers earned theirs at Starling.

Prospects on the football team include Paul Ellingsworth, George Crissinger, Earl Potts, Bill South, Bill Thrush, Bob Epps, Jim Rudolph, Gene Brown, Frank Carson, Cliff Voss and Bob Wilson. Thrush, Epps, Rudolph, Carson, Voss and Wilson were players on the reserve squad last season.

Only stellar player from the West Junior squad was Ray Wakeman, who made the All-Junior High team last season in racking up 74 points in nine contests. However, he moved out of town shortly after school began.

The Cowboys face a rough 20-game schedule this season. In addition to the usual 12-game league schedule, the Hilltoppers will meet with stern opposition in Newark, Grandview, Bexley, Fostoria, Chillicothe, Middletown, Hamilton and Bellefontaine. The Middletown, Newark and Hamilton schools are especially tough opposition throughout the state. So there is no real "breather" in the Cowboy schedule this season.

After coaching an 18-7 overall record season and an 8-4 City League team last year, Coach Williams should have a bright outlook on this year's team, with the fine-looking prospects from last year's reserves.

The complete 1948-49 schedule follows:

Dec. 3—At Newark*
Dec. 4—Bexley
Dec. 7—At Grandview*
Dec. 10—At Fostoria
Dec. 17—At Aquinas*
Dec. 30—At Chillicothe
Jan. 7—North*
Jan. 11—At Linden*
Jan. 14—Central*
Jan. 18—South*
Jan. 25—At East*
Jan. 28—At Middletown.
Jan. 29—At Hamilton

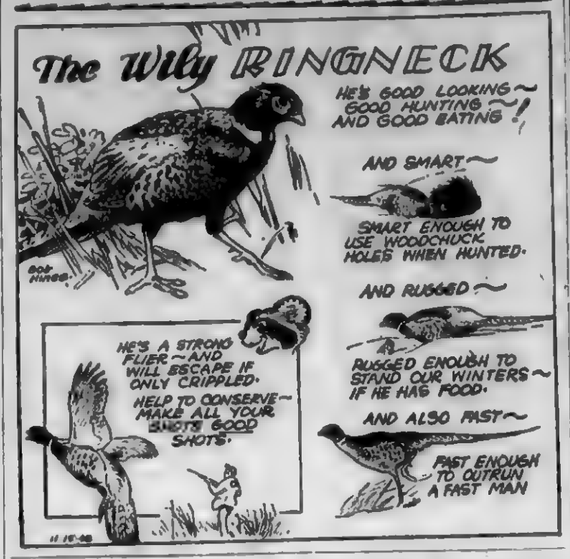
Feb. 8—At North*
Feb. 11—Linden*
Feb. 15—At Central*
Feb. 18—At South*
Feb. 19—Bellefontaine
Feb. 25—East*

*Indicates league games.



Accidents Expensive

Traffic accidents in the last nine months brought losses totaling $109,000,000, State Highway Director Earl L. Reeb announced Tuesday. Medical expenses alone totaled $2,000,000, he said.

Lives of 600 Children Were Jeopardized In Half Million Dollar Fire At Imbecile Asylum 67 Years Ago Today

By Myron T. Seifert

Today marks the anniversary of Hilltop's greatest conflagration. Lives of 600 children, housed in the Imbecile Asylum, were jeopardized, and almost a half million dollars worth of state property went up in smoke, Nov. 18, 1881.

By a remarkable coincidence the fire occurred on the anniversary of the burning of the Central Lunatic Asylum here Nov. 18 again, but in the year 1868.

"Shortly after 10 o'clock a fire alarm was sounded from Box 91, which is located at the Institution for Idiotic and Imbecile Youth," the Ohio State Journal of that day announced to the people of Columbus and the country folks who resided "way out west" several miles from the city limits.

The press recounted how all the Columbus fire departments, then numbering only three, responded "except the Oak Street Division." Folks for miles around hurried to see what had happened. In fact, the Journal continued, "The crossings on High Street, commanding a view of the institution, the windows and every point of vantage on the buildings in the city from which the fire could be seen were crowded with spectators in spite of the steady downpour of rain, watching the fire gradually gain mastery over the great central building until every window and opening was readily outlined by the long billows of flame that poured forth, rendering the scene dimly visible through the sheets of rain and rolling volumes of fog over the lowlands that intervene between the city and the asylum."

Starting in the basement in the rear of the central part of the main building, it is doubtful if the origin of the great conflagration will ever be known. Many theories have been advanced, but none officially accepted.

Word was sent to the Insane Asylum hospital for as many of the employes as could possibly be spared. More than half of its staff was rushed to render aid and succor where possible. Heroic deeds performed during Hilltop's worst fire were legion.

Safety of the patients was the first consideration. Nothing was done toward saving anything from the castle-like rooms until those helpless ones, confided to the charge of the state by their friends, were all safely housed in a new barn, then just recently erected, through the kind and efficient supervision of Dr. Doren of the institution.

The Morning Journal said of the discipline there, "Part of the training these children receive is to fall into rank at the word of command, and so firmly had this habit been implanted in their minds that the great majority did so, and were marched at once to safe quarters. Others became frightened, and huddled down on their accustomed seats, or ran aimlessly up and down the corridors, until friendly arms seized them and removed them from the doomed structure.

When the fire broke out, the regular routine of the institution was proceeding as usual, the majority of the children being at their tasks in the school rooms.

Dr. Doren was at his desk in the front offices when the alarm was given. He rushed from the room, and devoted his energies from the first to averting the possibility of an appalling loss of life, by superintending the removal of the inmates.

It was obvious that the Columbus Fire Department could not cope with the situation, and flames engulfed the entire central structure. London, O., Fire Department was telegraphed for aid.

The fire department from the Madison county seat responded "with the utmost speed, some 15 or 18 men bringing over a steamer and horses."

Chief Tresenrider of the Columbus Fire Department praised the work of the Londoners. Columbus then possessed only three of the old Silsbee Steamers, and the one at the "Flowers Engine House" was the only one working, said the newspaper.

Contents of the main building were all destroyed. It was occupied by the superintendent, Dr. Doren, and his family, and the sleeping apartments of most of the teachers and employes of the institution were within its walls. All these, from superintendent down, had none of their personal belongings saved.

Dr. Doren obtained an old cap belonging to one of the boys, as he did not take time to seize his hat when the alarm was given.

The loss of clothing and personal effects was especially hard on many of the ladies. One of the teachers had $100 in her trunk and a fine new sewing machine in her room.

One of the kitchen girls had $300 in bills burned with her trunk.

With nothing except indoor clothing, no wraps, hats or overshoes, these ladies were out in the pouring rain, walking in mud and mire, attending to the safety and comfort of their charges.

Their garments were, in some cases, completely drenched. Several public spirited citizens sent supplies of such articles as were needed, and M. Jes. Dunn extended an invitation to as many ladies as could be accommodated to "come in and take free quarters at the 'St. Charles' until Monday."

The city police remained on duty until 6 o'clock in the evening, when the crowd of sightseers had been driven homeward by the inclement weather and the approach of night.

There was much petty pilfering done by persons among the crowd, many forcing their way into the rooms while the furniture and other contents were being removed, and stealing small articles under the very eyes of those who were endeavoring to save the property. Many small losses of this sort were known, most important being the theft of a quantity of jewelry from a bureau drawer. As soon as the goods were all removed to the lawn the police prevented any further depradations.

The firemen worked nobly in the mud and rain, drenched to the skin, and added to their already well-earned reputation. Dr. Rutter, of the insane asylum, sent over a bountiful dinner at 2 o'clock for the firemen, police and the attaches of his own institution, who had detailed to assist, and repeated the courtesy at supper.

The first press report was sent out before noon, on this memorable Nov. 18, to the effect that the imbecile asylum was on fire, and was apparently doomed to total destruction. Unfortunately it was not stated that the inmates were all safe and he result must have been a most terrible anxiety on the part of parents and friends of the 600 inmates as to their safety.

All the afternoon Dr. Doren was deluged with messages inquiring, "Is Charlie safe?", "Was Katie injured?" and other queries of the same sort from all quarters of the state. People came in on all the evening trains, tortured with all the pangs of uncertainty on the journey, to look personally after children.

One little fellow, a promising pupil, cried as if his heart would break over the loss of his mother's picture, which was destroyed with the building and, clinging to his teacher's neck, repeated between his sobs, "Oh, what shall I do?"

Patrolman Saves Injured Man's Life

Patrolman Raymond L. McLain, 138 N. Chase-av, a West Side cruiserman, was credited Nov. 10 with saving the life of Henry Fraley, a 35-year-old Circleville man whose neck was pierced when he was struck by a piece of flying steel.

Patrolman McLain held the wound closed with his right hand while he drove with his left hand to take the injured man to the hospital. Stopping the flow of blood probably saved the man's life, Mt. Carmel Hospital officials said.

West Defeats Linden McKinley 32-7 As All Players Get Off The Bench

By Paul Wichterman

The West High Cowboys, champions of the City League for the second consecutive year, prepare to ring down the curtain on a successful season when they meet Cincinnati Hughes in an afternoon game tomorrow. The game will be played in the Western Hills stadium at Cincinnati, starting at 3 p. m.

West is expected to meet one of the toughest foes of the year when they invade the Ohio River city. The Big Red has lost only two games this season, both to top-notch elevens. West has lost only one game during the past two seasons—that to New Philadelphia. The Cowboys also have a tie with Upper Arlington this season.

Last week's encounter with Linden McKinley at Magly Field was strictly in the category of an anti-climax to the City League season. The Hilltoppers had already put the title in the bag by defeating North one week earlier. West won the game 32 to 7.

The Presidents played an uninspired type of ball from the start with three fumbles being converted into quick touchdowns by West. From the starting whistle there was little question of the outcome. It was only a matter of how large the score would be.

Coach Mack Pemberton doesn't believe in top-heavy scores and in line with this policy he used his first team only a short time after the third quarter got under way. After exhausting his supply of second and third stringers, he flooded the field with sophomores, using a total of 55 boys during the evening.

The Cowboys lost little time in getting down to the business of grinding out touchdowns, scoring once in the first period and twice in the second and third. Linden McKinley scored its lone tally in the third canto.

The smallest crowd of the season—a scant 2500 fans—watched the Dad's Day attraction that ended up in a downpour of rain reminiscent of the previous week's battle with the Polar Bears.

After Gene Brown returned a Linden McKinley punt to the West 42 early in the first period, Dick Culbertson passed to Don Speakman, who ran to the visitors' 27. When two tries netted only one yard, Quarterback Paul Theisen fired an aerial to Jim Rudolph on the 29. His next pass was to Speakman, who caught the pigskin on the nine and raced over for the first touchdown. Captain Chuck Weeks added the extra point.

The second West tally came as a result of a 66-yard march that was started when Culbertson intercepted Buckman's pass on the Hilltoppers' 5-yard stripe. In 11 plays the city champs moved all the way into pay dirt in the drive that again featured the passing of Theisen and the running of Brown, Culbertson and Danny Miles. The touchdown pass was thrown by Theisen from about the Presidents' 35. It hit the outstretched arms of Dan Dover and bounded into Brown's hands on about the five. The fleet West halfback was over the goal line standing up. Again Weeks kicked the extra point and the score was 14 to 0.

The Cowboys took advantage of some faulty ball handling on the part of the visitors to score their third TD. Speakman broke into the Linden McKinley backfield to recover a fumble on the Presidents' 14-yard line. Brown fumbled but the recovery was by Miles on the 11. Glen Schroeder raced to within 18 inches of the goal line and then failed to hit pay dirt on a second attempt. Quarterback Theisen got credit for the third tally. Weeks' kick was wide.

Scarcely had the third canto gotten under way when Lewis Seipel fell on another McKinley fumble on their 14-yard marker. Brown went to the eight. Schroeder went to the five and then just missed first down by inches. Theisen made it first and goal to go on the three and Culbertson plunged over for the fourth tally. The kick was partially blocked.

It was at this point that the rains came but it did not dampen the spirits of the Dad's Day crowd. West substitutions began pouring in from the bench. On the first play following the kickoff, Bill Orcutt fell on a third McKinley fumble, this time on their 20-yard line. Brown went to the 18 and on the next play to the nine. Culbertson made it first down on the seven and three plays later Theisen passed to Rudolph in the end zone for the fifth TD. The try for point was no good.

But the visitors were not to be denied for the evening. Dover took the kickoff on his own 10 and raced to the 48 before being brought down. On the next play he went to midfield. Paul Clark threw a long pass that was complete to Don Goodrich on the 39, well out of reach of the West secondary. The fleet McKinley end scooted on down for the TD. Jim Haley added the extra point.

From that point on neither team threatened seriously as Coach Pemberton started running entire team of sophomores.

The lineups:

Norm Reeves—269

The new electric eye at the local alleys might have bothered a few of the bowlers but it must not have had much effect on Norm Reeves as he put together two spares and 10 strikes for a new season high of 269. Norm was bowling as third man on the Vee Dee'ers and his big game helped his team to high team game of 1048.

Dick Ardia

Fox Food Shop rolled themselves into first place in this league by taking three games from Chubby's Market while the Vee Dee'ers and McCullough, both previously tied for first place with Fox, were losing one and two games respectively.

Paced by Jack Franken with 221-623, Foxes rolled games of 982, 997 and 921 for a "big" 2900 total. Their line scores were as follows:

Dan Wolf led the team with 236-604, while the team had games of 905-879 and 960 for a 2744 total. Dan's 236 was one pin better than Murnane's 235 but Murnane took three game totals with 628. Costs $7734 To Outfit West High Football Team

By Myron T. Seifert

It costs a pretty penny to outfit the West High pigskin fashion plate—including the squad rope twirlers and marching band—that has added many hours of entertainment to the life of an otherwise dull Friday night to Hilltoppers' nocturnal life.

The well-dressed Cowboy football attire costs $128.90 per head, Coach Mack Pemberton advised. Sixty boys are outfitted at a cost of $7,734, he said.

Equipment of the marching band, exclusive of instruments played, averages $66.75 per capita. The famous music makers' outfits cost $4620 for the senior high band; Junior High members buy their own equipment.

Itemizing the musicians' equipment, the figures read as follows: megaphone, 50c; uniform, $60; plume, $2; spats, $2.25; lights, $1.25; gloves, 75c.

Rope twirlers sport an $18 outfit to amuse the crowd with their rope antics.

That football hero idea must of necessity have an expensive look.

When the flashy Cowboy dons his complete outfit and parades his wares before the thousands of enthusiastic spectators on Magly Field—or elsewhere—you not only see an animated physical figure of approximately 169 pounds in action (crossing almost a ton of flesh at the 11 players) but a well-groomed colorful aggregation of the best-looking football players in the country, bedecked with togs that would make any community proud.

Come a flash pour or rain or snow, and a dearth of mud blemishes, for the time, the heretofore "New Look" on the once green acres of Magly Field, as seen in last Friday's game.

If the togs are too soiled, they are immediately sent to a local dry cleaner for renovation and put into circulation for the next game.

Broken down, individual football players' "wardrobe" reads: helmet, $16; jersey, $14; pants, $20; belt, 50c; sweat socks, 75c; T-shirt, 90c; supporter, $1.25; shoulder pads, $13; hip pads, $11; thigh pads, $3.20; tape, 20 rolls at $2.65; hooded coat, $20; shoes, $15.75; and cleats, $1.50.

Looking Ahead with JEAN WORREL

Jean Worrel

"Life assurance?" said a friend of mine the other day, "Death assurance is more like it."

This casual remark gave me a chance to put across an important point about the business I am in.

I told him life assurance was concerned with life rather than death. Its chief job was to defeat the consequences of death by making a normal life possible for those left behind. I told him of homes held together by the proceeds of insurance policies; of widows saved from poverty; of old folks living out their lives in dignity and comfort; of children getting a good start in life with a college education; of farms and businesses saved to provide a means of livelihood for a growing family.

These things are made possible every day by life assurance. Through life assurance a man reaches beyond death and continues to bless and enrich the lives of those he loved. Yes, it is indeed life assurance.

West Defeats Linden McKinley 32-7 As All Players Get Off The Bench

By Paul Wichterman

The West High Cowboys, champions of the City League for the second consecutive year, prepare to ring down the curtain on a successful season when they meet Cincinnati Hughes in an afternoon game tomorrow. The game will be played in the Western Hills stadium at Cincinnati, starting at 3 p. m.

West is expected to meet one of the toughest foes of the year when they invade the Ohio River city. The Big Red has lost only two games this season, both to top-notch elevens. West has lost only one game during the past two seasons—that to New Philadelphia. The Cowboys also have a tie with Upper Arlington this season.

Last week's encounter with Linden McKinley at Magly Field was strictly in the category of an anti-climax to the City League season. The Hilltoppers had already put the title in the bag by defeating North one week earlier. West won the game 32 to 7.

The Presidents played an uninspired type of ball from the start with three fumbles being converted into quick touchdowns by West. From the starting whistle there was little question of the outcome. It was only a matter of how large the score would be.

Coach Mack Pemberton doesn't believe in top-heavy scores and in line with this policy he used his first team only a short time after the third quarter got under way. After exhausting his supply of second and third stringers, he flooded the field with sophomores, using a total of 35 boys during the evening.

The Cowboys lost little time in getting down to the business of grinding out touchdowns, scoring once in the first period and twice in the second and third. Linden McKinley scored its lone tally in the third canto.

The smallest crowd of the season—a scant 2500 fans—watched the Dad's Day attraction that ended up in a downpour of rain reminiscent of the previous week's battle with the Polar Bears.

After Gene Brown returned a Linden McKinley punt to the West 42 early in the first period, Dick Culbertson passed to Don Speakman, who ran to the visitors' 17. When two tries netted only one yard, Quarterback Paul Theisen fired an aerial to Jim Rudolph on the 29. His next pass was to Speakman, who caught the pigskin on the nine and raced over for the first touchdown. Captain Chuck Weeks added the extra point.

The second West tally came as a result of a 65-yard march that was climaxed when Culbertson intercepted Brockman's pass on the Hilltoppers' 5-yard stripe. In 11 plays the city champs moved all the way into pay dirt in the drive that again featured the passing of Theisen and the running of Brown, Culbertson and Danny Miles. The touchdown pass was thrown by Theisen from about the Presidents' 35. It hit the outstretched arms of Dan Dover and bounded into Brown's hands on about the five. The fleet West halfback was over the goal line standing up. Again Weeks kicked the extra point and the score was 14 to 0.

The Cowboys took advantage of some faulty ball handling on the part of the visitors to score their third TD. Speakman broke into the Linden McKinley backfield to recover a fumble on the Presidents' 14-yard line. Brown fumbled but the recovery was by Miles on the 11. Glen Schroeder raced to within 18 inches of the goal line and then failed to hit pay dirt on a second attempt. Quarterback Theisen got credit for the third tally. Weeks' kick was wide.

Scarcely had the third canto gotten under way when Lewis Seipel fell on another McKinley fumble on their 14-yard marker. Brown went to the eight. Schroeder went to the five and then just missed first down by inches. Theisen made it first and goal to go on the three, and Culbertson plunged over for the fourth tally. The kick was partially blocked.

It was at this point that the rains came but it did not dampen the spirits of the Dad's Day crowd. West substitutions began pouring in from the bench. On the first play following the kickoff, Bill Orcutt fell on a third McKinley fumble, this time on their 20-yard line. Brown went to the 18 and on the next play to the nine. Culbertson made it first down on the seven and three plays later Theisen passed to Rudolph in the end zone for the fifth TD. The try for point was no good.

But the visitors were not to be denied for the evening. Dover took the kickoff on his own 10 and raced to the 48 before being brought down. On the next play he went to midfield. Paul Clark threw a long pass that was complete to Don Goodrich on the 39, well out of reach of the West secondary. The fleet McKinley end scooted on down for the TD. Jim Haley added the extra point.

From that point on neither team threatened seriously as Coach Pemberton started running entire team of sophomores.

The lineups:

Linden McKinley	West
ENDS—Goodrich, Walker, Niven.	ENDS—Rudolph, Speakman, Culson, Kruczynski, Lowry, Sensenbrenner.

Norm Reeves—269

The new electric eye at the local alleys might have bothered a few of the bowlers but it must not have had much effect on Norm Reeves as he put together two spares and 10 strikes for a new season high of 269. Norm was bowling as third man on the Vee Dee'ers and his big game helped his team to high team game of 1048.

Fox Food Shop rolled themselves into first place in this league by taking three games from Chubby's Market while the Vee Dee'ers and McCullough, both previously tied for first place with Fox, were losing one and two games respectively.

Paced by Jack Franken with 221-623, Foxes rolled games of 882, 997 and 921 for a "big" 2900 total. Their line scores were as follows:

Casting for the parts began Nov. 12, and will be concluded Nov. 21.

Fox Drive Is Set For Jan. 9

A fox drive, the second annually sponsored by the Hilltop Conservation Club, will take place Sunday, Jan. 9.

Beginning at 9:30 a. m. at Ten-Mile Inn and Buckeye Camp on Route 40, the hunt will probably take place in the area between that point and Big Darby River.

The public is invited to join in the hunt. No license is required, but only shotguns and shot-shells are allowed.

Six foxes were bagged in last year's hunt.

Costs $7734 To Outfit West High Football Team

By Myron T. Seifert

It costs a pretty penny to outfit the West High pigskin fashion plate—including the squad rope twirlers and marching band—that has added many hours of entertainment to the life of an otherwise dull Friday night to Hilltoppers' nocturnal life.

The well-dressed Cowboy football attire costs $128.90 per head, Coach Mack Pemberton advised. Sixty boys are outfitted at a cost of $7,734, he said.

Equipment of the marching band, exclusive of instruments played, averages $66.75 per capita. The famous music makers' outfits cost $4620 for the senior high band; Junior High members buy their own equipment.

Itemizing the musicians' equipment, the figures read as follows: megaphone, 50c; uniform, $80; plume, $2; spats, $2.25; lights, $1.25; gloves, 75c.

Rope twirlers sport an $18 outfit to amuse the crowd with their rope antics.

That football hero idea must of necessity have an expensive look.

When the flashy Cowboy dons his complete outfit and parades his wares before the thousands of enthusiastic spectators on Magly Field—or elsewhere—you not only see an animated physical figure of approximately 169 pounds in action (crossing almost a ton of flesh for the 11 players) but a well-groomed colorful aggregation of the best-looking football players in the country, bedecked with togs that would make any community proud.

Cards, blown poor pt rain or snow, and a dearth of mud blemishes, for the time, the heretofore "New Look" on the once green sodded Magly Field, as seen in last Friday's game.

If the togs are too soiled, they are immediately sent to a local dry cleaner for renovation and put into circulation for the next game.

Broken down, individual football players' "wardrobe" reads: helmet, $16; jersey, $14; pants, $20; belt, 50c; sweat socks, 75c; T-shirt, 90c; supporter, $1.25; shoulder pads, $13; hip pads, $11; thigh pads, $2.20; tape, 20 rolls at $2.66; hooded coat, $20; shoes, $15.75; and cleats, $1.50.

Ye Poor Editors!

Consider ye editor! A child is born to the wife of a merchant in the town. The physician getteth ten plunks. The editor writeth a stick and a half and telleth the multitude that the child tippeth the beam at nine pounds. Yea, he lieth even as a Centurion. And the proud father giveth him an El Verso.

Behold, the young one groweth up and graduateth. And the editor putteth into his paper a swell notice. He telleth of the wisdom of the young woman and her exceeding comeliness. Like unto the roses of Sharon is she, and her gown is played up to beat the band. And the dress-maker getteth two score and four iron men. And the editor getteth a note of thanks from the sweet girl graduate.

And the daughter goeth on a journey. And the editor throweth himself on the story of the farewell party. It runneth a column set solid. And the fair one remembereth him from afar with a picture post card that costeth six for a jitney.

Behold, she returneth, and the youth of the town fall down and worship her. She picketh one and lo, she picketh a lemon. But the editor calleth him one of our most promising young men and getteth away with it. And they send unto the editor a bid to the wedding, and behold the bids are fashioned in a far-off city.

Flowery and long is the wedding notice which the editor printeth. The minister getteth ten bones. The groom standeth off the editor for a twelve month subscription.

All flesh is grass and in time the wife is gathered unto the soil. The minister getteth his bit. The editor printeth a death notice, two columns of obituary, three lodge notices, a cubit of poetry and a card of thanks. And he forgetteth to read proof on the head and the darned thing cometh out, "Gone to her last roasting place."

And all that are akin to the deceased jumpeth on the editor with exceeding great jumps. And they pulleth out their ads and canceleth their subs, and they swing the hammer even unto the third and fourth generations.

Lo, ye poor editors!

Retrospect

By Jerald Fortney

To say that most of the political dopesters as well as the rank and file of the American public—especially that group calling themselves Republicans—had a rude awakening in the early Wednesday morning hours, is a mild way of describing the election day results that returned President Harry Truman to the White House and swept Democratic candidates into office throughout the country.

To say that we are pleased with the results of the election would be a misstatement . . . and to say that we expected anything like the final returns, even in our own county, would be far from the fact. Such strong Democratic sentiment was not anticipated.

But as the English say, "We've had it," and we should make the best of it.

Certainly President Truman deserves the congratulations of citizens everywhere for his personal political fight against the strongest of odds, and it is hoped that he and other elected candidates make the best of their opportunity, especially in the task of keeping this country at peace with the world.

One of the finest things demonstrated in the present election is the fact that Democracy (not referring to the Democratic Party) is still at work in America. In Russia, for instance, political predictions could certainly be made more accurate, as they could have been in Hitler's Germany or Mussolini's Italy.

On the other hand, with the Democrats back in office, now on their fifth lap of a 20-year stay in and around Washington, Republicans will continue the valiant fight against those trends in Democratic government (referring to the party) which even the Democrats must admit, to themselves are harmful to the country.

Among these are: higher and higher taxes; excessive government spending; concentration of too much power in Washington; fanning the flame of inflation; and the trend toward socialization.

In fact, socialization and organization may already have gone too far for the country to come back to some of the older standards and principles. It is evident, for instance, that many Republican farmers (not all) backed the Democratic subsidy program, which is a form of socialization. It has its good points, but with the added and hardly recognized cost of bureaucracy, it is costly to all taxpayers, including farmers, who pay a very good share of taxes.

Another strong factor in the present election was organized labor. Big-time labor leaders have become smarter, and they have learned a lot by experience. Very little was heard about the CIO-PAC and other political action groups, but organized labor was certainly working for the Democratic Party.

The Taft-Hartley law probably did as much as anything else to help elect Truman. Objections to the law gave labor a weapon to use, and the actual working of the law, which has helped promote labor-management peace, actually quelled the interest of many in rural areas, who helped elect Republican candidates two years ago, because of the decided labor unrest and strikes that continued to tie up industry throughout the country. If this law is repealed, it is believed that Democrats will have reason to be sorry.

Today Republicans are reconciled to the fact that the election is lost, and that their position is little better or worse than at any time during the past 16 years. They will also watch the economic status of the country. If history is right (and it must be, in spite of today's conception of politics) then a depression will surely follow the present inflationary trend, and President Truman will have to look around a lot to find Republicans in high office on whom to blame the inevitable hard times.

Band Parents Club At West Only One In the City

Unique both in organization and membership is the West High Band Parents Club, the only group of its kind in the city of Columbus.

Its organization stems from a group of parents of boys and girls of West High senior and junior bands and orchestras more than a decade ago.

Its purpose is to promote the development, spirit and morale of the West High School bands and orchestras, as a Hilltop organization, to assist in providing uniforms, instruments and music for the West High Band.

Present officers are Mrs. E. B. McCurdy, president; Mrs. Dennen Leach, vice-president; Mrs. James C. Camp, secretary; and Mrs. E. M. Bradfute, treasurer.

Committee chairmen appointed by the president are Mrs. C. W. Pike and Mrs. E. M. Bradfute, ways and means; Mrs. Lawrence Proper, social secretary; and Mrs. Dennen Leach publicity.

The club sells Christmas cards sponsors the big variety show, and promotes the school dances following the football games.

The Band Parents entertain the band and orchestra members and their families with a huge Christmas party each year. Last year 500 attended the party. The chairman provided a large three-tier cake in the school colors, the music of the school song decorating the cake, on top of which was a figurine, a band director with his baton.

The Band Parents are on hand at every football game, lending a helping hand wherever needed. They not only look after the home folks but see to it that the visiting bands are treated royally and that visitors are made to feel most welcome. The club is chartering busses to take the band to Cincinnati.

The bands under the capable leadership of Charles W. Bennett have made an enviable record for themselves.

Chaplain Speaks At W. Jr. High

Col. Edgar R. Cochran from Fort Hayes, eminent lecturer and chaplain during both World Wars, was guest speaker Tuesday, Nov. 9, when the West Junior High classes assembled to observe Armistice Day rites. Adolph Kittel, advisor for the Junior High Student Council, was sponsor of the program.

Col. Cochran served in both the Pacific and the European Theaters during the last war. He is credited with 740 days in the combat zone and is entitled to wear six campaign ribbons, six battle stars, and a Presidential Unit citation.

The assembly chairman, Student Council proxy, Gerald Witherspoon, opened the morning's rites with the pledge of allegiance to the flag, led by Senior Scout Nancy Dewitt and Boy Scout William Cotlett. This was followed by the singing of the first stanza of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Al Elliott, veteran of World War I, introduced three additional members of the junior high faculty who served in World War I, including Clarence Bateman, George Heltz and Harry Zulauf.

The Boys' Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Trump, sung six selections.

Feminine Touch Added By Girls In Paper Delivery

By Myron T. Seifert

Many Hilltop homes west of Denver-rd, to the GM plant, have a daily metropolitan newspaper delivery system that is unique in many ways.

Serviced by two girls, Jean Bushdorf, 279 Derrer-rd, and Loretta Thompson, 80 Volney-pl, folks in this area get their newspaper via a feminine "touch". Here's an example of two girls doing what is commonly considered a boys' job.

Jean, 16, and Loretta, 12, the juvenile dispatchers, have separate newspaper routes.

Jean's 90 customers, for the most part, reside on Broadlawn, Harding, Florence, Albert, Grace and Wilson Road; and Loretta has about half this number.

Take it from Jean—"folks out in this suburban industrial center are absolutely honest," she avers.

Citing one of her customers, who lived in a house trailer, Jean relates that he always paid his collections on time.

One day he advised that it would be necessary to move his family to Indiana temporarily, but he expected to return in several months; however, he wanted his Columbus daily, and asked her to save him one each day during his absence, for which he agreed to pay her upon his return.

Three months later, he made good his promise—and paid Jean several dollars for her trouble.

"Among all my customers not one has ever neglected to pay me," said Jean, adding "I would trust any of them for I know their word is always good."

Not what we make necessarily—but what we save to spend for a worthwhile purpose — sums up both girls' philosophy. Both are frugal in their business methods. Their books are posted weekly and generally in the black.

Jean is a junior at West High and Loretta attends Franklin Heights School on Sullivant Avenue. Lessons learned from newspaper routes are invaluable in classroom discussions.

One customer, George T. Custer, 3615 W. Broad-st, remarked that he could set his clock by the promptness with which Jean always makes her daily deliveries of his newspaper.

Jean and Loretta, although competitors in the news-dispatching work, cooperate on their respective routes, serving their clientele to the entire satisfaction of the circulation managers and publishers.

Jean is a veteran of two years' standing in the news circulation field, and could qualify for an Horatio Alger, Jr., heroine; while Loretta, with only nine months experience, is likewise an efficient servant in dispensing news of the day to householders on her route.

"Snow Maiden" Coming Nov. 26

Lisa Parnova

On the stage of the RKO Palace Theatre the gates of fairyland will open for the children of Columbus promptly at 10 a. m., Friday, Nov. 26, when "The Snow Maiden", a Lyric Theatre production, will be staged. Most recent of the famed Edwin Strawbridge productions, the play will star lovely Lisa Parnova!

The Lyric Theatre is owned and operated by Mr. Strawbridge, who himself has danced his way into the hearts of thousands of American children from coast to coast. It is built on an idea, one which appeals to educators and parents, that all faculties be employed in appreciation and assimilation of a worthwhile study.

His vehicle, "The Snow Maiden", is a well-known and well-loved story. The story comes first, but is not all. The dance is the vehicle and authentic costumes, music and scenery and exquisite lighting effects bring to the child an unforgettable memory, one that he will take with him through life.

In addition to this, no child in the city will go to the theater unprepared to appreciate the play. Prior to the production an educational kit will be sent to each school in the city. This kit gives the school teacher an opportunity to prepare the children for what they are to see, a background for the music, the incidents, and the costumes so they will know "all about what they are seeing."

And so the play, through story, scenery, costumes and music, opens the children's eyes to other countries, but it also points to the basic universality of mankind, teaching a lesson in tolerance and broader vision.

Magic Show To Be At Skidmore School

Going West? Do You Know Where You Will Land?

By Don Young

If you are an average Hilltopper, you probably suppose that Fulton, Ogden, Terrace and all other supposedly north- and south-running streets will take you directly to the North Pole if followed infinitely.

Herein, I shall debunk such stuff.

In the first place, all of the aforementioned streets run not due north and south, but from northwest to southeast. There fore, if one should strike out on Hague-av with the intention of taking a nice long trip (supposing, of course, that Hague-av ran any great distance), he would eventually find himself aimed in an Alaska-wise direction rather than in a Hudson-Bay-bound course.

Too, instead of heading due west, as one would suppose, Broad-st leaves Columbus, takes a leisurely jog to the southward and passes through St. Louis.

Instead of staying on Burgess-av for a trip to Sandusky, the wise traveler will know that he had better turn off quick, lest he find himself in the midst of Toledo's busy streets.

Likewise, we find that Columbus, a supposedly-centralized city in our state, is nearer Wheeling, W. Va., than to Youngstown, O., and closer to Maysville, Ky., than to Elyria, near Cleveland.

If one wonders at all about the distance football players travel for a game, he will be interested to know that when the New Philadelphia team came to play West a few weeks ago they traveled as far as they would if they had come from Richmond, Ind.

Too, lest the traveler become confused, a person headed due south from Columbus will not pass through Texas and Panama, but will course through Florida and finally Brazil.

Starling Jr. Hi

BASKETBALL TO BEGIN
By Joe Williams

Sterling expects to have a good basketball team this year. Howard Cassidy, a letterman from last season, will probably play in the guard position, but may be shifted to forward. Jack Buck appears to be the most likely candidate for the center spot. Mr. Face, the coach, announces that Dwight Reynolds, Wayne Lee, and Eugene Fisher are among the outstanding candidates for squad berths. A large number of boys has been reporting for after-school practice.

The following schedule has been arranged for the squad:

Dec. 10, Champion at Starling.
Jan. 7, Mound at Starling.
Jan. 11, Roosevelt at Starling.
Jan. 21, Franklin at Franklin.
Feb. 4, Crestview at Starling.
Feb. 8, Linden-McKinley Jr. at Starling.
Feb. 11, Indianola at Indianola.
Feb. 18, Everett at Everett.
Feb. 25, West at West.

Admission to all games will continue to be 14 cents, the last season price.

TO BUY RECORD PLAYER
By Jane Heisler

The school is planning to buy a new record player for use in the physical education classes as well as other classes which may wish to use it. A faculty committee, which consists of Helen Krumm, Mrs. Helen Bauer, Florence Miller and Iha Ganson, has been examining several different models. They will make a final choice of the one that they feel will best suit the needs of the school.

RECORD CORRESPONDENTS
By Dorothy Linley

Mrs. Helen Bauer's 9B English class has been writing articles for the Starling Junior High notes for the past three weeks. Pupils contributing articles are Glen Bauer, Paul Odum, Don Rinehart, Rush Shipe, Jack Ward, Charles Wilcox, Joe Williams, Mary Boring, Thelma Casto, Miriam Demos, Marilyn Faller, Jane Heisler, Fern Lilley, Dorothy Linley and Anna Schultz.

Joan Sells has had charge of the scrapbook and bulletin board.

GYM AIDES SELECTED
By Glen Bauer

Sterling has a group of boys who are selected to assist Carl Smith, the physical education teacher. These boys are chosen for their size, as well as their qualities of leadership. Their main job is to keep order in the gym and on the playground, but they also help to get ball games started, referee games and look after athletic equipment.

Men's Group At Hoge Will Hear Rev. M. McLean

Rev. Milton McLean

The Men's Brotherhood of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church will have as its guest speaker for Friday's dinner meeting, Rev. Milton D. McLean, newly appointed religious counselor at Ohio State University. He will use as his topic: "Religion in the Modern University."

Rev. McLean was attending the University of Minnesota, his home state, when World War I interrupted his studies in the college of engineering.

Returning to Minnesota, he completed his engineering training, but because of experience as a student church and YMCA leader, he decided to change his vocational plans. He entered McCormick Theological Seminary where he was a student for three years. Later he studied at Union Theological Seminary and the University of Chicago. In 1926 he became executive secretary of the University of Chicago YMCA, serving until 1928, when he became associate to the Dean of Chapel, Charles W. Gilkey. He served in this position until 1930.

During the next 13 years he was on the faculty of Macalester College, St. Paul, Minn., as a College, St. Paul, as a teacher. In that period he was granted a General Education Board Fellowship to work with the cooperative study in general education, a project of the American Council on Education. With the start of World War II, Rev. McLean, in 1942, became associate executive for the United Service Organizations in the Rocky Mountain region, a post he held until his appointment as president of Lincoln College, Lincoln, Ill., in 1945.

Herbert Thomas is president of the Men's Brotherhood, A. B. Lewis, Sr., is vice president, Paul Stilwell is secretary, and Oscar Mason is treasurer.

BIBLE COMMENT

FOR NOV. 21

Great Prophecy Is Most Often Great Poetry

THE late Dr. George A. Gordon, of the Old South Church in Boston, whom the late Dr. Cadman, himself a notable preacher, considered the greatest of all American preachers, once remarked that it is the quality of all great prophecy that it bursts into [illegible].

The truth of that is at least evidenced in the prophecy and poetry of the Old Testament. The prophecy and poetry alike came out of the religiously heroic era of Israel. They are intermingled. The poetry of the Psalms frequently [illegible] the noblest prophecy, and in the great prophecies are passages of such lyrical beauty that they are in the realm of poetry.

What, however, specifically characterized Hebrew poetry as distinguished from Hebrew prose? It is a question to which an intelligent answer can be given at a time when, in our modern literary world, poetry is less conceived in terms of the rhyming of similar word endings.

Rhythm is not identified with rhyme, but the rhythm that in our typical poetry is associated with the rising and falling of accents, in Hebrew poetry is associated with forms of parallel statements.

Specific examples will make the nature of these three forms of parallelism plain. The poetic parallelism of the same thought is expressed in such a verse as in Psalm 5:1, "Give ear to my words, O Lord; consider my meditation."

The poetic parallelism of contrast is expressed in Proverbs 15:13, "A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance: but by sorrow of the heart the spirit is broken."

And the poetic development of the initial thought is illustrated in the famous "Shepherd Psalm," the 23rd, in which the forms of both parallel statement and developing thought seem to be combined.

To understand the forms is to catch the rhythm and beauty of expression of the poetry of the Bible; but it must not be forgotten that Hebrew poetry is more notable and importantly instructive for what it says than for the way it says it.

"WHERE YOU GET THE BEST FOR LESS"

We believe no cemetery in the Columbus area has as many sections with appropriate Memorial Shrines dedicated to members of fraternal organizations and their families as are in Sunset. Witness the section set aside for all Masonic organizations, Spanish-American War Veterans, Fraternal Order of Eagles and veterans of all wars. The Memorial Shrine, recently erected on the last-named sections, is a dignified work of art. All of the Shrines must be seen to be fully appreciated.

You are invited to drive in over our recently re-surfaced roads and inspect them.

George Wing in Dual Role of Mayor, Pedagogue Never Has Dull Moment

By Myron Seifert

In a dual role as mayor of the metropolis of Worthington, O., and counselor of boys enrolled in West Junior High School, George Wing, magistrate and pedagogue, conducts both offices to the satisfaction of the public that he serves.

Officially, his duties at the Hilltop school are limited to checking boys' attendance; however, for all practical purposes, his sympathetic understanding of youth and its problems are basically followed in many other areas. He is a helpful hand to the boy in trouble, and an advisor to the boy in any and all situations.

Problems of youth are many. Everything from skipped homework to major accidents come to Mr. Wing's attention and are promptly taken care of with dispatch and ease.

Stolen or lost property is reported and returned to the rightful owner, whenever possible, Mr. Wing advised.

High school infatuations come in for their share of attention, and Mr. Wing keeps much in confidence that students tell him.

Like that father that he is (one daughter, one son), Mr. Wing counsels "the men of tomorrow" in an understanding way.

A typical daily schedule of trouble-shooting would show that never a dull moment is possible in his world.

A recital of activities, in addition to those already enumerated, might include becoming an expert locksmith in removing jammed locks from corridor lockers; explaining school program schedules, particularly to new pupils; "drying" the students out who have wet shoes or clothing; passing on excuses for students who are tardy to school (These vary from impossible humorous explanations for irregularity in attendance to more plausible and serious ones.);

Other duties include talking to the parents, via phone or in person, about a multiplicity of problems affecting the students' welfare; conferring with the visiting teacher about chance absences; treating minor cuts or abrasions, and taking indisposed or ill students to their homes or to a doctor's office, following consultation with parents; accounting for students' sometimes unexplained absence, in student parlance, "cutting"; detaining boys and girls after school hours for infraction of rules or chronic tardiness; dispensing lunch permits for students to go home; getting homework assignments for pupils who are confined to their homes, and a host of other details.

For diversion, he likes photography. Along with his "photographic" hobby, his duties as mayor of the Village of Worthington provide many interesting experiences.

In addition to the routine business of attending to the affairs of the village, the court work (which automatically comes with election as mayor) he is on call any hour of the night to hear the case of a flagrant traffic violator, or commit to jail an unruly character in an inebriated condition, or play "nursemaid" to the injured feelings of some individual who got the worst end of an argument, as he changes from an "I'll sue him for assault and battery" attitude to "I'm sorry, pal. Let's shake hands and make up."

Meanwhile, the mayor and marshal keep props under their eyelids wondering how soon they can return to the warm bed they so regretfully left—all in the name of justice.

"Putting all jokes aside, the function of the small court in hearing misdemeanors relieves the county courts for more important work," Mr. Wing said.

So "His Honor" serves as a clearing-house for both West High School and the municipality of Worthington—a dual honor and paradoxically singular jobs.

Golf Course Should Come West

Progress toward the purchase of the Jaeger farm land for a municipal golf course is at a standstill, city officials indicated this week. They claim the price being asked is too much for the city to pay.

In view of the fact that the city has ample room to grow westward it would seem that the recreation commission should look further in this direction to determine if other lands are available.

About 250 acres would be needed. Numerous extensive tracts of farm lands in this section would make an ideal layout for a golf course. Looking to the future expansion of the city we trust the proper officials will give a more extensive look in this direction to try to uncover a possible site.

Happy Birthday, Harold

There is never a dull moment at the Fox Food Shop.

And last Saturday was no exception. It was a surprise birthday party for Harold, arranged by his wife, Peg—and a total surprise it was even to the extent that Peg sent out invitations to their customers offering free coffee and birthday cake as well as specials in every department. Needless to say, a good time was had by all.

Small Town Boy In Big City: Up to Chicago this past weekend for the National Editorial Assn. fall meeting at the Edgewater Beach Hotel . . . Couldn't help but notice the rather odd looking Chicago papers printed from varietype but readable and making publication possible . . . This in face of the printers' strike that has been going on up there for many months now and being paid for by union printers all over the country . . . Reports up that way are to the effect that Chicago printers receive $62 a week for doing nothing, but hold separate jobs on the side, some of them even having been located in non-union shops while drawing their strike pay . . . Crowds, crowds, crowds . . . milling with the millions, that's what it is as you buck your way through Michigan-av shoppers . . . About the best paying job in the big city is that of the blind woman with the seeing-eye dog, as they stand on the busy street corner and pick coins out of the tin cup as fast as the hand will work . . . Down to see "Brigadoon", and lo and behold, just as we were about to enter the theatre whom should we run into but Susie Johnson, Hilltop gal, a member of the cast . . . Susie looked quite chipper with her hair in curlers just before show time . . . She advised she had just been made understudy to Pamela Britton, second female lead in the show . . . After seeing the show we are all for giving the part to Susie because she can really sing . . . Down to the "Welcome Travelers" radio broadcast from the Hotel Sherman where we stayed . . . Guy Kibbee on the program giving advice to lads who run away from home . . . Then that evening sitting across from Edward Arnold at the Celtic Room . . . Found one thing that Marshall Field doesn't handle, sheet music . . . Movies in the big town open at 7:30 a. m., which makes it convenient if you find the rain too hard to make traveling on foot very interesting . . . Good to be back to good old Columbus where you can pick up a newspaper and read something other than crime news or scandal . . . Least enjoyable was the story, told five times, by a couple of ladies on the train, of their harassing experience in a snow storm farther west . . . We'll still take Columbus and the Hilltop!

Truck Driver Charged With Manslaughter

Paul W. Marrs, 38, of Sidney, Ohio, was charged with second-degree manslaughter Saturday, in the death of John Edwin Carey, of 6569 W. Broad-st, Alton, O., according to Patrolman Theodore R. Thrall of the police accident investigating squad.

Marrs was the driver of a truck which collided with a motorcycle operated by Carey, at W. Broad-st and Algonquin-av, on Nov. 3. He was released on $200 bond and ordered to appear in police court on Nov. 30.

Prof. Pig-Skin Passes Out His Last $10 Award

"The football contest is over for another year," mutters leathery Professor Pig-skin as he judges the final entries and announces for the last time the winners of the three prizes.

First prize of $10 goes to Neil Jordan Ezzo of 320 S. Huron-av.

William Winnestaffer, Jr., of 702 S. Richardson-av chose all winners with the second closest scores and so receives two passes to the Westmont.

Coming in with a close third was Mickey Colley, 32 Powhatan-av, to receive as his prize a free haircut at the Ezzo Barber Shop.

The number of entries in the contest has been large, and Professor Pig-skin has had many happy hours checking them. These entries were not confined to Columbus. F. E. Sturdevant of Tucson, Ariz., rushed his last entry via air to the professor every week, as did several other out of town subscribers.

As Professor Pig-skin departs he gives a final big thanks to all who have cooperated in the contest and to all who sent in entry blanks. To all the winners he says "congrats" and to others "there's another football season coming."

Thus with a goodbye wave, leather-faced Professor Pig-skin takes leave of The Hilltop Record office to hibernate until the leaves begin to turn autumn hue next fall.

City Council Met On Bus Extension Problem Monday

A meeting of City Council was scheduled for Monday evening, to discuss the possibility of an extension on the W. Mound-st bus line, and repair of the street.

Monday at noon the council met with Morgan Evans, vice-president of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company. The electric company would probably have charge of any buses that might be placed on the line.

Henry Koontz, 485 Hilltonia-av, City Councilman, said Saturday that he has been working on this project for over two years now, and that council realizes the need for bus services on W. Mound-st. However, according to Koontz, it is the city engineer who has turned "thumbs down" on the project because of the disrepair of the street in various places.

He said that residents of the territory which would benefit from a bus extension along Mound-st knew about the Monday night meeting of council, and that he expected quite a few of them to be on hand for the discussion.

At the time of the accident Mrs. Zellers was on her way to visit a sister, Mrs. Thomas Jester, who lives in Kenton.

Hilltopper and Brother-In-law Die Late Friday, Minutes Apart

L. Earl King, 61, of 491 Hilltonia-av, and Harry H. Shaner, 64, of 276 Southwood-av, brothers-in-law, and both associated with the Columbus Brass Manufacturing Co., died Friday afternoon minutes apart. King, who was president of the company, and Shaner, a foreman at the firm, were long-time friends.

Mr. King died at White Cross Hospital, while Mr. Shaner, who had been ill for the past six months, died at his home, both at about 2 p. m.

Mr. King was a member of Columbus Lodge No. 30, F & A M, Knights Templar, Aladdin Temple of The Shrine, Scottish Rite and the Moose. A native of McArthur, he had lived here since becoming associated with the foundry in 1909. He had been president of the firm since 1945. His sole survivor is his wife, Mrs. Emma Hemple King.

Mr. Shaner is survived by his wife, Mrs. Clara Hemple Shaner; a son, Paul H. Shaner; a sister, Mrs. John Wagner, and a grandson, all of Columbus.

Incidentally, hers was a two-line ad which cost only 36c. Why not dial Ra. 1125 and place your ad for our next edition?

Koontz May Become City Treasurer

City Councilman Henry A. Koontz, 485 Hilltonia-av, could not be reached before Record press time last night to determine whether he would accept the job of city treasurer. The job has been offered to Koontz, who would succeed Roy King, recently elected to a four year term as county clerk of courts.

The job as city treasurer will be open on Jan. 1 and should Koontz accept it he will resign his job as councilman.

It has been announced in local papers that Edgar Planck, president of the West Side Motors, Inc., and a past president of the Hilltop Business Assn. and Hilltop Kiwanis Club, has been offered the place in council that would be vacated by Koontz.

Planck has not stated that he would definitely accept the position but it is believed that he has been contacted and has agreed that he would take the post. The unexpired term to be filled would run until Dec. 31, 1949.

West Jr. Students To Stage Operetta "Wedding Shoes"

By Myron Seifert

A score of West Junior High students will take part in a colorful Dutch operetta, "The Wedding Shoes", to be presented in the school auditorium, Friday, Dec. 3, under the direction of Mrs. Velma Millhone, dramatics teacher, Ola Trump, music instructor, and Student Director Sheila Pugh.

Rehearsal for the junior musical shows that the cast is doing a remarkable job to bring to Hilltoppers top billing in entertainment.

Admission is 40c and tickets may be purchased from any member of the music and dramatic department in the Junior High.

The colorful show will bring to the West High stage this delightful romance with music in two acts.

Briefly the plot follows this pattern:

The story is about two young Dutch lovers, Dirk and Petronella. Petronella is a tulip girl, and Dirk a shoemaker. Petronella goes to a flower fair in Leyden, where she is seen and admired by a very rich gentleman, Mynheer Van Kipplekoop, who asks her father for her hand in marriage.

Her father consents and she goes to tell Dirk. Dirk, who has carved a pair of wedding shoes, tells her never to let him see her face again.

Although Petronella will not marry for a year, her friends almost completely ignore her, because they do not approve of her marriage.

Foos, the scheming girl, concocts a plan to make Petronella jealous of Dirk.

All the village maidens gather to try on the little wedding shoes that Dirk has made. The one whose foot will fit the shoe will be the bride of Dirk. All the girls wear "false feet" so that their feet won't fit, but Engelina, who is from another town, does not. She is therefore proclaimed the bride of Dirk but declines the honor as she is already betrothed to the brother of Petronella.

The story goes on, and the delightful little musical comedy ends quite merrily.

The cast includes members from the ninth grade dramatics class; the boys' and girls' glee club will provide the musical background. The cast of characters is as follows:

Girls—The mother, by Linda Yaple; the child, Marcia Patridge; Petronella, the flower girl, Sue Keller; Foos, the scheming one, Maryanne Brooks; Hannie, the very clean one, Carol Echols; Gerda, the fickle one, Norma Spradling; Corrie, the weeping one, Barbara Adams; Rika, the laughing one, Mayrna Burwell; Roba, the tiny one, Sue Hardy; Mina, the gossiping one, Nina Jo Bates; Engelina, the shy one, Barbara Suver; Dame Van Voostermeer, Diane Smith.

A number of Hilltop Record subscribers have expressed wonderment over the block-long photo shown in the ad on Page 3B of today's paper and also shown in last week's Record.

The picture is a J. Curtis Allen product, and is made up of 22 different "shots". Part of the landscaping and detail work was super-imposed upon the initial photos in order to complete the layout.

Hilltoppers May Correspond With Holland Citizens

Anita Stout, 90 N. Wayne-av, and Sally Kendall, 772 S. Roys-av, have volunteered to accept any Hilltopper's name who would like to correspond with a native of Ritthem, Holland, the village which the Hilltop hopes to adopt. Anita and Sally will in turn supply the names of Ritthem residents to Hilltoppers.

Girls and boys between the ages of seven and 17 especially are asked to write to the young people of Ritthem. Other cities now in correspondence with sister cities abroad say that the adding of snapshots when sending a letter adds much color to the letters.

Ritthem was severely damaged during the war years by both bombing and flooding. The city is located near a dike, such as the one told about in the story of the little boy who saved his town and many lives by holding his finger in the dike.

Anyone knowing how to read or write the Dutch language is asked to contact either of the girls mentioned above, at Ra. 1589 or Ra. 4597.

Charles M. Berry Named Assistant To Carnegie Committee

Charles M. Berry, 491 Midland-av, former police chief, has been appointed co-ordinator of the Milton Gore Carnegie Medal Committee.

Members of the committee also hope to raise $5,000 by popular subscription which would establish a scholarship fund to be known as the Milton Gore Appreciation Fund.

Again this year as in years past, Seiller's Department Store, 2404-12 W. Broad-st, will have on display in its Toyland, an array of toys, games, books and novelties for any age child. Later in the holiday season Santa Claus will be on hand on greet the youngsters.

Toyland will have its official opening on Nov. 24. A doll carnival will be the main attraction for all the little girls, with mechanical toys topping the list for the boys. This children's "dreamland" is located in the basement.

On Wednesday the store will be completely decorated for the Christmas Season. Christmas merchandise is arriving daily now, store officials say.

A Thanksgiving week-end holiday sale, an event of Nov. 24, 25, and 27, will be a Seiller's special. Every department in the store will offer special buys.

Hilltop and West Side mothers are invited to take their children into Seiller's Toyland and "browse around," during the holiday from school.

Alumni Planning Reception, Dance For January 22

By Myron T. Seifert

A score of enthusiastic West High alumni met in room 101, West High School, Thursday night, Nov. 18, under the leadership of newly elected President William Woolson, 211 N. Terrace-av.

Plans were made to "indoctrinate" the January class into the local alumni via a reception and dance to be held at the high school Saturday evening, Jan. 22.

A reception committee was appointed by Prexy Woolson to engineer plans for the senior-alumni affair, including the names of Mary Howell, chairman, 107 S. Ogden-av; Beverly Cramer, 510 Wiltshire; Ginny Woolson, 211 N. Terrace-av; Ruth Hodges, 150 S. Westgate-av; Tom Beckett, 458 S. Huron-av; Joan Lauer, 84 S. Westgate-av; Bob Baas, 367 Binns-blvd; Rose Columbo, 2730 Grace; and Edith Wilkins, 89 Eldon-av.

The 1949 white membership cards or the new 1950 buff colored cards will admit all alumni to the reception, Joan Heischman, secretary-treasurer, 821 S. Harris-av, announced this week. A well known band and refreshments will highlight the evening's entertainment, Miss Heischman added.

Next on the alumni agenda Woolson announced the appointment of a membership and mailing committee, which has already begun to function. The goal is 2,000.

Form should be filled in and a remittance of 75c for year's dues should be forwarded to Miss Heischman.

Members of this commission include Harriet Logan, chairman, 107 S. Ogden-av; Jim Snyder, 4655 W. Broad-st; Jim Gardener, 318 S. Richardson-av, and Paul Rickets, 99 S. Brinker-av.

BAKED BANANAS WITH HORSERADISH

Set your oven at 425F or hot. Pour ¼ cup orange juice into a medium-size, shallow baking dish. Peel 4 bananas and slice in half lengthwise. Put into orange juice and spread ½ teaspoon prepared horseradish over each banana half. Bake 15 minutes and serve hot. Four people will ponder happily over this mysterious but good dish.

West Bikes May End Up At City Hall

When stolen and unclaimed bicycles are placed on the auction block at 1 p. m. on Saturdays at city prison, invariably a West High boy finds his "crate" there, stripped of its original accessories, with replaced parts, and often with a different paint job.

The bicycles, many of which have been stolen from their owners and the loss never reported to police, are stored in the basement of police headquarters. Several of the bikes, which have had only slight use, have been in the basement as long as two years.

Hundreds of West High boys and girls commute daily to and from school on their "faithful" bikes, and when misfortune hits and the vehicle disappears, to the youth it's often a disastrous loss. Frequently the boy or girl who has a bike stolen is not financially able to replace it.

Grooming his bike is one of the delightful experiences of youth in 1948.

"A chip off the block"—the modern West High Cowboy competes with his dad in making his "crate super-deluxe" in appearance—and he takes great pride in caring for his two-wheel "steed".

Heretofore the cyclists, upon dismounting from their bikes, would park them on the west side of the West High building, in steel racks purchased by the school PTA for this purpose.

One spot where the bikes were corralled is on the girls' athletic grounds, now improved with a smooth black-top surface.

Firm Sells What Farmer Can't Get In Feed Bag

"Some company should put up a line of standard veterinary products," said Dr. John D. Groves, "and sell them to farmers at a reasonable price with full directions as to how to use them." This chance remark was the beginning of the Vernost Products Co., 3482 Sullivant-av.

Delmas Carson, 28 S. Richardson-av, and his father, Frank R. Carson, 2482 Sullivant, to whom Dr. Groves was speaking, decided that it could be done. Realizing that a veterinarian could not have time to visit all the places where he was needed, they carefully checked the medicines which were most often needed by the farmer for his stock and poultry. Special formulae were worked out by Dr. Groves. Medicines were secured from large plants and sold to the stock and poultry owner with complete instructions.

Dr. Groves, who was then with Ohio State University, worked with the younger Carson until going to Michigan to do research work on a poultry disease.

The business is now owned by the elder Mr. Carson. The products are sold in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Pennsylvania. Some of it goes overseas. Since the beginning of the business in 1936, they have kept the original motto of selling only that which the farmer "cannot secure in the feedbag."

Camp Chase Aux. Campaigns For Sickroom Loan Closet

The Auxiliary of the Camp Chase Post, No. 98, American Legion, has undertaken the project of starting a "Sickroom Loan Closet."

Mrs. D. C. Finneran, 211 S. Eureka-av, community service chairman, is at the head of the auxiliary committee.

Mrs. Finneran explained that she and her committees have been and will continue to campaign for donations of crutches, wheel chairs, thermometers and other sickroom needs.

These in turn will be loaned to anyone in this community who is in need of such equipment.

Dr. Jack Miles has donated a pair of crutches to the auxiliary, and the Jerry Spears Company will provide ambulance service, and also donated a pair of crutches, to get the campaign under way.

An auxiliary member gave wash basins and towels to the group, which hopes to make this drive a community project.

The committee in charge includes Mrs. Carroll Balo, 2594 Valleyview-dr; Mrs. John Martindale, 2009 W. Broad-st; Mrs. Charles Weidner, 58 S. Harris-av; Mrs. Robert Thomas, 47 S. Burgess-av; Mrs. Edward Thompson, 220 N. Oakley-av; Mrs. George Timmos, 227 N. Oakley-av; and Mrs. James Kippart, 2945 Sullivant-av.

Anyone having invalid walkers, bedside tables, hospital beds, back rests, bed pans or rubber air cushions stored away, which could be donated, is asked to call one of the above women, who will collect the goods.

After the "Closet" has grown to a size which includes most sick-room needs, local doctors and policemen will be invited to call on it for aid in case of an emergency.

Poultry Business Termed "Land Office" As Holiday Season Begins

By Myron T. Seifert

Busiest spots on the Hilltop this week are the poultry establishments, which are doing a land office business.

For weeks the telephones at these popular concerns have been in constant operation—folks inquiring about costs of fowls, deliveries, placing orders, etc. Many not only make plans with their favorite poultryman for Thanksgiving, but also have standard orders for the Christmas table.

Imagine, if you can, the problem your poultryman faces, in providing the necessary fowl as the centerpiece on your Thanksgiving menu—dressed and delivered to your home.

The bookkeeping alone, incidental to the "closing" of thousands of orders, is a tremendous job in itself.

Hilltop epicureans demand the best and local poultrymen perform a genuine service in carrying out their wishes.

The Southworth Poultry Store is responsible for buying, dressing, storing and delivering 25,000 chickens, 1100 turkeys, etc., this Thanksgiving and Christmas season.

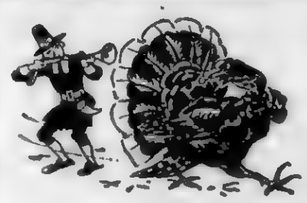
Marvin Southworth, 66 Powhatan-av, his brother, Will K. Southworth, 1557 Sullivant-av, and their father, H. W. Southworth, 1510 Sullivant-av, launched their enterprise in a small garage at 1510 Sullivant-av. It has become one of the largest Columbus concerns of its type.

Marvin and Will began at the business, with the help of their father and Homer Wood (still with the establishment) when they were 16 and 18 years of age, respectively. Marvin was a sophomore at West High School and Will had just graduated from the Hilltop school.

Then there is Hilltopper E. M. Hart, who operates the Powell Avenue poultry business at 512 S. Powell-av. This shop was opened in 1906 when 7c per pound was the current price for turkeys.

As early as 1910, Hart recalls driving his mule team from his farm "way out on Roberts-rd" to Columbus, with poultry. Arising at 4:00 in the morning, he marketed his fowls in town every Friday.

The national road (W. Broad-st) was then about the only road travelers could ride upon. It was a single lane, dirt road, with myriads of holes large enough to create a real traffic problem.



Hundreds of turkeys, ducks, chickens and geese are now on their way to Hilltop homes for that traditional feast from these and many other local poultry dealers and groceries.

Christmas Seal funds help support medical research on tuberculosis.

Blue Star Mothers Cooperate In Aid To Veterans

It is significant that the history of the Glenwood Blue Star Mothers' chapter on the Hilltop was completed before Armistice Day, 1948, and an article dealing with the growth and development of this organization will be read at a Hilltop Kiwanis meeting in the near future, Mrs. I. L. Kidd, 38 N. Warren-av, chairman of the Glenwood group, said this week.

Another chapter of Blue Star Mothers on the Hilltop, called the West Chapter, is doing a similar service.

Leaders of both organizations, incidentally, are neighbors, who work together on matters of mutual interest. Mrs. Clyde Dennison, chairman of the West Chapter, resides at 34 N. Warren-av.

The two chapters are among the 12 city-wide units who, at present, have a cooperative project in promoting the welfare of the boys in Veterans' Hospital at Chillicothe.

The units rotate periodically in assuming responsibility for remembering the boys there, Mrs. Kidd said.

Entertainment and gifts are provided by the visiting host units.

On Dec. 8, Mrs. Kidd announced, the Glenwood Chapter will have a Christmas party for the boys in Chillicothe Hospital. The local group plans to present wearing apparel, including caps, sweat shirts, etc.

An innovation to be provided the hospitalized boys is the establishment of a gift shop, comparable to a PX, where boys can buy remembrances for their relatives and friends at Christmas.

Starting its work three years ago, the group hes grown from 20 charter members to an active list of 78. Additional names are on the associate list.

Officers of the Glenwood Chapter include: Chairman, Mrs. I. L. Kidd, 38 N. Warren-av; co-chairman, Mrs. Ivor Engle, 44 S. Wheatland-av; secretary, Mrs. Phil Wisdom, N. Harris-av; treasurer, Mrs. Walter Deau, 52 S. Wheatland-av; financial secretary, Mrs. W. C. Conn, 222 N. Terrace-av; ways and means, chairman, Mrs. Clarence Ely, Grove City; rehabilitation chairman, Mrs. Carl Rucker, 110 Whitethorne-av.

Family Altar League Gives Dinners Thurs.

The Family Altar League will provide Thanksgiving dinner at noon on Thanksgiving Day at the church property, 302 E. Rich-st.

Members of the organization are to dine with persons, especially children, from various parts of the city, who would not otherwise have a good Thanksgiving dinner.

The benevolent work of the organization dates back to 1909.

During the depression, in the 1930's, Bishop Herman Hartwell, head and founder of the movement, was responsible for milk and warm lunches being provided for school children.

Tuberculosis frequently has no outward symptoms in its early stage. Thus, people may have the disease without knowing they are ill. Christmas Seal funds are used in many localities to help find unknown cases of TB.

SUNSET CEMETERY and CREMATORY
"WHERE YOU GET THE BEST FOR LESS"

We believe no cemetery in the Columbus area has as many sections with appropriate Memorial Shrines dedicated to members of fraternal organizations and their families as are in Sunset. Witness the section set aside for all Masonic organizations, Spanish-American War Veterans, Fraternal Order of Eagles and veterans of all wars. The Memorial Shrine, recently erected on the last-named sections, is a dignified work of art. All of the Shrines must be seen to be fully appreciated.

You are invited to drive in over our recently resurfaced roads, and inspect them.

If interested in cremation please arrange for same through the Funeral Director of your choice.

Hilltopper, Director of Child Study, Learned About Children From Men

By Myron T. Seifert

Hilltopper Russell Slater, 191 S. Roys-av, knows the answers to many of the so-called problems of youth.

Formerly a teacher at West Junior High, then a principal at Reeb Avenue School, Mr. Slater's work with the intelligence division of the government's military service in the last war equipped him for his position in helping students "find themselves."

Many Hilltop boys and girls who might otherwise have never had a chance can thank Mr. Slater for his understanding and services.

Like the man he is, Mr. Slater attempts to impart traits of character needed in a world of confusion and misunderstanding.

His official title is now director of the Child Study Service of the Columbus Public Schools.

This position was offered him upon his return from the service by Supt. George Roudebush.

The new department in our public school system is just three years old.

Mr. Slater, together with his staff of teachers and psychologists, works with the problems and adjustment of children from grade school through high school age groups.

"Viewing men under abnormal conditions, from all walks and stations of life, with every imaginable attitude arising from every condition and problem, is bound to broaden the outlook of an observant person," Mr. Slater modestly opined.

Last summer Mr. Slater trekked to Europe for a vacation. While there he made comparative observations of American and European youth problems.

"Adolescents cause the most worry," he said, "when the first feeling of freedom and the lure of outside interests loosen the home ties. The teen-ager who makes fun of the family, criticizes his mother and dad and won't let mother fuss over him any more may be a little hard to tolerate, but there's nothing abnormal about him."

And he cautions them in punishing their child for such displays of independence. To deprive them of a favorite privilege, he says, is often such a "shock" to them that it encourages further rebellion.

In another phase of the department's work, the largest phase to date, Mr. Slater and his staff discover various types of tests whether the child's difficulties are traceable to his own mentality or lack of ability or to some other factor.

Mental tests determine his basic intelligence. Achievement tests show how far he is capable of going in academic study and whether he has reached or passed the level of his ability. General ability tests combine the two factors.

"Sometimes," Mr. Slater says, "an unruly child, whose school work is poor and whose classroom attitude is disturbing, proves to be smart and capable. Then we know there is something else wrong—a broken home or some sort of emotional upset."

Mental tests also are used in the problem of truancy. If a child remains away from school, it may not be disinterest, and, in the Columbus schools, "visiting teachers," trained in the profession, have replaced the once-hated truant officer in tracing absentees.

Maybe the child who stays away from school is unable to go further in school studies, which the mental tests will show. But, if he has ability, it may be a question of finances or insufficient clothing.

12 Hilltop Boys Members Of Columbus BoyChoir

By Myron T. Seifert

When you hear the trained voices of the Columbus Boychoir at a concert or via radio, you are listening to a dozen Hilltop boys, along with many others, who have been selected by virtue of their natural musical aptitude, beauty of voice, character and scholarship, to become members of a singing group unique in many ways.

Youngest of the group from the Hilltop is Jerry McLinn, 319 Binns-blvd, age 9. Others from this locality range in ages from 10 through 13, including Marcus J. Langholz, 204 S. Huron-av; James M. Skaates, 226 Eldon-av; David Westlake, 3294 W. Broad-st; Frank Faistal, 39 N. Wayne-av; Richard H. Harris, 2275½ W. Broad-st; Roger Suver, 590 Woodbury-av; Roy L. Deemer, 67 S. Brinker-av; Michael Matheny, 179 N. Warren-av; John Steward, 369 S. Chase-av; Robert Sutton, 155 Binns-blvd; Billy Walters, 389 S. Glenwood-av; James Branson, 53 S. Algonquin-av; and Joel Hutchison, 3033 Crescent-dr.

The musical excellence of the Boychoir has established it as one of the finest singing groups in America. Radio helped give the choir its national reputation, and the praise heaped upon the choir by music critics has confirmed it. At first the boys made frequent appearances on local Columbus stations and then were featured on many CBS programs, commercial and sustaining.

In the third year of the school (spring, 1943) the choir sang its way to fame. The boys had been singing as frequently as possible around Columbus to enlist interest in the school but thus far their reputation was local.

One day Siegfried Hearst, a representative of the National Concerts and Artists Corporation, passed through Columbus and dropped in on a rehearsal. He was delighted at the musical excellence of the choir and insisted on an immediate New York debut for the boys. The choir went—as they went everywhere at the time — wondering how the expenses would be met, and apprehensive of their reception. So, under the direction of Herbert Huffman, the choir made its eastern debut at Town Hall in May and the morning reviews of the debut dissipated their fears on the latter count at least. They were acclaimed as a choir and praised as gentlemen.

From this outstanding success they received a special request from the State Department in Washington to make a series of radio transcriptions for distributing in Latin America, and their laurels became international.

In the spring of 1946 the Columbus Boychoir went on its first organized tour through the East and won the plaudits of music critics wherever it sang.

Among the prodigious feats accomplished by the Boychoir on the eastern tour perhaps their own choice as the most outstanding would be the meeting with Albert Einstein. When they discovered that Princeton was on the itinerary, they clamored to see the great scientist in person. Huffman, of course, laughed and said that many Princetonians had never had that opportunity. Refusing take "no" for an answer, a group of the more adventuresome spirits in the choir revealed their desire to a local minister and by some deed of under-cover diplomacy, Einstein was persuaded to desert his work for a moment. Their wish granted, the boys showed their appreciation by performing the Sanctus by Chesnehoff.

The boys had no sooner returned from their triumphant tour of the East when a wire arrived from the program committee of the National Chamber of Commerce requesting a concert at their Atlantic City convention. The Boychoir has always taken advantage of every opportunity, so the busses were turned around and the motors roared for Atlantic City. As with previous performances, the Boychoir proved to be the highlight of the convention.

The Boychoir itinerary included more than 40 concert engagements, traveling as far east as Worcester, Mass., and as far west as Breinard, Minn., winning the sincere praise of the critics and delighting thousands of music lovers across the country.

After the boys' New York debut and the Latin American transcriptions, Columbus began to perk up its ears. People were talking about the famous choir in their own back yard. The Broad Street Presbyterian Church donated quarters to the school and the future assumed a rosier glow.

Columbus, never slow to recognize talent, pledged funds for the maintenance of the school and from other sections of the country came contributions to further the work of the school. By 1946 two-thirds of the salaries had been paid back with the remainder in the offing. Through the generosity of its firm believers the school, which started on faith and a $6,000 budget, has now embarked on a building campaign and during the past year over $100,000 of the $150,000 needed has been raised.

This unusual school has something unique to offer in democratic education. It is full time day school and students learn all the fundamental school subjects of grades five, six, seven, eight, and nine. Every boy enrolled must be a singer, and once admitted, he takes voice training and extensive courses in music, in addition to the usual academic subjects.

Future Teachers Organize Groups At West High

By Myron Seifert

An initial step has been taken in organizing a club for West High students who aspire to become teachers, Pauline Sparrow, faculty advisor, announced last week.

Thirty-two boys and girls, interested in the teaching profession, indicated a desire to learn more about this career, and what it offers, in the discussion held at the November session.

The meeting was called in anticipation of ultimately forming a local Future Teachers of America Club, as a part of the national movement to encourage students to train for the important job of guiding young America.

Miss Sparrow traced the history, objectives and services afforded by this organization.

The group decided they were interested in forming a club which will affiliate with the national organization.

The club agreed to meet at 8 a. m. on the first Friday of every month.

The following officers were elected: president, Bill VanAtta; vice-president, Carol Luckshaw; secretary, Russell Friend; treasurer, Joanne Olpp; sponsor, Pauline Sparrow.

Installation and charter rites of the Future Teachers of America at West High will probably take place some time after Christmas, Miss Sparrow said.

The hour and one-half show should provide entertainment for all ages.

Tickets may be obtained at The Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st, or at the Sherick Studio, 68½ E. Long-st.

In chest X-ray surveys of large groups of people, about 70 per cent of the tuberculosis found is still in that early stage when it is easiest to cure.

Organize CAP Unit At West

By Myron T. Seifert

A dozen students from West High recently organized in the name of the Civil Air Patrol, Fort Hayes authorities said last week.

The boys meet weekly at Fort Hayes on Tuesday evenings from 8 to 10, at Building No. 61, on the third floor.

Students must be 15 years of age, with permit of parent or guardian, and physically fit, in order to qualify for membership.

Low marks in school disqualify CAP members, and if the scholastic grades are not maintained, dismissal is imminent.

Students are taught theories of aeronautics, practical demonstrations and use of principles learned.

The course includes consideration of plane nomenclature, a knowledge of the plane's structure and its purpose, how to use guns in combat, how to navigate the plane, how to pilot and negotiate air navigation, how to build and rebuild radios, etc.

Punctuality in attendance at all meetings is required. Each CAP member is expected to be at all meetings, barring elements of accidents, and unforeseen circumstances, in which case headquarters must be notified.

Students serve without pay and enroll chiefly because of an interest in aviation.

The only cost of enrollment is for the official uniform.

West students have indicated an interest largely in aerial photography and communications, recent survey of their records at Fort Hayes show.

The course extends from one to three years as a "junior member."

Senior members must be at least 18 years of age, and are on a preferential list. Following induction into the air corps, the students say.

Sixteen squadrons have already been organized in the city. West students are numbered in the first four squadron units. A "Flight" unit is over each squadron.

The following students from West are now identified with the CAP: Clyde Stratton, 2400 Sullivant-av; Dave Wahrer, 612 Racine-av; Larry Hoover, 2200 Clime-rd; Tom Lambert, Rural Route; Jack Van Meter, 401 S Richardson-av; Bill Vawters, 2185 Springmont-av; Bob Shivers, 448 Townsend-av; Jim Lanz, 138 Guernsey-av; Bill Marcum, 2242 Safford-av; Bill Harris, 820 S Terrace-av; Bill Wallace, 432 S. Camp Fire Girls Are To Sell Candy Throughout December

For the past three years Camp Fire Girls have been working on concerts, bake sales, and saving tax stamps, in order to collect funds for the building of a swimming pool at their summer camp, Camp Wyandot. A candy sale is being sponsored from Dec. 6 through Dec. 18, to add to the building fund.

The proposed pool will be approximately 75x120 feet, and will have a concrete floor. Bids are now being received by Camp Fire officials for the construction work.

During December Hilltop Camp Fire Girls will be calling at many local homes, in an effort to sell their 13½ ounce boxes of mixed candies. The boxes are 50c each and could be used for Christmas parties.

On Dec. 11 Seiller's Department Store will be the scene of the candy sale, and on the 18th the girls will have stands in the Kroger's Super Markets, where the sweets will be sold. Anyone interested in purchasing the candy for parties or gifts may call Mrs. R. L. Wright, 140 Columbian-av, Ra. 2496, and place an order.

Camp Wyandot, which is located 10 miles south of Lancaster on Clear Creek in Hocking County, accommodates about 525 girls each summer. Previously the girls have used Lake Atagahi for swimming. A small stream was dammed up to form the swimming site, but each year with heavy rains, etc., the lake becomes less desirable for them.

The grounds for the camp, 147 acres, were purchased in 1927. Located on the "Old Wyandot Trail", the camp has a historic log cabin and large rock called "Leaning Lena" at the entrance.

In 1934 Hislop Lodge was built. This is used for the evening programs, dining hall, and kitchen. In the next few years sleeping cabins were built, and soon afterward the hospital, known as Hoskins Lodge, a memorial to a former Camp Fire member, was constructed. A nature cabin called Hambleton Lodge was built in memoriam to the father of a board member.

In the time from 1927 to the present day the acreage has increased to 253 acres.

Looking Ahead with JEAN WORREL

"Better late than never" is a saying which does not apply to life assurance. Too often life assurance never. If you delay in applying for the proper amount of assurance protection you may ultimately find you have fallen below the required insurable standards. Each day medical examiners are obliged to turn down applications for insurance from people whose need for it is great. Many of these disappointed people could have qualified a year or so earlier but the development of a health impairment makes them now uninsurable.

Statistically speaking, 20% of men are already uninsurable when they reach the age of forty. Keep this figure in mind. Don't be too late applying for your life assurance. Call me today!

For Thanksgiving or Later

By BETTY BARCLAY

How about something "new" occasionally—now that the weather is cool and cooking is a pleasure instead of a task? Here are a few ideas:

Cranberry Rollers

1 cup sifted flour
2½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1¼ cups milk
3 tablespoons melted shortening
1½ cups corn flakes
Grated orange rind

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift again. Combine egg and milk; add gradually to flour, mixing only until smooth. Add shortening and flakes. Add grated orange rind to griddle cake batter. Bake on hot griddle. When baked, spread each griddle cake to edge with cranberry sauce, roll up lightly. Sprinkle with powdered sugar. Serve with honey, thinned with a little orange juice. Makes about 12 cakes.

Mocha Rum Rennet Desserts

2 cups light cream
1 teaspoon instant coffee
¼ teaspoon rum extract
1 package chocolate rennet powder

Dissolve instant coffee in light cream. Warm slowly, stirring constantly. Test a drop on inside of wrist frequently. When COMFORTABLY WARM, (110°F.) not hot, remove at once from heat. Add rum extract. Stir contents of package of chocolate rennet powder into cream quickly until dissolved — not over one minute. Pour at once, while still liquid, into dessert glasses. Do not move until set—about 10 minutes. Then chill.

Sausage and Apple Patties

2 medium apples, pared and cored
2 teaspoons lemon juice (about)
Dash of salt
1 pound sausage meat
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 cup crushed raisin bran

Cut apples into six ¼-inch slices. Season with lemon juice and salt. Combine sausage meat, onion, and bran and shape mixture into 12 small balls. Place balls between two sheets of waxed paper and flatten into patties, ¼-inch thick. Put together in pairs with an apple slice between patties. Press edges of patties together to seal in apple slice.

Arrange in shallow baking dish. Bake, uncovered, in slow oven (325° F.) 40 minutes, or until apples are tender. Baste occasionally with drippings. Makes 6 servings.

Sausage and Apple Sauce Patties.

Season ¾ cup apple sauce with a dash each of cinnamon, cloves, and nutmeg. Substitute 2 tablespoons spiced apple sauce for each apple slice.

Pumpkin Pie for Modern Puritans

Our Pilgrim forefathers never thought the Thanksgiving Day would come when a pumpkin pie could be prepared and cooked, from start to finish, in less than an hour. But three centuries after the first Thanksgiving dinner we have a quick-frozen pumpkin pie mix that rivals the best field-fresh pumpkin in Governor Bradford's colony. It comes from its quick-frozen carton all ready to mix, as soon as it thaws, with eggs and milk. No sweetening is needed, because sugar, as well as spice, was added before quick-freezing. You can rely on sun-ripened goodness and flavor, for the farm-fresh pumpkins were quick-frozen right near the fields at harvest time. Quick-frozen vegetables eat down kitchen duty, too, when you serve them for Thanksgiving dinner. June-sweet green peas, tender green beans, French style or regular cut, golden sweet corn and a wide choice of other garden-fresh vegetables can be counted on to bring fine flavor and deliciousness to your menu. And they are all ready to cook just as they come from their carton.

Tip for the Kitchen Brigade

Extra helpers in the kitchen speeding holiday dinner preparations sometimes mean a cut finger from sharp knives or a slight burn from a hot stove. The thoughtful homemaker can prevent minor upsets from turning into disasters by making sure necessary first aid equipment is kept in a handy spot in the kitchen. A cut finger promptly cared for runs little risk of infection. Painful burns won't dim festive spirits if quickly soothed with ointment. So be sure your first aid shelf includes a bottle of antiseptic, a box of Red Cross sterile cotton balls and a tube of ointment. For cuts and abrasions, wash wounded area thoroughly and swab generously with antiseptic that has been placed on a sterile, absorbent cotton ball. You'll find sterile cotton balls just the right size for application of antiseptics. If necessary bandage the cut. Slight burns rarely need bandaging but apply ointment immediately according to directions on container.

Win or Lose; Football Fans Enjoy Baked Beans Seasoned with Beer

After the football game, everyone enjoys gathering around the fireside and replaying the battle. It's good hospitality to set up a "help yourself" buffet table with plenty of substantial snacks. Individual pots of baked beans seasoned with beer or ale will make a festive choice for an informal supper menu that will win cheers from even the most disconsolate losers. Add to each 1-lb. can of beans, ½ cup of beer, 2 medium onions and 1 cup canned tomatoes, and you'll achieve a zestful new tang for this traditional favorite.

Co-star Boston brown bread and relishes and a bowl of tossed green salad with the beans. A tray of assorted cheese and crackers and a bowl of grapes and apples for dessert add up to a happy ending for a feast that's a minimum of trouble for the hostess who doubles as chief cook.

What Do We Have To Be Thankful For?

Just three short years since V-J Day — and once again the headlines talk of war and the threat of war.

Prices have skyrocketed — and even for the bare necessities of life, a dollar goes hardly half as far as it once did.

Tens of thousands of families are still doubled up—or living in trailers because of the critical housing shortage.

Brother, it may be Thanksgiving—but what do we have to be thankful for?

What do we have? Listen . . .

We have a land where people vote in or vote out the government. We have a land where we can yap to high heaven about our every trouble—and do something about them.

We have a land where we can leave the shades up at night—and meet in more than two's and three's — and discuss politics, religion, personalities or anything we please.

We have a land where we can go to the church of our choice, send our children to schools where we know they'll be taught the truth, pick and choose the job that we like best—and leave it if it doesn't live up to our expectations.

We have a land where the police tip their hats to us, where we can cross state lines without submitting to inspection by border guards, where what we buy is not determined by whether we belong to the governing political body or not.

We have land where the Four Freedoms are not a distant hope but a present reality.

What do we have to be thankful for? Brother — our American heritage.

Let's not lose it!

Modern Poetry

LORD, I WOULD THANK YOU

Lord, I would thank You for these things:
Not sunlight only, but sullen
rain;
Not only laughter with lifted wings,
But the heavy muted hands of pain.

Lord, I would thank You for so much:
The toil no less than the well-earned ease;
The glory always beyond our touch
That bows the head and bends the knees.

Lord, there are gifts of brighter gold
Than the deepest mine or mint can yield:
Friendship and love and a dream to hold,
The look that heartened, the word that healed.

Lord, I would thank You for eyes to see
Miracles in our every-day earth:
The colors that crowd monotony,
The flame of the humblest flower's birth.

Lord, I would thank You for gifts without season:
The flash of thought like a banner
unfurled,
The splendor of faith and the sparkle of reason,
The tolerant mind in a turbulent world!

"WE THANK WITH BRIEF THANKSGIVING"

("From too much love of living,
We thank with brief thanksgiving
Whatever gods may be."
—Swinburne.)

We thank Thee, we, the thankless breed,
For many broken chains and locks;
Whence those amazing bursts of speed,
Whereby man's nimble spirit mocks
The threat of Fate to let him bleed.
Forsaken on his chosen rocks.

For yields of more than vine and seed,
For Beauty's golden sheaves and stalks
On which the starving soul may feed;
For spirit's increase more than flock's,
And all the time for love we need
Beyond the ticking of the clocks.

For mercy far beyond our meed,
We thank Thee, Lord! We do indeed.

Earl Byrd, in CONTEMPORARY VERSE.

World Record In Flight Broken Here By Wright Brothers Pupil In 1910

Hilltoppers were all aflutter just 38 years ago when the first speed demon of the air, in the name of commercial aviation blazed the trail for aerial transportation over Hilltop homes and businesses.

It marked the beginning of an era in aerial navigation which made the Hilltop airlanes among the most important in the country.

The story goes that Phillip Paramalle, noted aviator, after breaking all cross-country records in flight, Nov. 7, 1910, introduced the marvels of aerial navigation and aerial transportation to 3000 Columbus enthusiasts at Driving Park, where he delivered to Max Morehouse, president of the Morehouse and Martins Co., the first shipment of merchandise that ever in the world's history was transported from one firm to another straight through the air.

The "aeroplane" outstriped by miles, a high speed automobile that sought to follow it from Dayton over the National Road, broke the record for altitude sustained in a cross-country flight rising to a height of 2,500 feet and broke another record in the time in which it negotiated the distance, 62 miles in 55 minutes, if the time consumed in lighting is figured in. The average is better than a mile a minute and the time perhaps was the best ever made by a human being from Dayton to Columbus, traveling in any sort of device at that time.

Paramalee alighted as fresh and self possessed as if he had been brought in a hackney coach from a half mile drive.

Shrieking whistles announced to nervously waiting ears, some time after 11 o'clock on that memorable day, that this strange craft had been sighted in the horizon and in a flash streets, and house-tops in particular, were crowded with people. There was a scramble from streetcars, autos and all other conveyances.

There began at once a stampede for the Driving Park, a race in which every form of vehicle made a strenuous and futile effort to beat the birdman, who, with engines humming merrily, negotiated better than a mile a minute, circled slightly to the south as he passed over the city, crossed the west fence of the Driving Park and then, toward the east, returning over the east fence and alighted as daintily as a bit of thistledown, a little north of the center of the track enclosure of the Driving Park.

He had made the 62 miles in 55 minutes, exclusive of the time taken in alighting.

There was a strange hush over the crowd. No one seemed to know what to do. They did not know that world's records, of that time, had been made and broken; that one of the finest flights in the brief history of aviation had been made that day; they only knew that for the first time they beheld a dream of the ages, a craft that successfully disputed the mastery of the air.

One aged man standing near the landing point was overheard to remark, "I never thought I would live to be this old."

300 Columbusites Follow Cowboys To Cincinnati As Season Ends

The City League Champion West High Cowboys closed their second successful season in a row Friday afternoon as they beat a powerful Cincinnati Hughes team 18 to 6.

By Dick Ardle

It was quarterback Paul Theisen and End Jim Rudolph who brunted the attack for the West eleven. With eight minutes remaining in the game Theisen dropped back and tossed a 40 yard pass to Rudolph, who went over. Theisen then tried to plunge the ball over for the extra point but failed leaving the score deadlocked at 6-6. West was not to be denied, as again with four minutes remaining Theisen flipped a pass to Rudolph from 19 yards out to give West a lead of 12-6. Theisen ended the scoring by plunging over for the extra point, giving West its eighth victory in 10 starts.

Hughes scored first in the initial period on a 40-yard pass from Al Jansen to Bill Ellis and appeared to have the game sewed up until the Cowboys started their sensational passing splurge in the final stanza.

West, by putting the skids under the Queen City eleven, has now won 18 out of their last 20 games. They won 10 games without a defeat last year and eight this year. In their other two games they were tied by Arlington, 13-13 and beaten by powerful New Philadelphia to the tune of 31-7.

West went into the game Friday afternoon knowing they were in for a tough game since Hughes had defeated Central of Columbus 33-6, while West had to come behind to take a hard earned victory, 25-19, from the Pirates. The game Friday was played in a driving rain and muddy field, which limited the offensive efforts of both teams.

The West High marching band accompanied the gridders to Cincinnati. They were sent there by funds taken in on the Band Parents' dances after the North and Linden games.

The Cowboys were not without loyal fans, as more than 300 people were in the stands from Columbus.

West's Football Games Boosted Sports Treasury

By Myron T. Seifert

West High students and Hilltoppers, in general, who attended the football games at Magly Field Stadium, are unanimous in their opinions that it was a season packed full of thrills, and some chills.

When patrons brave the rains to see the Broncos in action, pay 75c per ducat without a murmur, and at the end of the contest come away from Magly Field fully satisfied with the stellar performance of both football players and musicians, one can rest assured that these persons will be "repeat" customers.

The weekly shows brought into the school coffers a substantial sum; however, the expenditures incidental to the Magly Field Show are most revealing.

All that glitters is therefore not necessarily gold, as the reader will soon realize upon an examination of the financial report of the past season at the Hilltop school.

Let it be said at the outset that no financial inducements or subsidization in any form is practiced by West High School in any manner.

Long and laborious hours put in by coaches while conditioning the boys are rewarded only in a job well done.

With every facility at their disposal, the football players can play a better game.

Head Coach Mack Pemberton estimates that his 60 recruits must have adequate equipment to do a good job.

This, of course, costs money. Each player's attire cost $120 plus, and over $7,000 for approximately 60 boys.

Fifteen football coats at $13.50 each; 38 employes, including teachers on gates, policemen and custodians cost $217 per game.

Last year's major outlay was, of course, installation of lights on Magly Field. This is posted in red in the school treasurer's book at $19,000.

Improvements this year include purchase of new bleachers, discounted to a figure of $6,000, which will accommodate 1200 more patrons.

Twelve hundred more spectators can now be served since baseball bleachers were moved to the south end of the gridiron at a cost of $2750. The Booster Club made this project possible.

City and federal tax deductions take a substantial cut of the gate receipts.

Eleven years ago, when the stadium proper was completed and dedicated at a cost of $60,000, it was a fabulous figure. Now it is conservatively estimated that the same stadium would cost nearly a half million dollars.

In spite of the three Friday nights when Jupiter Pluvius decided that we needed aquatic sports for entertainment, the West High athletic treasury fared rather well.

More people between 15 and 44 die of tuberculosis than of any other disease, but no age is immune to TB. It may attack people of any age.

When the National Tuberculosis Association was organized in 1904, tuberculosis was the first cause of death in this country. Since then it has been forced down to seventh place but still kills nearly 50,000 Americans a year.

Christmas Gifts Are Needed At State Hospital

Christmas is a season when man generally opens his heart to a fellow man.

But at the Columbus State Hospital each Christmas, there are between 1000 and 1500 patients who would never receive a holiday token if it were not for the efforts of the hospital superintendent and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Bateman.

This season will be the eleventh during which the couple has collected gifts for the patients who are not remembered by family or friends. During this time Hilltoppers have been generous in donating small items to make these men's and women's lives happier.

As in previous years, The Hilltop Record office, 2465 W. Broad-st, will again accept these gifts from local people, which in turn will be sent to the hospital for Christmas morning.

It does not cost a great deal to make these persons happy. The gifts need not be extravagant or expensive.

Cosmetics, hankies, writing paper and toilet articles are appropriate for the women. If planning to donate a man's gift, ties, tobacco, combs, etc., would do nicely.

In slicing refrigerator cookies for baking, use a thin bladed, very sharp knife; cut with a sawing motion and do not press too hard or the shape of the roll may be lost.

Bulletin

A match game is being arranged for this Sunday between the Hilltop Recreation team and Hummer Tractor Service of Chillicothe. The two teams met at Chillicothe a few weeks ago with the Hilltop boys coming out on top, 2750-2565. Tom Wolfe led the two teams with 263-624. The match was held at the Twentieth Century alleys, which are owned by Bill Wolf. The event marked the grand opening of the remodeled alleys. The team members of the Hilltop are Carl Breckenridge, Dan Wolfe, Tom Wolfe, Al Conroy and Joe Switcher.

Junior Theatre's "Snow Maiden" At Palace, Nov. 26

The Community Junior Theatre, which will open its fifth season with the showing of "The Snow Maiden" on Nov. 26, was organized in April of 1944 by a group of Junior League members who were interested in providing better entertainment for the school-age child.

The theatre group is a non-profit organization which is working toward the goal of being self supporting. At the present time the Junior League underwrites any financial deficit.

Tickets for the seasons productions are 25c for children and 35c for adults. Other presentations will include "Little Red Riding Hood," Jack Courtney, the Magician; "Hansel and Gretel," "The Glowing Bird," and a water carnival to be given at the Ohio State University's, Natatorium.

The opening play, "The Snow Maiden," will be given at the Palace Theatre.

Tickets for the entire series of six performances are on sale for $1 each or by single admissions. On the Hilltop they may be purchased at The Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st; Campbell's Pharmacy, 2766 W. Broad-st; Goodwin's Pharmacy, 2772 Sullivant-av; Superior Drugs, 2109 W. Broad-st.

On Oct. 24, during the morning church service, the pastor of the Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church officiated at the burning of all notes and mortgages held against the church property.

A pot-luck dinner followed in the church basement. The afternoon's message was brought by Rev. C. D. Osborn, a former pastor of the church, who is now with the Como Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Helping Rev. Harold Dutt, pastor, with the mortgage burning ceremony were Trustees A. C. Dawson, Fred Hysell, Bill Chinn, Ed Howard and Dr. Eldred Heisel. Rev. E. E. Nietz, conference superintendent for this area, received the final payment and presented the mortgages to Rev. Dutt.

Local Library Has Book Week Classes For Five Schools

The Hilltop Branch of the Public Library, 21 N. Hague-av, has carried on a special program in honor of "National Book Week," Nov. 15 to 19.

Pupils from St. Aloysius, Concordia Lutheran, West Broad Street, St. Mary Magdalene and Rome Elementary Schools have been attending classes every half-hour at the library during the past week, and due to the large number of children which is served by the library, it has continued these classes through today (Tuesday).

Mildred Phalor, librarian; and her helpers Mrs. Frances Emrich, and Mrs. Ruth Morairty, passed the new books arcund to the children in the classes in an effort to show them the type of reading material available. A marionette sketch about Peter Rabbit and Alice in Wonderland was presented also, in addition to displays which were posted on each table commemorating "National Book Week."

Mrs. Nannie Currier, a former library worker has donated a record player to the organization.

Forty-four classes were scheduled by the local library during "Book week," which this year had as its theme, "Books Tell The Story."

The Hilltop Record can be mailed to a friend. $1.50 per year anywhere in Franklin County.

Weekly Novena Series Begins Nov. 29 At St. Mary Magdalene

A new weekly series in the perpetual novena to Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal is to begin Monday, Nov. 29, in the Church of St. Mary Magdalene. Msgr. Herman Mattingly is scheduled to preach the novena sermons. He is the editor of the Columbus Register and is a pastor in Granville, O.

The novena services will be held each Monday with mass at 6:30; other services during the day are at 10, 3, 4, and starting at 5:15, at 45 minute intervals up to and including the 9 o'clock service. For the convenience of those attending the novena, confessions are heard during and after the exercises.

St. Mary Magdalene Church is located at the corner of Parkside and S. Roys-ay.

Rev. E. W. Rowand To Conduct Service At Burgess EUB

Rev. Edward W. Rowand, the son of a former Methodist pastor who met his death in an accident while on his way to conduct a worship service, will present the monologue, "Light of Men", at the Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church, Nov. 28 at 7:30 p. m.

The program was at first given as a memorial to Rev. Rowand's father and later churches of other denominations used it also.

Rev. Rowand will give a dramatic presentation of the Apostle St. John as he probably appeared while telling the story of Jesus.

Local Parents Assn. Will Launch Drive

The Hilltop Parents Association will launch its annual membership drive for 880 members on Dec. 1. The drive will continue through Dec. 20, with a kick-off meeting on Friday, Nov. 26, at 7:30 p. m., at the Wheatland Avenue Methodist Church.

Twenty captains and their workers will have charge of the campaign. A watch and camera will be awarded the two persons having the highest totals of memberships.

BANANA HAM ROLLS
1 cup crushed pineapple
3 tablespoons brown sugar
6 thin slices rolled ham
6 firm bananas

Set your oven at 350F or moderate. Drain pineapple. Pour juice into a medium, oblong baking dish. Add brown sugar to juice; stir until dissolved. Spread thin layer of pineapple on each slice of ham.

Peel bananas and roll ham slices around them. Fasten with toothpicks. Bake in pineapple juice and sugar mixture for 25 minutes. It's a good idea to baste the rolls three or four times while they are baking.

Since 1908, Christmas Seals have been sold nationally to support a campaign against tuberculosis in the United States.

Tuberculosis kills nearly 50,000 Americans a year—kills at the rate of 137 persons a day, one person every 10 minutes.

BIBLE COMMENT
FOR NOV. 28

Parables of Jesus Will Always Be Needed in World

A PARABLE is a story told to point a moral, or to illustrate truth.

The Gospel records show how extensively and effectively it was used by Jesus as He taught the multitudes who pressed to hear His words. But the parable in such use was not unique with Jesus. It was a form widely used in the East, as in Aesop's famous "Fables."

What is unique in the parables of Jesus is their quality, their simplicity and perfection in expressing what Jesus had to declare, and in the greatness of the truth itself.

That is a point that cannot be too strongly stressed in appreciating the greatness and power of those parables. I suppose that thousands of sermons have been preached upon such parables as those of The Prodigal Son, and The Good Samaritan, sermons that have used up hundreds of words for each of the comparatively few in the original stories.

But it is doubtful whether all these sermons have added anything to the effectiveness of the simple stories as told by Jesus in making known the message of God's love.

What was it that made these parables of Jesus so effective? And what is it that keeps them fresh and new today?

I think it is the fact that the parables of Jesus are true to life.

If Jesus had been inventing something that couldn't have happened, the stories would have lost their force. But the stories, whether of actual occurrences or of details chosen to make plain the message, are so true to human experience. They live today with a power as real in our modern setting as in their ancient setting.

It is this element of universality that underlies their persistent freshness. The parables are ageless in their application, as they are universal in their human outreach. At any time, anywhere in the world, among any race or people, they would still have their message. That is why they are unique and why they will always be needed in a world that lags so far behind in the appropriation of their truth.

Why Must People Be Like Sheep?

After a most successful football season at West High School it was very unfortunate that an incident should arise to mar the pleasure of a job well done

We have reference to the frolic of nine members of the team last Friday night at Cincinnati which resulted in their suspension from school until Monday and their subsequent probationary status.

The incident we have reference to needs no further review. Everyone we have talked with knows more of the sordid details than we have been able to get from school authorities. It was unfortunate that the boys felt proud enough of the incident to brag about it.

The whole thing reminds us of a flock of sheep playing follow the leader. One sheep takes a notion to go in this direction and the whole flock follows, never knowing the reason why.

Perhaps some fellow in the crowd thought it would be smart to make such a suggestion. Right other sheep fell in line. After it is all over they could do little but regret.

All season the boys had played it gether and ran the ball in the right direction. They closed the season by running the wrong way playing follow the leader and never thinking where the leader was taking them.

The boys have been reinstated at school. What course will be taken with reference to future participation in athletics has not yet been determined. There are many who feel they should be deprived of this right even if it causes West to finish in the cellar in basketball this year.

While You Do Your Christmas Shopping Early Notes: Before you break a leg or your neck going downtown to shop for something you can buy on the Hilltop for less money why not just visit the local stores and have all the worry over with in a hurry . . . Rail Lite Co. Ordered To Extend Line

Bus transportation service on the Hilltop in West Mound Street, for many years a sore point with residents in that area, is apparently at last about to be realized.

At the Monday session of City Council, a resolution was passed directing the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. to extend existing transportation facilities west on Mound-st to a terminal at or near Binns-blvd.

The action had been begun in earnest a week earlier, Nov. 22, when a delegation of approximately 100 aroused Hilltoppers gathered in council chambers to plead for extension of motor bus service west of Central-av. Spokesmen for the group were Mrs. L. E. Ticknor, 831 S. Wayne-av, and H. T. Van Ness, 654 Whitethorne-av, representing the Whitethorne Civic Association. Mrs. Ticknor told of having to walk a half-mile to the bus and of usually having to ride both ways in cramped, ever-crowded vehicles.

Council had met earlier that evening with Harold V. Potts and Oscar R. Hott, representatives of the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co., in regard to the matter. The men told council that as long as two years ago the company had expressed its willingness to "talk over" extension of service if some improvement would be made in the condition of Mound-st west of Wayne-av.

At the Nov. 29 session, council granted approval to improvement of Mound-st from Wayne-av to Binns-blvd as part of the $3,000,000 street and sewer improvement program for 1949. Improvement of Mound-st between Central and Whitethorne-avs has also been authorized.

Officials of the utility had not received the resolution from council as of Tuesday afternoon and could therefore make no statement as to possible action of the company. Councilman Henry A. Koontz and Council President Joseph Jones said after Monday's session that "We've done all we can do as a council." Haste with which service is inaugurated will depend upon the engineering department and the utility, they added.

Three To Present Show For Vets

Three Hilltop and West Side persons will be featured in an eight-act vaudeville show to be presented Dec. 12 at the Veterans' Hospital in Chillicothe by Lawrence Whitaker, 377 W. Cherry-dr, a blind veteran of World War I.

Bill Marrot, the pianist, Shirley Huntsberry, a West High School senior, featured in a dancing act, and Kenny Chamberlain, a member of the Hillbilly Trio, are the local persons who will appear at the hospital at 2 and 7 p. m., Dec. 12.

Mr. Whitaker, supervisor and manager of the show, said it was the 43rd time in about 40 years of show business that he had taken a troupe to the Chillicothe Hospital.

Legion Head Will Speak Here

Members of Camp Chase Post No. 96, American Legion, have been advised that National Commander Perry Brown of Texas will be guest of the Franklin County Council at the annual commanders' banquet, to be held Dec. 4 at 8 p. m. in the Deshler-Wallick Hotel ballroom.

Officers and committee chairmen of the post are urged to attend the officers' conference, to be held at 10 a. m. Sunday, Dec. 5, in the Deshler ballroom. All phases of the Legion program will be discussed.

Camp Chase Post members who have paid 1949 dues will be guests of the post at an Early Bird Party, to begin at 2 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 11. Refreshments and entertainment will precede the dinner, to be served at 6:30 p. m. Former members or members whose 1949 dues have not yet been paid may attend the party by paying dues at the door.

The annual stag Christmas party of Camp Chase Post will be held Dec. 17. Each member is asked to bring a gift, value not to exceed 25c, and place it in Santa's bag.

BOOSTERS TO MEET

West High Boosters will meet in room 101 at the school, Tuesday, Dec. 7, at 7:30 p. m.

John Raymond Honored By Fellow Postal Employees Upon Retirement

John Raymond, retiring Hilltop "postmaster", is shown above as he is being congratulated by John Guy, left, acting postmaster, and being presented a gift from Hilltop postal employees by Raymond Anderson, acting clerk in charge at the Hilltop office. The picture was taken Monday evening by J. Curtis Allen when Raymond was honored by the group at a party at the VFW Hall, Broad-st and Wayne-av.

By Myron T. Seifert

A familiar face will soon be missing at the Hilltop station post office when you make your appearance there to buy stamps, money orders, etc. Already inquiries are received daily at the local post office concerning the whereabouts of John Raymond, erstwhile superintendent of the Hilltop station, and who, last October, rounded out 37 years of service with Uncle Sam in postal capacities.

But the truth will out. Mr. Raymond's colleagues and friends in the postal service planned a pleasant surprise for Hilltop's senior postal official, lately retired, at a party given in his honor at the VFW hall, corner of Wayne and Broad-sts, last Monday night.

More than three score and 10 friends did homage to the man who blazed the trail, and developed one of the most efficient post offices in the country. Liked by all, as the testimonials in the VFW room that night proved, Mr. Raymond's popularity was due to the humane, simple manner in which he managed his office and issued his directives.

Guests included Columbus Postmaster John W. Guy and assistant Postmaster Erwin Metz, carriers and former carriers, clerks and former clerks whose association with "John", as they all called him through the years, made their jobs happier and perhaps a little lighter.

Spending almost half of his postal tenure at the Hilltop station, he with Vernon Stout, now senior clerk, was transferred from the main office to the Hilltop station when the local post office opened its office, May, 1930.

"Only one of the original 13 carriers is still with the Hilltop station," Mr. Raymond said, "he is C. Earl Clark, 137 N. Roys-av."

Still but 61 years of age, Raymond in a nostalgic mood, can glibly recite the 1930 postmen's name and numbers, much in the same manner as any railroad conductor can call off the stations on his railroad route to the passengers aboard.

The original 13 carriers, Mr. Raymond recalled, began with the number "400".

The 13 postal carrier's numeral and his name, Raymond recited, followed this sequence: 400 Charles Green, 401, Mark Bowen, 402 Otto Seeds, 403, Leo Vogel, 404, C. Earle Clark, 405, William Rogers; 406, Ray Highland, 407, Ivan Reed, 408, Ivan Seibring; 409, Basil Johnson; 410, Charles Thompson, 411, Owen Siler, and 412, Charles Curl (deceased).

Intending to become a railroader, Raymond followed this course for three years prior to his service with the post office.

As early as 1909, when he looked upon the postal "calling" even then as opportunity to be of service to his fellowman, he took his postal examination and in 1911 received his first appointment at the main office, then Chestnut and Third-sts, where he worked the "Barracks Station," in 1918.

In 1925, he was made superintendent of the Mt. Vernon Station, transferring to the Hilltop Station in 1939, from which he was recently superannuated.

By virtue of his occupation he became an avid stamp collector, seeking "first day cancellations" and commemorative editions. Thousands of such stamps are included in his display. No appraisal has ever been made by a genuine connoisseur of his collection, Mr. Raymond advised.

Mr. Raymond resides with his wife, at 136 S. Southampton-av, where he has lived since 1940, holds membership at Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church, Columbus Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, No. 30, and Temple Chapter of Masons at downtown Fourth-st main temple.

With no special plans for the future, the Raymonds are content to be Hilltoppers—where they enjoy living.

Pa, Ma Philosopher Greet Friends Via New Record Calendar

Two distinguished personages will come to the Hilltop this week and make appearances in numerous business places in this community. The celebrities are known affectionately to their "public" as Pa and Ma Philosopher.

Pa and Ma Philosopher, in case you hadn't heard, are the popular creations of the talented pen of Brown & Bigelow artist Henry Major. The pair grace the 1949 calendar certain to receive more second glances than any other and have again been chosen this year as official representative of The Hilltop Record in business places and homes throughout the community.

When "The Gay Philosopher" made his first appearance three years ago, the public, then as now in need of a light touch to balance many other everyday worries, was fascinated by the whimsical smile and the perfect expression of the "Why worry, take-it-easy and-you'll-live-longer" school of thought. The next year, "The Gay Philosopher's Son" made a similar hit with the American public suddenly addicted to habitual glancing at calendars.

This year's entry, the philosopher and his wife and one finny little fish they have managed to catch after an all-day outing, is certain to maintain intact Henry Major's reputation of being admirably capable of expressing the seldom seen but much desired side of life known to "The Gay Philosopher."

Watch for these wall calendars in Hilltop business places beginning this week. And if you'd like a smaller but equally satisfying portrait of "Pa and Ma Philosopher," drop in at the Record office. The desk calendars will be given without cost to any subscriber who steps in and asks for one while the supply lasts.

SUES FOR $100,000

Harry D. Combs, 212 N. Chase-av, filed suit for $100,000 against William Grant, 25 N. Brinker-av, and Murlyn B. Hardman, 164 W. Fifth-av, in Common Pleas Court Monday, Nov. 29. In his suit Combs says he was injured April 1 in an accident at Broad-st and Midland-av involving a tractor-trailer driven by Grant, "agent" for Hardman.

9 Suspended Boys Are Back In School

Nine West High football players were allowed to return to classes Monday afternoon following a conference of the boys, their parents and school officials Monday morning. They had been suspended by Irvin F. Young, principal, last Wednesday.

The boys were originally suspended after having admitted misconduct following the Cincinnati Hughes-West High game a week ago last Friday.

At least five of the boys were candidates for the school basketball team and as yet school authorities have not decided to let them play this season. It was pointed out by Mr. Young Tuesday that any decision to let them participate in further athletics will depend upon the reaction of both students and teachers.

Mr. Young issued the following statement to the Record:

"Following the Cincinnati football game, nine members were guilty of misconduct which our school cannot approve. After conferences with parents, amends have been made to the extent that they have been reinstated in school. We regret this incident but are confident that these boys and the student body will make every effort to protect the good name of West High School."

Charges of misconduct were not based on a mere visit to a night club and possible drinking, as was printed out in a daily paper earlier this week. Other misconduct was readily admitted by the boys.

No decision has been made as to awarding letters and gold footballs to these team members.

What the effect of this action will be on West's prospects in basketball is a problem for Coach George Williams. West meets Bexley on the local floor Saturday night, after going to Newark Friday. On Tuesday Coach Williams had no statement to make regarding any possible lineup.

Hilltop Shriners will turn out en masse, fezzes and all.

Group Advises Building New Dam For Protection

The West Side could be inundated by another flood similar to that of 1913, with resultant millions of dollars of property damage and possible loss of many lives!

The channel improvement and other flood protective works built through Columbus along the Scioto and Olentangy Rivers are not sufficient to give the city and especially the West Side complete protection against a recurrence of flood situation that existed in March, 1913.

Two Pets Killed By Dog Poisoner

Hilltop families are urged to be extremely watchful of their pets as it has been learned that a dog poisoner is at large in the community and has already taken the lives of two local animals.

Pet owners along Powhatan-av are especially on the alert since both of the dead animals lived on that street. First to be poisoned was the eight year-old springer of Mr. and Mrs. Virgle Cline, 33 Powhatan, which died Saturday, Nov. 13. The same afternoon the three year -old cocker spaniel of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Miller, 26 Powhatan-av was poisoned and died the following day. Police who investigated the killings said cyanide poison was used and was fed to the dogs in ground meat left in the yard.

Neighbors are especially incensed over the criminal cruelty and unbelievable stupidity of the person responsible for the deaths because the poisoned meat has been left on places where children might reach it. Several very young children live adjacent to the yard in which the meat was discovered.

SOCIETY LEADER

MISS JOY JONES, moving spirit of the gay younger set, was recently presented with a new Lady Elgin wristwatch. The occasion was her nineteenth birthday and the generous giver was her father. At the birthday party in her honor guests admired the beautiful, dainty Lady Elgin with the revolutionary new lifetime mainspring. When cornered by excited questioners, Mr. Jones admitted the happy choice was made at the Hilltop Jewelers, 2421 West Broad Street at Eureka Ave., right in our own shopping center!

(Soc. Ed. Note: This department is going to tip off Mr. Klass to put some of those beautiful watches in his Christmas window, and then we'll just walk the B. F. slowly by.)

Installation of 1948-49 officers of Robert Morris Chapter No. 372 Order of Eastern Star was held at West Gate Temple, 2925 W. Broad-st. Tuesday, Nov. 23, at 7:30.

The temple was decorated with a basket of large white chrysanthemums at the east and two seven-branch candelabra with royal blue candles and small white chrysanthemums on each side. The new officers entered wearing white formals. The dresses of the Star Points were trimmed in colored sequins representing their particular stations; the dress of the other officers in royal blue. All wore satin shoes to conform to coloring on gowns.

Those installed were Fern Johnson, worthy matron; James Ware, worthy patron; Alice Goodall, associate matron; Charles Goodall, associate patron; Ethel Cranford, secretary; Etta Timms, treasurer; Thelma Doran, conductress; Martha Hegenberger, associate conductress; Jane Shellhaas, chaplain; Jean Ware, marshal; Josephine Nowell, organist.

Upon reaching her station she was presented with a lucite gavel, a gift from her husband, Phillip Johnson, and a bouquet of white roses from her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. John Culp.

A song "Sparky, Sparky" was sung by the chorus to James Ware, worthy patron, as he approached the east.

Hilltop Players Choose Cast For "Night Of January 16"

The Hilltop Little Theatre's production of "Night of January 16", to be presented Jan. 16, 1949, in the auditorium of John Burroughs School, is well under way, according to an announcement from Jack Perdew, director. He said parts have been assigned, construction of sets has begun and rehearsals have already started.

Strictly speaking, this is a play without a heroine, but Charlotte Alexander has been chosen for the leading feminine part, that of Karen Andre, defendant in the murder trial. Nor has it a hero, the principal male role being that of the prosecuting attorney, to be portrayed by Jim Story.

The following members have been cast for other parts in the play:

Prison matron, Hazel Bercaw; clerk of court and bailiff, Howard Moon; Judge Heath, D. K. Finley; secretary to district attorney, Katherine Belhorn; defense attorney, Kenneth Schwartz; his secretary, Marie Wilkins; Dr. Kirkland, Norman Menge; Mrs. John Hutchins, Nelda Biederman; Homer Van Fleet, Gene Paul.

Elmer Sweeney, W. W. Marot; Nancy Lee Faulkner, Betty Moon; Magda Svensom, Barbara Donavan; John Whitfield, Dr. P. L. Cordray; Jane Chandler, Fay Hasson; Sigurd Jungquist, Robert Spohn; Larry Regan, Lee Koontz, and Roberta Van Rensselaer, Ann Grubbs. Virginia Donovan is assistant director of the production.

Twelve important members of the cast remain to be chosen but they will not be selected until the night of the performance. They are the jury, who will listen to the evidence and render the verdict upon which will depend which of the two endings written for the play is to be used.

Among the well-known people who have served on the jury during professional performances of the play are Jack Dempsey, James Roosevelt, Ricardo Cortez, Babe Ruth and Helen Keller. On one occasion four United States Congressmen were among the jurors: Buckler of Pennsylvania, Dunn of Minnesota, McFarlane of Texas and Charles Kramer of California. At the performance for the Stage Relief Fund in New York, Roland Young, Margaret Perry, Ernest Lawford, Muriel Kirkland, Richie Ling, Sybil Bowman, Robert Garland, Francesca Bruning, Margaret Wycherly and Fania Marinoff served.

Open Cowboy Cage Season Friday Night

By Dave Miller

West High basketballers will travel to Newark High this Friday evening to battle with the Wildcats who dropped a 52-33 decision in their opener this past Saturday evening to Columbus East.

The local cagers' coach, George Williams, did not disclose, at this writing, who was making the trip to Newark this week-end, and said that the team has been having a few scrimmages and work on fundamentals.

Saturday night, the Hilltoppers return to the local court to entertain a tough Bexley five. The latter mentioned will play host to Marion Harding while West will be in Newark.

The Hilltoppers will face stern opposition in the Newark tilt. Only returning letterman from last year's Class "A" Central Ohio Semi-final winners will be Guard Jim McFarland. He scored 17 points in two games in the tournaments here last March. Judging from the total times that McFarland shot last week in the East game, the Newark five will more or less be built around him.

The starting five used against East was Dick Davis and Bill Coleman at the forwards; Dick Johnston and McFarland at guards; and Bob Kane at center. However, a junior, Dick Fleitz, will probably be used more at forward than Davis if things go as it did against East. The remainder of the Max Douglas-coached team includes Gene Watson, Bob Stevens, Jim Bline, Jack Cartnal. Last year the C[illegible] boys beat Newark over Christmas holidays, 51 to 42.

Seeing Eye Dog Is Blind Hilltop Boy's Thanksgiving Gift

To a 19-year-old Hilltop boy, Thanksgiving of 1948 will long be a vivid and pleasant memory.

For it was then that Boyd Wolfe, 74 N. Huron-av, blind since birth, became the owner of Linda, a Seeing Eye dog donated to him by the National Guide to Sight Foundation, organized only last February by Sol Greff, 86 W. Frambes-av.

The presentation of the dog to Boyd was made Nov. 24 in the office of Mayor James A. Rhodes. Others in attendance at the ceremony were Sol Greff, Dr. John B. Eckstrom, president of the Amelia and Julius Marks Charitable Foundation which helped provide funds for the purchase of Linda and four other dogs now being trained for similar seeing eye work, and Stanley Doran of Pataskala, who trained the dog.

In addition to subsidizing the training of seeing eye dogs, the Marks foundation is interested in establishing an eye bank at Ohio State University, consolidation of all aid to the blind and development of radar and electronic sounds for the blind.

Other officers of the group are Everett Steece, vice-president; Sam Zuravsky, secretary; and Sol Graff, treasurer. Advisers include Mayor Rhodes, Charles M. Berry, former Columbus police chief; Dr. Eckstorm, Dr. C. D. Barbulesco of Antioch College, Yellow Springs; Steece and Greff.

E. Dawson Recalled To Army Air Force

Recalled to active duty with the Army Air Force, Edward M. Dawson, Jr., 803 S. Richardson-av, reported to Keesler Field, Miss., Nov. 29.

Dawson was inducted in 1941 and attended Officers' Candidate School. He served in India three years and was placed on inactive duty in May, 1946, with the rank of Lt. Colonel.

Mrs. Dawson and their two children, Edward M. IV, and Karen Elaine, will accompany him to Keesler Field.

Tuberculosis can be cured and patients who have received their medical discharge from the hospital can be employed in useful, satisfying occupations.

2200 State School Patients To Be Remembered

Twenty-two hundred patients and students of the State School, W. Broad-st, will again be remembered this Christmas season by the state of Ohio, parents, relatives and friends, Dr. F. F. Keyser, official in charge, announced this week.

Christmas trees will be placed in each building, Dr. Keyser said, with appropriate decorations.

Wednesday, Dec. 22, a show will be given for the students housed there. Individual cottages will stage show entertainments.

Religious services, both Catholic and Protestant, will be held.

Christmas day will be highlighted by a scrumptuous dinner.

"It will be a delightful day, especially for the children," Dr. Keyser said.

Mothers' Club Plans Bake Sale For Sat.

The Mothers' Club of Hilltop Lutheran Church will sponsor a bake sale Saturday at the Ben Franklin Store, W. Broad-st and Powell-av.

Cowboys Dominate Three All City Hi Grid Teams

Six West Players On Top Eleven; Weeks Captain, Pemberton Coach

With the 1948 City High League Football Championship race a matter of history, all that remained to be done to put the season completely at an end was naming of the mythical All-City High Teams by the daily newspapers. That was done this week and West High's all-conquering Cowboys were as much champs of this competition as they were in the rougher battle only recently completed.

West landed five posts on the "dream team" of The Columbus Citizen, while the selections of The Columbus Dispatch and The Ohio State Journal placed four Cowboy stars on the enviable "first team" lists. In addition, the Cowboys were signally honored by The State Journal by having Tackle Chuck Weeks named "Player of the Year" and captain of the select team and Coach Mack Pemberton picked for the best coaching job.

In addition to Weeks, two other Cowboy players were unanimous choices of all three dailies for berths on the honor outfits. They were End Don Speakman and Quarterback Paul Theisen. Halfback Dick Culbertson received the nod from the Citizen and Dispatch panel of experts while Guard Bill Orcutt was considered of first team calibre by the Citizen and Halfback Gene Brown placed on The State Journal's top eleven.

Besides these six selections on one, two or three of the various first teams, West placed two more players on "second teams" and four others received honorable mention ratings. Second team selections included End Jim Rudolph and Halfback Dan Miles, both on the Citizen's roster.

North's powerful second place Polar Bears were also second in number of positions on the honor teams. The Bruins placed four players on the Citizen team, and three each on the Dispatch and The State Journal teams.

In naming Weeks captain of the mythical eleven, The State Journal said: "Weeks is six feet two and one-half inches tall, tips the beam at 199 pounds, is a great team player and sparkles both on the offense and defense.

"His coach, Mack Pemberton, calls him the best tackle that has played for West in years, and one of the finest high school players he's watched perform—'and a fellow we'll surely miss when next season rolls around'."

In giving reasons for naming Pemberton coach of the honorary aggregation, The State Journal said: After all, Pemberton's Cowboys have won the city title two years in a row without a league defeat—and to Pemberton's credit is the fact that he moulded an ordinary squad into a championship eleven between September and November this year."

First team selections for the three daily papers follow:

It Happened!!

Columbus Plastic Products team in the Wednesday night Suburban League finally did it! They won a game. After 37 defeats (without one victory) they jumped into the win column by winning one game last Wednesday. What could be more appropriate than beating the first place Seiller's Department Store team? It took a couple of misses by Seiller's and a pair of doubles by Columbus Plastics in the tenth frame to do it, but the final score was 823-815. They came close to winning the third game but were finally nosed out 760-743 by Seiller's.

Hilltop Van and Storage continued their good bowling as they beat Ohio State Construction two games to run their streak to ten wins in the last 12 games.

BROWNIE TROOP INVESTITURE IS TO BE TUESDAY

The troop committee and scout leaders of St. Mary Magdalene Brownie Troop No. 203 met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Thomas McCormick, 788 Chestershire-rd, to make arrangements for the investiture ceremony which will take place Tuesday, Dec. 7, at 3 p. m., in the school hall.

Twenty-eight Brownies are scheduled to become Intermediate Girl Scouts, and four new leaders will also be invested. The present leaders are Mrs. Ray Eyerman, 2970 Parkside-rd, and Mrs. William Kelley, 519 S. Oakley-av.

Girl Scout Troop No. 202, under the leadership of Mrs. E. M. Grady, 575 Chestershire-rd, will act as hostesses for the Brownies and their mothers at a tea following the investiture service.

Plans were also made for a Christmas party for Troop 203, to be held Dec. 15, in the school hall. The troop members and their leaders are planning to sing Christmas carols the evening of Dec. 22.

The following poem was written by Barbara Timmins, a member of the Brownies:

Investiture

Today-we see the little Brownie pass,
Her head and heart are high.
If life could be a looking glass
We'd see her dreams pass by.

Do not try to keep her gaze brown
Nor dim her eyes' bright gleam,
To greater things her life go on,
She'll love the Girl Scout Green.

Still Not Too Late To Shop Early

By the time this appears about all that remains of another Thanksgiving Day is the turkey hash and it will be almost too late to pass along the optimistic admonition of retail merchants and the Post Office Department, "Remember last year? Shop and mail early, please!"

Yes, we do remember last year and other years before that when our well-intentioned advice has been ignored with apparent disdain as thousands of shoppers staged their annual race to get home and in the front door before Santa came down the chimney.

We often wonder why we waste so much good advice on readers who ignore our sage words with the superior tolerance of a teen-ager for the counsel of his grandma. But, after all, if all editorial writers adopted this cynical attitude the whole thing might well go beyond the stage of eliminating "shop early" editorials to the realm of abolishing political editorials. And then how would the readers know how to vote.

So rather than be a party to starting anything with such far-reaching implications, we'll go out on a limb to say again, "Remember last year? Shop and mail early, please!" And when you scurry from empty shelf to barren counter on the day before Christmas or spend Christmas Day nursing toes bruised in that last minute rush, don't blame this conscientious editorial writer who saw his duty and did it even though he remembered last year and all those other years when you and all of his other readers so pointedly ignored his words of wisdom.

And furthermore, it's none of your business when we do our own Christmas shopping. It's people like you who make it so tough on editorial writers who have been too busy writing "shop early" editorials to do their personal shopping before Dec. 24.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

The Gold Star Mothers of Columbus Chapter 1 wish to thank your newspaper for the publicity given their recent dinner and bazaar. It was a great success.

Through your columns the public became more conscious of the fact that there are Gold Star mothers in Columbus who are not out for glory but who wish to serve the community by helping the boys who came home.

Ways and Means Committee

Dear Sir:

We wish to thank you for your complete news coverage during our recent Girl Scout Regional Conference.

Your cooperation was more than adequate and we are delighted that you found our Girl Scout program worthy of such fine interpretation to your readers.

It is our hope that you and the Columbus and Franklin County Girl Scout Council will continue to enjoy understanding relationships and that the public will be aware of the excellent work that is being done by your own girls, men and women who are in Girl Scouting.

Thank you again for a job well done.

Patricia Ann Tickell
Community Adviser

Mr. Editor:

May we take this opportunity to extend to you and to your readers, Season's Greetings, from this post and its ladies' auxiliary.

May we voice the hope that at this season of the year, we of this nation and of this world will not lose sight of the true purpose of the Christmas season.

That through the birth of the Christ Child, we as a people may achieve a true peace in America and on this earth.

That we shall again become a united people, under one God and one flag, in this nation, so that we as a nation may set the true Christian example of peace in our own hearts and in our own nation.

May true Peace on Earth, Good Will to Man, become a lasting reality, in the year 1949, is our New Year's prayer.

Spots On Floor?

Here is how one mother solves floor spot problem. She keeps a special floor spot cloth and pan handy. Religiously after every meal, she does a quick job of wiping up the area around the table with a damp, soap cloth, then rinses with a cloth wrung out of clear water. Thus the floor never gets too dismal, and by using a minimum of moisture instead of mopping, the weekly wax coat lasts.

New Comfort in GM Train of Tomorrow

REMEMBER THE shoe box lunches and cinder covered seats of the old-time railroad day coach? Above, for comparison, is the day coach section of the new General Motors train of tomorrow, now on a tour of GM plant cities.

The stairway in the background leads to an upper level Astra Dome, constructed of special glare and heat resistant safety glass. The seats are the famous "Sleepy Hollow" design made from studies of human measurements by Dr. Ernest A. Hooton, noted anthropologist of Harvard University.

The train of tomorrow, consisting of Day Coach, Diner, Observation Lounge and Sleeping car, is powered by a standard 2000-horsepower Diesel locomotive, manufactured by Electro-Motive Division of General Motors. The entire train is air conditioned by Frigidaire.

Kiwis To See Film

A meeting of the "Kiwi" Squadron of Wing Scouts will be held Monday, Dec. 6, at the John Burroughs School at 4 p. m., for the showing of an aviation training film, on the identity of planes.

The group, made up of the "Shooting Star" Flight No. 107 and "Blackhawk" Flight No. 105, met at the school Nov. 22 with Mrs. Marge Miller and Dorothy Morris, president and secretary of Ohio's 99's.

This is an organization of women flyers who will form and name the squadron.

"Kiwi", a name suggested by Mrs. Miller, is a New Zealand bird that cannot fly. The Wing Scout program will give the girls only pre-flight training. It was this similarity that brought about the acceptance of the name.

The film was obtained through the interest taken in the Wing Scout program by Vernon Hysell of the Sullivant Avenue Airport. It will be shown by E. B. Graham, principal of the school.

BIBLE COMMENT
FOR DEC. 5

Christian Church Was Established On Organization

WE date our years Anno Domini, "the year of the Lord," and B. C., "Before Christ," with the implication that the Christian era began with the birth of Jesus. Actually Christianity began much farther back, and its roots and foundations were laid in Judaism.

It was in the words of the prophet Isaiah that 'Jesus announced the beginning of His ministry, "The spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor (Luke 4:18)."

But Jesus was a founder as well as a teacher, and He built anew upon all that had gone before. Bruce Barton in his book, "The Man Nobody Knows," compared Jesus to a modern big business executive. This conception was offensive to many readers, who could see in the meek, lowly and ministering Jesus little in common with the conventionally successworshipping big executive. But Barton was right in so far as the comparison emphasized the unrecognized extent to which Jesus was an organizer.

The picture of Jesus as an unconventional teacher, going about in the villages and fields, or upon the Sea of Galilee with His disciples, is inadequate to what the Gospels themselves reveal.

He chose 12 men as key men in the purposes He had to fulfill. Though one of them proved a traitor, their future course and their effectiveness in the founding of the church showed with what insight and vision He had chosen them, and the rare power that His teaching and training had imparted to them. Then, we are told, He appointed "other 70 also," and these He also taught and trained and sent them out into the villages, two by two.

But the result of it all was that when he was crucified, He left a group well trained and equipped to carry on His work.

Thus the Christian Church began and grew with life and truth furthered by organization. And thus the church must still fulfill its purpose and carry on the Master's work by proclaiming the truth and gaining new life.

Halvorson told police he was alone when the man came into the store, walked directly to the cash register, pointed a gun at him and announced "This is a stickup. Open the cash register and cough up the money."

After Halvorson complied, the bandit warned him to "stay behind the counter" and then escaped on foot. The proprietor said he waited until the man was out of sight and then called police.

Hilltop Stores Ready For Yule Shoppers

For the first time in many years hundreds of Hilltop families are looking forward to and preparing for an "old time" Christmas. It will be "old time" in that there is no shortage of Christmas items — and "old time" in that it will bring together old acquaintances and family groups. And it also appears to be "old time" in that this will be a buyers' and not a sellers' market.

Hilltop stores are decorated and a wide array of merchandise is attractively displayed. Everything from novelties to the st... mas... in t... those...

BREWERY QUESTIONING LIQUOR OBJECTORS

Why did you do it?

This question was being asked Hilltoppers this week by a "big man" who said he was working for a local brewery.

The question had reference to why they had placed their names on petitions objecting to the granting of certain liquor permits in the community.

First report of this incident sign a statement saying she had signed the original petition because she didn't know what she was signing.

The man further stated that "our business is a legal business."

He had a list of names in his possession, apparently a list of those who had signed the petition that had been circulated by local church groups.

Kiwanis Christmas Paper Will Usher In Season

'Individual' Cards Is Goal of Hilltop Card Designer

By Myron T. Seifert

That individual Christmas card or greeting which you will soon receive from friends may be the work of Hilltopper Kyle R. Beckner, 262 S. Sylvan-av, whose hobby, begun two years ago, has "developed" into a fairly lucrative business.

"Developed" we say literally, since "developing" is a very real part of the comparatively new enterprise set up by Mr. Beckner.

Enthusiastic about photography, he launched his hobby in 1946 with the best photographic equipment he could afford, and set up his own dark room at the Sylvan-av address. Starting by shooting pictures of his friends, their babies and family groups, Mr. Beckner surprised many of them by converting their photos into Christmas greetings and making them presents of his products.

This hobby tied in well with his regular occupation, where he was in a position to design and mount the print, process it and embellish the "personal" Christmas notes with a variety of artistic symbols. He is employed by the Elliott Addressing Machine Co., 77 S. Fourth-st, where the manager, Mr. Hammond, interested him in this avocation.

He has aided many Hilltop families in sending unusual Yuletide greetings to their friends by "tailoring" the note via "the Beckner system." One card which he perfected was the picture of a bride and groom and their wedding party.

In addition to his Christmas photographic hobby, Mr. Beckner is a free-lance newspaper photographer and furnishes copies of his pictures to the local press from time to time. He recently provided an "on the spot" auto wreck photo to Cincinnati newspapers.

An allied hobby which Mr. Beckner recently added to his list of diversions is that of movie camera experiments.

Come Dec. 15, the Beckner family will move to Charleston, W. Va., where Mr. Beckner will become branch-manager of the company for which he now works.

1947 KIWANIS CHRISTMAS EDITION PAYS OFF—A check for $2793.95, profits from sale of the Kiwanis Christmas Edition last year, was presented by Jim Miles, right, chairman of the Kiwanis Christmas Edition last year, was presented by Jim Miles, right, chairman of the Kiwanis Christmas paper, to H. G. Deems, treasurer of the Hilltop YMCA Board, at a meeting of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club last spring. Kiwanis president Dr. R. J. Miller looks on. Proceeds from sale of the paper this year, to be published Dec. 16, will be used by the Kiwanis "to give opportunity to underprivileged children" in the Hilltop community.

Camp Fire Girls Sell Candy To Raise Money For Camp Wyandot Bldg. Fund

CAMP FIRE CANDY SALE—Mrs. Harry Emrich, 2540 Steele-av, was the first "official" customer of Camp Fire Girls Melanie Davies, 85 N. Hague-av, left, and Frances Wright, 140 Columbian-av, center.

Next Monday, Dec. 6, Camp Fire Girls throughout the city will canvass their neighborhoods in an effort to sell enough Christmas candies to boost the group's building fund. Money from the sale will go toward the building of a swimming pool at the Camp Fire Camp, Wyandot, in Hocking County.

The candy sale will continue through Dec. 18. The 13½ ounce box of mixed candies sells for 50c.

For the past three years Camp Fire Girls have held bake sales, collected tax stamps and had cookie and candy sales in an effort to raise enough funds for financing their camp pool.

On Dec. 11, Seiffer's Department Store and the Westgate Electric Company will house the girls' candy booth, as will Kroger's Super Markets Sales at the Kroger Stores will be held both Dec 10 and 11.

Camp Wyandot accommodates approximately 525 girls each summer, who have previously used a dammed-up stream for swimming.

Sherick To Have Annual Party For Orphans

A former Hilltopper and popular West High grad several years ago established a little bit of Christmas cheer of his own and an annual party has since grown to great proportions.

Jack Sherick will present his annual tap revue at Central High School Sunday evening, Dec. 5, at 8:15, and the entire proceeds will go to the annual orphan party he presents each year.

Included in the dance cast will be the Glamourettes; George and Jackie Hardy; the Albery Sisters; the Kiddettes; the Juniorettes; Nancy Bailey, Barbara Bell; Sue Keller; Davey Fisher; Bobby Dutcher; Dolores Moriva and a guest star, Oscar Conrad, who will dance a number with Jack Sherick.

The hour and one-half show should provide entertainment for all ages.

Tickets may be obtained at The Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st, or at the Sherick Studio, 68½ E. Long-st.

Hilltop Newsies Get Ready To Sell Their Papers

Saturday, Dec. 11, will find Columbus streets filled with members of the Charity Newsies out bright and early to sell their papers for this long established and popular charity.

As in the past several years the Hilltop will have three old time Newsies on the streets selling papers and asking local people to be as generous as possible with their contributions. Every cent of the sale money goes to aid needy children all over the city and county.

Local paper salesmen will include Max Gutkind, 476 S. Burgess-av; Leroy Weigand, 3181 W. Broad-st, and C. Carlton Hartley, 1370 Wilson-rd.

Hilltop DeMolays In Yule Dance

Eight Hilltop boys, members of the Columbus DeMolays, will have a major part in the traditional DeMolay Christmas dance to be held in the Deshler-Wallick Hotel Dec. 23.

Each of the boys is responsible for serving on committees necessary to the success of the gala yuletide affair.

Names and offices held by the Hilltop boys are Don Fell, junior counselor; Jack Helman, junior deacon; Fred Wollerman, second preceptor; Dick Doris, fifth preceptor; Eugene McGurer, marshal; Bob Roller, standard bearer; Steve Devce, senior counselor; and Wayne Gross, alomoner.

Music will be furnished by Hilltopper Ziggy Coyle's band. The public is invited and tickets may be purchased from any of the above local DeMolays.

Edition Appearing Dec. 16 Will Be Bigger Than 1947's

Already a recognized part of the holiday scene on the Hilltop although not yet a year old, the Hilltop Kiwanis Christmas Edition of The Hilltop Record will make its second annual appearance Thursday, Dec. 16, marking the official advent of the gala Christmas season for Hilltoppers.

The Christmas edition of the Record, first sponsored last year by the Hilltop Kiwanis as a means of obtaining funds to finance that club's many philanthropic projects throughout the rest of the year, will be 100% bigger in actual size and in circulation when it appears two weeks from today than was last year's pioneer issue.

The entire net proceeds from the sale of the papers and from advertising published in the supplement will be used in furtherance of the program of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. The money will be used in the Hilltop community to give opportunity to underprivileged children for moral, mental, spiritual and physical development which would otherwise be denied them.

Included in the 24-page two-color section will be messages from Kiwanis officers, articles of general interest on various community activities, special Christmas stories and features and greetings from prominent Hilltoppers and dignitaries from all sections of the city. Ten thousand copies of the paper will be sold to public-spirited citizens anxious to do their part to encourage the fine program of the Hilltop Kiwanis.

Specific plans for the coming year include establishment of better recreational facilities in underprivileged areas; sponsorship and maintenance of units of Sea and Air Boy Scouts; providing of one to three weeks in summer camp for deserving boys and girls; continuance of scholarships for the boy and girl of West High School who merit them; and music lessons for needy and deserving children.

Last year, the first Kiwanis Christmas Edition donated proceeds of the sale and advertising to the then new Hilltop Branch of the YMCA. A check for $2793.95, proceeds of the sale of 5,000 copies printed last year, gave a big boost to the young Hilltop "Y" at a time when it helped most. This year the club is seeking to benefit several more organizations than it could in 1947.

Elaborate plans have been made for the efficient distribution of the Christmas issue on the Hilltop. M. E. Sensenbrenner, president-elect of the Hilltop Kiwanis and chairman of the committee in charge of the Christmas Edition, has announced that the paper will be sold by some 200 men who are members or friends of Kiwanis. This group will meet in the West High School cafeteria at 6 p. m. on the day of the sale and after a dinner served by Kiwanikwee (Kiwanis ladies' auxiliary), they will be briefed and assigned certain territories.

In the afternoon, these men will call on business places on the Hilltop. Then, beginning at 7 p. m., the group will begin an intensive house-to-house canvass to sell the paper, in which it is planned to visit every home in the area bounded on the east by Central-av, on the west by the city limits, on the south by Mound-st, and on the north by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Hilltop Chapter of Kiwanis International received its charter Sept. 6, 1945. Made up of 90 business, professional and civic leaders of the community, the Anyone desiring to provide gifts for the patients may leave them at The Hilltop Record office, 2465 W. Broad-st, and they will be delivered to the hospital by Christmas morning.

Each gift should be marked for a man or woman.

Two Local Men Find Plane Wreck, Victims

The bodies of three employees of the Aero Products Division of General Motors at Dayton and the wreckage of the four-place Navion monoplane which carried them to their death were discovered Monday afternoon in a cornfield 10 miles west of Columbus near Alton by two West Side men, Fred Mayer, 22, of 2839 Lenora-av, and Delmar Miles, 22, of 27 S. Terrace-av.

The three victims were identified as W. J. Blanchard, 46, general manager of the GM branch; Vivian E. Johnson, 29, a detail engineer for the subsidiary, and Betty Ann Charles, 28, a technical engineer.

They had been objects of a four-state search by Air Force and private planes since Saturday afternoon when they had departed from Jamestown, N. Y. State highway patrolmen surmised that the plane crashed either Saturday night or Sunday morning, possibly because Blanchard had become lost in the heavy fog that blanketed the area at that time. An instrument panel clock was stopped at 9:45 when the wreckage was discovered.

Mayer and Miles noticed the craft when they were walking through a cornfield on the Charles Parker farm in search of a coon dog that had become lost on a hunting expedition the previous night. The plane had apparently crashed into the bank of a small stream not far from Amity-rd and Rt. 40 but hidden from both by trees growing along the creek. The Pennsylvania Railroad tracks are located a short distance north of the site of the crash.

Patrolmen believed the three passengers were thrown from the wreckage when the plane crashed into the bank of the stream after skidding some 126 feet through small trees and over soft ground. The body of Miss Johnson was lying 36 feet from the plane, Miss Charles was 76 feet from the wreckage and Mr. Blanchard was found in a corn row 100 feet from the overturned craft.

Dr. Robert A. Evans, coroner, ordered the bodies taken to the Floyd Born Funeral Home. Remains of Mr. Blanchard and Miss Charles were taken to Dayton after cremation in Sunset Cemetery Tuesday p. m. The body of Miss Johnson was taken to Kansas Tuesday evening for funeral services there.

Business Men To Elect New Officers

President, Ira M. Claggett and Philip Stout.

First vice-president, Harold Greene and Don Rice.

Second vice-president, Dr. Fred Marsch and Delbert Pack.

Treasurer, Elmer Hegenberger and Jack Merriman.

Trustees (five to be chosen), Jack Alkire, Harold Erlenbach, Dr. C. H. Lose, Harold Fox, Charles Haas, E. D. Melvin and John Nippert.

Minstrel Chorus Talent Is Needed

Quicker than a wink it will be time for the presentation of the 20th annual Hilltop Minstrel and rehearsals by the chorus are already under way. But the Hilltop Chorus needs more men singers. They are especially light on tenors.

Any man desiring to sing in the show is asked to report to chorus practice any Monday night at Glenwood Methodist Church.

An advance call for other special talent is also being issued. Anyone desiring an interview for a part in the show should make an application by mail to C. C. Hartley, 2465 W. Broad-st, stating what they desire to do.

Santa To Visit 2 Community Cntrs.

Santa Claus, with an "assist" from downtown business men and the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, will make visits and distribute treats to many boys and girls in two West Side youth centers Christmas week.

Santa will start off a busy day of visiting nurseries, orphanages, hospitals and settlement houses throughout the city Monday, Dec. 20, when he calls at the West Side Day Nursery, 40 N. Grubb-st, at 8:30 a. m. The next day, the old gentleman will make an appearance at the Bureau of Juvenile Research, 2280 W. Broad-st, at 3 p. m.

In addition to making 15 scheduled stops in two days, Santa will drop in on the Big Brothers' Party in Central Presbyterian Church at 8 p. m. Friday, Dec. 17, and will also be host at a Christmas party at the Central Community House and at the Juvenile Center.

He won the Silver Star Medal for gallantry in action and had been wounded in Italy. His father, the late Willard Hatton, died three weeks after Lt. Hatton. The latter is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Leora Metsch and Rosabelle Hatton, both of Columbus, and two brothers Jack Hatton, Columbus, and Clifton Hatton, Point Pleasant, W. Va.

Mrs. Mary Fiscus, auxiliary president, is heading the drive for donations for the new project.

All auxiliary members are invited to the meeting Friday evening, Dec. 10. Each is asked to bring with her a prospective member, or the name of a possible member.

The Dec. 24 meeting of the group has been cancelled in order for the auxiliary to assist the post with its annual Christmas party on Dec. 23.

The sanctuary is now being decorated, and will seat 300 persons. There are classrooms for the smaller children. A forced air heating plant was also recently installed.

For the formal opening an organ has been purchased.

The church is inter-denominational, and all Hilltoppers are invited to attend its services.

A lone-wolf bandit escaped with between $150 and $200 Saturday night after he entered the Westgate Food Shop, 3056 Sullivant-av, and threatened the owner, H. M. Halvorson, of 2982 Parkside-rd, with a pistol.

Halvorson told police he was alone when the man came into the store, walked directly to the cash register, pointed a gun at him and announced "This is a stickup. Open the cash register and cough up the money."

After Halvorson complied, the bandit warned him to "stay behind the counter" and then escaped on foot. The proprietor said he waited until the man was out of sight and then called police.

The bandit was described as being of "neat appearance," about 35 years old, five feet-eight inches tall, weighing 180 pounds and having light hair. He did not wear a hat.

Community Hospital "Real Home" for 30 Patients

J. Curtis Allen Photo

COMMUNITY HOSPITAL — Located at 721 Souder-av is this 30 bed nursing home, owned by Dr. Guy Hulett. It was opened in February.

J. Curtis Allen Photo

TRYING TO DECIDE WHO WILL WIN—Left to right around the card table are four patients who obligingly started a card game when asked by the photographer, and then decided to keep playing because it had become exciting. They are John Groce, Tommy, Landers, Bob Randall and Ulysses Beard. Ulysses calls Mrs. Hulett "Sunshine". Dr. Arthur Hulett watches the card game's progress.

J. Curtis Allen Photo

SHE'S THE "STAR PATIENT"—Mrs. Ethel Mae Workmaster, formerly of 339 W. Sixth-av, a nurse in Columbus for 25 years previous to an accident in which her hip was broken, has been a patient at the hospital for three months. With her in the picture are Dr. Guy Hulett and his wife, the former Virginia Shens. They call her their "star patient."

By Libby Downing

Nestling serenely beneath giant oak, maple and buckeye trees, at 721 Souder-av, stands the Community Hospital, the former 14 room mansion of the late Judge Pugh.

The rambling two-story house, which sets about 50 feet from the street, is surrounded by country-like atmosphere, having fields on all sides. There is no hustle-bustle of traffic here.

Dr. Guy S. Hulett purchased the home in February and has turned it into a 30-bed nursing home, which helps relieve the congestion of the downtown hospitals. In the near future the doctor plans to add more rooms to the structure and to build a clinical laboratory.

It was on the hospital patio that Dr. Hulett and his nurse, Virginia Schenz, were married early this spring. The couple resides at the nursing home of which Mrs. Hulett is the superintendent.

The interior of the building is painted in attractive pastel shades, with cream-colored woodwork. Bright chintz drapes adorn the windows, giving the rooms the appearance of bedrooms, rather than "sick-rooms."

Most of the home's confinees are elderly convalescents, arthritics, heart patients and orthopedics.

They have radics to listen to, in addition to use of the hospital's library. Then too, those who are able, play cards, read, converse with each other and write letters. During the summer months they spend much time out of doors, and there are several wheelchairs to accommodate those unable to walk-about.

Visitors mean a lot to the convalescing. Whenever a visitors arrives at the home it helps "break up the day" for all the patients in the room. Visiting hours are from 2 to 4 p. m. During the summer, additional hours of 7 to 9 p. m. are added.

Mrs. Lewis Ross, 330 W. State-st, 75 years of age, has made it her business during the past few months to turn a beam of sunshine on the home. She first visited the hospital when her brother-in-law, Allen Ross, became a patient there.

Mrs. Ross went out among local merchants and took up a collection for the purchase of a wheelchair. She has found several easy chairs to add to the patients' comfort, and a visit from her invariably means candy, or ice-cream parties.

The over-all picture of the nursing home is not of long white corridors, with white figures dashing here and there, but one of homelike surroundings with attendants who enjoy poking fun at their wards as much as the patients enjoy "turning the tables" on them.

Dr. Arthur Hulett, brother of the resident physician, is consultant to the hospital's staff, and is subject to call. The two Doctors Hulett have offices at 2418 W. Broad-st.

Other staff members at the hospital are Carilene Bower, the head nurse, a graduate of Ohio State University School of Nursing; Mrs. Leatha Byrd, dietitian; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hagendorn, orderly and nurse, who reside at the home with their infant son; Catherine Gahn, Mrs. Charles Clendenin, and Florence Shepard.

THEIR RAY OF SUNSHINE —Mrs. Lewis Ross, 330 W. State-st, collected many dollars from local merchants in order to buy chairs, wheel-chair and other necessities for the patients.

Hilltop Stores Ready For Yule Shoppers

For the first time in many years hundreds of Hilltop families are looking forward to and preparing for an "old time" Christmas. It will be "old time" in that there is no shortage of Christmas items — and "old time" in that it will bring together old acquaintances and family groups. And it also appears to be "old time" in that this will be a buyers' and not a sellers' market.

BREWERY QUESTIONING LIQUOR OBJECTORS

Why did you do it?

This question was being asked Hilltoppers this week by a "big man" who said he was working for a local brewery.

The question had reference to why they had placed their names on petitions objecting to the granting of certain liquor permits in the community.

First report of this incident ... sign a statement saying she had signed the original petition because she didn't know what she was signing.

The man further stated that "our business is a legal business."

He had a list of names in his possesion, apparently a list of those who had signed the petition that had been circulated by local church groups.

Two Local Men Find Plane Wreck, Victims

The bodies of three employees of the Aero Products Division of General Motors at Dayton and the wreckage of the four-place Navion monoplane which carried them to their death were discovered Monday afternoon in a cornfield 10 miles west of Columbus near Alton by two West Side men, Fred Mayer, 22, of 2339 Lenora-av, and Delmar Miles, 22, of 27 S. Terrace-av.

The three victims were identified as W. J. Blanchard, 46, general manager of the GM branch; Vivian E. Johnson, 29, a detail engineer for the subsidiary, and Betty Ann Charles, 28, a technical engineer.

They had been objects of a four-state search by Air Force and private planes since Saturday afternoon when they had departed from Jamestown, N. Y. State highway patrolmen surmised that the plane crashed either Saturday night or Sunday morning, possibly because Blanchard had become lost in the heavy fog that blanketed the area at that time. An instrument panel clock was stopped at 9:45 when the wreckage was discovered.

Mayer and Miles noticed the craft when they were walking through a cornfield on the Charles Parker farm in search of a coon dog that had become lost on a hunting expedition the previous night. The plane had apparently crashed into the bank of a small stream not far from Amity-rd and Rt. 40 but hidden from both by trees growing along the creek. The Pennsylvania Railroad tracks are located a short distance north of the site of the crash.

Patrolmen believed the three passengers were thrown from the wreckage when the plane crashed into the bank of the stream after skidding some 126 feet through small trees and over soft ground. The body of Miss Johnson was lying 38 feet from the plane, Miss Charles was 76 feet from the wreckage and Mr. Blanchard was found in a corn row 100 feet from the overturned craft.

Dr. Robert A. Evans, coroner, ordered the bodies taken to the Floyd Born Funeral Home. Remains of Mr. Blanchard and Miss Charles were taken to Dayton after cremation in Sunset Cemetery Tuesday p. m. The body of Miss Johnson was taken to Kansas Tuesday evening for funeral services there.

Santa To Visit 2 Community Cntrs.

Santa Claus, with an "assist" from downtown business men and the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, will make visits and distribute treats to many boys and girls in two West Side youth centers Christmas week.

Santa will start off a busy day of visiting nurseries, orphanages, hospitals and settlement houses throughout the city Monday, Dec. 20, when he calls at the West Side Day Nursery, 40 N. Grubb-st, at 8:30 a. m. The next day, the old gentleman will make an appearance at the Bureau of Juvenile Research, 2280 W. Broad-st, at 3 p. m.

In addition to making 15 scheduled stops in two days, Santa will drop in on the Big Brothers' Party in Central Presbyterian Church at 8 p. m. Friday, Dec. 17, and will also be host at a Christmas party at the Central Community House and at the Juvenile Center.

Two More War Dead Returned This Week

The transport ship Lt. James E. Robinson has returned the bodies of two more Hilltop men to this country from Europe, where they were killed in the war.

He won the Silver Star Medal for gallantry in action and had been wounded in Italy. His father, the late Willard Hatton, died three weeks after Lt. Hatton. The latter is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Leora Metsch and Rosabelle Hatton, both of Columbus, and two brothers Jack Hatton, Columbus, and Clifton Hatton, Point Pleasant, W. Va.

PVT. EDWARD THOMPSON, JR., 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thompson, 3530 Dover-rd, died of wounds June 25, 1944, in Normandy. He took part in three invasions. He attended the Skidmore School on N. Hague-av. Thompson is also survived by two sisters and four brothers.

Mrs. Mary Fiscus, auxiliary president, is heading the drive for donations for the new project.

All auxiliary members are invited to the meeting Friday evening, Dec. 10. Each is asked to bring with her a prospective member, or the name of a possible member.

The Dec. 24 meeting of the group has been cancelled in order for the auxiliary to assist the post with its annual Christmas party on Dec. 23.

Community's 'Leading' Democrat Predicted Truman's Upset Win

So you were really surprised at the way that election turned out that we had a month ago? And you thought, understandably enough, that everyone else was just as surprised at the complete reversal of all the "dope" that resulted in Harry Truman being returned to the White House for another four years? But brother, were you mistaken!

Because right here on the Hilltop, residing at 170 N. Huron-av to be precise, is a man who is probably the most ardent Democrat in all these United States—and a man who "felt in his bones" ever since the conventions last summer that Dewey "didn't have a chance, it was gonna be Truman!"

The gentleman of whom we speak is genial Jack W. Thomas, 51-year-old printer, political humorist and magician and mind-reader extraordinary—so extraordinary, in fact, that by consulting his crystal ball he was able to out-predict Messrs. Gallup, Roper, Crossley, et al.

No "Johnny-come-lately" to the Truman bandwagon, Mr. Thomas first made known his sentiments regarding the national political picture while Mr. Truman was making his acceptance speech in Philadelphia last summer. Said he (in poetry, no less!):

Dewey's a good man but I don't think he can win,
Because too many remember Hoover and the shape he left us in.
I have a home now but I didn't have it then—
I might vote Republican, but God knows when!
I'm not a knocker, I try to be a booster,
But when I go to the polls, it's a cross under the rooster!

In the face of the seeming flood-tide to sweep Dewey into office in a Republican landslide, Mr. Thomas began plugging away on behalf of the "defeated" candidate Truman. He and his wife worked late every night through the summer and fall, using funds they had saved in expectation of buying a new car, to print letters, cards and announcements telling of the hopeless Republican cause. These were mailed by the thousands to Democratic committeemen in every state in the union on a national, state, county and local level.

Replies were gratifying. Mr. Thomas now has coveted letters and signatures from such Democratic big-shots as J. Howard McGrath, Democratic National Committee Chairman; Frank J. Lausche, governor-elect of Ohio; James Roosevelt, son of the late president and Democratic National Committeeman from California (who gives credit in his letter to the Ohio vote which caused Dewey to concede to Truman); and Vice-President-Elect Alben W. Barkley (written, paradoxically, on stationery with the imprint "U. S. Senate, Conference of the Minority").

Mr. Thomas confined himself to "under cover" activities in Columbus, leaving his messages of condolence for the Republican Party in places where they were most likely to be seen, in drug stores, post offices and banks ("The main office of the Ohio National Bank, too," Mr. Thomas adds with a grin, continuing. "My gosh, they would have killed me if they'd ever caught me!").

A Democrat of but slightly more enthusiasm than his wife, Stella, Mr. Thomas is of Welch descent and was "born and raised in Champaign County." He has lived in Columbus "off and on" since 1920.

After fighting it out beside Harry Truman, Mr. Thomas can probably be forgiven for the gloating he engaged in Nov. 3, shortly after Dewey conceded. He wrote then:

A great change took place in this old land today,
The red-hot Republicans are not so gay.
Dewey was their man with his "unity stuff";
Millions of his supporters are all in a huff.

Truman did the best he could and had nothing to fear.
Tried to please the people, both far and near,
Had the help of God (he knew in his heart),
And sure took the Republican Party apart.

French Girl, In U. S. Three Years, Recalls Christmas Customs In France

By Myron T. Seifert

Twenty-one-year-old G. I. bride Mrs. Joshua O'Neal, 110 S. Oakley-av, a native of France, will see her third Christmas in America this Dec. 25 and says, "I love it so much here."

"It's much the same Christmas in France, but different too," the pretty blonde added.

Mrs. O'Neal, mother of a 20-month-old son, comes from Bougone-sur-Mer in France. When the American invasion was imminent she and her family were forced to leave. They went to the town of Vire in Normandy and as the fighting neared that section, the family was forced to evacuate again. Mrs. O'Neal remembers months of walking by day and sleeping in haystacks and barns at night.

So she welcomes Christmas and the hope it brings, in contrast to the war-torn country which she knew.

No "Santa Claus" in France—but his counterpart is known as "Father Christmas" (in French, "Pere Noel").

No swift reindeer are associated with "Pere Noel" in France; "Father Christmas" rides into town on the slow, humble donkey, called "Ane".

Children's toys are carried in a "basket-bag" on Father Christmas' back, and also on the diminutive donkey.

Folks from her section of the world celebrate Christmas twice in December. Dec. 6 is a memorable day for the youngsters in particular, when they hang their stockings and receive presents in them from "Bene Father Christmas". Then on Christmas Eve, Dec. 24, the children "bait" Father Christmas and the donkey with a carrot by placing it in a shoe in or near the chimney. No stockings are used on this occasion—only footwear is acceptable.

On Christmas Eve, starting five minutes before midnight, the season proper is ushered in by solemn singing of "O Holy Night" from the Catholic Church cloisters. Services, under the direction of the parish priest, are conducted for about an hour and a half. According to Mrs. O'Neal, this is the church's most brilliant observance during the year, with every candle-light in the church edifice burning.

The church ceremonial is both colorful and impressive, accompanied by music similar to some of our well-known Christmas songs, exalting the birth of Jesus of Nazareth. However, there is no carol-singing in the streets, Mrs. O'Neal advised.

At one point in the ceremony, four boys trek down the lighted aisle, carrying a replica of the New-Born King, depositing the Likeness in a manger in front of the church, while the music, "Away In a Manger", is sung. Bells extol His birth during the mass, and the priest makes fitting remarks at the service in honor of the New Christ and Mary.

Following the service, many of the folks go to a nearby restaurant where they eat "craqueluis, cocoa or wine", marking an observance of the joyful occasion.

For Christmas dinner all the immediate family gathers round the festive board. The menu is devoid of sweet potatoes and corn and its by-products. White potatoes and gravy and the traditional roast turkey are delicacies practically all Frenchies love.

The corn is used exclusively to feed animals, Mrs. O'Neal said. Likewise mustard and cale go to rabbits and are used little on the French table.

Bandit Takes $150 From Shop Owner

A lone-wolf bandit escaped with between $150 and $200 Saturday night after he entered the Westgate Food Shop, 3056 Sullivant-av, and threatened the owner, H. M. Halvorson, of 2982 Parkside-rd, with a pistol.

Halvorson told police he was alone when the man came into the store, walked directly to the cash register, pointed a gun at him and announced "This is a stickup. Open the cash register and cough up the money."

After Halvorson complied, the bandit warned him to "stay behind the counter" and then escaped on foot. The proprietor said he waited until the man was out of sight and then called police.

The bandit was described as being of "neat appearance," about 35 years old, five feet-eight inches tall, weighing 180 pounds and having light hair. He did not wear a hat.

ALEX FLORIO, Chef

Old Time Showman Now Deals With 'Canned Characters'

By Libby Dowling

High above the heads of the audience, Dave Cornwell, 356 S. Roys-av, projectionist for the Rivoli Theatre, watches the screen intently for more than five hours each evening, awaiting the signals which to him mean switching projectors. In his business one hair or piece of dust in a camera lens may spell c-a-l-a-m-i-t-y.

An audience rarely realizes the many situations which may come up during the showing of a film. After turning switches here, and levers there, and seeing that all the little bobbles are lit up according to custom, the projectionist removes his roll of film from its metal bin, places it in the projector, threads it up (starting at the necessary point for the type of machine used), double checks the switches and timing elements, opens the stage curtains and—the show begins!

Cornwell says he gets tired and lonesome in the booth where he pushes buttons and loads film each evening, especially after 23 years at the same job. Says if he could even talk to someone for a few minutes it would help. But he doesn't fool anyone. Since vaudeville made its exit, the only way in which he can be connected with show business is by helping stage "canned characters", and as long as he has some connection, he's happy.

This Hilltop resident for 23 years began his career when he was 17 years old, driving a milk wagon for the old Hartman Dairy. They delivered only as far as Central-av, because there weren't enough Hilltop residents to bother with in 1910.

On his route lived a young lady who was pianist at the Livingston Theatre. She talked him into quitting his route and taking the job of operating a "new fangled movie outfit" at the theatre. After a few days there he became a full-fledged operator.

There followed small parts in stage shows. He even worked out a magic act, and was a featured part of the show. Still later he was hired by the Princess Theatre, on High-st south of State-st, as assistant operator and stage manager. They worked from 11 a. m. until 10 p. m. "They had sense enough to go home in those days," he remarked with a smirk.

After a spin with Johnny Miller of the Wyandotte Film Co., he became affiliated with Renfax Musical Movies. "This was the life," because the date was 1914, and the first sound movies had just been perfected.

Soon Cornwell married, and after traveling around a bit, returned to Columbus where he was

THE MAN BEHIND THE GUN—There are duties in all businesses which are never given much recognition. A movie projectionist, Dave Cornwell, a long time Hilltopper, has one of these "necessary" jobs. (J. Curtis Allen Photo) hired to haul films and show material from Cincinnati to Columbus. Through his job he met George Pekras, owner of the Rivoli and Ritz Theatres. Pekras hired Dave, who worked at the Ritz before coming to the W. Broad-st movie house.

Cornwell's explanation of the workings of a movie follows this pattern:

Films are threaded upon two projectors at the Rivoli. At the necessary moment, with a flick of a button, the show may be changed without interrupting the continuity of thought.

The projector's photo-electric cell is responsible for the simultaneous sound which accompanies a movie. The actors' voices are recorded in tiny lines right on the movie film. When a ray of light passes over them they produce the sounds of human voices, along the same principle as that of the phonograph.

The movie screen is perforated so that the amplifiers (placed directly behind it) project the actors' voices right from the scene of action. This is show business!

The Cornwells have two children, Robert and Mary (both married) and three grandchildren.

Dave worked in the circulation department of The Hilltop Record during the recent war, and held down his projectionist's job also. He is editor of the Grotto News, and is quite a "shutterbug". A charter member of Westgate Methodist Church, he hopes to become an active member also of the Hilltop Little Theatre group.

Cornwell's only complaint is that "show business isn't the show business it used to be." The days of 10c and 5c admissions are gone, along with the presentations of 11 and 12 one-hour shows a day (or when time ran short, one-half hour shows).

Schultz Ave. Lady Is Civic Leader

"We live only as much of our lives as we do in helping others to live theirs" is the philosophy of perhaps the busiest philanthropic woman west of Central-av, Mrs. H. C. Kay, 91 Schultz-av.

Not alone a theorist and a desk executive, Mrs. Kay practices what she preaches and does not merely one but a legion of worthwhile jobs well.

In addition to her household duties, Mrs. Kay is an accomplished seamstress and artist. She makes her own clothes and also her purses, hats and some of her own shoes and house slippers. These are all very cleverly made and entirely original.

If you attended the State Fair this year you may have seen miniature models of woman's part in the Red Cross. It was the ingenuity and initiative of Mrs. Kay that made this display possible. Furnishing the material, designing the costumes and fitting the wearing apparel to the miniature manikin puppets was the project of this Schultz-av woman.

Replicas of every division represented by the National Red Cross, in both color and style, were shown in this display engineered by Mrs. Kay.

With more than 4000 working hours with the Gray Ladies, she has added immeasurably to the comfort, convenience and happiness of patients in many Central Ohio hospitals.

Entertaining servicemen with many worthwhile efforts has been one of her pet projects with the Gray Ladies. Letters from G. I.'s in all parts of the world are received by Mrs. Kay as a result of her part in this noble enterprise.

When celebrities come to town Mrs. Kay sees to it that some patient's otherwise dull and drab existence is turned into a thrilling adventure by a visit from a celebrity.

Writing letters for disabled soldiers to sweethearts, parents or friends makes life a little brighter for the boys who fought for freedom. Reading, counseling and doing one of a thousand little missions at the request of these men help to pass the many tedious hours.

During the war she served on the advisory committee of Red Cross. Mrs. Kay was in the first Red Cross Gray Ladies Corps in Franklin County and she has served the past seven years as colonel of the Red Cross fund campaigns. She also served on the Speakers' Bureau of the Red Cross.

In 1943 and 1944, Mrs. Kay was president of West High PTA. Last spring she founded a club for past PTA presidents called the "Partea Club." P-a-r from the first three letters in "parent" and the t-e-a from "teachers" makes up the name "Partea."

When Mrs. Kay was president of the Partea Club, she addressed numerous groups throughout the city in an effort to interest them in buying a ceiling book projector for the Franklin County Tuberculosis Sanitarium. This device enables bed-ridden patients to read, and again brings a ray of sunshine into the lives of those who most need it.

Hilltop Stores Ready For Yule Shoppers

For the first time in many years hundreds of Hilltop families are looking forward to and preparing for an "old time" Christmas. It will be "old time" in that there is no shortage of Christmas items — and "old time" in that it will bring together old acquaintances and family groups. And it also appears to be "old time" in that this will be a buyers' and not a sellers' market.

BREWERY QUESTIONING LIQUOR OBJECTORS

Why did you do it?

This question was being asked Hilltoppers this week by a "big man" who said he was working for a local brewery.

The question had reference to why they had placed their names on petitions objecting to the granting of certain liquor permits in the community.

First report of this incident ... sign a statement saying she had signed the original petition because she didn't know what she was signing.

The man further stated that "our business is a legal business."

He had a list of names in his possesion, apparently a list of those who had signed the petition that had been circulated by local church groups.

It was understood that similar

Two Local Men Find Plane Wreck, Victims

The bodies of three employees of the Aero Products Division of General Motors, at Dayton and the wreckage of the four-place Navion monoplane which carried them to their death were discovered Monday afternoon in a cornfield 10 miles west of Columbus near Alton by two West Side men, Fred Mayer, 22, of 2339 Lenora-av, and Delmar Miles, 22, of 27 S. Terrace-av.

The three victims were identified as W. J. Blanchard, 46, general manager of the GM branch; Vivian E. Johnson, 29, a detail engineer for the subsidiary, and Betty Ann Charles, 28, a technical engineer.

They had been objects of a four-state search by Air Force and private planes since Saturday afternoon when they had departed from Jamestown, N. Y. State highway patrolmen surmised that the plane crashed either Saturday night or Sunday morning, possibly because Blanchard had become lost in the heavy fog that blanketed the area at that time. An instrument panel clock was stopped at 9:45 when the wreckage was discovered.

Mayer and Miles noticed the craft when they were walking through a cornfield on the Charles Parker farm in search of a coon dog that had become lost on a hunting expedition the previous night. The plane had apparently crashed into the bank of a small stream not far from Amity-rd and Rt. 40 but hidden from both by trees growing along the creek. The Pennsylvania Railroad tracks are located a short distance north of the site of the crash.

Patrolmen believed the three passengers were thrown from the wreckage when the plane crashed into the bank of the stream after skidding some 126 feet through small trees and over soft ground. The body of Miss Johnson was lying 38 feet from the plane. Miss Charles was 76 feet from the wreckage and Mr. Blanchard was found in a corn row 100 feet from the overturned craft.

Dr. Robert A. Evans, coroner, ordered the bodies taken to the Floyd Born Funeral Home. Remains of Mr. Blanchard and Miss Charles were taken to Dayton after cremation in Sunset Cemetery Tuesday p. m. The body of Miss Johnson was taken to Kansas Tuesday evening for funeral services there.

10th Ward Democrats Seek 400 Members

Officers of the Tenth Ward Democratic Club are aiming for 400 paid memberships as the group begins its 1949 membership drive this week. The campaign closes Dec. 31.

Membership cards are available from booth workers or from the ward committeeman, Oscar F. Dildine, RA. 6956. Prospective members may also contact the ward committeewoman, Margaret Roan, RA. 6000, in the evening.

Election of officers for 1949 will be held at a meeting to be announced soon.

Business Men To Elect New Officers

Main business event of the evening will be election of officers for 1949 by the group. The nominating committee last month submitted the following names for various posts:

President, Ira M. Claggett and Philip Stout.

First vice-president, Harold Greene and Don Rice.

Second vice-president, Dr. Fred Marsch and Delbert Pack.

Treasurer, Elmer Hegenberger and Jack Merriman.

Trustees (five to be chosen), Jack Alkire, Harold Erlenbach, Dr. C. H. Lose, Harold Fox, Charles Haas, E. D. Melvin and John Nippert.

Minstrel Chorus Talent Is Needed

Quicker than a wink it will be time for the presentation of the 20th annual Hilltop Minstrel and rehearsals by the chorus are already under way. But the Hilltop Chorus needs more men singers. They are especially light on tenors.

Any man desiring to sing in the show is asked to report to chorus practice any Monday night at Glenwood Methodist Church.

An advance call for other special talent is also being issued. Anyone desiring an interview for a part in the show should make an application by mail to C. C. Hartley, 2465 W. Broad-st, stating what they desire to do.

Santa To Visit 2 Community Cntrs.

Santa Claus, with an "assist" from downtown business men and the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, will make visits and distribute treats to many boys and girls in two West Side youth centers Christmas week.

Santa will start off a busy day of visiting nurseries, orphanages, hospitals and settlement houses throughout the city Monday, Dec. 20, when he calls at the West Side Day Nursery, 40 N. Grubb-st, at 8:30 a. m. The next day, the old gentleman will make an appearance at the Bureau of Juvenile Research, 2280 W. Broad-st, at 3 p. m.

In addition to making 15 scheduled stops in two days, Santa will drop in on the Big Brothers' Party in Central Presbyterian Church at 8 p. m. Friday, Dec. 17, and will also be host at a Christmas party at the Central Community House and at the Juvenile Center.

Two More War Dead Returned This Week

The transport ship Lt. James E. Robinson has returned the bodies of two more Hilltop men to this country from Europe, where they were killed in the war.

Returned are:

LT. ROBERT J. HATTON, 28, son of Mrs. Anna L. Hatton, 2277 Springmont-av, was killed in the invasion of southern France Aug. 28, 1944. He won the Silver Star Medal for gallantry in action and had been wounded in Italy. His father, the late Willard Hatton, died three weeks after Lt. Hatton. The latter is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Leora Metsch and Rosabelle Hatton, both of Columbus, and two brothers Jack Hatton, Columbus, and Clifton Hatton, Point Pleasant, W. Va.

PVT. EDWARD THOMPSON, JR., 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thompson, 3530 Dover-rd, died of wounds June 25, 1944, in Normandy. He took part in three invasions. He attended the Skidmore School on N. Hague-av. Thompson is also survived by two sisters and four brothers.

Legion Auxiliary To Aid Nursery

Members of Camp Chase Unit, American Legion Auxiliary, are planning to provide the West Side Day Nursery with wash cloths, hand towels, and tooth brushes, after hearing reports that these items were needed by the nursery.

Mrs. Mary Fiscus, auxiliary president, is heading the drive for donations for the new project.

All auxiliary members are invited to the meeting Friday evening, Dec. 10. Each is asked to bring with her a prospective member, or the name of a possible member.

The Dec. 24 meeting of the group has been cancelled in order for the auxiliary to assist the post with its annual Christmas party on Dec. 23.

Community Christian Will Hold Formal Opening Sun. Dec. 19

The new Community Christian Church, Powell-av and Olive-st, will have its formal opening Sunday, Dec. 19. Pastor of the church is Rev. James F. Lorenz, 3009 Fremont-st.

The first meeting of the congregation was held in West High School on June 6 of this year. Construction on the stone church was begun this past fall.

The sanctuary is now being decorated, and will seat 300 persons. There are classrooms for the smaller children. A forced air heating plant was also recently installed.

For the formal opening an organ has been purchased.

The church is inter-denominational, and all Hilltoppers are invited to attend its services.

Flowers Are Part Of Yule Legends

There are several flowers appropriate during the Yuletide season which are connected with the birth of Christ by the legends of history.

Sainfoin, or "Holy Hay," is said to have cradled the infant Christ in the manger. The snowdrop is the flower of the Virgin Mary, and is said to be the emblem of the candles she lighted on Christmas.

According to legend, the Christmas rose was divinely created. A shepherd maid wept at having no gift to lay before the Babe in the manger. Suddenly an angel appeared to her. On hearing why the maiden wept, the angel touched the ground where her tears had fallen and immediately the place was white with Christmas roses, which the maid gathered and laid in the manger.

The chrysanthemum is said to have appeared first on Christmas Eve near the manger as a sign to the Wise Men that they had reached the spot where the star had bidden them.

SUSPECT GIVES WEST SIDE ADDRESS

A man apprehended early Nov 22 while trying to enter the Thomas Canton Jewelry Store, 2848 N. High-st, was identified by police as Ralph Carlson, alias Donald C. Mosman. He gave his age as 19 and listed two addresses, 212 Lechner-av and 822 Wilson-av.

TO BE COMPLETED SOON — The West Broad Street Church of Christ, upon which construction was started last April, will probably be complete enough for services about Jan. 1. The new church building is located at the corner of W. Broad-st and Demorest-av. Most of the labor on the edifice was done by members of the congregation.

Snow falls in the tropics but it changes to rain unless it falls on high peaks.

Tuberculosis is not inherited. It often seems to run in families because it is a contagious disease and one member of the family gives it to another.

Church Members Contribute Time To Bldg. Program

On Apr. 1, after more than two years of careful preparations and planning, the congregation of the West Broad Street Church of Christ began construction on its new church home at the corner of W. Broad-st and Demorest-av.

Members of the church hope to complete construction there about Jan. 1.

Adjoining the church lot, there is being built a home for the evangelist who will take up duties at that time. He is T. W. Butterfield, Vienna, W. Va. Howard H. Carson, 224 S. Harris-av is treasurer for the building of the evangelist's home.

Evangelist and Mrs. Butterfield have two sons and one daughter at home. Another daughter is married.

In February 1946, several West Side residents who were attending the Seventh Avenue Church of Christ concluded that they should form a congregation of their own. Since that date about 40 men, women and children have met each Sunday in the American Legion Hall, W. Broad-st at Burgess-av.

The group has had no evangelist to lead them during this time. Various visiting ministers have conducted the services.

Much of the work on the new building has been accomplished by the brain and brawn of the church's members. Gail Reeder, 617 Townsend-av, one of the trustees, said that "thousands of dollars had been saved on construction costs by the members pitching in to help."

"In fact," he said, "some of the families have mortgaged their homes so that we might complete our building program."

Other trustees include Joseph Frey, 107 S. Westmoor-av; C. L. Pennell, 2262 Sullivant-av; S. H. Hammel, 864 Campbell-av; and H. G. Allen, 162 N. Ogden-av. Treasurer for the church building is John Keister, 810 Thomas-av.

The completed church will have an auditorium which will have 300 permanent seats and when necessary an extra 100 persons can be accommodated. It will have four class rooms, and automatic gas heat, thermostatically controlled. A baptismal font and bapistry will be built at the rear of the pulpit.

The building itself will be built of vertical-cut brick. Inside, a public address system and fluorescent lighting will complete the specifications.

GOOD CORN CAKE

Upside-down corn cake is a good supper choice. Brown thin ham slices in frying-pan, then pour in favorite corn bread batter. Bake 30 minutes in 400 F. degree oven. Serve with tomato sauce or creamed asparagus.

SUFFERS SPRAINED NECK

Mrs. Etta M. Seufer, 59, of 2736 Steele-av, suffered body bruises and a sprained neck late Thursday when her auto was struck in the rear by an auto driven by Lauren C. Russell, 32, of 678 E. Livingston-av, police said. She was treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital. Russell was arrested and charged with drunkenness.

Bandit Takes $150 From Shop Owner

A lone-wolf bandit escaped with between $150 and $200 Saturday night after he entered the Westgate Food Shop, 3056 Sullivant-av, and threatened the owner, H. M. Halvorson, of 2982 Parkside-rd, with a pistol.

Halvorson told police he was alone when the man came into the store, walked directly to the cash register, pointed a gun at him and announced "This is a stickup. Open the cash register and cough up the money."

After Halvorson complied, the bandit warned him to "stay behind the counter" and then escaped on foot. The proprietor said he waited until the man was out of sight and then called police.

The bandit was described as being of "neat appearance," about 35 years old, five feet-eight inches tall, weighing 180 pounds and having light hair. He did not wear a hat.

And - - - -

By Henry C. Shetrone

Unknown to most people, a small group of Columbus men and women meet from time to time to keep alive a major American romance.

* * * *

Time was when the exchange of ideas and information was limited by the distance at which the human voice could be heard. This was "short-distance" communication. Very early, it would seem, men dreamed of ways and means of serving this chain which kept them in comparative isolation from their fellows.

The jungle drum, the grapevine telegraph," and the courier were early steps toward longer-distance communication. The telephone and the radio are the present-day consummation of this age-old dream. Long-distance communication is a reality.

An important intermediate step between the jungle drum and the radio and one on which all subsequent developments were dependent, is the electric telegraph —and the Morse Code . . . . and - - - - -.

The story in brief is this:

The time: May 4, 1844. The place: the Capitol building in Washington, D. C. Seated at a table is Samuel F. B. Morse, American artist and inventor. In the city of Baltimore, at the opposite and improvised end of a telegraph line, sits Morse's partner, Alfred Vail. With bated breaths, the little groups gathered about Morse and Vail awaited the outcome. Would the experiment be successful? Then, dash - - -, dot . . ., came from Morse's hand the words "WHAT HATH GOD WROUGHT!" This reverent salutation is said to have been suggested to Morse, should the experiment succeed, by Anne Ellsworth, daughter of the commissioner of patents.

Then followed brief conversations between Morse and Vail. There may have been comment on the current political campaign and the pending election in which James K. Polk, Democrat, defeated the brilliant Henry Clay, the Whig candidate. Had the inauguration of the telegraph been delayed for three weeks, they might have spoken of another great invention, the vulcanizing of India rubber, by Goodyear.

Most people have sent and received telegrams, and many have seen the telegrapher transmitting or receiving messages. Boy Scouts learn the Morse Code, and tap out greetings one to another. And yet few people understand the principles of the mechanism. In its simplest form the electric telegraph is a wire circuit connecting two or more places, with a battery supplying current and, at each end, a "key" for opening and closing the circuit and a "sounder" for amplifying the signals tapped out by the sending operator.

In its present form the telegraph is vastly more complex. Technical developments make possible the transmission over a single wire of several messages in both directions at the same time; the typewriter has supplanted the pen and stylus; and the teletype has in a measure replaced both the pen and the typewriter. Even "wires" are on the way out! The Morse Code, too, has been elaborated. What is known as the Phillips Code, a form of telegraphic shorthand, has greatly increased the speed of transmission. In this code, used mostly in press telegraphy (newspaper stories) one or more letters may mean a word or a phrase. For example, suppose that an operator in the national capital is sending a congressional article to a Columbus newspaper. He taps out certain dots and dashes; the receiving operator translates these automatically into TRP, TSP; he then retranslates these into "the president this afternoon", and records the story on the typewriter just about as it appears in the newspaper.

As with most inventions, the electric telegraph has witnessed many changes and improvements. Should it eventually pass out of the picture it will have left behind it a proud progeny—the telephone, the radio, and what else the future may hold. In any event, the romance of telegraphy will live on through the years. THE MORSE TELEGRAPH CLUB OF AMERICA will see to that.

In 1942 a small group of telegraphers, mostly "old-timers", met in Los Angeles and organized the club, which now has a national roster of some 3,500 men and women. And incidentally, the organizer, E. J. Mulquin, is a native of Mount Vernon, O.

Yes, Columbus has a chapter of the club! Its president is Frank M. Creighton; the first vice-president is H. H. Clark; Walter B. Fraher, Sr., is secretary-treasurer; and O. C. Schaad is historian. The membership includes railroad, commercial and press telegraphers, both active and retired. They meet now and then to keep abreast of telegraphic affairs and to reminisce, nostalgically perhaps, about the "good old days". They speak quietly and respectfully of many notables who have signed "30" for the last time. Samuel F. B. Morse was the most illustrious of these. A bronze statue of the inventor was erected in Central Park, New York City, as early as 1871, by the telegraphers of America.

Hunter Lands 12-Pointer

A 318-pound deer is pretty fair return from a four-day hunting expedition to northern Michigan, three hours of stalking prey and one shot from a rifle, wouldn't you say? In complete agreement with that statement is hunting enthusiast William Mook, 1968 Harrisburg-pk, president of the J & J Roofing Co., 58 N. Washington-av.

Mr. Mook, a native of Dubois, Pa., and a hunter from way back, has looked forward to the annual deer season ever since his youth and has managed to bag at least one deer per season "ever since I can remember."

This year, he left Columbus Nov. 15, the first day of the season, for his private camp in Mackinaw County, about 45 miles north of the Straits of Mackinac in Michigan. He was accompanied by his associate, Rudy Myers, of the Harrisburg-pk address and vice-president of the J & J firm, and a friend, Bruce Iles, of Iles Cafe, 2142 Sullivant-av.

Mr. Mook left his cabin at 8 the next morning and by 11 o'clock he had bagged the 318-pound, 12-point deer. When he checked in at the Department of Conservation office at the straits on his return to Columbus, an official offered his congratulations to the hunter who had bagged the "granddaddy of 'em all" for the season. Mr. Mook used a 25-35 Savage in shooting the husky.

His associates did alright for themselves, too. Iles returned with a 200-pound six-pointer, the first deer of his career, while Mr. Myers managed to bag a handsome eight-pointer.

Mr. Mook has brought a Michigan deer back to Ohio every year since he bought the camp in Michigan about five years ago. He is now planning to leave Columbus Nov. 30 so that he can reach his old home in Pennsylvania in time for the 10-day hunting season there.

Respective top speeds of the race horse, hare and greyhound are 48, 45, and 40 miles an hour.

The average life of a human hair is probably five or six years.

Hilltop Stores Ready For Yule Shoppers

For the first time in many years hundreds of Hilltop families are looking forward to and preparing for an "old time" Christmas. It will be "old time" in that there is no shortage of Christmas items — and "old time" in that it will bring together old acquaintances and family groups. And it also appears to be "old time" in that this will be a buyers' and not a sellers' market.

Hilltop stores are decorated and a wide array of merchandise is attractively displayed. Everything from novelties to the st... mary mas... in k... those...

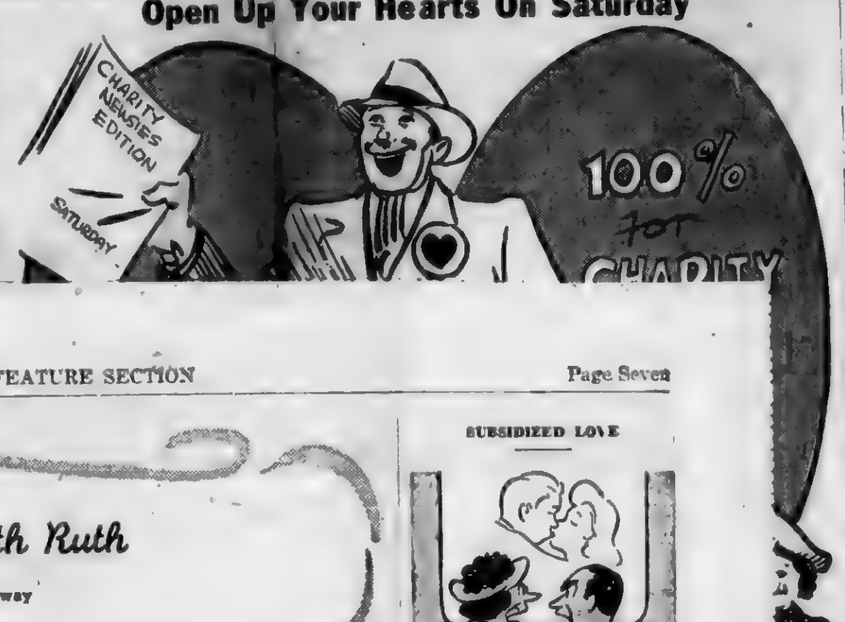
BREWERY QUESTIONING LIQUOR OBJECTORS

Why did you do it?

This question was being asked Hilltoppers this week by a "big man" who said he was working for a local brewery.

The question had reference to why they had placed their names on petitions objecting to the granting of certain liquor permits in the community.



First report of this incident ... sign a statement saying she had signed the original petition because she didn't know what she was signing.

The man further stated that "our business is a legal business."

He had a list of names in his possesion, apparently a list of those who had signed the petition that had been circulated by local church groups.

BABY FALLS FROM TABLE

Seven-week-old Daniel Hooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hooper, 2036 W. Mound-st, was reported in "good" condition Saturday in Children's Hospital after he suffered possible head injuries at his home Friday when he fell from a table while his mother was bathing him.

Rambling with Ruth

By Ruth Broadway

Were Webster alive and writing his masterpiece during these days he would have to include a term which we now hear so often: the new look. This month as we rambled through the Hilltop stores we were in quest of this "new look"—trying to find it for you in all types of things.

Upon entering Seiller's Dept. Store we completely forgot the dreariness of the near-winter day. There we found yards and yards of glamorous new fabrics, zippers (a war-time no-find), buttons, thread—just everything needed by the woman who wields the needle. The most exciting part of all is on the back middle counter—pattern books featuring hundreds of thrilling "new look" dresses.

Thoughts of these exciting dresses in the new fabrics dispelled the gloom, and we now merrily hurried to Mechem Shoe Store to find "the new and different" in foot-wear. Our search was not in vain, for he has shoes in all styles, colors and materials, which gaily walk and skip the "new look."

A slow, determined rain was falling when we left the store, and we stopped to wipe the drops from our glasses. Mmm—what about the "new look" in those? We hurried across to Dr. Fred Marsch's office, and there we found frames which were definitely new—gold trimmed frames, black, blue, rose—just choose your favorite color and a complimenting shape.

But this "new look" isn't confined to wearing apparel and personal things. Going into the Broadview Linoleum and Tile Co., we found the miraplas wall tile in appealing pastel colors and the new Parkay hardwood wall and floor covering which will definitely give a house the "new look". Parkay comes in 9 by 9 slightly beveled sections or in 9 inch broadboard strips and already finished. It will adhere to any surface. With it a room can be panelled and ready for use in one day, or you can have hardwood floors in a day with no sanding, filling and accompanying mess.

To further give that room the "new look" we found some exciting information in the West Hill Furniture Co. There you can select the style, fabric and color from the many samples which they have and have a living room suite tailor-made—just for you. You will love the new styles and colors offered.

Still thinking of all the different color schemes thereby possible, we went on to browse in the Bercaw Gift Shop. With the new Christmas merchandise now on display any woman would be enthralled with all the "new look" to be seen there in the Chinese pottery, vases, Chinese figurines, and oodles of articles to help your home have a "new look" that is definitely individual.

If while you are sewing or shopping for the "new look", time has sped by too quickly to prepare that roast for dinner, stop at Hardy Food Market at Eureka and Sullivant and get a can of Oscar Mayer wieners. All you do is open the can and heat the contents with the chili sauce which is contained in the plastic bag. With a "quickie" like that you will also have time to make some jelly for the breakfast toast, for they have the new Spredon jelly mix, a package of concentrated fruit and fruit pectin—assorted flavors. Just open, add water, heat, and presto! you have five glasses of delicious jelly.

At the Fay Shop there was beauty, beauty everywhere; and every bit to wear. We were thrilled when we looked at the gold (or silver, if you'd rather) braided collar and cuff set—a wonderful rejuvenator for a last season dress. The teenager will love the new skirts and sweaters.

The advent of the "new look" does bring its problems with it—problems for the entire family.

In last year's dresses Mom's ill at ease,
They're much too short you see;
And Sis complains because her coat
Just comes down to her knees.
Poor Pop just sits and sighs and sighs
It almost gets his goat,
For all the "new look" means to him
Is knowing he's flat broke.

So in this column we've tried to show you that here on our Hilltop are the answers to all your "new look" problems. And Pop, it really isn't bad at all!

"Better late than never" is a saying which does not apply to life assurance. Too often late means never. If you delay in applying for the proper amount of assurance protection you may ultimately find you have fallen below the required medical standards. Each day medical examiners are obliged to turn down applications for insurance from people whose need for it is great. Many of these disappointed people could have qualified a year or so earlier but the development of a health impairment makes them now uninsurable.

Statistically speaking, 20% of men are already uninsurable when they reach the age of forty. Keep this figure in mind. Don't be too late applying for your life assurance. Call me today!

Cannon Fire Hails Christmas in Rome

A cannon fired from the historic Castle of San Angelo at sunset on Christmas Eve proclaims the beginning of the Holy Season in Rome. By nine o'clock everyone is in church to witness the colorful and solemn processions of ecclesiastic dignitaries which precede the elaborate midnight Mass.

Since everyone has fasted for twenty-four hours, festive banquets are in order after the religious solemnities. It is a gala after-midnight in Rome: hotels and restaurants remain open, families and friends gather around sumptuous tables in gaily decorated homes; and in anticipation of the festivities, many people attend church dressed in formal attire.

Between Christmas and Epiphany, the Calabrian shepherds—Pifferari—revisit the homes where they were most cordially welcomed during Advent when they came down from the hills to play their Italian bagpipes before the shrines of the Virgin. The Pifferari play for their Advent hosts during the post-Christmas holidays and receive gifts of wine, dried figs, and small sums of money from their hosts.

Have Tree Base Stand In Water

Christmas trees, like flowers, will respond to being kept with the base in the water. Here are two simple things to do if you want your tree to stay green and fresh.

Buy a tree which has been cut as recently as possible.

Cut off the end of the trunk diagonally, at least one inch above the original cut. This will expose a moist surface which will absorb water. Stand the trunk of the tree in water at once, and, if it is not to be taken into the house for several days, keep it in a cool place.

Two Local Men Find Plane Wreck, Victims

The bodies of three employees of the Aero Products Division of General Motors at Dayton and the wreckage of the four-place Navion monoplane which carried them to their death were discovered Monday afternoon in a cornfield 10 miles west of Columbus near Alton by two West Side men, Fred Mayer, 22, of 2339 Lenora-av, and Delmar Miles, 22, of 27 S. Terrace-av.

The three victims were identified as W. J. Blanchard, 46, general manager of the GM branch; Vivian E. Johnson, 29, a detail engineer for the subsidiary, and Betty Ann Charles, 28, a technical engineer.

They had been objects of a four-state search by Air Force and private planes since Saturday afternoon when they had departed from Jamestown, N. Y. State highway patrolmen surmised that the plane crashed either Saturday night or Sunday morning, possibly because Blanchard had become lost in the heavy fog that blanketed the area at that time. An instrument panel clock was stopped at 9:45 when the wreckage was discovered.

Mayer and Miles noticed the craft when they were walking through a cornfield on the Charles Parker farm in search of a coon dog that had become lost on a hunting expedition the previous night. The plane had apparently crashed into the bank of a small stream not far from Amity-rd and Rt. 40 but hidden from both by trees growing along the creek. The Pennsylvania Railroad tracks are located a short distance north of the site of the crash.

Patrolmen believed the three passengers were thrown from the wreckage when the plane crashed into the bank of the stream after skidding some 126 feet through small trees and over soft ground. The body of Miss Johnson was lying 38 feet from the plane, Miss Charles was 76 feet from the wreckage and Mr. Blanchard was found in a corn row 100 feet from the overturned craft.

Dr. Robert A. Evans, coroner, ordered the bodies taken to the Floyd Born Funeral Home. Remains of Mr. Blanchard and Miss Charles were taken to Dayton after cremation in Sunset Cemetery Tuesday p. m. The body of Miss Johnson was taken to Kansas Tuesday evening for funeral services there.

Hilltopper Directs Musical Shows For Prison Inmates

By Myron T. Seifert

Comes the holiday season and Hilltopper Fred Mills, 624 S. Richardson-av, versatile musician and veteran show-trooper in his own right, is busy directing a musical show for inmates at the Ohio Penitentiary.

Employed at the penal institution nine years ago to direct its musical activities, Mr. Mills' work with the inmates has had a wholesome and beneficial effect. As a morale builder among the men, his efforts have had far-reaching results. At this time of year in particular, they need a musical tonic and Mills' contribution to this "lift" looms large behind the great walls.

His job, a singular one, is to audition the 4,109 inmates to find individuals who have musical talents. Those selected by Mr. Mills merit berths in one of four musical groups, including the marching band, concert band, dance band, and semi-symphonic group.

The man who directs the institution's holiday show, first of its kind since 1942, has been in show business since he left the military service in World War I, when he was a member of the 37th Division band unit.

In fact he was a "natural" even in his high school days, when he led a band in Bremen, O., that attracted much national attention. He helped popularize jazz music in that day, and could then, as now, play any musical instrument.

When the war began, he was among the first in his senior year in high school to respond to the colors. Since that time he has had a part in many famous bands of the country, including a long span with the Keith-Albee circuit, entertaining audiences all over the nation.

The concert band at the present time consists of 38 members, Mills said, and plays regularly three times daily in suitable weather, in the middle of the Ohio Penitentiary courtyard, before and during the inmates' march to breakfast, lunch and dinner. In inclement weather the band plays from the chapel and a loud-speaker carries the music to the messlines.

Ages of the band members range from 23 to 55, Mills said.

The holiday variety show, which Mills is now directing, is a musical comedy reflecting the lighter side of pen life. Dancing, skits, music, etc., are written by and for the inmates, under Mills' direction, poking fun in a good-natured manner at pen routine, the warden, guards, food and every other aspect of prison life.

The cast will consist of 70 talented performers. Quartets, quintets, dance teams, two orchestras and acrobatic teams are among acts that will be on the stage. Some of the acts are "The Delinquent Dozen", "The Barbershop Four," and "The Andrews Sisters."

The penitentiary inmates will paint most of their own scenery and make most of their own costumes.

In addition to his interesting family, Mr. Mills, when away from his regular occupation, takes great delight in compiling and organizing current happenings of the day found in newspapers and magazines, in his scrapbooks.

Beginning this hobby in 1936, Mills now has an encyclopedic history of the last dozen years of momentous events in local, state, national and international spheres.

His wife, an accomplished vocalist, formerly Juanita Van Fleet of Bremen, O., is a decided asset in Mills' musical career.

Two children, Fred, Jr., and Mary Jane, are West High graduates. Fred will graduate from Ohio State University this year, while Mary Jane is an employe of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

The family has lived on the Hilltop for the past eight years.

Cut a half dozen marshmallows in quarters and arrange them over a chocolate bread pudding shortly before it is to come from the oven; serve hot with thin cream.

(Courtesy Columbus Dispatch)

"HOME ON THE RANGE"—"Range" doesn't mean quite the same thing to these inmates as to others, the word being prison slang for a cellblock tier, but the idea's the same. These lads, directed by veteran Hilltop showman Fred Mills, will present their skit at the annual holiday show in Ohio Penitentiary.

Hilltop Stores Ready For Yule Shoppers

For the first time in many years hundreds of Hilltop families are looking forward to and preparing for an "old time" Christmas. It will be "old time" in that there is no shortage of Christmas items — and "old time" in that it will bring together old acquaintances and family groups. And it also appears to be "old time" in that this will be a buyers' and not a sellers' market.

Hilltop stores are decorated and a wide array of merchandise is attractively displayed. Everything from novelties to the sta[illegible] gury [illegible] mas [illegible] in ke[illegible] those [illegible]

BREWERY QUESTIONING LIQUOR OBJECTORS

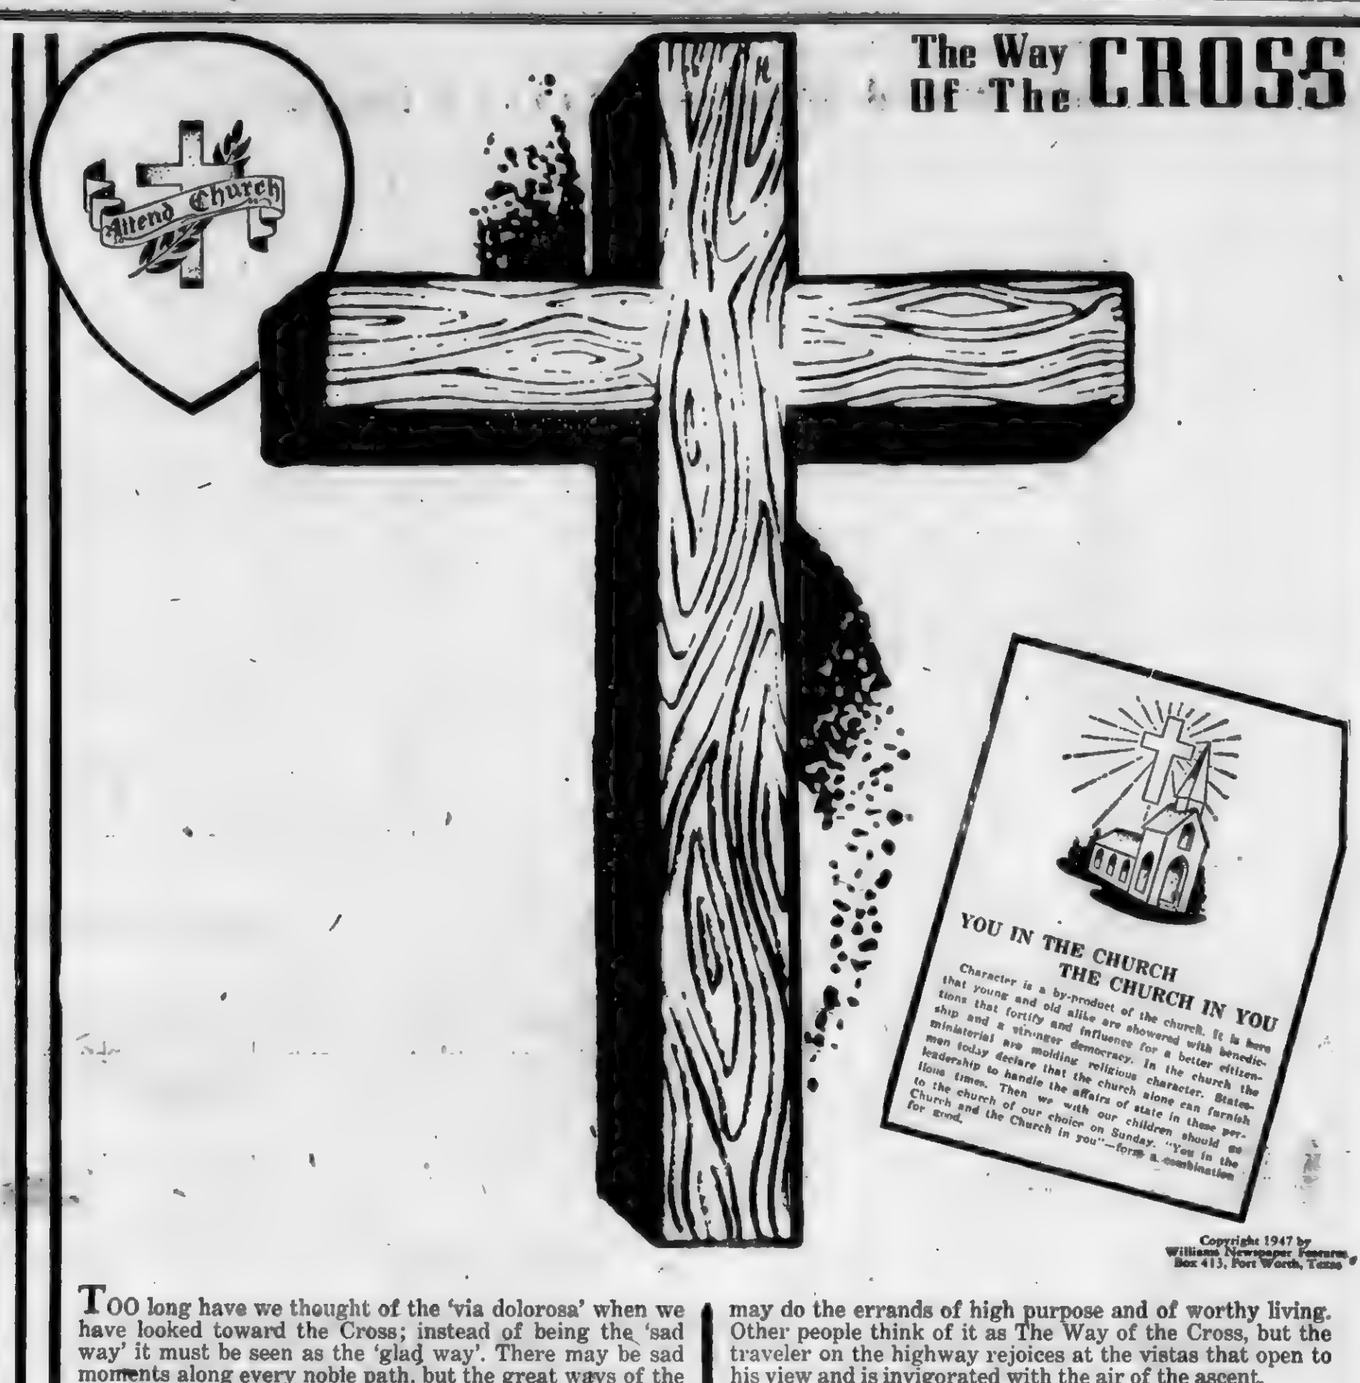
Why did you do it?

This question was being asked Hilltoppers this week by a "big man" who said he was working for a local brewery.

The question had reference to why they had placed their names on petitions objecting to the granting of certain liquor permits in the community.

First report of this incident [illegible] an Eldon-av housewife sign a statement saying she had signed the original petition because she didn't know what she was signing.

The man further stated that "our business is a legal business."



He had a list of names in his possesion, apparently a list of those who had signed the petition that had been circulated by local church groups.

It was understood that similar

The Way Of The CROSS

Copyright 1947 by Williams Newspaper Features, Box 413, Fort Worth, Texas

TOO long have we thought of the 'via dolorosa' when we have looked toward the Cross; instead of being the 'sad way' it must be seen as the 'glad way'. There may be sad moments along every noble path, but the great ways of the world are not thoroughly sad ways. The path of motherhood may have some sad turns but on the whole it is a satisfying path. The path of education climbs some difficult and steep places, but on the whole it is a thrilling way that our young people take.

THE prophet Isaiah talked about the highway of God, where faithful servants of God pass on good errands for the great God. That is The Way of the Cross, a way which one takes in the service of God and the ideal. One turns aside from immediate and attractive enjoyments that he may do the errands of high purpose and of worthy living. Other people think of it as The Way of the Cross, but the traveler on the highway rejoices at the vistas that open to his view and is invigorated with the air of the ascent.

JOHN Mackay has been talking about The Road, by which he means a way of great and victorious doing and serving. "This is the way; walk ye in it". The early Christians rejoiced that they had found The Way, for it meant a life devoted to their Lord and an experience of the divine Presence; it was really living.

THE Way of the Cross is the way that Jesus walked and it has become luminous with glory ever since. "Take up your cross and follow". Heaven and God are at the end of the Way. Attend your Church regularly.

Two Local Men Find Plane Wreck, Victims

The bodies of three employees of the Aero Products Division of General Motors at Dayton and the wreckage of the four-place Navion monoplane which carried them to their death were discovered Monday afternoon in a cornfield 10 miles west of Columbus near Alton by two West Side men, Fred Mayer, 22, of 2339 Lenora-av, and Delmar Miles, 22, of 27 S. Terrace-av.

The three victims were identified as W. J. Blanchard, 46, general manager of the GM branch; Vivian E. Johnson, 29, a detail engineer for the subsidiary, and Betty Ann Charles, 28, a technical engineer.

They had been objects of a four-state search by Air Force and private planes since Saturday afternoon when they had departed from Jamestown, N. Y. State highway patrolmen surmised that the plane crashed either Saturday night or Sunday morning, possibly because Blanchard had become lost in the heavy fog that blanketed the area at that time. An instrument panel clock was stopped at 9:45 when the wreckage was discovered.

Mayer and Miles noticed the craft when they were walking through a cornfield on the Charles Parker farm in search of a coon dog that had become lost on a hunting expedition the previous night. The plane had apparently crashed into the bank of a small stream not far from Amity-rd and Rt. 40 but hidden from both by trees growing along the creek. The Pennsylvania Railroad tracks are located a short distance north of the site of the crash.

Patrolmen believed the three passengers were thrown from the wreckage when the plane crashed into the bank of the stream after skidding some 126 feet through small trees and over soft ground. The body of Miss Johnson was lying 38 feet from the plane. Miss Charles was 76 feet from the wreckage and Mr. Blanchard was found in a corn row 100 feet from the overturned craft.

Dr. Robert A. Evans, coroner, ordered the bodies taken to the Floyd Born Funeral Home. Remains of Mr. Blanchard and Miss Charles were taken to Dayton after cremation in Sunset Cemetery Tuesday p. m. The body of Miss Johnson was taken to Kansas Tuesday evening for funeral services there.

Santa To Visit 2 Community Cntrs.

Santa Claus, with an "assist" from downtown business men and the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, will make visits and distribute treats to many boys and girls in two West Side youth centers Christmas week.

Santa will start off a busy day of visiting nurseries, orphanages, hospitals and settlement houses throughout the city Monday, Dec. 20, when he calls at the West Side Day Nursery, 40 N. Grubb-st, at 8:30 a. m. The next day, the old gentleman will make an appearance at the Bureau of Juvenile Research, 2280 W. Broad-st, at 3 p. m.

In addition to making 15 scheduled stops in two days, Santa will drop in on the Big Brothers' Party in Central Presbyterian Church at 8 p. m. Friday, Dec. 17, and will also be host at a Christmas party at the Central Community House and at the Juvenile Center.

The latter is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Leora Metsch and Rosabelle Hatton, both of Columbus, and two brothers Jack Hatton, Columbus, and Clifton Hatton, Point Pleasant, W. Va.

All auxiliary members are invited to the meeting Friday evening, Dec. 10. Each is asked to bring with her a prospective member, or the name of a possible member.

The Dec. 24 meeting of the group has been cancelled in order for the auxiliary to assist the post with its annual Christmas party on Dec. 23.

Bandit Takes $150 From Shop Owner

A lone-wolf bandit escaped with between $150 and $200 Saturday night after he entered the Westgate Food Shop, 3056 Sullivant-av, and threatened the owner, H. M. Halvorson, of 2982 Parkside-rd, with a pistol.

Halvorson told police he was alone when the man came into the store, walked directly to the cash register, pointed a gun at him and announced "This is a stickup. Open the cash register and cough up the money."

After Halvorson complied, the bandit warned him to "stay behind the counter" and then escaped on foot. The proprietor said he waited until the man was out of sight and then called police.

The bandit was described as being of "neat appearance," about 35 years old, five feet-eight inches tall, weighing 180 pounds and

Angels Have Wings

A LITTLE GIRL was put into an upper berth in a Pullman for the first time. She kept whimpering until her mother told her not to be afraid because the angels would watch over her.

"Mother, are you there?" she cried plaintively.

"Yes, dear."

And a few minutes later: "Daddy, are you there?"

"Yeah!"

A fellow passenger lost all patience at that point and bellowed: "We're all here! Your mother and daddy and brothers and sisters and aunts and uncles and cousins! All here! Now go to sleep!"

There was a pause, then very softly: "Mother?"

"Well?"

"Was that one of the angels?"

FICKLE MINDS

Jimmy hurried to get the evening paper. Tomorrow was picnic day, and he wanted to read the weather forecast.

"Well, dear, what do they predict?" his mother asked.

"They haven't decided yet," the youngster replied gloomily.

"Haven't decided?"

"Uh. It says 'Unsettled.'"

Teacher's Day Begins With Classes; Extra Work Takes Much Time Too

By Myron T. Seifert

It is a known fact that teachers must have the approval of the State Department of Education before they can be employed by any Ohio Board of Education.

The department's nod is accompanied by a certificate which signifies that the pedagogue has had certain scholastic credentials from a recognized institution of higher learning, including a minimum of so-called "professional" subjects, majors or minors, which is indicative of the teacher's field of specialty.

Teachers' duties, in addition to teaching those subjects stipulated on the state's official parchment awarded each bona fide teacher, involve many extracurricular responsibilities allegedly necessary in "rounding out" the student's life.

West High School is a case in point. Most teachers' "loads" range from five to eight subjects daily in addition to a study-hall and a hall assignment. Teachers meet an average of from 175 to 200 or more students daily.

For most teachers there are also extracurricular assignments, either in addition to their five, six or seven subjects daily, or in lieu of one or more subjects that would normally be assigned. The "load" one semester for one teacher may be heavier than that assigned another.

At West High, Principal L. F. Young makes an equitable distribution of the work among the teachers to the satisfaction of all. The teacher with the heavier load this year will be given consideration next year. In performing this chore of teacher-work assignment, one has to be both a school administrator and a diplomat.

More than a score of clubs are school activities at West Senior High and are open to any senior high school boy or girl. No artificial stimulus is needed to create interest. There is a club for every "natural" and a "natural" for every club. The boy or girl on the verge of quitting school may stay on because of his interest in some extracurricular activity. "Show me a boy's or girl's extracurricular interest and I'll point out to you a boy or girl who won't quit school," one advisor put it.

Some of the "extras" supervised by West High teachers are:

Problems of democracy teacher George E. Neeb makes it his business to interview and counsel practically every boy in school regarding his scholastic work and future plans.

Faculty athletic directors George Williams and Clarence Bateman supervise all athletics. Mr. Williams heads the ticket and financial phase while Mr. Bateman has charge of property and maintenance.

Supervising the collection and organization of sales tax stamps brought in by students goes to Latin teacher Margaret Campbell. She also orders books and workbooks not furnished by the board of education.

Romance language clubs have their romantic moments in plays, etc., under the direction of language teacher Leona Glenn.

The student governing body, the student council, takes counseling from Mary Dugan, English instructor.

The boys who do a magnificent job back-stage—the stage crew—are ably supervised by geography teacher Evelyn Hall.

School treasurer Wayne House, in addition to his financial responsibilities, advises the Hi-Y.

Those boys who always win first at the fair in art work are coached by their teacher, C. S. Kennedy, who also is advisor of the Triangle Club.

Movies and television come in for their share of attention in the Photoplay group. Students interested in this work are guided by Delaine Schindler (Kittle).

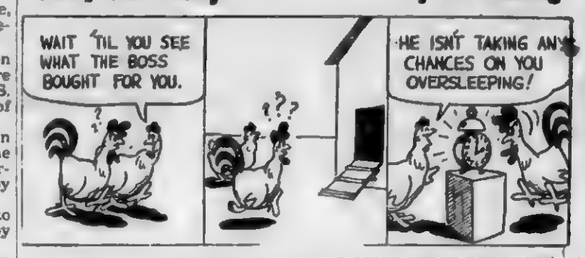
Four hundred girls belong to the popular Y-Teens, directed by Mary Murphy.

Morning or evening detention periods for students who are guilty of infractions of school rules meet with physics teacher Calvin Parks.

Physics teacher E. C. Montgomery meets air-minded students in a pre-flight group while Pauline Sparrow advises the Future Teachers of America Clubs.

Chemistry and magic come from the wisdom of E. T. Stone.

P. O. D. teacher Harold Washburn, in charge of boys' attendance and books at West High, does much to perfect the precision-like maneuvers of the cheerleaders.



Maestro Charles Bennett spends sleepless nights in planning band formations.

Physical education teachers supervise a number of extra sports. Rufe Glass coaches the track and cross-country group, Helen McCormack is in charge of the girls' athletic program and Fred Heischman and Dave Randall assist head coach Mack Pemberton in football. George Williams has charge of basketball.

Serve Buttercups

Buttercups are attractive bread cases in which to serve creamed foods. Make the cups by trimming crusts from slices of enriched white bread. Spread butter or margarine lightly on both sides of each slice. Then press each slice into a muffin cup and toast in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) until the tips are golden brown. They may be made in advance and reheated just before serving. Fill them with creamed chipped beef, creamed salmon and eggs, or creamed chicken.

Hilltop Stores Ready For Yule Shoppers

For the first time in many years hundreds of Hilltop families are looking forward to and preparing for an "old time" Christmas. It will be "old time" in that there is no shortage of Christmas items — and "old time" in that it will bring together old acquaintances and family groups. And it also appears to be "old time" in that this will be a buyers' and not a sellers' market.

Atom Fuel Is Neglected For Bomb; Should Be Boon To Peacetime Work

Atomic energy is nothing more nor less than a new fuel. There need be nothing mysterious or frightening about it, and none of the hysterics and secrecy which some trusted leaders are fomenting. Although scientists said after Hiroshima that the peacetime uses of atomic energy were more important than the bomb, we are now spending over one half billion dollars a year on the bomb alone, says Morris Markey in McCall's for July, and not one cent for the production of atomic energy:

"The basic facts about atomic energy are quite simple. Atomic energy is electricity, and nothing more. The only difference is in the fuel that is used to produce the electricity. Uranium produces electricity because its atoms can be split apart. This splitting process releases huge amounts of heat, which can be used to boil water and make steam, which in turn can be used to make electricity. There is no magic about it. There is nothing very mysterious about it.

"What are we doing in the United States about the production of atomic energy? The answer is simple. We are not producing any atomic energy at all, and we have no specific plans for producing it. And there are fairly clear indications that we are falling behind other parts of the world.

"The essential plant for all atomic inquiry and experiment is the 'pile', which very simply is a harnessed atom bomb. Within its structure atoms are split apart, but under immediate control. Men can start the atomic reaction, speed it up, slow it down, or even stop it at will.

"These piles can be built in three basic types, depending upon their uses. The first type is the production pile, designed solely for the manufacture of plutonium, which is the essential material for the atom bomb. The second type is the research pile, designed for the production of substances which can be used in scientific laboratories for further study and experiment. The third type is the power pile, a reactor for the production of extreme heat. It is the only sort of pile that could actually produce useful atomic energy.

"So far as can be learned, there are 10 piles existing in the United States today. Not a single one of them is a power pile for the production of atomic energy.

"All research and experimentation leading toward the ultimate production of atomic energy in this country is under the direction of the United States Government. Most of it is controlled by the Atomic Energy Commission, of which Mr. Lilienthal is chairman, but some of the most useful work is controlled by the Office of Naval Research. This policy of government monopoly is now under serious criticism from many scientists, engineers and industrialists.

"A very large group of scientists and engineers, and most of the authorities within the Army, insist that we should postpone indefinitely any experimentation with atomic power plants. The Army, in addition, is intent upon employing all manpower and materials in the continued production of atom bombs.

"The opposing point of view is held chiefly by the scientists and engineers of industrial companies. Their main argument: Unless the United States gets busy with the production of atomic power, it will fall behind other nations in the industrial-military application of atomics.

"The actual production of atomic electric power is not vital within the continental limits of the United States itself, because we have plenty of cheap fuel. But there are countless areas in the world which have everything that is needed for big industrial production—except fuel. The potentialities of those places are going to be developed by the nations which can produce portable atomic-power plants, ship them out and operate them. The exploitation of this new fuel is going to mean a world-wide decentralization of industry.

"If we are not taking any steps toward the manufacture of atomic power in this country, then what are we doing with atomics? The 10 piles now at work in America are producing two sorts of material. The first is plutonium; the second is a set of research materials which have been given the name of isotopes. Treatment in the atomic pile has caused them to emit particles or rays of great penetration, something like radium itself, or like the X-ray.

"About 20,000 American scientists are working today with these isotopes. The great bulk of their work is in what we call pure science. In addition, certain highly practical work with isotopes is being carried forward, mostly in medicine, though some of it is in agriculture and in industrial processes.

"We are putting up enough money to keep America in front in the atomic race. The Office of Naval Research distributes to colleges and universities and hospitals about $250,000 a day of government appropriations. This money, the research it pays for, is not to produce weapons of any kind. It is the purest and in many respects the most useful of all the atomic exploration that is going on.

"Government appropriations of money, that flow through the Atomic Energy Commission, total nearly $2,000,000 a day. Something like 80 per cent of this enormous daily expenditure is devoted to production and improvement of the atomic bomb—more than half a billion dollars a year for this weapon alone."

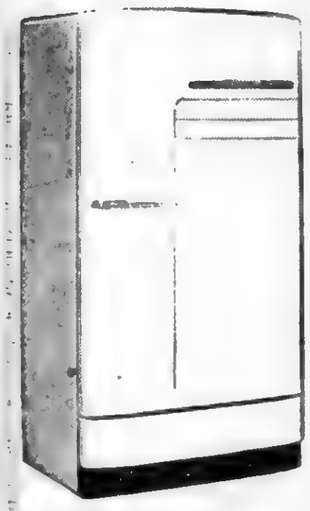
Nut-Bowl Filled From Many Lands

Nuts from all over the world go into your nut-bowl at Christmas. Like Christmas traditions, the nuts so popular at this time of year are a mixture of many varieties and different histories.

The English walnut, for instance, is not English at all. It originated in Asia centuries ago and was called "the food of the gods."



The round little filbert and the almond came from the Old World. Other nuts, so familiar at Christmas, the hickory nut, the black walnut and the chestnut, to say nothing of the pecan, are strictly American. The pecan is native to America and is found nowhere else. Two other American nuts worthy of mention are the chestnut and the butternut.

Although many nuts originated in other parts of the world, almost every variety known is now grown on American soil and experts are constantly searching for more kinds of nuts to transplant to this country.

Hilltop Stores Ready For Yule Shoppers

For the first time in many years hundreds of Hilltop families are looking forward to and preparing for an "old time" Christmas. It will be "old time" in that there is no shortage of Christmas items — and "old time" in that it will bring together old acquaintances and family groups. And it also appears to be "old time" in that this will be a buyers' and not a sellers' market.

Hilltop stores are decorated and a wide array of merchandise is attractively displayed. Everything from novelties to the staples that are so necessary to make a Merry Christmas is available and prices are in keeping with if not below those of downtown stores.

The fact that you won't have to be jostled around by the crowds downtown or drive for miles at a snail's pace while you look for a parking space is one of the better joys in shopping on the Hilltop.

Today's Record ads are filled with Christmas ideas. Take time now to look them over and be ready to make your gift selections here.

Got A Silver Dollar?

If a big silver cartwheel comes rolling your way this week or next you can about guess that it was one of the original several hundred spent on the Hilltop by Hilltop Record employees.

We sincerely hope that Hilltop merchants who get them will pass them on in change to their customers so that an effort can be made to determine just how far a dollar will circulate or how long it will stay in circulation.

Let's keep 'em rolling!

BREWERY QUESTIONING LIQUOR OBJECTORS

Why did you do it?

This question was being asked Hilltoppers this week by a "big man" who said he was working for a local brewery.

The question had reference to why they had placed their names on petitions objecting to the granting of certain liquor permits in the community.

First report of this incident came from an Eldon-av housewife who said the man called at their home Monday and asked that she sign a statement saying she had signed the original petition because she didn't know what she was signing.

The man further stated that "our business is a legal business."

He had a list of names in his possession, apparently a list of those who had signed the petition that had been circulated by local church groups.

It was understood that similar action has been reported in other sections of the city.

Santa Claus Noble Chet Cook Ready For 14th Year of Spreading Cheer

By Myron T. Seifert

Santa Claus, in the name of the Aladdin Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, to thousands of Central Ohio boys and girls, is Chester C. Cook, 81 N. Warren-av, who will round out his 14th Christmas this year as chairman and emcee of Columbus' greatest Christmas party for untortunate and, in many cases, underprivileged kiddies.

Performing his greatest role (and they are legion, as our story will show) he is never happier than when he can bring cheer and sunshine to the lives of these boys and girls—all worthy of his personal and undivided attention.

Yes, Hilltop's "Noble Chet" has performed his noblest act of all, during the past 13 years, providing these kids with entertainment, toys, candy, fruit, nuts, etc.—and come Christmas Eve, he and his committee will again find their way to places where kids are sometimes forgotten.

Chet, and his committee of Shriners, last week-end at the downtown Shrine Ceremonial passed the hat and came up with $2600—with more to come—all of which will go to these important agencies in our community: 1) The Franklin County Children's Home; 2) Mehodist Children's Home, Worthington; 3) Hare's Orphanage; The Nightingale Cottage; 4) Hannah Neil Mission; 5) Florence Crittenden Home; and all crippled children taken care of by the Aladdin Shrine within its jurisdiction.

Often donning the "Old Gent's" red suit, hood and mask, Chet fills his pack with goodies and toys, and migrates with his "Shrine Reindeer" to these different institutions, where the kids receive him with open hands.

"Santa Claus Noble Chet Cook," he is known to these thousands of youngsters through the years.

In parceling out these welcome gifts with a twinkle in his eyes, a casual tear of sympathy, understanding and joy which stirs his heart—drops behind the Santa Claus hood, and with a prayer of thanksgiving on his lips, he proceeds with his impressive sincere ritual of making the kids happy. (Chet is Ritualistic Director in local Shrinedom).

That jolly laugh of bespectacled Santa Claus Chet—that confiding chat of innocent childhood with the whiskered, round bellied fellow—are scenes the kids never forget; they look forward to seeing him next year.

A bed-ridden child; a youngster from a broken home; a kiddy whose parents have passed away — Chet knowns them all, and can call many of them by name.

He also knows, in many instances, the case history of many of the tots before he goes to the institution or home — and often with a lump in his throat he manages to say a cheerful, kind word to the kiddies — scenes like these Chet never forgets.

And the kids, year after year, ever remember him — judging from the remarks from superintendents in charge of these agencies—and letters received by him even years afterward.

So you see why Chet gets a "kick" out of dispensing gifts to these. Collecting the money from his Noble Brothers, purchasing the toys, etc., wrapping the gifts, planning the schedule and party, playing Santa Claus—all receive his personal attention. And then on Christmas Day the Nobles see that in each agency every kid has the traditional Christmas dinner. Occasionally, he drops in and enjoys the dinner with the youngsters. His philanthropy knows no bounds, and in his quest for worldly goods and position, he has never lost sight of the value of service—especially to and for the kiddies.

A Columbus public school product, Chet came up the "hard way." Perhaps this can explain his interest in children, their development and growth. A thumbnail sketch of his career reads like Horatio Alger; a recital of all his activities would make interesting reading of perhaps Hilltop's busiest citizen.

His principal occupation is that of vice president and treasurer of the Sunday Creek Coal Co. which has extensive interests in southern Ohio. He is trustee for several estates, including that of Mrs. Frances J. Jones, Mrs. Sallie Sexton, and Alice Virginia Olmsted, respectively; president, treasurer of the Granville Inn and Golf Course; he is, and has been trustee of the Children's Hospital for 20 years; trustee and vice president at Mt. Carmel Hospital; trustee of downtown Masonic Temple; trustee of Columbus Tubercular Society since 1922; was auditor-trustee of the Ohio Public Health Association since 1936; past president (4 years) and director of Columbus Country Club; vice-president of the Columbus Club; member of Columbus Athletic Club; past president and director of Columbus Rotary Club; member of Hoge Memorial Church.

His Masonic history begins at West Gate Blue Lodge, as charter member in October, 1913; and was treasurer of the Hilltop body 1913-14; his other affiliations include membership in the following: Temple Chapter, April 1921; Columbus Council, May 20, 1921; Mt. Vernon Commandery, May 27, 1921; Scioto Consistory in 1910, and was First Lieutenant Commander in Consistory since 1937 to date; made member of the Supreme Council, Sept. 27, 1936; Aladdin Temple, April 25, 1911; and elevated to Potentate of that body in 1936, Red Cross of Constantine May 16, 1931, as Sovereign, and on Nov. 11, 1940, he was made 33rd Degree Mason, highest official honor in Masonry.

Mrs. Cook, formerly Leah Ann Herbert, died in 1946. The son, christened Chester Herbert Cook, resides in Arlington at 1930 W. Lane-av.

Boy, 4, Starts Fire; Blaze Levels House

A fire accidentally started by a four-year-old boy playing with matches destroyed an eight-room two-story house two miles south of the city Tuesday morning when firemen were unable to fight the blazes because the closest fire hydrant was more than a mile from the site.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Tatman at 1248 Richter-rd, was burned to the ground by a fire that was started when their son, Charles, ignited curtains in a bedroom. The fire quickly spread throughout the frame structure and for a time threatened the house next door. Loss was estimated at $8000.

$ Silver Dollars $

Cart Wheels Weightin' Ya Down? We Confess: Record Circulates 'Em!

If you happen to get a silver dollar in your change when you visit a local Hilltop merchant sometime this week-end or next week you can just about bet that same dollar will be one that was originally spent on the Hilltop by a Hilltop Record employee.

Several hundred silver dollars (the exact number we'll tell you next week) are to be given to Record employees when they are paid this week. In fact, the entire payroll is being made in silver dollars!

Record employees do practically all their buying with independent Hilltop merchants who advertise in the Record and these silver dollars will land in the cash registers of Hilltop firms starting this week-end.

We'd highly recommend to Hilltop merchants that they pass them on, one or two at a time, to their customers as change. They will make mighty nice Christmas gifts or, better yet, they can be spent and respent for mighty fine gifts in Hilltop stores.

Yes sir, The Hilltop Record believes any shopping problem can best be solved right here in Hilltop stores and a lot of Hilltop Record silver dollars will be spent here to prove it.

Any silver dollar returned to the Record office before Jan. 1, 1949, will bring a $1.50 year's subscription to the Record.

Two Local Men Find Plane Wreck, Victims

The bodies of three employees of the Aero Products Division of General Motors at Dayton and the wreckage of the four-place Navion monoplane which carried them to their death were discovered Monday afternoon in a cornfield 10 miles west of Columbus near Alton by two West Side men, Fred Mayer, 22, of 2339 Lamora-av, and Delmar Miles, 22, of 27 S. Terrace-av.

The three victims were identified as W. J. Blanchard, 46, general manager of the GM branch; Vivian E. Johnson, 28, a detail engineer for the subsidiary, and Betty Ann Charles, 28, a technical engineer.

They had been objects of a four-state search by Air Force and private planes since Saturday afternoon when they had departed from Jamestown, N. Y. State highway patrolmen surmised that the plane crashed either Saturday night or Sunday morning, possibly because Blanchard had become lost in the heavy fog that blanketed the area at that time. An instrument panel clock was stopped at 9:45 when the wreckage was discovered.

Mayer and Miles noticed the craft when they were walking through a cornfield on the Charles Parker farm in search of a coon dog that had become lost on a hunting expedition the previous night. The plane had apparently crashed into the bank of a small stream not far from Amity-rd and Rt. 40 but hidden from both by trees growing along the creek. The Pennsylvania Railroad tracks are located a short distance north of the site of the crash.

Patrolmen believed the three passengers were thrown from the wreckage when the plane crashed into the bank of the stream after skidding some 126 feet through small trees and over soft ground. The body of Miss Johnson was lying 38 feet from the plane, Miss Charles was 76 feet from the wreckage and Mr. Blanchard was found in a corn row 100 feet from the overturned craft.

Dr Robert A. Evans, coroner, ordered the bodies taken to the Floyd Born Funeral Home. Remains of Mr. Blanchard and Miss Charles were taken to Dayton after cremation in Sunset Cemetery Tuesday p. m. The body of Miss Johnson was taken to Kansas Tuesday evening for funeral services there.

I WOULD LIKE TO INTERVIEW

A man between age 30 and 45 who would like to consider a business opportunity which is very worthwhile. This man should have a reasonably good education, teaching experience, if possible, and preferably some executive experience.

My company is prepared to invest considerable money in the right man, so if you are interested in earning from $4000 to $6000 a year, depending on your qualifications, write me or call for an interview.

CHARLES M. ROUDEBUSH

IF THERE IS a young Hilltop man who has some ambition, isn't afraid of work, doesn't watch the clock, has intestinal fortitude, knows how to write so it can be read, can spell, can speak intelligent English, has manners of a gentleman, is interested in his future, instead of an immediate pay check, thinks he would like to write newspaper copy, I'd like to have him come in for an interview. If you don't meet the above qualifications and are proud of it then save your time and mine. C. C. Hartley, The Hilltop Record.

Ask Aid For Family Left Homeless By Fire

West Siders were asked this week to contribute shoes and clothing to a South Side family that is homeless and completely devoid of adequate wearing apparel as a result of a fire which destroyed their six-room cottage at 210 Dexter-rd Sunday evening.

Victims of this unpleasant situation at Christmas time are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hawthorne and their eight children, ranging in age from 10 months to 18 years. Five of the children and the parents were at home and in bed when the fire broke out in the attic, apparently from a defective flue or faulty wiring. Although the family escaped personal injury, they were unable to save any articles of furniture or clothing.

Mr. Hawthorne, an employee of the Buckeye Steel Castings Co., Monday estimated damages to the house at $3000 and to clothing and furnishings at $1000.

The family was provided temporary shelter and food by the Red Cross Disaster Service at the Park Hotel, 465 S. High-st. Any persons in this community who can help are asked to contact them at that address.

Mayor Endorses Hilltop Adoption Of Holland Town

C. Carlton Hartley, chairman of the Hilltop committee which has taken steps toward the adoption of the village of Ritthem, Holland, received a letter this week from James A. Rhodes, Columbus mayor, which read in part:

"I am pleased to hear that you will act as chairman of the Hilltop committee which will adopt a village in Holland. I concur in your belief that this is a worthy cause and any steps that you take in this matter will have my wholehearted endorsement and cooperation."

The little town of Ritthem is regarded as one of the worst damaged villages on the island of Walcheren. The flooding there began on Oct. 1, 1944. The water rose to attic levels and the current became so swift that the people could not reach their homes even by boat.

The water had risen to flooding proportions within two hours, making it impossible for the residents to salvage their belongings. The flood lasted until January, 1946.

Anita Stout, 90 N. Wayne-av, and Sally Kendall, 172 S. Roys-av, will accept Hilltopper's names who would like to correspond with a native of Ritthem, and will in turn supply the names of Ritthem residents to Hilltoppers.

VFW Auxiliary Will Be Broadcast Guests

On this Friday's Listen Ladies broadcast over WCOL, which is sponsored by The Hilltop Record, the auxiliary of the Westway Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will bethe guest organization. Mrs. Ethel Becker, 506 S. Powell-av, is president of the group.

Mrs. L. W. Goodwin 255 Eldon-av, and Mrs. I. Miller, 962 Whitethorne-av, were two winers on last week's program.

The Sunshine Club was represented there on Nov. 26. Mrs. Ralph Perrine, 421 Demorest-av, president of the group, and five members, including Mrs. Gertrude Snedecor, 339 Demorest-av, were winners that week. Dick Hubbard, 26, of the Franklin County Home, was "shut-in-of-the-week".

WASHBURN APPOINTED

The Columbus Board of Education this week named Harold Washburn, a West High School teacher, to the Evening High School teaching staff.

West Defeats Grandview To 57-44 Tune

West Cowboys copped their second win in three outings Tuesday night by beating a stubborn Grandview five, 57 to 44, at Grandview.

The Hilltoppers were never behind once in the fray; in fact at one point early in the contest they held a comfortable 9-0 lead before the Bobcats finally entered the scoring side of the ledger.

However, Grandview wouldn't give up at any point in the contest. They were without a doubt the most determined, if not best, ball club West has faced in this infant season. The closest Grandview ever came in the thickness of the game was a 47-38 count.

The locals held a convincing 19-3 edge at the first period's end to more or less cop matters right then, but Grandview had other plans because they were trailing only by an 11-point margin at intermission. In West's first quarter, Dick Culbertson, who had yet to pop up high in scoring, but convincing so in the rebound department threw in six goals and a free throw to cop 13 points in the very first stanza.

Culbertson finished the night with 17 markers after leaving the game early in the fourth period via the personal foul route. He tied Frank Biscotti of Grandview for high point honors, but Biscotti threw in five points in the latter part of the game.

With West ahead, 55-35, Williams called in his second-stringers and Grandview boomed nine points off in a hurry while Larry Frazier's long shot was the only West point-making.

Grandview then sent in their shock-troopers and the game became more of a "football" affair than the billed basketball tilt.

As mentioned earlier, Culbertson and Biscotti deadlocked for top scoring honors while Bill Thrush of the locals accounted for 13 to be runnerup. For a junior, Bill is really tucking away the points. Three other juniors, LeRoy Hood, Phil Young and Jim Rudolph, dazzled in the scoring department Tuesday, also. Young made two beautiful side shots while Hood was throwing through three baskets. Rudolph, who collected nine baskets at Newark last week, scored three points Tuesday, but his brilliant rebound work has been the main difference in West tallies.

Going down the line in the scoring department for West: Fred Adams, five points; Paul Theisen four; and Charlie Frasher three points.

The West reserves put up a vain effort in the final quarter to come from behind but their early game faults paid the difference as Grandview's reserves beat West, 29 to 22. "Red" O'Leary of Grandview was high point man with 11 tallies while Paul Ellingsworth of West topped his team with only six.

Elect Hilltopper To Welfare Group

C. Carlton Hartley, publisher of The Hilltop Record, was one of nine persons elected to membership in the Recreation and Youth Services Council of the Franklin County Council of Social Agencies at a meeting held Dec. 1 in the Southern Hotel.

Other new members are Walter Davis, formerly of the Hilltop, now of Linden; Elizabeth Fouke, Ann Patterson, O. A. Donnewirth, William P. Hoermle, Joseph H. Wall, John H. Winkler and Herbert Wise.

A public recreation platform advocated by the council was announced at the meeting. It recommends that the mayor vest authority and responsibility for the city's recreation program in a commission made up of persons who are interested in improving the program.

The platform further called for elimination of politics from the recreation program and urged that the city be sure of availability of adequate leadership and facilities before it opens more recreation centers.

Cowboy Cagers Win 1, Lose 1

Take 42-27 Tilt From Newark; Lose To Bexley

By Dave Miller

West High basketball five started things out on the right side of the ledger in the season's opener this past Friday night at Newark, but they returned home Saturday night to do an exact reversal by losing out to Bexley.

The local cagers copped a rather easy 42 to 27 contest at Newark Friday, but the following night they were insulted in front of the eyes of their closest followers, 53 to 22, by the visiting Bexley Lions.

The local basketeers took an early 3-0 lead and then went on ahead to easily cop the contest. Only once in the game were they seriously threatened by the opponents, Newark. Fred Adams' charity toss and Jim Rudolph's goal put the Cowboys ahead for sure in the opening stanza, and from there on, Rudolph hit for three fielders in the first period to put the Cowboys out in front by a comfortable margin at the end of the period, 13-5.

The one time that West was in danger was near the end of the half. The Cowboys had taken a 22-15 lead late in the second stanza, but Bob Kane's two free throws and Bill Coleman's field goal made it 22-19 at the intermission. Kane had eight points at halftime, but was second to Rudolph, who had five fielders for 10 points. Both Kane and Rudolph's points were of the "bunny" variety, either in or around the basket. Kane is the boy who made the INS All-Ohio first team in football.

Coach George Williams must have given his boys some defensive strategy in his halftime talk because the host five was able to connect for only two baskets in the final half, one by Kane, early in the third period. Kane's other point, a free throw, was the only other marker tallied in the third stanza by the Wildcats.

While the West man-to-man defense was working very effectively, the offensive machine was also clicking. Rudolph was again hitting on his beautiful under-the-basket hooks and Bill Thrush connected for a timely fielder late in the period. Adams, Hood and Culbertson were all chiming in with their excellent ball-handling and timely shots.

The other basket by Newark in the second half was scored by Guard Dick Fleitz, which was a very long shot from the side. Three charity tosses were added to Newark's total in the last quarter to give Newark only an eight-point total.

Jim Rudolph grabbed scoring honors of the game by plunking through nine baskets for 18 points. Bob Kane of the Wildcats was runnerup with 12 tallies.

The Newark Reserves copped the opener, 30-14, over the West seconds. Jim Foote of Newark led both teams in scoring with 11 points, closely followed by Dave Caton of West, who collected nine of the West total.

In the Bexley encounter, it was just a matter of rebounding strength as the visiting Lions copped an easy 53-22 win over our West Cowboys. It was Center Paul Bernlohr and Forwards Bob Thall and Doug Walcott who provided Bexley with the majority of rebounding.

However, Guards Tom Mentague and Bob Bernlohr provided a great show of stripping some very long shots.

West was never ahead in the game. They were behind, 9-0, when a technical foul was called. Bill Thrush made the free throw and West thereby scored its only point in the first quarter. Bernlohr and Co. went on to score eight more points in the same period to take a 17-1 first quarter lead.

West scored 10 points to Bexley's 11 in the second quarter and the half ended in the visitors' favor, 28-11. The Cowboys were held to a mere four points in the third quarter by Bexley's tight defensive play, with only one basket being scored. This was a two-hand push shot by Dick Culbertson, his only score of the game.

Paul Bernlohr, Bexley pivot man, easily copped scoring honors of this game with 17 markers. Bill Thrush led West with seven points.

The West Reserves took their initial victory of this current season by taking the opener from the Bexley seconds, 24-17. Ted Fladt cashed in on five buckets and a lone charity toss for 11 points to take the scoring honors. Jim Aylwin, Bexley center, collected nine points to take the runnerup honors.

The Cowboys visited Grandview this Tuesday, and the results of this game can be found in Section A of today's Hilltop Record. Friday night they visit Fostoria to complete their schedule this week. The City League campaign will start next Friday night with West at Aquinas.

Thunderstorms occur only about once in every 10 years at the North and South Poles. About 16,000,000 occur annually throughout the world, and in one tract of considerable extent over the ocean, there are constant storms accompanied by lightning and thunder with violent falls of rain.

West Jr. High Cage Team Is Rebuilt

By Dave Miller

Coach O. D. (Red) Lehman, West Junior High basketball mentor, will be faced with the task of rebuilding practically a whole new 1948-49 basketball team this season.

Only two lettermen are returning for duty this year, and both will graduate at mid-term. They are Jerry Johnson, probably a big threat this season in the Junior High loop, and Guard Ken Anderson, another dead-eye shot from a distance out. Johnson scored 11 points and saw action in every West Junior League game last season while Anderson scored only five while playing a smaller number of games.

However, Coach Lehman has two players back this year who received reserve letters last year. They are Douglas Clark, tallest player on the team, and Dick Hutchison, stellar guard from last year's varsity. Two other players, who received reserve letters, are ineligible for this year's play.

Meanwhile, Lehman has been keeping a squad of 16 members, and made an almost unbelievable "cut" of some 9A's. Lehman reports that he is tired of building up a team in the first of the year, and then have half of it graduate at mid-term. This was definitely the story in last years' team.

Lehman had made a swell team of Dave Caton, Earl Potts, George Crissinger, Paul Thompson and Paul Ellingsworth and just when the team started to "click" they graduated. So this year he is keeping only two graduates and is making sure they are good enough to keep up the team's standing throughout the opening part of the season.

Coach Lehman reports that more than likely his starting line-up against Crestview, its initial loop contest this Friday afternoon, will be the following: Jerry Johnson and Jim McGuire at forwards; Jerry Trabue or Doug Clark at center; and Ken Anderson and Dick Hutchison at guards. Reports from Crestview say that the Northsiders have strong rebounding strength, and so, with out a doubt, Friday's encounter will be the top in the loop.

The remainder of the schedule:

Dec. 10—Crestview.
Dec. 17—Everett.
Jan. 4—Indianola.
Jan. 7—At Barrett.
Jan. 11—At Linden Jr.
Jan. 18—At Franklin.
Feb. 4—Champion.
Feb. 11—Roosevelt.
Feb. 18—At Mound.

Schroeck's Service—2884

Schroeck's Service Station team overshadowed all individual honors with their fine 2884 series last Monday evening while bowling the Ben Brew team. Included in the series were team games of 933, 936 and 1015. Everyone on the team had at least one 200 game with the exception of Howard Smith but Clark Smith and Homer Ranney made up for him with two 200 games apiece. Homer was high on the team with 224-617 but had to relinquish top honors of the evening to Joe Swisher of Allen Milk, who had 241-659.

Here's the way they showed on the score sheet:

Schroeck's Service

	1	2	3	T'tal
P. Kaufcer	183	188	221	570
C. Smith	169	203	210	582
H. Smith	167	176	190	533
H. Ranney	224	200	193	617

Dick Ardie

In Monday evening's early league, the Commercial League honors were evenly divided as Ernie Heyder of Wahl Builders had 222, Norm Reeves of Fox Cafe 594, United Dictating 961 and Fox Cafe 2722.

A new name appeared in the individual honors last Thursday eve as Don Bollie, rolling leadoff for the Schroeck's Service team, hit for games of 204, 154 and 250 for 608. Team honors in the same league went to Fox Cafe with 977 and McCullough Insurance with 2727.

Pat Jones, anchor man on the Seiller's team on Wednesday night, had the high game of the night with 240, while Tony Borowski walked off with total honors of 607. First National Cleaners' 916 and Hilltop Van's 2633 were tops for the teams.

Howard Bruckelmeyer's 208, Eddie Guenther's 557 and Maier Meats with 888-2622 were the highs in the Friday Nighters League while later K of C league honors went to Bruz Welsh with 213-546 and team honors to Demers with 1063-2995 (included 202 pins per game handicap).

Some nice bowling was turned in by Gene Urban Saturday morning as he tied the high single game for the year of 244 and had high totals for the day with 567. His team Stetson Hats had the high single team game of 929 while McGregor had high team totals of 2558. Paul Felzko had one of the rarities in bowling as he had three identical games of 188.

Honors in the Seiller's Brand Boosters' League went to Diane Smith, who had 158 and Shirley Willing with 409. Ship and Shore topped the team events with 584-1616.

Fox Food—2343

As far as the scratch women's leagues go it was Fox Food Shop, led by Marge Liston with 502, who did the best shooting of the week as they dropped the pins to the tune of 782, 785 and 776 for a grand 2343 total. Here is their line score:

"Dip" Shaw with 189 and Babe Kunkel with 484 topped the Pastime League as far as individual honors went while team honors went to Westgate Electric with 796 and Craft's with 2251.

It was Marie Balthaser who did the best rolling in the St. Aloysius PTA League as she hit for 174-486 while her team was walking off with high team totals of 1900. High single team game went to Broad and Fourth who had 666.

We would like to take time to welcome back to the alleys two well-known women who have recently made their stay in the maternity ward a very happy one. Rita Dawson (formerly Rita Wolfe) gave birth to a boy, Robert Dean Dawson, Jr., while Helen Reynolds of Helen's Sandwich Shop gave birth to a baby girl, Sue Ann Reynolds. Congratulations! We'll be looking for them around the alleys in a few years.

Two little girls were in danger of being late for school. "Let's stop and pray for God to get us there in time," said one. "No," said the other, "Let's run with all our might and pray while we're running."

Some people, like the first little girl, want to pray all the time but not go out and try to answer their prayer themselves.

Basketball Film To Be Shown At Rec. Centers

On Monday, Dec. 13, at 8 p. m., at the Glenwood Recreation Center, the City Recreation Department will present a basketball clinic, open to the public. No admission will be charged. The clinic will consist of the showing of a basketball film entitled "Basketball Today".

This is a new basketball film, conforming to the new rules of the National High School Federation and is a 28-minute film depicting all phases of this popular indoor game. By use of slow motion, spectators will be able to analyze the movements of a skilled basketball player and to learn how drills on fundamentals are blended into team play.

In addition to the film to be shown, Dave Phenegar, employed by the City Recreation Department as a supervisor at West Market Recreation Center, who is a skilled basketball coach, will demonstrate points brought out in the film with the squad of basketball players from the Gallo Tailors' team.

The recreation department also plans to present a top flight official who will explain basketball rules and who will conduct a question and answer period.

The same film will be shown at West Market Hall Friday, Dec. 17, at 8 p. m.

Weeks and Theisen On All-High Team

Charles Weeks and Paul Theisen, two stars of the 1948 West High City League Champion football team who have appeared on every All-HIGH team announced thus far, were given first team rating on the honor team selected by the student scouts who appeared on the WBNS "High School Huddle," weekly broadcast during the football season of highlights of local high school games.

Other members of the first eleven, which was selected from all City League, Central Buckeye League and independent high school teams in greater Columbus, were:

Ends: Charles Morlan, Central, and John Goodrich, Linden McKinley; Donald Davis, North, tackle; Dick Tice, Upper Arlington, and David Levy, South, guards; Frank Canatta, St. Charles, center; and Douglas Goodsell, Upper Arlington, Ralph Lockwood, North, and Gene Morgan, Central, backs.

Each member of the honor team was presented with a gold football at a banquet held Nov. 29 at the Columbus Athletic Club. The footballs were given by the Diamond Milk Co., sponsors of the "High School Huddle" broadcasts.

They tell us that the American Indian worships the sun; a lot of us do in winter.

"Dad, remember last night when you was shavin' and I was askin' you some questions on my home work?"

"Y-e-s."

"Well, I asked you how much a million dollars was."

Silence.

"Well—'a helluva lot' wasn't the answer."

The Disabled Need Jobs . . .

Because there are thousands of disabled veterans and others who are physically handicapped, the United States has just completed a week set aside to emphasize the desirability of giving the handicapped individuals employment.

The U. S. Employment Service reports that observance of the week in previous years has been followed by increased placements of handicapped workers. In 1941, it is said, 5,100 handicapped persons were placed in jobs but that, during 1947, the number that found employment was 237,000.

Figures kept by the Federal Government indicate that some 500,000 handicapped persons are seeking employment or looking for new jobs where they can better use their skills and experience. In addition, there are close to 1,000,000 men and women with physical handicaps, who can be rehabilitated and employed at a gainful and useful occupation if job opportunities are developed.

We call attention to this problem because it is essential that those who enjoy the possession of full physical powers should not overlook the plight of an individual who is more or less physically disabled. There are many places where these individuals will make excellent workers but unless some special attention is given to the problem, they are apt to be overlooked.

10 Years Ago Today

Gracebelle Day, the Hilltop's contribution to Walter Winchell's column and the New York entertainment world, signed a Warner Brothers contract this past week and began work on her first picture, a short, with Cross and Dunn, on Tuesday.

The rank of Eagle Scout—Scoutdom's highest rating—will be conferred upon two Hilltop boys, Dave Riggs, 172 Guernsey-av, and Richard Jantzen, 819 S. Terrace-av, Sunday afternoon at Memorial Hall.

The 24th of December will be a "fowl-day" in the lives of some happy youngsters, when several feathered friends will be released in Westgate Park and some lucky "chaser" will be rewarded with his or her Christmas dinner.

The winners in the St. Aloysius Blanket Club were Robert N. Laird, 140 N. Warren-av, and Mrs. Mary Pappas, 32 Schultz-av.

5 Years Ago Today

National recognition was received recently by Lowell E. Hall, 54 Brinker-av, for a production speeding suggestion which he offered, to increase the output of Helldiver dive bombers at the Curtiss-Wright Corporation.

Another Hilltop success story was written this week when Alice "Peggy" Reed, 211 N. Warren-av, made arrangements to leave Jan. 6, for Syracuse, N. Y., where she will sing with George Towne's band.

Charles Hall has been selected as captain of the '43 squad of the West High School football team.

C. E. Distelhorst, owner of Chubby Distelhorst's Market, 2445 W. Broad-st, has been elected first vice-president of the Columbus Retail Grocers' Association.

Vegetable Dish

A delicious vegetable combination is yellow summer squash, onions and tomatoes. Cook a strip or two of bacon first until crisp, then remove the bacon and saute the squash slices and the sliced onion in the remaining fat; add the tomatoes cut in wedges, season well with salt and pepper, cover tightly and cook until the tomatoes are soft and the flavors well mingled. Sprinkle the crumbled bacon over the top and serve immediately.

Homemade Gifts for Homeloving Friends

By BETTY BARCLAY

If you make it yourself — they'll like it more. Yes, it's true . . . people appreciate homemade gifts. They realize that anything you make yourself captures some of your own personality. Therefore, when you send a homemade gift, you are really giving something of yourself. What could be a nicer present for those we love!

There is so much room for individuality in a homemade remembrance. For example, jams and jellies as gifts are appreciated any time of year — but really treasured at Christmas time — and they can be made in so little time. Yet, what could be more appropriate, for the jars may be decorated to convey the full meaning of the Christmas Spirit. Try wrapping some in transparent cellophane and see how pretty your jelly jars will become with the preserved sweets showing through in gay holiday colors. Add a bit of holly, too, and a bright holiday bow to some. All will deserve a place under the tree.

For our Christmas present to you we are sending you these special recipes for Apple Jelly and Orange Marmalade. Just wait until your friends see your delicious homemade gifts. They'll all agree they're special holiday treats.

Apple Jelly

(Using canned or bottled apple juice)

3½ cups sugar
2 cups canned or bottled apple juice
Red coloring, if desired
½ bottle fruit pectin

Measure sugar and juice into saucepan and mix. (For a deeper rose color, add a few drops red coloring. Use coloring which fruit acids do not fade.)

Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard ½ minute.

Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about 5 glasses (6 fluid ounces each.)

Orange Marmalade

3½ cups prepared fruit
2½ cups sugar
1 box powdered fruit pectin

To prepare fruit. Remove skins in quarters from 6 medium oranges and 1 medium lemon. Lay quarters flat; shave off and discard about ⅛ of white part. With a very sharp knife, cut remaining rind into fine shreds. Add 1½ cups water and ½ teaspoon soda. Bring to a boil, and simmer, covered, for just 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cut off tight skin of peeled fruit and slip pulp out of each section. Add pulp, juice, and 1 cup sugar to cooked rind. Simmer, covered, 20 minutes longer. This cup of sugar is in addition to the 2½ cups specified above.

To make the marmalade. Measure sugar into dry dish and set aside until needed. Measure prepared fruit into a 8-4 quart kettle, filling up last cup or fraction of cup with water if necessary; place over hottest fire. Add powdered fruit pectin, mix well, and continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once pour in sugar, stirring constantly. (To reduce foaming, ¼ teaspoon butter may be added.) Continue stirring, bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 2 minutes. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot marmalade at once. Makes about 7 glasses (6 ounces each.)

The Hilltop Record can be mailed anywhere in Franklin County for $1.50 per year.

Many Organizations Take Part In State Hosp. Recreational Activities

Patients at the Columbus State Hospital have at their command a varied recreational program affording enjoyment and relaxation to all throughout the year. Among the many routine recreational activities functioning at the hospital are the following:

On the first and second Wednesdays of the month, Denison University students entertain men and women patients in the club room with games and cigarettes. Every month some ward has a party sponsored by the trainees of the hospital.

Each Saturday a new movie is shown in the auditorium for all who wish to come. On Wednesday and Thursday nights a movie is shown in the wards for those unable to attend the shows on Saturday.

At 8 o'clock Sunday mornings, Catholic services are held and at 9:30 Protestant services are conducted with a vested choir from the hospital. A Jewish service is held every second Wednesday.

The American Legion Auxiliary of Franklin County comes every month and brings individual gifts for veterans. Twice a year they have a large party with entertainment.

The Pau-a-Peu Cootiette Club of VFW No. 96 entertains and treats the patients once a month.

The DAV of Foreign Wars and the Weeping Willow organization, Caldwell Post, bring gifts and entertainment frequently throughout the year.

The Areme Club, branch of the Eastern Star of Grandview, has come every month for years, bringing entertainment, gifts and refreshments for the patients.

The Gray Ladies of the American Red Cross assist with the recreation program, holding classes throughout the year in sewing, knitting, shorthand, typing, business English, art, cooking, "Hour of Charm," bowling, square dancing, community singing and music appreciation.

A modern library is maintained for daily use of patients and employees.

A newly-decorated club room was recently opened where patients are taken at scheduled times for bowling, table tennis, games, cards, checkers, pool and music.

Each Monday and Friday at 11:30, an entire ward is "taken out for dinner," when a special meal is served by the recreation and dietetic department with the assistance of the Gray Ladies. The patients who are very ill are taken as a means of treatment as well as of pleasure.

During the past summer, 1288 patients were served picnic dinners prepared on the outdoor grill. They received wieners, bacon, baked beans, potato salad, rolls, ice cream, fruit punch, marshmallows and coffee.

Every month a dance is held in the auditorium, appropriately decorated according to the holiday. Dancing, entertainment and refreshments are enjoyed by those attending.

The Hoge Memorial Church Personal Workers' Class has furnished entertainment and refreshments for Ward 9. They are hoping to adopt this ward as a permanent project.

Twice a year the B'nai B'rith women serve dinner to the Jewish patients in the main dining room.

One hundred twenty patients come daily to the occupational therapy shops where a birthday party is held for those celebrating that month.

Epistles of Paul Stand as World's Greatest Letters

THE Apostle Peter, while he commended "beloved brother Paul's" Epistles (II Peter 3:15, 16), said also that Paul had written "some things hard to be understood."

The New Testament contains epistles by Paul, Peter, James, John and Jude. Of these a greater number are by Paul. As far as their length, variety, subject matter, age, historic place and impact upon the Christian church, they are such the most formidable, even though the Epistles are all alike and bear much similarity in their expression.

If we were to judge Paul's Epistles by those more obscure and difficult passages to which Peter referred or by the many references to local problems and controversies in the churches, we should hardly think of his letters as being the world's greatest.

But think of the many passages in which Paul showed himself far in advance of his age and well abreast of modern thought and movements in his conception of liberty. Think of his conception of church and society in which men are members one of another. Think of the clarity of his zeal for righteousness and the soundness of his ideas concerning life and labor. And then you have reason to appreciate the greatness of Paul and his letters.

If Paul had written nothing but the 13th chapter of I Corinthians, the "love" chapter, that gem of spiritual and literary perfection would have marked his greatness But that is only the finest of many richly beautiful chapters.

And his prayer for his fellow-Christians in the closing verses of Ephesians 3 has an eloquence of words that matches the magnitude of its vision of the the boundless possibilities of Christian attainment.

These are but a few examples of the world's greatest letters. With the vigor and variety of the Pauline conceptions was combined a rich vocabulary and a high skill in the use of words.

Men of action are not always articulate or forceful in expression, but Paul was as great in words, at least in the written word, as he was in deeds.

Hilltop's Foremost Historian Had Chance To Buy Corner Lot At Eureka And Broad For Huge Sum of $50

By Myron T. Seifert

Hilltop's foremost scholar of local history, Mrs. Laura Mix Cromwell, who lives with her sister, Mrs. Edward Bentz, 211 Eldon-av, and whose looks and activities belie her actual age, is a remarkable person.

An omnivorous reader of practically every worthwhile subject Mrs. Cromwell's versatility enables her to fit in almost any situation; she's a jewel—and one that can't be purchased with worldly goods. This, we know, when we have found other occasions to call upon her for aid.

No, we are not writing a living obituary; we are merely saying her modest, unassuming ways of getting things done—and well done—and her service to Hilltoppers in particular is a credit to any community.

In a nostalgic mood she relates her still vivid recollections of the Hilltop wilderness that she knew as a girl.

Her father, Emitt Mix, migrated to the locale, still known as the Mix addition, west of the present corporation limits, almost 100 years ago. Her father attended the first Columbus High School, at age 14 in the year 1854, via horses, and when the "National Lane," now Route 40, was impassable on foot.

Report cards given students in Columbus' first high school on Rich-st at the end of each grading period shows the remarkable scholastic records of student Emitt Mix, now in possession of Mrs. Cromwell. Her mother was Nellie Helen Little, nee.

Mrs. Cromwell, as a student at old Central High School, then at Sixth and Broad-sts, traveled 12 miles daily with her sister, Fannie, down the dark, lonesome lane, now Broad-st, to school.

Flanked on either side of the Broad-st lane was a dense underbrush and forest from the Mix home to Sandusky and Broad. Mrs. Cromwell so well described.

Called Camp Chase in days during the civil war, this included the Mix addition, where Mrs. Cromwell lived.

The old Quaker meeting house, now the Dr. Park's remodeled residence at Wilson and Broad-sts, the Mix family attended for purposes of worship and on Christmas eve, when the rural neighbors brought their family presents and displayed them on the huge tallow-lit evergreen Christmas tree, trimmed with cranberries and popcorn. The wealthier clan, of course, who wanted to make a "good showing" placed theirs at the top of the huge yuletide tree.

The Judge E. C. Turner home, belonged then to Edgar Mix, internationally known balloonist, and an uncle of Mrs. Cromwell.

Other landmarks which could be seen from this lonesome lane included the Four Mile house tavern, on site of Ed Stauch market district on Broad-st between Powell and Roys. Mrs. Ong lived in the Tavern, and Mrs. Cromwell, as a girl learned to know the permanent guests there.

The old Appler home with its extensive orchard was somewhere back from the road south of Broad-st, she could remember.

Then the Thomas homestead where resided the grandfather of Mrs. Clara Weber and Della Thomas in the Whitethorne area, was another home on present Hilltop.

In fact the Weber home, across from the Big Bear Market, and now housing the Hilltop YMCA, was built the same year as the Mix home, still standing at the corner of Mix-rd and Broad-st, remodeled and used as a tourist home and camp.

Only other building between the Mix home and Sandusky-st was the old Baptist Church, near the present convent at Sandusky and Broad.

The brick home built by Emitt Mix is perhaps the most substantially constructed edifice in this section. Mr. Mix believed in building a good foundation, and in so doing allowed the foundation to stand over winter to properly season and settle, making a more solid footing for the structure to be erected over it. The walls in the building was uniformly 14 inches in thickness. Plumbers who found it necessary to get through the walls in recent days can tell you how reinforced the walls are.

There was a building in front of present Ed Distelhorst residence, 4601 W. Broad-st, and used as a tavern originally belonging to the Mix clan, and later purchased by Mr. Grener, 198 S. Huron-av, now in his 91st year. This tavern was removed to Sullivant where it was razed but 10 years ago.

Then, of course, the traditionally known Mix schoolhouse, first frame, and later brick, was razed in recent years by the General Motors to make way for the Ternstedt project.

When Mrs. Cromwell and her sister, trekked along way to old Central High School, with their fringed surrey and fractious horses, Broad-st was a dirt and mud lane, with no cobblestone foundation until they reached the Broad-st bridge to only High-st then.

When the road was practically impassable the girls were obliged to navigate by horse car from the top of the hill at the Asylum terminal to their downtown school.

On one occasion, Mrs. Cromwell recalls, the street car ran or the tracks 13 times before they arrived at their destination. The "motorman driver" would stop, unhitch the horses from the car, pull the car back on the track, and hitch them to the street car again for 13 times.

Barnum's circus caravan, drawn by many spans of horses, made an indelible impression on Mrs. Cromwell as a girl, when she was awakened at night by the noise, unaccustomed to residents along this thoroughfare then, of the fun-makers. The lights, as the troupe cruised along, will ever be an important incident in her treasury of memories.

Land along Broad-st in the present Hilltop business district was practically at give-away prices. In the early 1850's before Civil War days, the land along the National Road commanded a magnificent figure of $20 per acre, offered by owner Michael Sullivant.

Mrs. Cromwell well remembers when her Quaker Sunday School teacher, Will Ong, resorted to high pressure tactics and tried his best to induce her to buy lots along this route. One lot, in particular at Eureka and Broad-sts, where Fox Market is now located, he proffered her $50—and on time, at the fabulous figure of 25c per week with no down payment.

With her music lessons (she was also music teacher for the children in this section) bringing in 50c to a dollar or two weekly she thought she might afford this big investment; however, her father had other designs and discouraged her from buying "land along this mud road," so the deal fell through.

Incidentally Quaker Ong laid out much of the Hilltop, especially north of Broad, naming many of his streets after girl's names and a variety of fruits which monikers are attached to many in this day.

A great many of the earlier Christmases on the Hilltop are tied in with the old Quaker Church, at Wilson-rd, and Broad-st, where families vied for bringing the nicest presents to the church on Christmas Sundays.

The Mixes had perhaps the most ornate sleigh in the country. It was a double sleigh, sculptored and carved by hand with a knife.

Presents exchanged were simple but good ones. In the old Mix home, still standing, a huge fireplace provided places for children to put their stockings on Christmas Eve. Mrs. Cromwell has hand-painted alphabet blocks received at an early one. She likewise has many early Christmas ornaments including bud vase given to her by her teacher, which added much to color and brilliancy of early Hilltop Christmas trees.

School Director James Fippin, she recalls, upon his visitation there almost invariably addressed the 70 some scholars with a famous declaration on the great improvements in schools since his tenure as official in Holmes County. Fippin always told the pupils how he trudged through the snow and weather four miles daily to get to his school, frequently without any footwear. In order to keep his feet from freezing or getting cold he made it a habit to always carry a board under his coat, warming it, and at frequent intervals place the coat-warmed board under his feet. (Mr. Fippin was grandfather of teacher Mrs. Sperry here on the Hilltop).

Other teachers whose names live on in the history of Mix School is Quaker Mr. Simpson, "Triv" C. L. Hoover, and Nellie Gill, who lived in a lane that originally stemmed from the National Road on present GM. tract.

Mrs. Cromwell is now working on a monumental research project of her genealogy, having already traced one side of the family to 1638 showing that she had eight Revolutionary grandfathers.

Mrs. Cromwell avers that she could probably belong to every patriotic chapter in America by virtue of her ancestry — if she could afford it, humorously admitting that there may be some in the seven or eight generations she already knows about who have cast a shadow on the family escutcheon.

Mrs. Cromwell's husband passed away in 1932. Her son, Carrol, formerly a West High student, is identified with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Philadelphia.

West High At Work

Backbone of West High Productions Is Fifteen Member Stage Crew

By Myron Seifert

Boys whose yen for the footlights may have been stymied at some time or other usually look forward to participation in some phase of theatrical activity.

Others, taking after Shakespeare, believe that a fundamental knowledge of stage scenery, color and background is necessary to any well-rounded theatrical career.

Still other high school boys, curious to see what really makes a play "tick," like to work "backstage" as an adventure.

In any event, petite Mrs. Evelyn Hall, advisor for the West High School stage crew, will tell you that "her boys" are more than mechanically inclined — "they are full of worthwhile ideas and able to put them into action," he pretty teacher states.

The boys must be proficient in a great many fields, and have strong team-work tendencies. Available for any eventuality, the crew manages every performance and activity that you see on the West High stage. In addition to school programs and rehearsals, a legion of outside activities on the Hilltop school's stage beckons a call to Mrs. Hall's stage boys.

Blue-printing the necessary work to be done for a scheduled program is the preliminary step in tackling the job ahead. Stage props, scenery, etc., must be arranged to conform to the needed program. Hammers, nails and paint brushes frequently are in evidence and these boys use them to good advantage.

Next time you witness a production on the West High stage, remember that the precision-timing and skilled hands of 15 boys were instrumental in making it a successful presentation. Students study daily under Mrs. Hall's direction the technique needed in effective stage arrangement.

A half dozen seniors will complete their service to West High with the June graduation. Every one of them will tell you that Mrs. Hall, and the experience gained from her teachings, are highlights in their high school careers.

Dick Sherman, 53 N. Hague-av, hopes to become a commercial aviator. He is head stage electrician.

Stage artist, Louis Wolfe, 2552 W. Broad-st, has asperations in the field of commercial art.

Stage technician Dick Orr, 212 N. Powell-av, wants to become an "aerial mechanic."

Dick Young, 125 N. Harris-av, assistant manager of the stage crew is interested in becoming an engineer.

Sound effects man Fred Wollerman, 387 Demorest-rd, expects to attach the suffix "MD" to his name.

Paul Koons, 123 N. Warren-av, is stage manager and spotman. He hopes to become a diesel mechanic for his life work.

Ask Parents' Help To Stop Vandalism

As a result of repeated acts of vandalism against the city's only recently completed street marking system, Safety Director C. C. Cole last week appealed to parents to correct the situation by warning their children against such destructive practices.

The marker at Broad-st and Warren-av is one of four in the city that have been completely removed by vandals. Others are at High-st and Markisen-av, Whittier and Seymour-av and Woodruff and Iuka-avenues. In addition, the City Engineering Department reported that the water-deflecting ornaments have been stolen from many other signs. This ornament is designed to prevent the sign from rusting out.

Parents were advised further that patrolmen and cruisers have been alerted to be on the lookout for future acts of vandalism.

Bible Institute Series To Open

The Columbus Bible Institute, Inc., announces the beginning of another quarter on Monday, Dec. 13. Eleven Bible and affiliated subjects are to be offered during the 13-week period on Monday and Tuesday evenings. Certificates and diploma are awarded to those satisfactorily completing the one-year and three-year courses.

This school, which had 77 enrolled for the fall quarter, is the only one of its type in Columbus making systematic Bible training possible entirely through evening classes. These men and women represent 25 different churches and because of the interdenominational emphasis the student body is expected constantly to increase as more and more of Columbus church folk find that these facilities are available. Special training may be secured for almost any phase of Sunday School and church work. No tuition is charged but a registration fee of $3.00 is asked for any number of subjects. Correspondence courses are available to those who are unable to come to C.B.I. classes.

The facilities of the Bible Presbyterian Church, 743 Dennison-av, have been made available for use during these two evenings weekly. Additional information may be obtained by calling MA. 0063, LA. 61181, or WA. 1475. A telephone call will bring a detailed catalog.

Number of Hilltop Mail Carriers Is More Than Doubled For Christmas

By Myron Seifert

Those ever-faithful, blue-gray uniformed public servants—the mail carriers—who dispense letters, magazines and packages to the thousands of Hilltop businesses and households, render a genuine service to this community.

True to the tradition of every postal deliveryman, your mailman subscribes to the department's creed which reads: "Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds."

According to J. Ray Anderson, clerk in charge at the Hilltop Station, postal service this Christmas will reach a new all-time high in this 75th anniversary year of the free delivery system in Columbus.

Two reasons advanced by Mr. Anderson will create this condition: 1) the growth and expansion of the Hilltop and its environs; and 2) the fact that this will be the first Christmas since the war that practically every nation in the world will receive and send mail. Thus both outgoing and incoming mail from overseas will hit a record volume.

According to Mr. Anderson, territory serviced by the Hilltop Station includes the area from Central-av west to Rome; and from Trabue-rd on the north to Clime-pk on the south. Territory outside the corporation limits is serviced by one rural carrier and two "mounted" carriers.

The local office force of two men who started 37 years ago with only 13 carriers has been increased to 30. During the Christmas rush, more than 70 mailmen from the Hilltop Station will insure delivery of your Christmas mail with speed and efficiency.

Familiar to the thousands of Hilltoppers are the names of these "regulars" who have trekked many miles on your route: Ralph Bieber, Bliss Brown, Raymond W. Colwell, Richard W. Cartmell, Clarence Clark, Floyd C. Clark, Leslie H. Clark, Robert Davis, William E. Davis, Bruce E. Emory, Harold E. Freeland, Donald G. Horn, Robert L. Isenagle, Ernest E. Harris, Edward R. Mantle, Ralph O. Mercer, Stephen A. Mundy, William E. Pruitt, Carl J. Schuman, Joseph A. Shoemaker, George M. Slate, Glen E. Smith, Harold H. Smith, James B. Smith, William H. Steller, Arbutus A. Walker and Eugene D. Williams.

Mailmen are often taken for granted. It's an everyday experience for Hilltoppers to greet the mailman with a friendly "hello." He is, in fact, a friend to every family where he delivers mail. He knows every person by name, knows the kiddies and joshes with them, likes household pets he sees on his daily rounds. And even the strays and common mongrels get a kind word from the mailman.

Ask any Hilltop mailman how he likes his work, and his spontaneous reply will be words to this effect, "Rather be working here than any place I know." Then ask Hilltoppers about the service they receive and they'll tell you—"couldn't be better."

Starting at 6 o'clock in the morning his day begins, with miles ahead of him and a hefty pack on his back.

"Relay mails" are picked up from one section mail box along the boulevard and deposited in another storage box. These are eventually picked up by three men via mail truck. Some mailmen have four or five relay points on their routes.

Following morning deliveries, mailmen report to the local station at 11:45; leave again at 1:15 for their designated routes and complete afternoon delivery normally by 3:30. Christmas season is, of course, an exception.

What happens to the letter or package you address, stamp and deposit in the street mail box?

All cancellations and distribution of mail are made from the downtown Post Office. Mail to Hilltoppers is processed, sorted in bundles and delivered by the downtown office to the Hilltop office, from whence the mailman there takes over.

Mailing procedure, especially at this Christmas season, is simple yet necessary, Chief Clerk Anderson avers. Parcels should be in pasteboard boxes of sufficient strength to hold contents, and should be securely tied. Parcels may be sealed, but in that case, a declaration must be made by the sender that the package may be opened for inspection. Mr. Anderson cautioned patrons that to guarantee parcel delivery to points outside the city, deadline for mailing is Dec. 15.

All parcels over two pounds in weight will not be delivered by your mailman, but by truck from the Annex downtown, Mr. Anderson said.

That change of address card you filled in is entered in a special change of address directory kept by each of the 30 carriers. The pink colored card, containing the new address, is filed, and its contents entered in your carrier's book. The carrier himself always knows the change of address and all such information should be referred to him. When a substitute runs the regular man's trick it is obvious that the newcomer could not remember his "moving client's" new address.

It is not enough to send our well dressed wives and children to church with generous offerings. The church needs us, too; our influence, our time, our thought. And we need the inspiration and the teachings of the church. Religion is not a silk hat to be worn only on Sunday. It is a path to be followed every day of the week.

Hilltopper, Veteran of 30 Years On River, Now Builds Model Steamboats

Hilltoppers stopping to admire the seven foot scale model of the Ohio River steamboat "Virginia", on display at the Ohio National Bank's Hilltop Office at 2374 W. Broad-st, probably do not realize that the sleek, trim miniature packet represents almost four months of spare-time effort by Bernard Savage, of 211 S. Richardson-av.

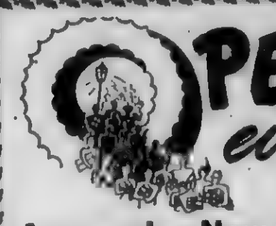
Mr. Savage, collector of riverboat lore and a lover of stern and side wheelers from his boyhood, started as a cabin boy on an Ohio River packet at the age of nine and subsequently held every position he could, up to and including pilot, in the thirty-odd years he traveled up and down the Ohio and Muskingum Rivers on all types of craft.

The one steamboat that impressed him most, however, was the majestic "Virginia", which was built in 1896 at a cost of $150,000 and carried up to 300 passengers on its countless trips between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh. The "Virginia" was the "Queen Mary" of the riverboats until she was left stranded in a cornfield by receding waters of the Ohio River following the disastrous 1913 flood.

The model which Mr. Savage began last July is 59 inches long and 10 inches wide, a scale of one-quarter inch to the foot in comparison to the dimensions of the real thing, which measured 235 feet long and 40 inches wide.

A successful contractor since he gave up river life in 1917, Mr. Savage has built one other model boat since he began his "land bound" existence. That is the "Lorena", a somewhat smaller and less luxurious boat in her day than the "Virginia". He "just whittled out" the "Lorena", not paying any attention to scale, and was consequently more or less uneasy when his cold, exacting river-boatman's eye observed her disproportionateness. That accounts for the careful planning that went into the "Virginia".

The destiny of Mr. Savage's model of the "Virginia" is to be infinitely more appropriate than the end of her namesake. For after its current exhibition run in Columbus, the "Virginia" model will be taken to Marietta, coincidentally on the Ohio River route run so many times by the old "Virginia", there to be placed in a sealed display in the famed Campus Martius Museum so that generations as yet unborn may some day gaze incredulously at this memento of a mode of transportation that "used to be".



Most of us don't accumulate this world's goods very fast, no matter how hard we try. But perhaps few appreciate what does come our way as did the old man as he expressed himself on his 50th wedding anniversary:

"Well, wife, it's 50 years ago, since you and I was tied,
And we hev clum the hills
O'life together, side by side.
How we hev prospered,
haint we, wife!
An how well off we be!
When we was spliced, we owned one cow
An now, gosh! we own three!"

Let's thank God for all His many blessings.

Hunters Asked To Return Leg Bands

Game management officials of the Ohio Division of Conservation this week reported that Ohio hunters this year have been cooperating with the Division of Conservation game survey by sending in an unusually large number of pheasant identification leg bands from birds killed during the season, however, Dr. E. D. Martin, chief of the game management section said today that no doubt many hunters are still carrying leg bands in their hunting coat pockets or have tossed them aside with the intention of mailing them to the Division but have failed to do so.

He urged hunters who do have leg bands to mail them to the Ohio Division of Conservation headquarters, 1106 State Office Building, Columbus 15, Ohio.

Each hunter mailing in the bands will receive a post card report showing where the bird was released and the date. The leg band check system helps to determine the movement of the birds, the number of years they have been able to dodge the hunters' shot, and the natural growth of each bird.

As an experiment, the Division this past summer released about 700 five-week-old pheasants in three counties to check the survival of the birds at this age compared with the birds which are held in rearing pens until maturity. Dr. Martin said today that already a number of bands from these birds released at five-weeks of age have been sent in which indicates that a number of them did survive.

What we do, we had better do right away. The clock ticks now and we hear it. After a while it will tick and we will not hear it. The time is short, and there is so much fine living to be done. There are so many opportunities to help others, and in helping others, to build happiness for ourselves. Let's hurry in our well doing before it is too late. Listen with me TICK-TOCK, TICK TOCK, TICK-TOCK.

Strangers are lonely—An older and a younger man were sitting together in the back of a little church. The service was not over but the younger man started to leave. "Don't go yet," whispered the older man, "after it's over they all shake hands and that's the best part."

Cigarette Shoots Man, Lightning Rings Door Bell During Wacky Year 1948

Results of Annual Quest for Strange National Safety Council Reports On Happenings Involving Man and Beast

The year 1948 naturally meant different things to different people.

To Ed Taylor of Matewan, W. Va., for example, it will always stand out for the spectacular half hour he spent with his head locked up cozily in a steam shovel.

On the other hand, 1948 will understandably be remembered by James Drager of Beloit, Wis., as the year he got shot by a cigaret. And chances are that Andrew Anderson of Oakland, Calif., will never forget it because of the bathtub accident he had—not in the privacy of his home, but on a busy highway!

And if you think those are the only wacky things that happened in 1948, just read a little further into what the National Safety Council dug up in its annual quest for odd accidents. The Council's roundup continues:

In Jamestown, N. Y., lightning courteously rang the doorbell when it called at the home of Mrs. Roger W. Cramer. Mrs. Cramer answered the bell, found no one there, identified her departed visitor by the smoke it had left, and called the fire department.

In St. Louis, Singer Edwin Steffe hastily clapped a wig on his head for his part in an outdoor municipal opera. His quick sweep trapped a bee beneath the wig. Critics agreed he gave an animated performance.

Way down in Brisbane, Australia, Lawrence Doorey was the traffic victim of a cockroach. Mr. Doorey spied the roach on the sidewalk and took a swipe at it with his boot. He missed and the roach fled into the street. Mr. Doorey pursued. As he bent over to take another swipe, a passing automobile whacked him from behind. The roach rambled on.

Stuart Bowie of Rochester, N. Y., eased his auto gently over a railroad crossing to make sure he didn't break two dozen eggs he was taking home. A freight engine bore down on him, struck his car and knocked it into the path of another locomotive on an adjoining track. Mr. Bowie crawled from the wreckage to find nothing broken—not even an egg!

When Benjamin Quinland was admitted to a hospital in St. Louis, nurses noticed that he lay uneasily in his bed. They couldn't blame him. As he had relaxed at home a short time before, a bedspring had snapped loose, pierced the mattress and stabbed Mr. Quinland in the middle of his rump.

Every athlete dreams of the day he'll be red hot. Such a day came to Cricket Player Denis Plumb in Atherstone, England, this summer. A hard-hit ball struck a box of matches in his pocket. Pants afire, Fielder Plumb valiantly completed the play and dashed from the game in a blaze of glory.

Potatoes are supposed to be good for you, but Mrs. Alfred Swauger of Ravenna, O., isn't so sure. A sweet potato exploded as she took it out of the oven — and wham went the yam right in Mrs. Swauger's face.

In Marcinelle, Belgium, Miss Melle Boussurois was cleaning clothes with gasoline. Her cat, napping near a gas stove, got too near the burner and its fur caught fire. A leap and a yowl, and it landed smack in Miss Boussurois' bowl of gasoline. That was one night she didn't have to put the cat out. It went out on its own—jet-propelled.

The first day Charles Haley went to work on a construction job in Minneapolis, the foreman kept him on the ground, for safety's sake. Haley backed up to watch his fellow workers as they toiled aloft, fell off the sidewalk and knocked himself out.

Champion faller of the year was two-year-old Kenneth Liebman of New York City, who tumbled out of a sixth-floor window, landed in a hedge, slid to the ground and trotted off uninjured.

Kansas jackrabbits aren't going to like this, but a Nebraska jack-rabbit leaped from the highway near Meadow Grove, crashed through the windshield of an auto, whizzed by the startled occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Duhacek, and banged into the rear window so hard the glass was shattered. Note of solace to Kansas rabbits: The Nebraska showoff couldn't take it, fellows. He fell dead on the rear seat of the car.

In a London theater Aufidius and Coriolanus were engaged in some snappy sword play in Shakespeare's "Coriolanus." Aufidius made a desperate lunge, let go of his sword, and a surprised young lady, in the front row got into the act by taking a flesh wound in the arm.

But let's get back to Ed Taylor and the head-hunting steam shovel mentioned at the start of this story. As Mr. Taylor parked his car in Matewan, W. Va., the boom of a nearby clam shell power shovel swung around and knocked down a utility pole. A network of telephone wires fell on top of Mr. Taylor's car. As he stuck his head out to see what was going on, the clam shell banged down on top of the car, snapped its jaws and locked up. Mr. Taylor's head and shoulders inside the bucket. It took half an hour to get him out, scratched and shocked, but not seriously injured.

And if you are wondering how a cigaret can shoot a man, James Drager of Beloit, Wis., will tell you it's easy. Mr. Drager merely placed a lighted cigaret on an ash-tray and settled back to read his paper. The cigaret set off a bullet that had been left in the ash-tray, and Mr. Drager was shot in the arm. No other cigaret can make that statement!

It's kind of embarrassing to have any kind of a bathtub accident, but it's even worse when you have one on the open highway. Andrew Anderson of Oakland, Calif., is sure of that. Mr. Anderson was passing a truck on the busy Monterey highway near Gilroy, Calif., when the truck hit a chuckhole. Three bathtubs on the truck bounced off and crushed through the top of the Anderson car. He was treated for bruises and, understandably, for shock.

Dietitians recommend celery for health, but just try to sell that to Ralph Joynt of Mason City, Iowa. Mr. Joynt lugged home one of those oversized sacks of groceries women are always asking their husbands to carry, and plunked it down on the kitchen table with such energetic relief that a protruding stalk of celery poked him good and hard in the eye. He was out of commission for several days.

Baseball pitchers who don't like the lively ball can count Miss Estelle Hester in on their side. Miss Hester was washing her car across the street from Wrigley Field in Los Angeles one day when a batter socked a home run over the centerfield wall. Miss Hester was out — cold.

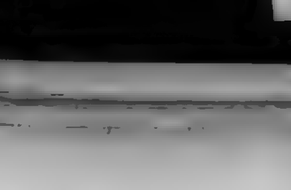
Ashly Kelley, a telephone lineman in Washington, D. C., was surprised while working in a manhole one day to have an eight-year-old girl drop in on him. She was Delores Leonberger. The only thing broken was her fall, cushioned when she landed squarely on Lineman Kelley.

A lot of things happened to the Knott family in Stamps, Ark., one day last winter and none of them was good. First, Mrs. Polly Knott slipped on the ice and sprained her ankle. Her sister, Mrs. Mattie LeMay, rushing to the rescue, fell and broke her wrist. Mrs. LeMay's son, Clint, dashed out to help. Yes, he slipped, too, and broke his leg.

Jerome Mills of Oklahoma City also had one of those days. Jerry was knocked off his bicycle by an auto. As an ambulance rushed him to the hospital, it collided with a police car which was speeding to investigate Jerry's first accident. Released from the hospital after treatment for cuts and bruises, Jerry decided to walk home. He made it.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Clark would have plunged over a 50-foot embankment in Portland, Ore., if their car hadn't struck a sign and stopped. The sign said: "Drive Carefully and Avoid Accidents."

And in Redlands, Calif., a driver named — believe it or not—Mr. Oh Bee Goode, was advised by police to live up to his name after they had accused him of running a stop light and colliding with a truck.



Do you think feminine curiosity is overrated? Well, in Pasadena, Calif., Mrs. Elizabeth Knudsen arrived at a railroad crossing to find the wig-wagging full tilt. Intrigued, she drove on the tracks to see what was coming. It was a train, of all things. She backed up hastily, but the locomotive caught the front bumper of her car. Mrs. Knudsen, her curiosity satisfied, was unhurt.

Just outside Ann Arbor, Mich., two horses used driver-sense and crashed head-on into each other at full speed. Both were killed.

And in Chicago a guy who works for the National Safety Council and goes around telling other people to be careful, slipped on the ice on his own driveway, fell and broke his arm. The name of this dope? Excuse me a minute, folks, while I go sprinkle salt on the ice cubes. You can't be too careful!

Candy Classics

By BETTY BARCLAY

It may be old fashioned for teen agers to entertain the crowd by making candy, but it still is lots of fun! Whether you let your friends help you in the actual making or just the eating of these wonderful homemade candies, you will want to try these recipes. The dark corn syrup keeps the fudge from crystallizing and adds flavor and a beautiful sheen to the butterscotch.

Chocolate Fudge

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 cups sugar
2 tablespoons Karo Syrup, Red or Blue Label
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
¾ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup walnuts, coarsely chopped

Place all ingredients except vanilla and nuts in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils. Continue cooking, stirring occasionally to soft ball stage (238° F.) or until a small amount of mixture forms a soft ball when tested in cold water. Remove from heat. Add vanilla. Cool to lukewarm (110° F.). Then beat until fudge begins to thicken and loses its gloss. Fold in nuts. Quickly spread into greased 8-inch square pan. When cold cut in squares. Makes 25 squares. (3 pounds). Omit nuts if desired.

Butterscotch Candy

2 cups sugar
⅔ cup Karo Syrup, Blue Label
¼ cup water
¼ cup light cream
¼ cup butter or margarine

Place all ingredients except butter or margarine in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring occasionally, to hard ball stage (260° F.) or until a small amount of mixture forms a hard ball when tested in cold water. Add butter and continue cooking, stirring constantly, to hard crack stage (288° F.) or until a small amount of mixture separates into brittle threads when tested in cold water. Pour into greased 8-inch square pan. When cool and almost set, cut into squares. When cold break apart. Makes 1¼ pounds or 60 pieces.

Hilltop Needs a Large Community Center

I sat in a meeting with a group of local business men this past week during which time they were bemoaning the fact that the Hilltop doesn't have a suitable place for public meetings, for their larger social functions and various types of gatherings.

This is an old problem and one that grows larger each year with the corresponding growth of the Hilltop and the increasing number of local organizations. A lot has been said about it but no one has come up yet with a plan that can be developed into a reality.

While the idea is being considered locally I'd like to toss in this thought again: Why not make plans now and start raising funds for this purpose through the Hilltop YMCA?

Sooner or later the Hilltop "Y" will be housed in a new building with adequate facilities to serve the community.

An ideal opportunity presents itself at this time for every group in the community to get behind a unified program to help themselves. Through such a unified effort it is possible to provide a place suitable for large banquets, dances, entertainments, etc., for every such group that is at present asking for such a place.

Through a properly directed effort and organization it would be possible to finance such a project by a plan similar to the original financing of the West High stadium, through issuance of baby bonds. In this way any person desiring to support the program by way of an investment would have the right to do so. Those who cared to make outright contributions might also be privileged to do so.

The whole program could result in the erection of a nice building or purchase of a suitable one that would serve the needs of not only the Hilltop "Y" but the many organizations that might desire to avail themselves of this service.

The thought deserves some investigation. If we are going to do anything more than just talk about what we would like to have, now is the time to get started.

Re: Local Option

There continues to be a few local people who are spreading the word from mouth to mouth that The Hilltop Record is advocating local option. There are those who maintain that our recent editorial attacks on the Herbert administration were aimed to stir up a fight that would result in this community being voted dry.

In the many items we carried we never once advocated local option. We definitely stated we were not advocating it. We were merely protesting the further granting of liquor permits on the Hilltop.

For the benefit of those who are keeping the subject alive by word of mouth we reiterate: We have taken no stand for or against local option. We did take a stand against the expansion of the liquor business in this community and we will continue to stand our ground on this point.

Stout Heads Business Assn.

Phillip V. Stout

Phillip V. Stout, attorney, with offices at 2532 W. Broad-st, is the new president of the Hilltop Business Association. He was elected at the meeting Tuesday evening at Westgate Methodist Church. He succeeds Joe Goodwin as president.

Other officers named were Harold Green, first vice-president; Dr. Fred Marsch, second vice-president; Elmer Hegenberger, treasurer; Harold Fox, E. O. Melvin and John Nippert, members of the board of directors.

Membership was voted to Echt & Wirthlin, acccuntants, Erm Groves Barber Shop, Hilltop Florists, Dr. W. M. Johannes, Bob Jones Signs, and Wilson Pharmacy.

Broadview Linoleum and Tile Co. and Ezzo Barbers were inducted into membership at the meeting.

Rev. A. J. Weld, pastor of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church, spoke on "The Implications and Meaning of Christmas", in which he pointed out that this time of the year people are at their best and all that is finest in us comes to the surface.

"Christ is still ahead of us in our thinking," he said. He quoted George Bernard Shaw as having said, "Only one person came out of the war with his skirts clean . . . it was Jesus Christ."

New officers will be installed at the meeting Jan. 11 at Glenwood Church at which time wives of members will be guests of the association.

Tarbutton Is Bartlett Aide

George Tarbutton

George T. Tarbutton, 180 S. Brinker-av, was named Saturday as first assistant to County Prosecutor Ralph J Bartlett. He succeeds William V. Bryant, who resigned in order to accept a position with the Attorney General-elect.

Tarbutton, 34, is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University, and the school of law at Ohio State University.

Before World War II he served as law clerk to District Judge Mell G. Underwood of the federal court. During his 32 months of service with the army, he was the chief criminal investigator in Italy. He was discharged in 1945 with the rank of captain.

Since his discharge he has practiced law with the Adams, Rapp and McCann firm.

A Democrat, Tarbutton first tried for a public office in 1947, when he was nominated for City Council. However, he lost out in the general election.

He is a member of the Shrine, Hilltop Kiwanis Club, Camp Chase Post American Legion, Academy of Political Science at Columbia University, and the Franklin County Historical Society.

City "Definitely Interested" In Proposed Dam At Mill Creek

Charles Bennett To Leave West; Moving To Arizona

By Myron T. Seifert

Charles W. Bennett, 239 Belvidere-av, director of West High School's instrumental music department, whose shows during half-time at Magly Stadium this fall thrilled thousands, will trek west with his family to Phoenix, Ariz., the latter part of January.

Coming to West High in September, 1941, his tenure here was interrupted only by his call to the U. S. colors in 1943, where he served as T/Sgt. in the Allied Force Headquarters in Africa and Italy.

Upon his discharge in December, 1943, he was re-assigned by the superintendent to the Hilltop post, since which time he has continued to improve his department, personally teaching and aiding students to become masters of a wide variety of band and orchestra instruments.

Bennett, himself, is a "natural", and is a past master at playing almost any instrument. His repertoire is broad; whether it is classical or popular, Charlie, as he is known to many Hilltoppers, is "hep" to the occasion, as any West High student can attest.

The arduous hours he has spent in behalf of West High musicians are infinitely more than the general public realizes. When many Hilltoppers were asleep, Charlie spent much of the night making plans for his boys and girls, for he wanted them to perform and play almost to perfection, and was never satisfied until they could make a creditable showing.

The fruits of his efforts have been demonstrated time and time again. Whether it was a concert, dance, football game, parade, Charlie produced—and he produced top music and showmanship.

He came here from Urbana High School, where he was in charge of the music three years.

At Ohio State University, from which he graduated, Charlie excelled in the music courses at that school, where he participated in the men's glee club, concert and marching bands, the latter providing a resourceful and practical background for teaching music at West High.

Identified with many name bands, he directed a college band for many years.

As soon as Bennett set his stakes at West High he conducted a campaign to make West High

Charles W. Bennett

"the school musicale".

He invited everyone who could play an instrument and who desired to play in a marching band, dance band or concert to see him immediately for a try-out, which he personally supervised.

Kids flocked into the music room, 303, at the Hilltop school, and West High never knew, until then, that there was so much hidden talent.

Bennett went to work on these prospects — and soon produced. He later inaugurated private and personally supervised instrumental music lessons for the students.

With the wholehearted support of the Band Parents' Club, Bennett has achieved results, in spite of many handicaps that would swamp a lesser man.

Hilltoppers are high in their praise of Bennett and his Hilltop musicians, who have added many hours of entertainment and appreciation to their lives. His influence is felt in every sphere.

Charlie may migrate with his family via house trailer to his new home in Phoenix, where he may bask in the sunshine and enjoy the Arizona climate during his "leave".

A legion of Hilltop well-wishers will follow you, Charlie, and will anticipate your return to the Columbus school system following a well-deserved vacation.

Nippert Co. To Expand, Increase Floor Space 50%

The Nippert Electric Products Co., designers and manufacturers of precision built commutators, at 1759 W. Mound-st, announced Saturday the letting of a contract to the firm of William Hoye Johnson, 140 E. Rathbone-rd, for the construction of a 4000-square-foot extension to the present plant.

In announcing the expansion, J. E. Nippert, 632 S. Roys-av, vice-president of the firm, said the additional space was necessary "to accommodate new commutator processing machinery we are now designing and building and to take care of an increase in the volume of commutators we produce."

Construction of the addition, a one-story concrete-block structure similar to the present factory and attached to it in the rear, was started Wednesday and is to be completed and in operation by early summer. The Johnson contracting firm built the original plant in 1946 and since that time has had charge of building a one-room addition and of erecting a garage and storage room adjacent to the plant.

Commutators built by the Nippert Co. are used in universal electric motors, vacuum cleaners, drills, sanders, polishers, generators and starters for diesel and heavy truck motors. The firm is a supplier of parts to such nationally-known concerns as Airway, Bendix Aviation Corp., Black & Decker, Eureka-Williams Co. and Robbins & Myers. All work done by the company is special-built to the manufacturer's specifications, no stock items being carried or manufactured.

The addition to the plant, when completed, will add about 50% to present manufacturing space. A spokesman for the firm said the increased space was necessary "to care for present production and to provide space for machinery now being designed. The extra room and increased facilities will enable us to take care of some new business," he added.

Paul W. Nippert, 283 S. Roys-av, president of the company, founded the firm, formerly located at 327 E. Broad-st. It moved to the present site in July, 1946, and now employs 56 persons and operates two shifts daily.

Employes of Nippert, who receive the proceeds of sale of the candy and coke from machines in the plant, last week contributed a check for $100 from this source to the Charity Newsies.

"JASSY" AT WESTMONT

"Jassy", a first run picture, is now showing at the Westmont Theatre and will continue through Saturday this week. This technicolor drama is being shown at the Academy Theatres for the first time in Columbus.

200 Kiwanians, Friends Sell Christmas Issue Today

Some two hundred members and friends of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club will begin knocking on doors and ringing doorbells in this community at 7 o'clock this evening to sell the second annual Hilltop Kiwanis Christmas Edition of The Hilltop Record. Net proceeds of the sale and money obtained from advertising in the issue will be used in the Hilltop community to give opportunity to underprivileged children for moral, mental, spiritual and physical development which would otherwise be denied them.

After a 6 p. m. dinner in the West High School cafeteria, served by Kiwanikwoe (ladies' auxiliary of Kiwanis), the men will be briefed and assigned certain territory to cover. They will then begin an intensive house-to-house campaign which will cover the territory bounded on the east by Central-av, on the west by the city limits, on the north by the Pennsylvania Railroad and on the south by Mound-st.

The "newsmen" will attempt to sell 10,000 copies of the 24-page two-color tabloid newspaper. Last year's initial effort for this worthwhile purpose, by comparison, had a circulation of 5000 and was a 12-page tabloid printed in only one color. Sale of that paper, nevertheless, was responsible for a return of $2793.95 to the Kiwanis treasury, which sum was donated to the then new Hilltop branch of the YMCA.

Specific plans for use of the funds obtained from this year's publication include establishment of better recreational facilities in underprivileged areas; sponsorship and maintenance of units of the Sea and Air Boy Scouts; providing of one to three weeks in summer camp for deserving boys and girls; continuance of scholarships at West High School for the boy and girl who merit them; and music lessons for needy and deserving children. This plan, considerably more ambitious than that attempted last year, can be adopted if the sale today is as successful as that of last year.

Contents of the Kiwanis issue will include messages from Kiwanis officers, articles of interest on various community activities, special Christmas stories and features and greetings from prominent Hilltoppers and dignitaries from all sections of the city.

Mound St. Bus Extension May Begin 'Any Time'

Bus service in W. Mound-st may be extended from Central-av to Wayne-av "at any time," officials of the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. disclosed Wednesday. Representatives of the utility said further conferences were to be held with city officials regarding this proposed extension but that no definite date could be announced for beginning of service.

At Monday's meeting of City Council, Council President Joseph R. Jones, chairman of the utility commission, said the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. had agreed to extend service to Wayne-av "immediately" and had promised further to provide service west to the city limits as soon as that part of Mound-st is sufficiently improved to support heavy bus traffic. Such an improvement is scheduled for early spring.

Councilman Jones said "immediately" meant as soon as equipment is available, which should be within a few days since only a couple of buses would be needed.

Early Deadlines For Wed. Record

The Hilltop Record will be delivered on Wednesday, Dec. 22, next week, due to the holiday week-end.

This early edition calls for earlier deadlines for all types of news.

All church news and notes must be at the Record office by 10 a. m. Saturday. The deadline for regular or social news copy is 5 p. m. Monday, and all want ads must be called in by 9 a. m. Tuesday.

Hilltop Loses A Vet; Honor Roll To Go

The Hilltop's huge Honor Roll of men from this community in the nation's armed services during the war, located across from the State Hospital grounds in Glenwood Park, is to be dismantled and sold for scrap, Arthur J. Bellar, chairman of the Hilltop Honor Roll Committee of Camp Chase Post, American Legion, has announced.

The Honor Roll, located in probably the most advantageous position in the entire community to be seen by the largest number of people, was erected more than five years ago and was formally dedicated at a solemn ceremony July 4, 1943. At that time, names of 1510 of the Hilltop's sons and daughters in the service were listed. A year later more than 2600 names were on the roll. By the time V-J Day arrived, Aug. 14, 1945, more than 3000 names were carried, many of them with gold stars. Larry Scales, 603 S. Eureka-av, was responsible for posting of all names.

Camp Chase Post erected the illuminated sign at an original cost in excess of $800. Several repaintings and the addition of the hundreds of names raised the total amount spent on the honor roll by the post to almost $1800.

After the conclusion of the war, Camp Chase post began in earnest its campaign for funds to erect a permanent Veterans' Memorial Home in this community. Several thousand dollars have already been obtained for this purpose and money received this week from the sale of the sign will be added to the fund.

After announcing completion of plans for removal of the sign, Mr. Bellar said: "I want to express my sincere thanks to the people of this community for their wholehearted cooperation in making the Honor Roll the success it was during the war years. I also want to render special thanks to Mr. Waldren of the Columbus Outdoor Advertising Co. for his understanding attitude and to express our appreciation of the friendly relations between his company and our unit."

The sign is scheduled to be removed before Jan. 1, 1949.

60 Firms Share 1500 Silver Dollars

How many times did you see or have one of those Hilltop Record silver dollars since last Friday? Chances are your answer will be "several times" if you've done much shopping in the past five days.

According to a check by the Record Wednesday morning, more than 60 Hilltop business firms had reported receiving the big shiny dollars in payment for services or commodities sold. Within the next week, when virtually all the silver dollars will have been spent by Record employes, it is expected that considerably more than 100 merchants in this community will have had demonstrated to them the truth of the statement that "Hilltop people do most of their buying on the Hilltop."

C. Carlton Hartley, publisher of The Hilltop Record, conceived the idea of making the entire payroll for one week in silver dollars to prove that "Record employes do practically all their buying with independent Hilltop merchants" because they believe that "any shopping problems can best be solved right here in Hilltop stores." Mr. Hartley disclosed that 1500 silver dollars were placed in circulation in this community beginning last Friday.

The Record circulation department advised that several of the silver dollars had been turned in to take advantage of the special subscription offer made last week. This offer, to give a year's subscription to the Record, ordinarily costing $1.50, for each silver dollar returned, is in effect until Jan. 1, 1949.

Taylor Heads 13 Club

Frank Taylor, 106 S. Richardson-av, was elected president of the 13 Club at the annual Christmas party of the club held Sunday at the Mannerchor attended by a full membership of 50.

Howard Minnameyer was named vice president; LeRoy Weigand, treasurer; Charles Neeshan, secretary.

The new executive board is made up of Arthur Bishop, chairman, William Krause, Harry Eaton, Edward McPherson, William Lash, Howard Fox, Herbert Kunzi.

The organization voted Sunday to take the West High baseball team to the Red Bird opener next spring, for the second time.

The club donated $500 to the Charity Newsies at the Newsie dinner last Thursday.

Refuse Collectors Busy On Hilltop

Rubbish is being collected in this community this week, William C. Anderson, city superintendent of refuse collection, has announced.

Collectors began their work Tuesday morning at Derrer-rd between Broad-st and Sullivant-av and were scheduled to work their way east as far as Lechner-av. This area is supposed to be completed by Saturday.

The area north of Broad-st and south of Sullivant-av will be covered when the present section is completed, probably beginning next week. The vicinity east of the institution will then be cared for the following week.

Keller Calls Flood Dam 'Better Buy'

The city of Columbus is "definitely interested" in the proposed dam at Mill Creek, advocated recently by the chief engineer of the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District as a means of insuring the West Side against a repetition of the disastrous 1913 flood, according to a statement by Service Director Elmer A. Keller to Col. A. M. Neilson, chief of the Huntington district of army engineers, in a letter last week.

The city, which is interested in increasing its future water supply, has been proceeding with plans for cooperation with the Conservancy District in construction of Hoover Dam on Big Walnut Creek at a cost to the corporation of approximately $7,500,000. When completed, this reservoir is to make available to the city 35,000,000 gallons of water daily. The Mill Creek dam, however, would require an outlay of only $3,000,000 by the city, yet would provide an estimated 23,000,000 gallons of water daily and in addition afford the community complete protection from a recurrence of a flood similar to that of 1913.

For this reason, according to Mr. Keller's statement, "this Mill Creek dam promises to be a much greater bargain than the Big Walnut deal. We are paying less than half the price for more than half the water and still are obtaining millions of dollars of value in flood protection benefits."

The "new angle" of flood protection benefits as well as water supply was injected into the dam construction issue recently by Allen Pretzman, attorney for the conservancy district, which has been opposing the city's apparent intention of constructing the Hoover Dam alone. The matter was brought into the open only two weeks ago when C. C. Chambers, chief Scioto-Sandusky engineer, stated in a report released to interested officials that the West Side was not at the present time protected by existing flood control devices from disastrous inundation by Scioto River waters should a situation identical to that of the spring of 1913 occur again. Such protection could be assured by the proposed dam at Mill Creek near Bellepoint, Mr. Chambers advised.

Mr. Keller concluded his letter to Col. Neilson with the statement that "I believe it would be to the interest of the district, the city and the army to meet and go into this matter thoroughly."

Frownfelter, Hilltop Grocer, New Owner of Hennick's

Frank Frownfelter, 122 S. Terrace-av, Hilltop grocer for more than 12 years, has purchased Hennick's Restaurant & Pipe Shop, 1824 N. High-st, nationally-known for almost a quarter-century as an Ohio State University student hangout.

Mr. Frownfelter, proprietor of a grocery store for the past 18 months at the S. Terrace-av address, bought the famous business Dec. 6 from W. T. Parker, after negotiating for the purchase for about two weeks. Ralph Humphrey, attorney at 19 W. Fifth-av, handled the transaction. Mr. Parker had been owner of the enterprise for eight years, having purchased it from the original owner, W. W. Hennick.

A resident of the Hilltop for 20 years, Mr. Frownfelter had previously owned two other grocery stores in this community. He operated a store at 2334 Sullivant-av for two years before opening his present store on S. Terrace and before that had been proprietor of a grocery at 2391 Steele-av for eight years. He at one time owned a restaurant in Huntington, W. Va.

Hennick's is to be operated as it has been for many years, Mr. Frownfelter stated, and he plans no changes among the 37 employes. Only change in the entire set-up, the new owner says, is that the famous Hennick's name will be dropped and be replaced by another name not yet chosen.

Mr. Frownfelter and his wife, Mrs. Audrey Frownfelter, have one daughter, Eldora, 16, a student at West High School. The family has made no immediate plans regarding moving their residence.

Wiltshire-rd Home Is a Neighborhood 'Cookie Heaven' at Christmas Time

"I AM MONARCH OF ALL I SURVEY"—Such might be the wish of little three-year-old Sunya Graham as she looks over the more than 2151 Christmas cookies baked last week by her mother, Mrs. Monna Graham, of 822 Wiltshire-rd. Sunya is "sergeant of the guard" to watch the cookies while her mother is out to see that her daddy, sister Carolyn and brothers Winston and Jimmy don't make away with too many of 'em. (J.Curtis Allen Photo)

We aren't letting you in on anything you didn't know when we tell you that most people look forward with considerable joy to two days each year, namely Dec. 24 and Dec. 25. But we sure are letting you in on a secret we would probably do well to keep to ourselves when we tell you that down at 822 Wiltshire-rd the family of a Mr. Harry Graham looks forward with just as great anticipation to the month before Christmas because that's Christmas cookie baking time at the Graham home.

Central figure in the yearly "cookie bake" is Mrs. Monna Graham, who does all the work in turning out upwards of 2000 seasonal cookies each Christmas. She looks forward to the first week in December each year, but not for the same reason that the family corps of samplers, critics and approvers do. The "corps" consists of her husband and four youngsters, Carolyn, 16, Winston, 15, James, 14, and Sunya, 3. They make a habit of sampling five or six (or seven or eight or nine or 10 or 11 or 12 or more) of each kind of cookie so that they can let the chef know her work is up to standard.

Mrs. Graham recalls that she has loved baking "ever since I was a girl." She first started baking Christmas cookies and giving them to friends about 15 years ago and because of the time and patience required has vowed religiously each year never to do it again. She changes her mind just as often, however, when her "public" starts putting the pressure on after Thanksgiving.

This year Mrs. Graham spent about a week in mixing the recipes for the 13 kinds of batter she used, moulding the 22 different shapes, baking and decorating the finished product. Baking time is actually the smallest item in the time budget for preparing the cookies, some of the varieties being in the oven only 10 minutes. Most time is consumed in mixing batter (she's used an electric mixer the past two years but before that she did all the blending by hand—and some mixtures have to be beat or stirred for 45 minutes!) and applying decorations to bells, Christmas trees and Santa Claus cheese cookies. As to cost, nuts alone used in the recipes cost over $15.

To show for all this effort (Mrs. Graham worked until 3 o'clock two mornings and until 4 one morning) the dining room table in the Graham home last week was covered with 2151 cookies of all shapes, sizes and colors. Smallest are the Christmas bells, which are slightly more than an inch long from tip of handle to bottom of clapper. Biggest are the aforementioned Santa Claus cheese cookies, which are about five inches long. In between these extremes are the Christmas brownies, Russian, holiday fruit, date kisses, Springerles, black walnut drops, Christmas trees, vanilla sticks, pecan drops, pfeffernuss (that's not a misprint, that's a German name for a cookie) and dream toffee nut bars.

Friends, relatives and neighbors of the Grahams will be able to attest to Mrs. Graham's skill this year. Between 10 and 15 tins of the goodies will be given as gifts (one being sent as far as Portland, Ore.) and many cellophane bags filled with cookies will be given to neighborhood children.

Mrs. Graham says that "of all things I do around the house, I'd rather bake and cook than anything." She gets many an opportunity to take advantage of this preference. Last week, with more than 179 dozen cookies still on the dining room table, she was making plans to bake a cake for the West High band party Dec. 15. She has this privilege because all three of her older youngsters are students at West High and all three are likewise in the band.

Chief beneficiary of Mrs. Graham's aptness for making good things to eat, of course, is Mr. Graham, who is a factory representative for Wilbur-Coon Shoes operating out of Rochester.

THE HILLTOP RECORD
Published Every Thursday Morning by
THE HILLTOP RECORD
2465 W. Broad St. RA. 1125
Columbus, Ohio

An Independent Newspaper Devoted to the Interests of the Hilltop

Entered as second class matter Jan. 27, 19[illegible] at the [illegible] Office Columbus, O., [illegible] Act of March 3, 1879.

Hilltop Girl To Join Water Follies

Dorothy Mae Roederer, 452 Belvidere-av, a junior at Ohio State University, will participate in the well known "Water Follies" exhibitions, when the internationally known aquatic stars begin their world-wide trek after Jan. 1, 1949.

At the Olympic tryouts, held at Detroit last July, Miss Roederer was acclaimed one of the six best girl athletes in the field of aquatic high-diving.

After the first of the year, Miss Roederer will report, with her party of 30 celebrated stars, to Miami Beach, and thence to Cuba and various points on the European continent.

Her schedule includes an appearance at the Ohio State Coliseum next April.

During her high school days, Miss Roederer was active in G. A. A. work and served as majorette of West's famous marching band.

She graduated in the '45 class and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Roederer, 452 Belvidere-av.

Many Take A Ribbing At Gridiron Dinner

A lot of people took a lot of ribbing at the Kiwanis grid-iron dinner last Thursday night at St. Mary Magdalene Church.

Members of the club portrayed various individuals in the club as well as local politicians, many of whom were present.

Harold Cunningham, dressed as a hunter, sauntered through the audience "looking for a Republican." Larry Scales as "Dr. Gallup" wasn't aware that the election was over and his predictions had been wrong. George Sinclair, eleventh ward Republican committeeman, portrayed by Erm Groves, slept through the whole campaign.

Robert Draper was portrayed by Herbert Deems as calling Walter Heer (Robert Nash), on the phone and inquiring about $3000 that had been promised for his campaign for congress. When it got down to $1500 and finally nothing, Draper asked, "Could you spare a dime for a cup of coffee?"

Jack Sensenbrenner was depicted by Joe Agee as a ticket salesman for a case of beverages being sold by the 13 Club. The club president, R. J. Miller, was constantly loking for the secretary, George Tarbutton. The attendance chairman objected to Larry Scales and Ed Planck being on the committee because "neither of them can play poker."

The "Peaceful Hilltop" was shown in signs and later shown as just plain Hilltop after the liquor places had crowded out many businesses and homes.

Charles Cole was running around in the audience shouting "No, no, no," and was reported as being on his vacation.

Ralph Paul (Sam Alford) and Ralph Bartlett (Joe Agee) had a lengthy conversation about the campaign in which they pointed out that preachers are like seamstresses, always using the needle.

Children's Home Will See Vaudeville Show

A seven act vaudeville show directed by Lawrence Whitaker, 377 W. Cherry-dr, will appear at the Franklin County Children's Home on Dec. 22 at 7:30 p. m.

Included in the program are acts by three local people, Bill Marot, 259 N. Harris-av, Kenny Chamberlain, 1233 Sullivant-av, and Shirley Huntsberry of Sullivant Gardens.

The hour and one half show will be followed by a party for the children, who will each receive oranges, apples, ice cream, cookies and popcorn.

WHEELS REPORTED STOLEN

Tires, tubes and automobile wheel rims valued at $1700 were stolen Monday night from a trailer parked in front of his home, F. W. Karl, 2846 W. Broad-st, reported to police Tuesday.

CORRECTION

Glenn Harriman, 178 N. Wayne-av, and Dick Houk, 664 S. Burgess-av, own the Scarlet-Grey Band (formerly the Don Crawford Orchestra). Last week's Hilltop Record incorrectly stated that they worked with the band.

WHEATLAND WSCS

The executive and regular meeting of the WSCS of the Wheatland Avenue Methodist Church will be held Tuesday, Dec. 21, at the church, in order to prepare fruit packages for shut-ins.

Local Firm Builds $3600 Home

"LOWEST-PRICED HOME ON THE MARKET TODAY" is the manufacturer's description of the attractive Hayes Home, being built in this community at 2040 Wilson-rd. just north of Trabue-rd. This compact four-room house, which sells for $3600 complete with bath, equipped kitchen and gas or oil furnace, is now on display at the Wilson-rd address.

A pre-fabricated home that should be the answer to the housing prayers of thousands of middle-income families is being manufactured in this community. A pilot model of the home, which is described by the manufacturer as "the lowest-priced home on the market today," is currently on public display at 2040 Wilson-rd, in the lot adjoining the firm's factory.

The handsome one-floor plan known as the Hayes Home, has an exterior of Weldtex. The walls and ceiling are insulated throughout with Fibreglas. The house is pre-cut and fitted at the factory and then assembled in the conventional manner on the customer's lot.

Interior of the "dream house," which is designed to sell for $3600 with equipped kitchen and bath, is completely modern. The entire house measures 24x24 feet, which is skillfully laid cut into two bedrooms, living room, dinette, kitchen and bath. Included in the quoted price of the home is a kitchen appliances. In the setting is a four-burner gas stove, a small but handy electric refrigerator, seven roomy built-in cupboards and a pan closet and a 10-gallon electric hot water heater.

Flat surfaces of the kitchen cabinets and walls are inlaid plastic linoleum, with chrome moulding stripe. Floors throughout the home are tile rubber linoleum. The living room is finished with natural birch wood panelling. The shower bath is finished in imititation tile.

W. M. Eikenberry, production manager of Hayes Homes, says that the new pre-fabricated home can be completely erected on a lot of the owner's choosing within three days from the time the homes are scheduled to go into production this week at an initial rate of three per day, Mr. Eikenberry states, with output eventually to rise to approximately five a day.

The home currently on display has overall dimensions of 24x24 feet but the firm plans to make available other homes measuring 24x40 feet. The latter homes will offer a var ety of floor plans.

President of Hayes Homes is John R. Hayes, head of Midco, Inc., trailer manufacturers at 568 Wilson-rd, and vice-president of the firm is Richard C. Deeg, attorney.

blower-type floor furnace, either gas or oil.

Dimensions of the home, which the builders say is designed for a couple with one child, include a 10x12 foot master bedroom, a 7½ x9½ foot den or child's bedroom, and a 12x12 foot square living room. The home has an abundance of natural light, with two large windows in each bedroom and three windows in the living room. In addition, the rear door opening off the kitchen has a large window to make the room bright.

Two electric outlets are installed in the floors of both bedrooms, which may be finished in any of a number of pastel colors chosen by the purchaser. The living room has three floor outlets conveniently located.

The compact kitchen and dinette is completely equipped and modern in every detail. It is fluorescent lighted and has two table-high electric outlets for

Buckaroos Down Fostoria, 47-38, In Big Second Half

West High's basketballers proved definitely that they can play a fine game away from their own court last Friday evening when they handed the Fostoria Tarriers a 47 to 38 loss on the losers' floor.

The Cowboys won their first contest of the season at Newark and copped their third tilt of the year at Grandview last Tuesday. Their second fray, the one and only loss, was played at West, a defeat at the hands of the Bexley Lions.

The local cagers got off to a slow start last Friday night, but after some beautiful hooks by Paul Theisen, they took a slight edge at the first stanza's end, 13-10. However, it was a different story in the second quarter. They tallied only three baskets while the host five was collecting eight points to trail at the intermission by only a one-point margin.

Coach George Williams' Hilltoppers came out like a house afire after the half break and held a commanding lead of 26-18 midway through the third canto. They kept right on racking up to push the score to 34-27 at the finish of the period

In the final period, the Cowboys scored just two points less than they did in their very well-played third stanza. Fostoria held to only nine points in the third quarter scored two more markers in the fourth frame than they did in the preceding period.

Paul Theisen, West's all-round athlete, walked off with individual scoring honors by hitting the hoop six times from the field and making eight free throws for a 20-point total. Dick Cotter of the host team was second with 12, and Charlie Weeks, recently elected to the Associated Press All-Ohio football team, was third in line with 10 markers.

The Cowboys will play tomorrow night at Aquinas to start off their City League play. The Mt. Vernon Avenue basketballers are yet to win in three outings this season. They lost to their Alumni, 54-42; to Cincinnati Elder, 55-22; and to Springfield Central Catholic, 35-28.

Top scorer on the team is Chuck Schmidt, who has collected 30 points. His biggest night was against the Alumni when he bagged 18 points. He got seven against Cincinnati and five against the Springfield team. Don Outland is second with 20 markers and Bill Dolan is third in line with 13.

So far, the leading scorer with the local cagers is Jim Rudolph with 31 points and Bill Thrush is second with 30: Dick Culbertson has 28 to be third, while Paul Theisen has 24 points and has played in only two games.

The West Reserves didn't make the trip to Fostoria but will have their first league try Friday when they play the Aquinas seconds in the varsity prelim. The top scorer at this time for the West reserves is Ted Fladt with 17 points He had his big night against Bexley reserves when he threw in 11 of those 17 markers. Dave Caton is second in line with his 11 points.

The record for the West seconds stands at one win and two losses. However, Coach Fred Heischman has a much better outlook since he received four players from the varsity recently. They include Paul Thompson, Paul Ellingsworth, George Crissinger and Jim Lang.

Proving once again that scores don't mean a thing was the Reserves dropping a 30-14 decision to the Newark seconds and then handing the Bexley reserves a 24-17 thumping; then when the Newark and Bexley seconds met last Saturday night, the Bexley quintet was the winner, 26-23.

West Jr. Downs Crestview, 25-21, In Season Opener

By Dave Miller

West Junior High School's basketball five copped their 1948-49 season opener on the West court Friday afternoon, Dec. 10, by taking a 25 to 21 overtime victory from Crestview.

The game started out as all Junior High League first pairings do—very slow—and the boys had trouble trying to find the range. Therefore, the local Juniors pulled out to a 4-0 advantage on Jerry Johnson's fielder and Jerry Trabue's tip-in. However, they saw their lead dwindle away when John Weinrech of Crestview sank two field goals and Captain Bob Weinrech hit on a charity toss to give the visitors a 5-4 first stanza lead.

The Broncos then hit for a goal when Jim McGuire scored on a side push shot. This gave them the lead, which again was surpassed by two quick bunnies by Jim Lawyer, Crestview center, and Tim Mong, a North Sider guard. Trabue hit for another goal just before the half ended and the Baby Cowboys were trailing, 9-8, at the intermission.

Coach Red Lehman of the local cagers must have really given his boys a pep-talk at the half, because they came out with considerable more life than they displayed in the first two quarters of battling.

Johnson in a very quick fashion hit on a long shot and an under-the-basket lay-up to give the Hilltoppers a 12-9 advantage. Crestview then proceeded to tie it up on a basket and a charity toss. However, this didn't cool off the locals. Jerry Trabue sank a free throw, and missed his second attempt, only to bat the ball through the hoop for a goal to give West a 15-12 lead. The quarter ended with the Junior Cowboys leading, 16-13.

After Jerry Trabue sank his third free throw of the game, things looked rather hopeless for the Bob Burgett-coached North Enders as the West Juniors were leading, 17-13. However, the North Enders wouldn't give in.

After Jim Needles threw in a hook following Trabue's free toss, John Weinrech tipped to Bob Koch, who tossed in an easy bunny to close the gap to 17-15. However, Johnson then sank a long shot from near mid-court, to give the locals a more comfortable edge.

John Weinrech then sank a beautiful one hand push shot to again close the margin to one basket. With 15 seconds remaining, Bob Weinrech got the ball and dribbled in for an easy lay-up shot, leaving the score knotted at 19-all as the regulation game ended.

In the overtime Jerry Johnson sank a one hand lay up from about the free throw lane to put West ahead, 21-19. However, John Weinrech sank a bunny on a fast break, handoff from Needles.

Jim McGuire, up-and-coming West forward, then sank a two-handed push-shot to put the Juniors ahead with just seconds remaining in the overtime. Doug Clark, center, and tallest man on the West team, then stole the ball at mid-court and dribbled in for an easy two-pointer to account for the final score.

Westmont Bandit Takes $413 In Daring Robbery

A young, well-dressed armed bandit escaped with $413 Sunday night in a daring hold-up in the second-floor office of the Westmont Theater, 2686 W. Broad-st, police reported.

The clever bandit was admitted to the office by the theater cashier, Vera Masdea, 17, of 67 N. Eureka-av, when he knocked on the door while she and the theater's manager, James Yoder, 22, of 1595 Manchester-av, were checking the day's receipts. He accosted the two with a .38-caliber nickelplated revolver and demanded: "Hand over all the money."

When Yoder proffered him the currency and loose change from his desk, the gunman spurned the loose coins and took only the paper money. After inquiring about the burglar alarm system at the Westmont, the bandit slammed the door and apparently fled on foot. Police reported that none of the employes of the Westmont recalled seeing the bandit enter or leave the office.

Burgess Ave. Man Patents Kite Toy

A S. Burgess-av man who wanted to entertain the children in his neighborhood has secured patent rights on the device he invented for that purpose and has recently arranged for the manufacture of his brainchild, which is sure to be as intrigueing to oldsters as to youngsters.

Paul Armbrust, 45, of 805 S. Burgess-av, designed the gadget several years ago to be attached to the strings of kites being flown by youngsters in his community. It consists of a tiny parachute and a miniature airplane which are carried up the kite string to a certain height, where the plane is released to fly to earth and permit the parachute to flutter back down the string.

Armbrust, a foreman for the A. L. Meyer Construction Co., 894 Michigan-av, received his patent on the device this summer and has currently granted manufacturing rights to four concerns.

Yule Parties Out At West; School Adopts Families

By Myron T. Seifert

Many West High students are dispensing with home room Christmas parties this year and are donating what they customarily spend on school yuletide parties to needy individuals.

The Student Council at the Hilltop school has indicated its desire to underwrite the expenses incidental to entertaining and adopting two needy families this Christmas.

An Adopted Family dance will be sponsored Monday, Dec. 20, by the school's student governing body in the gymnasium during the lunch period. Admission will be 10 cents and all proceeds will be given the student council's adopted families. West High's popular dance band will furnish music for the occasion.

The two families adopted by the Council this Christmas, and recommended by the Columbus Citizen were identified by their case numbers, 26 and [redacted].

Members of the student council are made up of a representative from each home room. Home room leaders include Phyllis Ater, Bonnie Barber, Larry Betsch, Herb Carpenter, Clara Cassell, Jim Conlay, Bill Earl, Nellie Evans, Aubrey Fisher, Jack Galloway, Joanne Grisso, Nancy Hardy, Bob Henry, LeRoy Howell, Mary Howell, Dick Lamprecht, Anita Laufhutte, Chuck Leibensperger, Jim Miller, Peggy Morris, Bill Paul, Alice Reed, Marilyn Ring, John Rockwell, Mary Ann Ross, Doris Shauer, Bill South, Paul Starkey, Barbara Taylor, Donna Thomas, Bill VanAtta, Jack West, Willie Evans, Don Nafzger, Joan Deyo, Betty Roederer, Willein Bretz and Ray Bostic.

Across The HILLTOP ALLEYS

By Dick Ardle

PATRIDGE—600, McCOY—607

Due to finals being held at OSU this week, this column will be rather short, but good scores will appear in next week's column.

I couldn't let two of the best women's series to come from the Hilltop alleys this season go to waste.

Frances Patridge, anchor woman on the Hilltop Van and Storage team, on Wednesday night, blasted the maples to the tune of 198, 201, and 201 for a grand 600. Gen Graham, also of Hilltop Van, had the high single game of the evening, a 224.

Dick Ardie

Van made a clean sweep of things as they had the best team efforts of 954 and 2611.

Here's the way they lined up for the evening:

Hilltop Van	1	2	3	T'tal
G. Graham	161	224	164	549
K Kunz	154	171	175	500
M. Adamson	152	175	143	470
M. Beatty	140	174	151	465
F Patridge	198	201	201	600
HC	9	9	9	27
	814	954	843	2614

League standings to date are:

	W	L
Hilltop Van	30	15
West Hill	28	17
Spang	25	20
Cramer's	24	21
Tanner's	24	21
Chubby's	22	23
Ferguson	16	29
Cols. Plastic	11	34

Bessie McCoy, using an alley ball and shoes and rolling as a substitute on the Thursday night Hilltop Van team, topped all women for the week with a fine 607 series, including games of 201, 223 (which was high single for the league) and 183. Bessie, being a sub, had to relinquish high honors to Mary Harrity, who had 519.

This league lines up as follows:

	W	L
Stewart	31	11
Seiller's	30	12
Fox Food	26	16
Warden	25	17
Riviera	23	19
Kirwin's	17	25
Hilltop Van	13	29
Eddie's	3	39

That's all for now. We'll be back next week with more scores, including the ones we missed this time.

BIBLE COMMENT

FOR DEC. 19

World's Hope Lies In True Conception Of Christmas Joy

WHAT does Christmas mean to you?

To many, away from home in school or college or in places of business, it will mean a joyous homecoming, with the traditional bountiful things that homecoming implies. To many it will be the hope of snow and the joys of winter sports. To others it will mean seasonal business and profits in the ever-expanding affair of gifts and greetings. And to some it will be only a pagan festival, with greeting cards of cats and dogs and outdoor scenes, pleasant enough but having little to do with what Christmas actually means.

But to many thousands of Sunday school scholars, and to many other thousands of Bible readers Christmas will mean a turning to the Gospel pages for the age-old ever-new story of the coming of the Christ-child.

There is no real Christmas without Christ. And that is why Christmas will not mean all that it ought to mean in the 20th century. For outwardly the world pays homage to the Christ, and dates its years from His birth. But strife, prejudice, hatred and violence so belie that outward homage, that the cynic might well decry the celebration of Christmas in a world of such darkness and fear.

But it was a dark world into which the Christ-child came. It, too, had its division and strife. The rule of force was dominant, though one great power of Rome had subdued all enemies. It had its housing problem, too, for there was no room in the inn, and the Christ-child was born in a stable.

Here, then, is the real joy of Christmas, and the reality of its celebration in a world dark with shadows and atomic threats.

Here is where our vision, and our faith, and our hope should be in this 20th century Christmas, and not upon the things that deny the Lord, and His teachings.

It is a time in the midst of that denial for great affirmations, for saying to the world, "The Lord is come," and for saying it with joy in life as well as in words. For in all that Christmas means is the world's hope. And it is the world's only hope.

GLENWOOD CAROLING

The young adults of the Glenwood Methodist Church will go caroling at the homes of shut-in members of the church, Sunday evening, Dec. 19. The group is to meet between 6:30 and 6:45 p. m. in the church parlor.

A large cast, members of the church school of Westgate Methodist Church, will present the pageant, "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear", at a Christmas program Sunday evening, Dec. 19, at 7:30. Belford Lane is the director. Santa Claus will visit the children.

Highlights From Glenwood Recreation Center

By Wilma Russell and Patty Lodge

There's quite an air of excitement at Glenwood Park these days for the basketball season has started. Most of the teams are really "on the beam" this year. St. Aloysius lost its first practice game of the season Thursday, Dec. 9, to Immaculate Conception by a score of 37-35. Herman Whel scored 18 points and Billy Nye netted nine for St. Al's. This is a much better start for the school in basketball than they made in football. Dick Koontz is coaching the St. Aloysius team.

All boys and girls interested in joining the Glenwood Press Club are asked to contact Jerry Geroux at the center in the near future.

The Glenwood weekly dances are held every Wednesday and everyone is invited to attend.

Plans are now being made for the Glenwood Christmas party. Pat Matthews has asked for more help with the decorating for the dance—so come on, kids, let's all pitch in and make this our best party of the year. Prizes, games, dancing and an all around good time is promised for all.

We'll be looking for you at the new Glenwood Recreation Center real soon.

Mechanical Art Interests Six West High Girls

By Myron T. Seifert

Practically every occupation and profession is now represented by women — and West High School, in its curricula, makes possible for girls a training which heretofore has been a "man's world".

Yes, the field of mechanical drawing at the Hilltop school is now jointly a bi-partisan, co-operative course, open as an elective to both boys and girls.

At the beginning of the school year, six girls had indicated a desire to compete with boys in Teacher C. S. Kennedy's mechanical drawing classes. These girls are Joretta Kline, Margaret Ringer, Mary Nell Elder, Wilma Faris, Dawn Dennison and Judy Ward.

Dawn Dennison, 16 years of age, 982 S. Richardson-av, said this week that the girls had come through with flying colors thus far—passing the necessary examinations in instrument design, testing, line work and projecting units in the course.

Dawn and Wilma Faris, the latter 16 years of age and living at 236 S. Brinker-av, plan to make layouts soon of rose gardens and outside garden architecture, supplementing their class work.

Wilma has an allied interest in foreign languages, works part time in a department store, and in her leisure, table tennis is tops on her sport parade.

"I'm taking mechanical drawing because it's interesting—and I like very much to draw," reported Margaret "Sis" Ringer, 2648 Elliott-av.

Margert aspires to become a teacher, either mechanical drawing or physical education.

Joretta May Kline, 747 S. Wheatland-av, took the novel ocurse because she "wanted something different to do besides the usual routine of English, history and shorthand."

Joretta expects to make draftsmanship her life's work.

"It will help me with my work in interior decoration when I attend Ohio State," said Mary Nell Elder, 110 S. Southampton-av, now 17 years of age, a senior.

Judy Ward, 31 Haldy-av, 15 years of age, has designs on drafting and architecture following her high school work. Art and English are declared second favorites in her school work; her hobbies include swimming and reading.

Boys, Girls From 4 West Side Schools Asked to Take Part in Legion Contest

Camp Chase Post No. 98, American Legion, has announced rules and regulations for the annual essay contest of the Department of Ohio of American Legion. Boys and girls in the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades at Starling and West Junior High Schools and Holy Family and West Senior High Schools are eligible to enter the contest by writing an essay on the topic, "The American Way — What Is It?"

One boy and one girl winner will be selected from each grade of the four schools mentioned by Jan. 20. Winners at this level Essays submitted by the 18 boys and girls thus chosen will be will be determined by the schools, judged by the three-member Essay Contest Committee of Camp Chase Post. A boy and girl winner for each grade will be selected by this group to be entered in the county competition. Similar eliminations will carry through the county, district and finally the state contest. Three winners will then be named from each of the four grades and will receive all-expense trips to Washington, D. C.

In selecting the winning essays, judges have been advised by the Legion to grade a maximum of 90 per cent for content, including originality, value of thought, sequence of thought, adherence to title and choice of subject matter, and a maximum of 10 per cent for form and style, including choice of language, clarity of expression, sentence structure, paragraphing and grammar.

The essays are to be not more than 600 nor less than 400 words in length. They are to be typewritten or legibly handwritten on one side of 8½x11 paper and to be bound with pins or fasteners. A cover sheet of plain white paper is to be used and on this sheet only is the contestant's name to appear, there only in the lower right hand corner.

Grand prize winers will be announced some time after March 31.

November Game Law Violations Reach New High

Arrests for game law violations for the month of November in Ohio are expected to add up to approximately 1000 when all reports have been filed at Division of Conservation headquarters in Columbus, breaking all previous records for any one month. More than 900 arrests have been recorded to date.

Conservation Commissioner H. A. Rider said today that although the Division of Conservation usually strives for record-breaking accomplishments, "this is one event we are most certainly not proud of. It's indeed a black mark against all hunters, brought on by a few hunters who apparently have little consideration for the other fellow."

Last year's November total reached 575 when a similar number of hunters were in the field. In 1946 when hunting license sales reached 715,000, November arrests totaled 690. This year, it is estimated, approximately 650,000 licenses were sold.

It remains to be seen what effect this year's game law violations have on future game populations in the field.

The Christ-child lay on Mary's lap,
His hair was like a light.
(O weary, weary were the world,
But here is all aright.)

The Christ-child lay on Mary's breast,
His hair was like a star.
(O stern and cunning are the kings,
But here the true hearts are.)

The Christ-child lay on Mary's heart,
His hair was like a fire.
(O weary, weary is the world,
But here the world's desire.)

The Christ-child stood at Mary's knee,
His hair was like a crown,
And all the flowers looked up at Him,
And all the stars looked down.
—G. K. Chesterton.

Much Family Fun In Group Games

"Make it a real family Christmas this year by having Santa pack a few hobby supplies or games into his pack that the whole family can enjoy together." This suggestion comes from E. H. Regnier, a recreation specialist at the University of Illinois.

There are many hobbies that can help build companionship between parents and children. Mothers and daughters like jewelry construction and tapestry weaving. Dad and Junior go in for model-making—airplanes, boats, trains and other items of special interest to the male population.

Everyone enjoys operating a printing press. Small presses turn out newspapers that have a real professional look. Shellcraft and woodburning are hobbies that produce genuinely useful articles. For family fun, rubber-tipped darts, indoor plastic horseshoes and marble games are excellent.

"Christmas is a time of "togetherness," says Regnier. "Let's capitalize on the situation by starting a game or hobby that will encourage the same type of companionship the year around."

Mark Twain: "I came in with Halley's comet in 1835. It is coming again next year and I expect to go out with it. It will be the great disappointment of my life if I don't go out with it. The Almighty has said, no doubt: 'Now here are these unaccountable freaks; they come in together, they must go out together.' Oh I am looking forward to that" . . . Mark Twain died in 1910, the year of the comet's return.

SHOOT STORY

Understanding Always Helps

By ANNETTE VICTORIN

ARDETH HAINES listened as the band played at the Fair. The tune was gay but not for her Frank, her husband, was listening, too, at the other end of the field. They had quarreled. They should have been together, holding hands, not apart nursing anger. Was it her fault if she was thrifty? Why did Frank have to blow up when she hinted at his extravagance? She was only thinking of their future and of the house they dreamed of owning.

That morning she had found him in the garage. "Isn't it a honey now?" Frank had asked pointing to the portable radio on his work bench. "It works like a top since I put in the four new tubes."

"Four new tubes?" Ardeth gasped. "How could you when you know how much I wanted new dishes?" There were angry tears in her eyes.

Frank grabbed the radio and threw it into the corner. She stalked out, hurt and defiant.

Later, when Frank asked: "What about the Fair?" she answered, stubbornly, "I'm going, but I'm going alone." And the way she said it made Frank dash out of the house and slam the door.

3-Minute Fiction

Suddenly there was a fanfare and Mr. Getty, master of ceremonies, announced loudly: "This is the moment you have been waiting for. For weeks we were fine-combing the community for the happiest married couple. Folks, here they are, Mr. and Mrs. James Pratt. Married twenty-five years and happily!" Mr. Pratt was holding his wife's hands and looking down into her face. Mrs. Pratt was beaming. Ardeth looked over at Frank but he was staring straight ahead.

Mr. Getty talked into the mike. "We can all pattern our lives after this happy couple." He showered them with gifts; furniture, groceries and a bond. As Ardeth watched them walk off, she wondered about their recipe for happiness. Twenty-five years! Surely, Mrs. Pratt would be glad to help out a broken-hearted woman!

The next morning was Sunday. Frank ate breakfast in silence and disappeared into the garage. Ardeth walked over to the bus. It wasn't a long ride. She was surprised to find the Pratt's house smothered in bushes and trees. It certainly symbolized happiness. A dream house! She ran up the steps with a lightened heart. She pressed the bell but no one answered. She could hear the radio and knew someone was at home. If they didn't answer the front, perhaps they would the back door. Walking around, she heard loud voices in the basement.

"I'm going, but I'm going alone," she answered.

"Is that so?" yelled Mrs. Pratt. There was a blasting noise and Ardeth heard falling glass. Then another voice. "How in the blazes was I supposed to know you used the pan for that?" More crashes. "My aim is as good as yours," the first voice screamed. "If you crave to throw, I'll throw something, too."

Later on, when Ardeth had been invited in, Mrs. Pratt said: "So you came to me for advice?" She patted Ardeth's shoulder and said: "Perhaps I can give you some at that." She offered Ardeth some home-made cookies. "We're happy. Quarrels don't matter, every normal couple has them. But you can't change a husband. You've got to accept his shortcomings as he must accept yours . . . There isn't any recipe for happiness. But you can overlook many things in life."

When Ardeth got home Frank was still in the garage. She went straight to him. "I'm sorry about the tubes, Frank. I'm an awful tightwad."

Frank's eyes brightened up like sparklers. He reached to a shelf.

"I got you this at the Fair," he said, handing her a huge bow-bedecked box of candy. It looked awfully expensive, but Ardeth remembered about the overlooking part Mrs. Pratt had mentioned, so all she did was to look into Frank's eyes.

Make Boy Happy By Returning His Lost Dog

By Myron T. Seifert

Three-year-old Douglas Aitken from Cleveland was visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cohagen, 175 S. Westmoor-av, a month ago.

His collie-spitz dog, which always accompanied "Doug" wherever he went, came up missing during his visit at the Cohagen home, and Doug, downcast and disappointed, had to return to Cleveland without his constant companion, "Dixie".

"Dixie", now 10 years old wandered away from the Cohagen home on Armistice Day and has not been heard of since.

Publicity of the dog's disappearance in local newspapers failed to produce "Dixie".

A call to the 175 S. Westmoor-av address last week-end by your reporter dispelled rumors that the dog was found.

Anyone knowing of the whereabouts of the dog of this description is asked to call the Cohagens at 175 S. Westmcor-av where a $100 reward is posted for the dog's return. Principally white the dog is marked with black collar or on his head spots on hips, and white tail and feet.

The dog is affectionate, although not too playful, and romps little, Mr. Cohagen advised.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Aitken are former Hilltoppers, having lived on Wilson-rd. H. M. Aitken, Doug's dad, is a 1919 graduate of West High School.

Anyone knowing of Dixie's whereabouts can add immeasurably to Doug's Christmas by assisting in the dog's return.

Page Diogenes! Newsboy Has Xmas Money Back

By Myron T. Seifert

Page Diogenes! West High School senior, Ronnie Burgoon, 192 Haldy-av, is the epitome of school integrity at the Hilltop school.

Come Christmas, and the old Greek philosopher of the Periclean Age who might trek the streets of the Hilltop today, with his tallow lantern, might easily discern the honesty of a boy whose home environment, his church and school taught him that "honesty is the best policy".

By virtue of returning lost money to the rightful owner, Ronnie not only exemplified one of the highest qualities of character, but transformed the spirit of the loser into one of sincere appreciation and thankfulness.

Charles Merrick, 13, of 676 S. Wayne-av, was employed some time ago by Ronnie, a station manager of the Columbus Citizen. Charles had worked and saved his shekels from his newspaper route and planned to buy presents for his family and himself for Christmas.

His savings consisted of a ten dollar bill, two fives and three ones, which he hoped to spend with Hilltop merchants last Wednesday, Dec. 8.

Forgetting that the stores were closed on Wednesdays, Charles returned home rather disappointed; however, he thought he would break one of the bills and buy ice cream at Georgiton's on the Hilltop, whereupon he discovered his "fortune" was gone.

Twenty-three dollars represented a lot of hard work—and now it had vanished. Scouring the neighborhood, and retracing his steps, he spent much of Wednesday night in pursuit of the winged notes of legal tender, but to no avail.

Wednesday night, Burgoon discovered this sum of money on the counter at the sub-station, and immediately made inquiry among his boys. The next day Charles said he had lost a sum of money but didn't think it was lost at the station.

Upon identifying the bills involved, Burgoon believed Charles to be the rightful owner and returned the money. Yes, Diogenes, this is another example of honesty among Hilltop citizens!

Hague-av Woman Collects Pencils, Has 700; Also Collects Other 'Things'

A variation of the more or less common hobby of collecting things is the avocation of Mrs. Mabel Curlis, 300 S. Hague-av, who likes to occupy her spare time by adding to her collections of a number of different things.

Mrs. Curlis started collecting eight years ago. First object of her attention were salt and pepper shakers, and she at one time had managed to accumulate 900 pairs of all sizes, shapes and construction and from every state in the U. S. That collection has been about halved now, principally by inroads on her attention by other collections.

Since that first salt and pepper shaker started her on her avocation, Mrs. Curlis has gathered 200 small pitchers (for cream, etc.); 500 handkerchiefs from the 48 states and Finland, China Luxembourg, Belgium, Hawaii and England; letter openers of different materials and with varied designs in the handles and from all over the world; five scrapbooks full of seals, including tax stamps, ration cards, Christmas stickers, college emblems, automobile stickers from parks and resorts, etc., these also from all over the United States and some foreign countries; and mechanical wooden pencils.

Of special interest is this collection of more than 700 pencils, mostly mechanical. Represented, geographically are the U. S., Finland, New Zealand and Germany. Most unusual pencil of the lot is one from Germany, which, in addition to writing with lead, contains a pen, a set of dice, a cigarette holder and a compass that actually works in the eraser end (it doesn't have an eraser).

Other pencils worthy of note include one of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. which has four miniature tires in a sealed oil container in the body; one that has an automatic multiplication table up to 12 times 12 in the handle; two wooden mementoes of the 1928 presidential election, one with the carved image of Herbert Hoover, the other with the likeness of Al Smith; and pencils with one-piece, four-color leads.

Another hobby with Mrs. Curlis is her scrapbooks of news events and happenings of interest to her and her family, which she has kept for 27 years. She also has more than a passing interest in contests and has entered any number of them and has won prizes "in a few".

An interesting sidelight to her collections and hobbies is her testing of shampoos, candy, fruits, vegetables, soaps, pickles, perfumes, etc., for the Homemakers' Guild of America in Toledo. This concern sends her samples of unlabeled products due to be released by manufacturers and asks her personal opinion of the utility and worth of the product. She has been testing samples and answering questionnaires from the Homemakers' Guild now for more than six years.

Mr. Curlis, who is superintendent of the municipal garage, helps his wife in adding to her collections but does not have the same hobby, although he does get a "kick" out of helping his wife display her exhibitions to the many interested people who call from time to time to see some particular collection. Helping in the collections, too, are their two sons, both of whom are now married and away from home.

Six Feet Under

TWO Englishmen were sitting in adjoining easy chairs in the cloistered quiet of their club.

One looked up from his paper and murmured:

"I say, old man—terribly sorry to hear about your wife."

"Eh? What's that?" asked the other, looking up from his own copy of the paper.

"I said," explained the first, "I was sorry to read that they buried your wife yesterday."

"Yes, of course," said the other, preparing to return to his reading. Then he added as an afterthought: "Had to, you know. Dead."

"Rev. Joe" Packs 'em In Each Sunday In Hilltop's Largest Church

"Reverend Joe" packs 'em in," was the tribute a West High School student paid the present popular pastor of Glenwood Methodist Church, 64 S. Highland-av, alluding to the hundreds of parishioners and visitors who, on Sunday mornings, fill the the Church pews to capacity.

Spiritual leader of Hilltop's largest Protestant church, with a present membership of 3340, he and his church exert a profound influence for good in this community by virtue of its extensive numbers.

Glenwood Church is the largest Methodist Church in Columbus, and second largest in the Ohio Conference.

Beginning a decade of service to the Hilltop church, Rev. Shellhaas carries on the principles of a spiritual institution organized 58 years ago as Glenwood.

Frequently interpolating his sermon with true-to-life humorous anecdotes, he likes to josh with his audience.

He's a "natural" for a preacher —understands mass psychology as well as the religion that he espouses.

With many degrees already attached to his moniker, including an M. A., D. B., S. T. M. and a potential candidate for his Ph. D. in philosophy from Ohio State University, Rev. Shellhaas, now only 53 years old, has all the attributes of a genuine scholar. Incidentally, he has qualified for all the requirements in his Ph. D except his dissertation, upon which he is now working, "The Life and Philosophy of the French Philosopher, Fouillee."

An omniverous reader, he can hold his own with the best of scholars.

Find him in a bookstore, and it will be in the section among the volumes that challenge one's thinking.

His sincere, straightforward way in meeting people gains the confidence of his Hilltop friends, irrespective of denominational label.

Familiar with many of the problems among his 3400 parishioners, Joe Shellhaas, they will tell you, never flinches. During his tenure of nine years at Glenwood, he has personally brought into his fold 1410 new members. He likewise knows the pulse of his membership.

Since conference last May, he has conducted more than 100 marriages, funerals, and baby baptismal rites. Preaching twice every Sunday, he also teaches a Sunday School class. He presents a Bible lecture every Wednesday evening, and conducts a training class for young people from 18 to 30 years of age every Thursday evening.

Former pastorates of Rev. Shellhaas include St. John's, 1922; Elida, 1924; Carey, 1926; Wapakoneta, 1929; Bellefontaine, 1935, and Glenwood, 1939 to present.

He resides in the parsonage, 74 Highland-av, south of the church, with Mrs. Shellhaas; has one son, Glen, an attorney in Bellefontaine, daughter-in-law, and a granddaughter of whom he is very proud.

For diversion — whenever he has leisure—he dotes on routine chores about a farm. Like the souls he mends, he, for example, enjoys mending the fences on the farm he recently owned, near Bellefontaine.

Since selling his Bellefontaine farm, he anticipates buying another one nearer Columbus. (Real estate dealers note —cooperation invited by author—so we think!)

Crimson red is first on his color parade. Please remember, a red cravat for the minister is ever a delightful surprise. (Take note, Paul Leighninger and Jack Merriman, our Seiller way.)

Yes, now we know why "Rev. Joe" packs 'em in.

Courtesy Important When Sending Cards

The exchange of cheerful Christmas cards between friends is one of our most delightful Yuletide customs—and like all other social relationships, it is governed by simple, common-sense rules of etiquette.

You may properly send your holiday greetings to almost everyone—business and professional associates, if you wish, as well as social acquaintances and relatives.

Be sure to choose appropriate cards, however. If Aunt Jennie is a garden enthusiast, she'll probably appreciate a beautiful flower print more than a dozen Santa Claus designs.

Special Titles.

Cards with special titles, such as "Merry Christmas! Mother," are available for mothers, wives, sweethearts and practically all relatives, including the in-laws, and are a mark of individual thoughtfulness.

If you can spare a moment or two, pen a brief holiday note on each card. It adds a warm sincerity and a touch of your individual personality to your Yuletide greetings. Christmas time is a sentimental and nostalgic season for everyone, and many a friendship has been kept alive through the years by the annual exchange of holiday greetings.

Colored ink is entirely proper both for signing the card and addressing the envelope, provided it harmonizes with the color scheme of the card itself.

Signatures need not be formal, except on engraved Christmas cards. You may have your name neatly printed if you wish, or take your pen in hand and sign the greetings yourself with a holiday flourish.

"Mr. and Mrs."

Married couples may omit the "Mr. and Mrs." if they prefer and sign their cards simply "Paul and Jenny Wilson." Either the husband's name or the wife's may appear first. Children in the family rate a place in the signature, too.

In addressing the envelopes, it is best to send one card to a husband and wife, and separate cards to other adult members of the family too. As an alternative, one card may be mailed to the whole family if you are careful to write the names of each individual on the envelope, including the children.

Use three-cent stamps for your Christmas cards, following the rule of good taste which says that first-class friends deserve first-class mail. It is entirely proper to write your return address on the envelope, to help friends keep tab on changes of address.

Selecting attractive Christmas cards for each of your friends is a delightful pre-Christmas activity. Don't treat it as a sober social responsibility. Plunge in with a smile and the gay holiday scenes on the cards will soon fill your heart with Yuletide cheer and sentiment.

GOOD JOB . . . How would you like the job of delivering boxes of mistletoe during the Christmas season? Nice work—if you can get it.

Farm Magic

Out of curiosity a farmer h grown a crop of flax, and had a tablecloth made out of the linen. Sometime later he bragged about it to a woman guest at dinner. "I grew this tablecloth myself."

"Did you really?" she exclaimed "How did you manage it?" It was plain that she had no idea as to how tablecloths come into being.

The farmer lowered his voice, mysteriously. "If you promise to keep the secret, I'll tell you."

The guest promised.

"Well," proceeded the farmer, "I planted a napain."

The story of how St. Nicholas became associated with secret gift-giving, and even today comes covertly at night to leave his presents, is one of the most important in the history of his life.

Once upon a time there was a man with three daughters, all of them wishing to marry, but with no dowry forthcoming. Sorry, indeed, was their plight. Their father had about decided to sell them as slaves, but the good St. Nicholas heard of it, and filling a purse with gold, went quietly by night to their home. Seeing a window open, he threw in the bag of gold and then stole away in the night. This money enabled the eldest daughter to marry. A second and a third time St. Nicholas made the trip and finally all three daughters were married.

After the saint's third trip, the girls' father, who had been watching to see who brought the gifts, ran after St. Nicholas and thanked him for his kindness. St. Nicholas made him promise not to divulge his gift-giving and after that he always deposited his presents so secretly that no one ever saw him. Yet people knew, somehow, that it was he who brought gifts during the night, and so whenever they found a package mysteriously delivered they instantly exclaimed, "St. Nicholas has brought it!"

British Girl, 20, Wife of Hilltop Man, Visits Homeland After 2 Years Here

A promise made to her by her husband three years ago when they were married was realized recently by an attractive British war-bride when she returned to her homeland for a three months' visit.

When Gladys Jones became the wife of Pfc. Clifford I. Carman in a ceremony performed Nov. 20, 1945, in the bride's home town of Worcester, England, the happy GI promised his 17-year-old spouse that he would see to it that she was able to visit her English home from America before her twenty-first birthday. Pfc. Carman's word was good as gold, so Mrs. Carman is even yet pretty much floating in clouds after her Aug. 14 to Nov. 5 excursion across the Atlantic. And her twenty-first birthday is still four months away!

It all started back in the dark war year of 1944. At that time Gladys Jones was making a pointed effort to stay away from "the Americans" because, as she put it, "I didn't want to get involved because I didn't want to leave home." In this regard she pointed out that she was the oldest of five children in her family, and the only girl, which automatically made her almost a necessity in the Jones' household.

This aloof attitude toward Americans changed completely and all at once when she met Pfc. Carman, who was stationed with the Medical Corps in England for 24 months, at a girl friend's birthday party. They were married a year later when Carman went back to England from France on a furlough. The couple was together over there for only three months before Carman was shipped back to the States. His wife followed in June of 1946.

When she came to the United States, this twentieth century pilgrim was naturally impressed by the amount of food and clothing, the automobiles, the telephones and the myriad other every day miracles that native-born Americans are so prone to take for granted. "It's just like a dream world," she enthused "Everybody is so nice, and you can get anything."

It's wasn't long, of course, before homesickness began to set in. For this reason, she took a job as clerk at Seiller's, 2404 W. Broad-st, where she met many more people and became familiar with that favorite American headache—traffic—as typified by W. Broad-st at Wayne, Eureka, Terrace, etc., and points in between and on both sides of. "I used to be afraid to cross Broad-st," she admits now.

Mrs. Carman had become very attached to the "American Way" by last spring when her husband asked her is she'd like to make that visit back home that he'd promised her. So it was that she sailed for England in August aboard the Queen Mary (she returned on the Elizabeth). With her was her daughter, Gladene Louise, who is now 20-months old and "spoiled" by her extensive travel at such an early age.

She found her home in Worcester about as she left it. Her mother, who had been ill for some time, made a rather considerable recovery when she saw her daughter and granddaughter and knew they were getting along well in their new home. When Mrs. Carman told her family of America they were as enthused as she. "They think it's wonderful," she says, "and they want to come over here to live as soon as the housing situation is better. Mother hopes to visit here within two years."

Mrs. Carman was not at all hesitant to praise the food packages sent by Americans to friends and relatives overseas. They not only help, they are almost a necessity even in her country, she says, because the people just "don't get enough to eat."

Mr. Carman had been living with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lambert, 217 N. Chase-av, since his wife had returned to her home. When she came back, both were pleased with their "foster" parents, inasmuch as Mr. Carman's family lives in Pomeroy. Mrs. Carman, although more formal in her manner of expressing it, was nevertheless just as sincere in stating her appreciation for the temporary home when she said "Mr. and Mrs. Lambert are just like a father and mother to me."

At the present time, Mrs. Carman feels as though her "cup runneth over." She and her husband have just completed arrangements for purchasing a home at 1703 Audrey-rd in Linden and will move in this week

"It's a wonderful third anniversary gift, and Thanksgiving and Christmas present," she says. "First that trip home and now a new home. It seems too good to be true."

Mr. Carman is an employe of the H. M. Rubadue Co.

Christmas Spirit Was Evident Last Thursday

One of the finest demonstrations of cooperation in a community was evidenced in the second annual Hilltop Kiwanis Christmas Edition sale last Thursday evening. Nearly 200 men went from house to house to peddle their papers and returned with over three thousand dollars in cash.

It was a real pleasure to call on residents of the community. They were well acquainted with the newspaper sale and many of them had their mony waiting. Nearly everyone had a cheery word.

The community is to be congratulated on this fine spirit!

Flowers Of The Week

We know of no one more deserving of the flowers of the week than that kind-hearted old gent we are all waiting to see on Christmas eve, so we are instructing Leo McComb of Rosebud Floral to be sure that Old Santa himself is the recipient of the posies with our heartiest good wishes for a job we know he will do as only he can do it.

A "Merry Every Day" And "Happy All Year"

At this holiday season we think the following clipping from a trade magazine is most timely:

You know, to most dogs Christmas doesn't mean anything real special. Oh, I suppose it's a time when they might get a few extra cookie crumbs, or a treat of turkey scraps.

No . . . I kinda think Christmas time is just like any other time to most dogs, 'cause they don't measure pleasure by gay wrappings and bright red and green lights. Their "Christmases" come at odd times of the year—whenever someone shows a little real affection and interest. And when they do get a pat on the head or a kind word, they sorta smile all over; you can see it from the ends of their noses to the ends of their tails.

Somehow, I have the idea that people oughta be a little more like dogs, and exchange real friendship (not the tied-in-tinsel kind) all 365 days of every year. Then when a friend gives 'em a "pat on the head they oughta show their appreciation with a good old-fashioned grin that goes all the way down to their hearts.

After all, December 25th isn't the only time we oughta be thinking about getting and giving. The whole world would be a better place to live in if we'd all make a daily swap of real, honest-to-goodness friendship—the kind that gets a wriggling, tail-waggin' sort of response.

Night Before Christmas Notes: Jerry Watson is in Mt. Carmel Hospital following an operation Monday . . . Eddie over at B. & G. Market reports he sold 1500 pounds of ham last week-end from that Record ad . . . That little deer jumping thru Sheskey's window is attracting considerable attention. Mike must have let out a war whoop that scared the animal . . . Don Craig stopped on the Hilltop this past Saturday and advises that he and wife and three youngsters are living outside Springfield . . . Alfred Mace of Clarendon-av left Saturday morn for the West and to attend the Rose Bowl game . . . Bob Sager is the owner of a new Plymouth . . . Miss Sheldon was a Hilltop resident for several years in the 30's residing at the home of the Misses Burnside, 92 N. Powell-av.

RECORD CLOSED FRIDAY

The Hilltop Record will celebrate a three-day Christmas holiday this year, when the office will close Thursday evening and remain closed all day Friday.

Next week's Record will be published on schedule, Thursday, Dec. 30. All normal deadlines will be followed.

Community's Churches Plan Special Christmas Services

Special services commemorating Christmas week have been planned by nearly every church in the Hilltop community for at least one day this week.

Outstanding events to mark this most important day of the year for Christian people everywhere began locally last night when carollers from one of the community's churches went out to serenade shut-ins and will continue today, Thursday, Friday and Christmas Day.

Bethlehem League Carols

Some 20 young people, members of the Luther League at Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Harris-av and Vida-pl, took time from their busy pre-holiday schedule Tuesday evening to carol sick members of the church and to call at the homes of older people and friends of the congregation. The group, under the leadership of Luther League Director Margaret Wilson, left the church at 7:30 p. m. and carolled approximately two hours.

Other special observance of the Christmas season at Bethlehem Lutheran will be at 7:30 o'clock Christmas Eve when a candlelight service will be held in the decorated sanctuary. The Bethlehem Senior Choir, directed by Mrs. Elmer J. Klamfoth, will sing "Jesu Bambino" and the pastor, Rev. E. J. Klamfoth, will speak on "The New Born King."

"Our White Gift"

At a Christmas party and worship at 7:30 p. m. today, Rev. J. F. Lorenz, pastor of Community Christian Church at 107 S. Powell-av, will speak on "Our White Gift" as his Christmas meditation.

The party is for all church families. Appropriate music is planned and devotions will be open to all. Highlight of the evening is to be collection of food and canned goods from those in attendance for packing special Christmas baskets to be given to needy families in this community. Those attending are also asked to bring any extra toys they might have so that youngsters of these underprivileged homes can have a reasonably normal Christmas.

Old-Fashioned Christmas

Sunday School children of Immanuel Baptist Church, 286 Belvidere-av, will have part in presentation of an old-fashioned Christmas program at 7:30 p. m. today, according to the pastor, Rev. W. H. Schoof.

Mrs. L. S. Will will supervise the 100 young people in recitations, singing of appropriate songs, reciting of old poems and similar adjuncts to the old-fashioned Christmas program, to be held in the decorated sanctuary of the church.

Young people of the church also plan to go carolling one day before Christmas.

Msgr. Schwendemann Here

Msgr. Francis Schwendemann will be guest priest for observance of solemn high mass at midnight Christmas Eve in St. Aloysius Church. The 25-voice Senior Choir will sing this mass.

Christmas Day masses at St. Aloysius will be held at 6, 8, 10 and 12 noon, with the Children's Choir, directed by Sister Ann Lucille, singing the 10 o'clock service.

The Senior CYO of St. Aloysius plans to go carolling at 10 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 23, to visit homes of shut-in members of the parish.

"Childe Jesus" at Hilltop

The annual Christmas Eve candlelight service of the Hilltop Evangelical Lutheran Church, Broad-st and Terrace-av, will be held at 11:30 p. m. Friday in the church. The choir, under the direction of Paul Brobst, will present the cantata, "Childe Jesus", by Clokey and Kirk. Rev. Russell J. Olson, pastor, will talk on "God Hath Spoken By His Son".

Hilltop Community to Carol

Mrs. J. L. Dean will accompany the young people of Hilltop Community Church, 179 N. Huron-av, when they go carolling at the homes of shut-ins and friends of the church on Christmas Eve. Ten or 12 of the younger members of the congregation are expected to take part in this annual event.

Children's Program at Concordia

A. L. Whitt, principal of the Sunday School, will have charge of the children's Christmas program at the Concordia Lutheran Church, 45 S. Brinker-av, at 7:30 o'clock Christmas Eve. The young people will present musical selections and recitations from the Scriptures in the specially-decorated sanctuary.

At 10:30 a. m. Christmas Day, the pastor, Rev. W. H. Werling, will deliver a meditation on "Christ the Saviour Is Born".

Music At St. Paul's

The 14-voice Senior Choir of St. Paul's Evangelical Congregational Church, 34 S. Warren-av, will present a special program of Christmas music at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 26. Donna Holmes, organist, will accompany the group in this Christmas offering.

Tryouts For Variety Show Begin Jan. 3

By Myron T. Seifert

Preparations for the 10th annual West High Band Variety Show, to be presented Apr. 28 and 29, will begin immediately following the Christmas vacation, Charles W. Bennett, director, announced last week. Beginning Jan. 3, try-outs for the traditional extravaganza will be held at West High School.

Twenty acts will comprise each evening's entertainment and all musical acts will have dance band accompaniment. Theme of the show this year will be a "circus", and all acts and music will accentuate this novel idea.

Applications for try-outs may be secured in either West Senior or Junior High office. Time for judging the act will be outside of each student's class period. "Ability and smoothness of the act will be the final determining factors in selection," Mr. Bennett said.

Acts desired include singers, dancers, comedians, emcees and novelties of any kind.

250 Yule Trees To Be Given To Needy Families

Some two hundred and fifty families on the Hilltop and in other sections of Columbus are going to have real Christmas trees in their homes come Saturday morning, thanks to the warm-hearted generosity of a Hilltop business-lady.

Mrs. Francis Boehm, owner of Mike's Carry-Out, corner of Sullivant and Whitethorne-avs, will give away 250 Christmas trees between 7 and 9:30 o'clock Thursday evening to needy families who would otherwise be denied the joy and spirit that a tree can bring to a home at Christmastime. The trees are in the yard adjoining the Carry-Out.

Mrs. Boehm is the mother of Val Boehm, basketball coach at Aquinas High School from 1941 through 1947.

TWO ARE CONTEST WINNERS

Mrs. George W. Matson, 32 Orel-av, was the first prize winner in the Columbus Citizen's Fall Prize Recipe Contest. She will receive a Magic Chef gas range as her prize.

Mrs. Etta S. Senter, 446 Nashoba-av, won third prize in the contest, which was a Westinghouse electric roaster.

Among the judges for the affair was Jeanne Montgomery, 2729 W. Broad-st.

Eagles Hold Party

Aguila Aerie, 2209, FOE, held its annual Christmas party for members, their families and friends, at the lodge social rooms, 2358 W. Broad-st, Sunday.

The "Star Dusters" provided music for the all-children floor show. Frank Richards was MC.

Refreshments were served to more than 250 persons.

LOCAL TEACHER INJURED

Eva Wright, secretarial and commercial teacher at West High School, fell on the ice Monday morning at her Granville, O., home, and suffered a broken hip. School officials said that she was taken to Newark Hospital, and that she would not return to her teaching duties before next semester.

Highland Ave. Pupils Give Yule Pageant

Students in the upper three grades at Highland Avenue School presented a Christmas Pageant presented at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 6, in Motter Hall at Glenwood Methodist Church.

The youngsters had parts in several scenes dealing with the nativity. Music was furnished by the glee club directed by Mrs Josephine Clark. The Rev. A. J. Wold, pastor of the Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church, delivered the Christmas message.

West Smothers Aquinas, 57-40; Theisen Nets 20

By Dave Miller

West's basketball quintet started its City League campaign last Friday evening with a decisive 57 to 40 victory over the cagers of Aquinas High School on the losers' court.

The Cowboys were never behind once in the fray from the time Dick Culbertson sank a longie shortly after the contest started. Paul Theisen then connected on two layups, Charlie Weeks made a free throw and Theisen again hit from the floor on a hook to make it 9-0 before the Terriers scored. Then Chuck Schmidt, Aquinas' ace forward, sank a field goal and Don Outland converted two free tosses to close the gap to 9-4.

Following this, Theisen made good on three charity tosses and Jim Rudolph sank one to make the score at the end of the first period in the visitors' favor, 13-4.

Chuck Schmidt was the big gun for Aquinas in the second period. He tallied thrice from the field and hit twice on charity tosses to give him an eight-point total at the halftime but was held scoreless in the entire second half.

The score at halftime was in the Cowboys' favor, 29-17, and this 12-point margin was widened considerably early in the third quarter. Theisen, Weeks, Culbertson and Adams all dented the scorebook this period, Weeks, especially, giving Aquinas a hard-way-to-go as he netted nine markers in the third canto.

At the point when the Cowboys were getting the hottest Coach George Williams put Fred Adams and LeRoy Hood at forwards, Culbertson at center, and Bill Thrush and Charlie Frasher at guards. This will be the team which must carry the load after mid-season when the locals lose the services of two standout players, Theisen and Weeks, due to graduation.

This combination got off to a slow start early in the fourth quarter, but at one time held a 51-30 lead after the regulars had ended the third period in West's favor, 48-23.

Mid-way in the final frame, Williams sent in another squad, Larry Frazier and Jack Winnestaffer at forwards, Bob Tewell at center, and Bob Epps and Jack Gammon at guards. This team did little scoring with only one of the quintet denting the scoring column. The Irish outscored the Cowboys in the final quarter, 17-9, with Don Outland, who topped the Terriers in scoring with 13 points, getting nine of his markers in that period.

Paul Theisen, who played only three quarters of the ball game, walked off with scoring honors by getting 20 points. He now leads the West squad in scoring with 44 points and he has played only nine quarters this season.

Over the holidays, the Cowboys will visit Chillicothe on Dec. 30. The latter team recently dropped a 56-48 verdict to Columbus North.

Marine Vet Unit Seeks Furniture For Club Rooms

Roscoe Reinhart, 332 N. Burgess-av, is co-chairman of a committee responsible for obtaining furnishings for new club rooms of the Columbus Detachment of the Marine Corps League, recently leased at 38 E. Goodale-st.

Persons having any type of furniture they are willing to donate to this organization are asked to call Mr. Reinhart at RA. 8304 or his associate, Arden Dodrill at WA. 7230. Chairs of any kind, especially auditorium-style folding chairs, are wanted.

The detachment which holds meetings in Memorial Hall to the present time, plans to hold its first meeting in the new quarters at 8 p. m. Thursday, Jan. 13. At that meeting, plans will be formulated for the organization of a ladies' auxiliary to the unit. All marines and former marines are invited to attend.

The Columbus Detachment of the Marine Corps League, with Herbert C. Follmer as commandant, consists mainly of students, young business men and locally-stationed marines.

Terrace Ave. Home Damaged By Fire

Damage estimated by firemen at approximately $2000 was caused Monday, Dec. 13, by a fire of undetermined origin which broke out on the back porch of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Bates, 642 S. Terrace-av, and spread quickly to the kitchen and breakfast room of the house.

Contents of the two rooms were destroyed and furniture, carpeting and walls in the adjoining dining room were damaged extensively. The fire also caused damage of approximately $50 to the home of B. E. Williams, 648 S. Terrace-av, due to scorched paint on the side of the house.

Twelfth Annual 'Hilltop Baby Derby' Will Be Run In Community Jan. 1

The twelfth annual Hilltop Baby Derby, and the biggest and richest ever from the standpoint of prizes to be offered by Hilltop merchants, will be held this season through the cooperation of The Hilltop Record and more than a score of public-spirited business men in this community.

The "Baby Derby," in case you hadn't heard, is the annual "first of the year" sweepstakes in which the first baby born to any Hilltop couple after the stroke of midnight Dec. 31, starts out life in this age of big jackpots and giveaway radio programs with (if you'll pardon the expression) "a bang."

Just to refresh your memory, last year's first arrival was the baby daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Finneran, of 211 S. Eureka-av. That little lady, who weighed-in at six pounds, 10 ounces, was the owner of some $200 worth of gifts before she'd even had time to take a real deep breath.

The baby, born at 11:50 a. m., Jan.1, in Mt. Carmel Hospital received, among countless other things, a baby scale (so she could watch her diet), a dozen diapers, a free ride home in an ambulance and a complete lubrication and oil change (that could probably just as well be a present for her parents' automobile as for her).

Be sure to watch next week's Record for complete rules pertinent to entering the "Baby Derby." At that time also a complete list of gifts for the derby winner, which will probably be worth close to $250 this year, will be published.

Sale of Kiwanis Christmas Edition Nets Club $3045.85

With only scattered reports of collections still out, officers and members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club Monday proclaimed the success of the second annual sale of the Christmas Edition of The Hilltop Record.

Jack Sensenbrenner, chairman of the newspaper planning committee and president-elect of the Hilltop Kiwanis for 1949, said that as of Monday noon, net profit from sale of the paper and advertising published in it was $3045.85, larger than the total revenue from last year's pioneer issue.

The net profit was broken down further to show that $255.53 was obtained from advertising and $2790.32 from the sale of the 10,000 copies of the charity edition that were distributed Thursday evening, Dec. 16. Of the $2790 figure, $1100 was in paper money, $380 was in half-dollars, $580 was in quarters, $210 was in dimes, $88 was in nickels, and $30.50 was contributed in pennies.

At the auction which followed the "kick-off" dinner in the cafeteria at West High School, Jack Shank, local realtor, auctioned off several copies of the charity paper. The first copy was sold to O. H. Craft, real estate dealer at 2861 W. Broad-st, who was high bidder at $52.50. The second paper was sold to the Jones Lumber & Coal Co., 57 N. Sylvan-av, for $40. Third and fourth copies went to the real estate firm of Shank & Saunders, 2450 W. Broad-st, and The Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st, for $50 each. Several other papers were auctioned off for lesser amounts.

At the conclusion of the yearly drive for funds for the numerous worthwhile projects of the Hilltop Kiwanis, Sensenbrenner expressed his appreciation to the many workers and helpers who gave of their time and effort to make the campaign a success and to the many individual buyers whose contributions will make possible fulfillment of the program for proper care for Hilltop youth during the coming year.

Previously announced plans for expenditure of the funds include establishment of better recreational facilities in underprivileged areas; sponsorship and maintenance of units of the Sea and Air Boy Scouts; providing of one to three weeks in summer camp for deserving boys and girls; continuance of scholarships at West High School for the boy and girl who merit them; and music lessons for needy and deserving children.

Community Council Yule Party Tuesday

The Hilltop Community Council will hold its Christmas party this year at the Hilltop YMCA, 2585 W. Broad-st, Tuesday, Dec. 28, at 2 p. m. The annual party is for children of elementary school age. Mrs. Ray Cave is in charge of the affair.

Programs will be presented by elementary schools on the Hilltop, with the following participating: John Burroughs School with Mrs. H. C. Boothe, 319 S. Roys-av, in charge; West Mound Street School, Mrs. Harold Beard, 635 Woodbury-av; Highland Avenue School, Mrs. Roy Hastilow, 197 Midland-av, and Mrs. Russell Drake, 213 Belvidere-av; West Broad Street School, Matilda Stuart, 40 S. Terrace-av, and Mrs. Earl Abram, 100 N. Huron-av.

Name Weeks For AP All-Ohio Post

Honored last week by selection on the Associated Press' All-Ohio football team, Charles "Chuck" Weeks, 165 N. Hague-av, senior at West High, modestly asserts that others were just as deserving, "but I got the breaks, I guess."

The Hilltop school was the only Columbus High school to have representation on the AP All-Ohio roster. Selection of fast-rangy Weeks to the position of tackle over players from all the high schools in the state is a signal honor. Jack Thrush, of last year's team, made the AP honor eleven.

Local journalist and cartoonist Walter Bichman of the Columbus Dispatch said, "It takes some high schools years to get a boy on the AP All-Ohio, but West did it in Weeks . . . Chuck Weeks, that is."

Chuck plans ultimately to become a dental surgeon. Following his graduation in January, he plans to hibernate down Florida way until next fall, when he'll probably return to Columbus to matriculate at Ohio State in October. Many collegiate offers have come his way—some quite lucrative—but he still thinks he'll enroll at OSU.

Future plans call for a continuation of his athletic career. Now 18 years of age, six feet two and over the 200 pound mark, Weeks' athletic career on the Hilltop has been one of unusual interest.

Chuck credits a former teacher, Forest Raider of West Broad Street School for stimulating and encouraging him in athletics. Raider was a physical education instructor at the West Broad Street School and made many suggestions during Weeks' elementary education for improving his athletic abilities.

Junior High School days, where no football program was established, found him active in baseball and basketball where he met with much success.

Chuck learned to "tackle" football problems on various Hilltop sand lots with unorganized scrub teams, during those junior high days.

Senior High gave him his opportunity to star in practically all major sports. Left tackle on the football team during his entire residence at West under head football Coach Mas Pemberton, Weeks was immersed in the fundamentals of football which make him an outstanding tackle.

Coach George Williams produced a star basketball forward for three years in the person of Chuck Weeks; also under the tutelage of Coach Williams, he became an outstanding baseball player, position that of pitcher for a period of two years. Coach Ruff Glass groomed him to a shot-put spot in various track meets.

Records include baseball All-City team in his third year, basketball All-City in his second year, football All-City second and third year All Greater Columbus football second and third year in addition to his AP berth, and honorable mention on the All-State team in his second year.

Chuck's scholastic record is better than a three point average and he ranks 30th in his class.

Remington With OSU Cage Squad In Colorado

Jim Remington, 123 N. Ogden-av, a sophomore at Ohio State University, was named to the travelling squad of the Buckeye basketball team Tuesday, Dec. 16, by William H. Dye, coach of the quintet.

The team departed Friday morning for a four-game swing of schools in the Far West during the Christmas holidays, highlighted by games with the University of California at Berkeley Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Other games scheduled for the tour included Saturday's contest with Oklahoma University, won by the Oklahomans in an overtime, 64-55, and a fray with Colorado at Denver, Dec. 27. The squad returns home Dec. 30.

Jim expects to visit his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Remington (Jack is a student at Colorado A & M), of Fort Collins, Colo., at the game in Denver.

Remington is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Remington. He was discharged from the army in August this year after 18 months service.

Christmas Pageant At Hilltop Church

The Christmas pageant, "The Inn", written by Russell Olson, pastor of the Hilltop Evangelical Lutheran Church, will be presented at 8 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 26, in the church auditorium. Mrs. Francis Harvey is directing this pageant, which will use unusual lighting and stage effects.

The pastor will speak on "The Adoption of Sons" at worship services at 8 and 10:30 a. m. Sunday.

Novel Christmas Tree Base Pride Of Local Family

By Myron T. Seifert

Most unusual and spectacular in appearance are superlatives that well describe the beautiful Christmas tree at the Harry S. Sunker home, 423 Townsend-av. Folks from every part of the city come to view the sparkling and uniquely-anchored tree at the Sunker household.

Of unusual interest is the base in which the tree is placed. It was made by Mr. Sunker 17 years ago of plaster of Paris. It is a representative of a mountain, showing many realistic contours, including rivers, bridges and streams. Dimension of the mammoth hillock is six feet by four feet at floor level. Miniature churches, Santa, his sled and reindeer are spotted on the model, along with other Christmas objects. The base is painted green, with white snow capping the top.

The tree, when decorated by Mr. Sunker, is a joy to behold. It requires two nights, involving about 11 hours of work, to trim it right, Mr. Sunker says. An additional five hours are needed to spot his colored bulbs in the special wiring made for this purpose. Ornaments, some of which are very old, are placed to best advantage with the largest ones, hand-made and blown in variegated colors, at the bottom of the tree.

A china doll, given Sunker when he was only two years of age, is always given a preferential spot. Red and silver strands of rope add an artistic touch by giving the tree depth, Sunker avers. Finally, the spangled tinsel which adorns every good looking tree must be sprinkled lightly and neatly.

John Keats, the English author, must have been thinking of a Christmas tree when he said, "A thing of beauty is a joy forever," for certainly Mr. Sunker's tree is just that.

Everett Wins In Big Fourth Canto

By Dave Miller

West Junior's basketball forces dropped their initial game of the City Junior High Basketball League campaign this past Friday afternoon by bowing to Everett, 40 to 36.

The local cagers held a slim three-point lead, 11-8, at the end of the first quarter, but a long shot by forward Jimmy Brandt of Everett gave the visitors a 21-20 lead shortly before the intermission.

Jerry Trabue sank two hooks and Dick Hutchison sank a duo of free throws to give the Broncos a 26-21 lead in the third frame. Then Kenny Anderson sank a long shot from mid-court before Everett finally scored their first marker of the second half, a hook by forward Don Smith, current scoring leader of the Junior High loop.

Hutchison sank another free toss and Jerry Trabue connected for another fielder while Everett was tallying five markers to make the score at the third period's end in favor of West Junior, 31-28.

The local cagers bogged down in the final quarter at the same time the forward and captain of the Everett five, Don Smith, was scoring all but two of Everett's 12 points. Smith sank three straight hooks and Frank Bear, Everett pivot man, sank a layup to give the North Siders commanding lead of 36-31 midway in the fourth quarter. Then Jerry Trabue fouled out and the Juniors really felt the loss.

Smith made good on a side push and Everett was two more to the good. Hutchinson then made good on a basket and a free throw and Ken Anderson sank a longie to close the gap to only a basket. However, Smith sewed things up with an under-the-basket layup as the gun sounded.

The loss was the first of the season for the locals in the City High Basketball League. They won their opener last week from Crestview, 25-21, in an overtime.

Don Smith, who topped the scorers in the Everett-West game, leads the Junior High loop in scoring with 38 points in just two frays. He tallied 20 points in Everett's opener last week against Roosevelt. Jerry Trabue tops the West scorers and is third best in the league with 23 markers. He tallied 14 against Everett and nine against Crestview.

On Jan. 7 the locals will play their third straight home fray, against Indianola, victorious in its opener last week against Roosevelt, 39-18.

CIVIC ASSN. HEARING

The Wilson Heights Civic Association, formed three years ago for the purpose of bringing city water to the locality, will have a hearing on this subject at the court house, Dec. 28, at 10 a. m. The group hopes to have several hundred representatives from the community present.

If your wife really loves you, you can get her to do anything she wants to do.

McTAVISH SAYS

I like the bare-boughed sycamore tree, symbol of beauty unadorned. There Jesus and Zaccahaeus met. No man by Him was ever scorned. The Son of Man spoke to a sinner, even invited Himself to dinner. Humble Zacchaeus ate with his Lord . . . They met beneath the sycamore tree, symbol of simplicity.

West High Clubs Have Numerous Holiday Parties With All Trimmings

By Myron T. Seifert

Clubs at West High School have been holding numerous pre-holiday parties. Thursday, Dec. 9, the stage crew "decked the halls with holly" and proceeded to entertain jolly old Santa Claus when he arrived with an abundance of toys for the stage crew, all of whom had been good boys in the past year.

Mrs. Evelyn Hall, adviser for the stage group, was also royally entertained at the Christmas party. Dick Lamprecht, social chairman, was in charge of the event.

Photo-Play membership committee, consisting of Eleanor Lane, Barbara Loechles, Naynat Binkley, Shirley Campbell, Shirley Mielke and Roger Horn, planned a colorful party in red and green color scheme Friday, Dec. 17, at 3:30. Games, singing, music dancing and juke box music comprised the late afternoon entertainment; prizes were awarded students for winning many interesting contests.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake and candy canes completed the scenario lovers' round o' Christmas entertainment. Mrs. Delane Kittell is adviser for the group.

The French Club Christmas program, held Tuesday, Dec. 14, at the Hilltop school, comprised the following: The Christmas story in French by Wilma Faris, "Noel pour l'Amoir de Marie"; French Christmas music, "Dan les ombres de la Nuit" was sung by Barbara Pindell, Marilyn Gauggell, Dawn Dennison, Jean Huston, and accompanied by Nancy Shepard.

A play, "French Christmas Customs", was given by Shirley Mielke, Pat Barnett, Kathleen Evans Joan Connelly, Janet Roller, Marie Jones, Barbara Hill and Lois Neff. Lois Neff sang the song "Cantique de Noel", and was accompanied by Shirley Mielke Lois Neff was also chairman of the committee.

The Spanish Club, "Fertulia", met in the school apartment on Thursday, Dec. 16, at 8 a. m. for a "Fertulia". As the members sat at tables talking in Spanish, Jeanine Dickrandesher promenaded among the tables playing Christmas and Spanish songs on her accordion.

While the members had hot chocolate and cookies, they listened to Spanish records.

The "Fertulia" closed with the group singing "Noche de Paz". Clara James, Alice Reed, Charlotte Bowen and Kathleen Evans were on the refreshment committee.

In January the club plans to welcome all prospective Spanish Club members to a dancing class of Spanish dances.

The Student Council held a dance in the gymnasium the sixth period Monday, Dec. 20, in order to raise money for needy families this Christmas. The dance band played.

These families are published in the Citizen and each registration room contributed money for a family in place of exchanging gifts.

Don Naizger was chairman of the dance committee.

Student Council has purchased outdoor lights for the tree in the school court and also purchased and decorated the tree in the lobby. They held their Christmas party the third period Wednesday, Dec. 22.

Phyllis Ater was chairman of the Adopt-A-Family committee, with Alice Reed, Mary Howell, Mary Ann Miller, Barbara Taylor, Joan Deyo, Betty Roederer and Mary Ann Ross assisting.

The Triangle Club's Christmas party on Dec. 28, 8 p. m., will be held at Jack Apel's home, 41 Powhatan-av. On the committee for entertainment are Ed Alford, Dick Lehmkuhl, Tom Holcomb and Jack Apel.

West Geometry Students Make Yule Decorations

By Myron T. Seifert

Students in Pauline Sparrow's math classes at West High School wish all a geometrical Merry Christmas, judging from the timely projects students have been making in her classes the past week. Her classroom is a veritable Christmas paradise with many hands contributing their share in adding atmosphere to an otherwise drab classroom.

The students in geometry turn artist and architect in conceiving planning and designing colorful patterns that bedeck the walls, blackboard and even the windows that present a Gothic appearance through the artificially made stained windows.

A wide variety of designs is found throughout the room, and students are given extra credit in grades for demonstrating Christmas ideas learned from mathematics.

Polygons with 20 sides, highly decorative, are attractive and interesting; a Jewish star with six points, superimposed on the window panes is outstanding; picture angles of Bethlehem, the star and the nativity are delineated on a representation of stained glass; silver stars and a host of other objects add glitter and sparkle to the niche.

Designs and ornaments of every description are made for the Christmas tree at homes of the students.

Friendly rivalry among the group is keen, and Miss Sparrow says that much latent talent has been unearthed during the past week. Miss Sparrow says the work will be rated and judged this morning (Dec. 22.)

Police Capture 2 McKinley-av Men

Raymond L. Grambo, 29, of 1875 McKinley-av, and Jack D. Fleming, 24, at 2182 McKinley-av, the two "bantam bandits" sought for more than a week in connection with a possible kidnapping charge and the armed robbery of a Bexley physician and his wife, were taken into custody by the police on Thursday and Sunday of last week.

Grambo was captured Thursday when police surprised him while visiting at the trailer-home of William Hudson, 20, of 129 N. Souder-av. Fleming surrendered to police Sunday at Union Depot when he returned to the city from Cincinnati.

The pair had been sought by police to answer a kidnapping charge filed by Mrs. Anna Garrison, 1873 McKinley-av, who said the men had taken her daughter, Eva, 14, and a neighbor, Lena Charles, 16, of 1874 McKinley-av, to Dayton and Cincinnati Dec. 4. The armed robbery charge was filed by Dr. and Mrs. George M. Curtis, 311 N. Drexel-av, who told police they were robbed of $200 several days earlier by gunmen answering the description of Grambo and Fleming.

Ohio Bell Will Sing Carols Fri.

The practice of singing Christmas Carols in the lobby of The Ohio Bell Telephone Company's headquarters building in Cleveland will "come of age" this Christmas as employees of the company gather for the 21st consecutive year.

The program will be broadcast over a statewide radio network of 27 stations from 11:30 a. m. to 12 noon Dec. 24, and three stations will carry transcriptions at later hours during the day.

The broadcast can be heard by tuning in radio stations WELD, WHKC, WRFD, and WVKD at 11:30 p. m. according to G. E. Nesley, commercial manager for the Ohio Bell Company.

"Listeners here are cordially invited to tune at this time and join with Ohio Bell employees all over the state in reflecting the Christmas spirit through carol singing."

Hilltop Couple Hurt As Car Hits Pole

Col. George M. Ward, 55, and his wife, Mrs. Lottie M. Ward, 57, of 685 S. Roys-av, were reported in fair condition in Mt. Carmel Hospital Monday with injuries suffered Sunday evening when the convertible automobile in which they were riding skidded out of control in the 100-block of E. Weber-rd and struck a utility pole.

Col. Ward, former city safety director and now executive secretary of the board of trustees of the proposed War Veterans Memorial Building, suffered possible internal injuries, a laceration of the left knee and a bruise on the forehead. Mrs. Ward suffered multiple lacerations of the face, laceration of the right knee and bruises of the chest. Police reported that both were taken to the hospital by emergency squadmen.

Will You Help Save A Life?

A medical history and blood pressure of a donor are taken by a registered nurse at the Columbus Red Cross Regional Blood Center, 30 E. Have You New Neighbors? 1 Of 5 Hilltoppers New Here Since 1940

Hilltop residents and business men have learned that almost one person in every five making his home in this community today did not live here in 1940!

The percentage of population increase on the Hilltop since the official 1940 census is 18.6 per cent, considerably greater than the the 13.5 per cent increase for the entire city in the same period, according to a report published last week by the research department of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce.

Population on the Hilltop is estimated by the department to have increased from 33,403 in 1940 to 39,602 at the present. This is the third largest increase for any area in the city, being exceeded only by the rapid growth of the considerably smaller Linden and Clintonville sections.

The population of the entire West Side increased in the period covered from 56,532 to 68,045, a percentage rise of 16.8. The West Side exclusive of the Hilltop community increased by only 314 persons, from 23,129 to 23,443, which is an increase of only 1.3 per cent.

Population of corporate Columbus was set at 347,350 as of Aug. 31 while Metropolitan Columbus was estimated to have a total population of 460,200 on Jan. 1 by Sales Management, a national research group. The Chamber of Commerce research department reported between 95,000 and 96,000 occupied dwellings in the city, an increase of 12,083 new or reconditioned units over the 1940 figure.

Chamber officials stated that the figures for Columbus, based on a survey of housing permits, is "conservative" because of the inability to compute accurately the number of families "doubling up."

Hilltopper Meets Woolworth Bandit

Mrs. Betty Seip, 24, of 205 N. Ogden-av, was one of four clerks working in the second floor office of the F. W. Woolworth Co., 105 N. High-st, when an armed bandit called and robbed the safe there of $4600 at about 5:30 p. m. Monday.

Mrs. Seip opened the door when she heard a knock and was shoved aside by a "neatly dressed" man who drew a nickel-plated .38-caliber revolver from his pocket. He handed her a note reading: "This is a holdup. Put all that money in a bag and be quick about it, or die." Police said three other girls were in the office at the time, Mrs. Etta Wheeler, 20, of 134 S. Davis-av; Miss Hode Ann Powell, 20, of 694 E. Third-av, and Ann Shirtzinger, 17, of 491 E. Dunedin-rd.

One of the girls went to the open safe and scooped about $4600 into a small leather bag and handed it to the gunman. He then asked about a burglar alarm system in the building and when he was told there was none, walked down the stairs and mingled with the crowd in the street.

A bandit answering the same description had robbed the W. Spring-st branch office of Western Union Telegraph Co. of $100 earlier in the day.

Hilltoppers recalled that a "well-dressed bandit" carrying a .38-caliber nickel-plated revolver entered the second-floor office of the Westmont Theater, 2686 W. Broad-st, Sunday evening and escaped with $413. He too inquired about a burglar alarm system before leaving.

Not For Sale . . .

We find much to admire in Lloyd C. Douglas for what he has done about his new novel, "The Big Fisherman," another Biblical tale, this one centering around the Apostle Peter. Our admiration does not go to him as a great literary artist. For that certainly he is not. But he is a sincere writer who has delighted millons of readers.

When he negotiated for the publication of "The Big Fisherman," he ruled out book clubs, movies, radio broadcasts, condensations and serialization because, as he said, "I just don't want anybody fussing and fumbling with it." By taking that extraordinary stand he will reduce his revenue from the book by about $300,000, which we submit is a tidy sum of money. But as a result of the phenomenal success of another story of his on a Biblical theme, called "The Robe," Mr. Douglas finds himself in circumstances which can at least be described as "comfortable."

Evidently it is worth a couple of hundred thousand dollars to him not to have to bother with the percentage guys who are doing so much to put all creative effort on a purely commercial basis and who thereby are doing so much to corrupt the public taste. For that reason we find something heartening in the integrity of a rare individual like Lloyd Douglas who can afford to tell these fellows to go jump in the lake.

His decision to let "The Big Fisherman" go it on its own must be unique in these days where the tie-up governs all.

But $300,000. Great Pete!—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Students at West High School now have their own book club—and get class credit for participating in its activities.

Its purpose is to inspire young people to read and own a large number of worthwhile books.

The club is carried on as a part of a business English class and is directed by Teacher Delane Schindler Kittel. Student leaders of the new group are Marilyn Vagnier, Jack Pickens and Bill Brenner

Each book, a pocket size edition, costs 25 cents and is ordered and distributed by the class secretary. A bonus book is given to every student who buys four books. Students, with Mrs. Kittel's advice, make their own selections of readings.

Cheese Biscuits

About one-third cup of grated sharp cheddar cheese may be added to a biscuit recipe calling for two cups of flour. Just cut the cheese, along with the fat, into the flour with a pastry blender or two knives. Serve the cheese biscuits hot with a fruit salad plate for afternoon tea.

Scientists claim there is no life on the moon. Maybe moonshine has something to do with it.

From The Record Files

10 Years Ago Today

Prying open a screen, robbers entered the bakery window of the Hauntz Food Market, Broadst and Powell-av, last week and broke into a cash register. They escaped with approximately $30 after failing to gain access to a "burglar-proof" safe in which almost $400 was kept.

Charles L. Kent, 323 S. Terrace-av, proprietor of Kent's Modern Market, 2756 Sullivant-av, was elected to head the Hilltop Business Men's Association for 1939, as a result of the election held Tuesday night.

Samuel Wesley Six, 72, the Hilltop's oldest grocer in the point of age and service, laid aside his white apron this week to devote his time to "taking things easy."

Camp Chase Post 98, of the American Legion and its auxiliary, will honor Ray F. McVey, 435 S. Warren-av, immediate past commander, and Mrs. W. E. Wilson, 70 S. Douglas-st, immediate past president, at a dinner-dance tomorrow night.

5 Years Ago Today

Joseph M. Briggs, insurance and real estate agent with offices at 2596 Sullivant-av, was elected president of the Hilltop Business Men's Association at the monthly meeting of the group last Tuesday.

The first organized group to donate to the projected Service Center was the Co. 2-C, Platoon 1, of the Auxiliary Police at the meeting Monday night.

Joseph Ryan, 173 S. Demorest-rd, was elected chairman of the Westgate Victory Garden Project at the meeting held last Sunday.

Jack Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Simmons, 243 S. Warren-av, has been promoted to the rank of captain in the U. S. Marine Corps.

John Hardy, 462 N. Hague-av, was elected president of the Jaeger Mixer Club of the Jeager Machine Co. last Friday night.

Manual Arts Students Give Santa 'Assist'

By Myron T. Seifert

Santa Claus' workshop is now in high gear, judging from the multitude of activities on the agenda at West High School.

The industrial art shops in particular are humming as all energy is devoted to meeting the Dec. 25 deadline, when the fruits of the boys' efforts will be appreciated by some individual who will receive the hand-manufactured products as a gift.

Homes on the Hilltop will be well-marked if the number and quality of the attractive lawn markers made by the 7B boys under the direction of Instructor Jack Schuster is any indication. Twenty-one boys are busy designing, cutting-out, building and refinishing the numerical signs which will add much to the front yards of Hilltop homes.

Eighth and ninth grade boys are engaged in some additional projects. Hammered metal trays, in the arts and crafts class are being made by William Cattlet, Larry Frey, Bill Moore and Bob Johnson.

Various types of tables, some miniatures for "sis", others to complete the household furnishings, are objects of the hands of Robert Dickson, Richard Neff, Robert Owen, William Cattlet, Bill Sanderson and Gilbert Suttle.

More advanced classes in the wood department with Teachers H. G. Trout, Clarence Bateman and Arthur Miller have launched many practical projects. Products and their makers follow: drawing boards, Ernest Higgenbotham and Clare Ashton; telephone stand, Jack Bowen; night stand, Joe Gossett; wall shelves, Paul Lyons, Dan Miller and Robin Crispin; nightstand, Bill Killien; rebuilding drill press, Wally Tucker; screw jack, Jerry Smith; hammer, Paul Koons; grinder, Roland Taylor; ball bearing, Bob Johnson.

Cub Scouts Pack Yule Boxes

The Cub Scouts of Den 2, Pack 86, spent last Thursday afternoon packing boxes of cookies, candies and popcorn balls (which they made) for the patients at the Columbus State Hospital. Into these parcels went hand-made leather articles also made by the Cubs.

Each man's gift will contain a leather billfold and the boys made little change purses for the women.

This is the same Cub group which saved its pennies to buy comic books for Donald Jhensen, 420 S. Terrace-av, one of its members, who was hospitalized due to polio.

The boys also packed a Christmas box for Mrs. Alice Dilsavor, formerly of 149 S. Westgate, who is now at the Sun Ridge Rest Home. They delivered this parcel last Friday at the same time the gifts were dispersed at the state institution.

Three honor boys were chosen by the den mother, Mrs. Charles Meddles, 507 Binns-blvd, to deliver the presents to the hospital. They were Scott Pence, Phillip Christ and Fred Martin. These boys had the best all-round record for the group during the past year.

Ticklers

By George

The Cubs presented a needy family with a basket at Thanksgiving time, and have prepared another similar basket for Christmas to give a local man (with a family) who is ill.

The materials for the gifts and baskets were purchased with funds saved during the year, from the Cubs' sale of stationery, and saving of tax stamps. The fellows do all their baking and cooking at the home of their den mother.

Members of the Cub group are Scott Pence, 486 S. Huron-av; Robert Kern, 3118 Wicklow-rd; John Fisher, 507 Binns-blvd; Robert Edwards, 662 Chestershire-rd; Gary Glass, N. Burgess-av; Michael Ranney, 61 S. Hague-av; Robert De Witt, 660 S. Hague-av; Michael Newlon, 370 S. Warren-av; Fred Martin, 397 S. Warren-av; James Wilson, 2859 Sullivant-av; Robert Courtney, 674 Binns-blvd; Roger Holstein, 708 Chestershire-rd; Richard Vadakin, 1109 W. Rich-st; Walter Renner, 280 N. Burgess-av; Phillip Christ, 450 S. Westgate-av, and the den chief, Bernard Ranney, 61 S. Hague-av.

Mascots of the den are Billy Kern, 3118 Wicklow-rd, and Michael Christ, 450 S. Westgate-av, who "string all the popcorn," said Mrs. Meddles.

Christmas Prayer

ALMIGHTY GOD—the birth of Whose Son we celebrate—vouchsafe to us here below understanding, courage and humility.

MAKE us conscious of our sins;
give us light that we may tread the path that leads to Thee and Thy Kingdom on Earth.

ENDOW in us the penitent spirit for our man-made suffering that has enveloped the world;
give us strength in the shadows.

REACH out Your boundless, forgiving spirit to all mankind, conscious, as we are, of sins of omission and commission.

RESTORE unto us the faith of our fathers in fullest measure; may the inn of our minds
be not closed to Thee.

YEARNINGS for peace, cessation of turmoil, strife, bitterness and greed—may they all be satisfied as Thou would wish.

CREATE within us the clean heart; allow us to possess
the gentleness that comes from the Lord our God.

HAVE compassion as we strive for tolerance and brotherhood; guide our steps in a world torn with bickering and strife.

RECEIVE our penitence for shortcomings; consider our pleas for guidance;
help us walk, O Lord,
the straight and narrow way.

INSTALL within us, Father, an understanding of this joyous day of the Nativity—and its meaning to us, Thy children.

SHOW us the futility of groping along paths of ungodly ways; lead us toward Thy Kingdom of Peace.

TAKE us unto Thy bosom; comfort us in our supplication that our hearts and spirit may be cleansed of doubts.

MAKE us, O God, we pray,
as little children—serene in thought, pure in heart and steadfast in the Lord.

ALL this we ask in the name of Jesus,
Who came down to earth to save us all from sin and offer life everlasting.

SOOTHE the tormented world,
we pray at Christmastide;
make us men of good will and return peace to all the earth.

Math Students At West Study Late

By Myron T. Seifert

Maybe your son or daughter, who is a student at West High School, has been arriving home later than usual the past several weeks, and maybe you have been told why—in the event he or she is enrolled in a mathematics class at West.

Three mathematics teachers, Harry Zulauf, Cyrus Sedgwick and Mrs. Margaret Henry, decided that many of their students needed extra instruction in that field of knowledge and proceeded to organize a special after-school class on Monday, Wednesday and Friday for that purpose.

The import of the work, said one instructor, is not to penalize the student for his failure to get the work in his regular class, but it gives any student an opportunity to get additional instruction in mathematics, if and when the student needs it.

Rumor has it that students enrolled in the new work are becoming mathematical wizards.

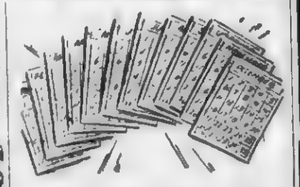
Rabbit Shooting Season Closes 4 P. M. Saturday

Ohio cottontails able to outsmart meat-hungry nimrods since Nov. 15 will have earned a new lease on life at 4 p. m., Dec. 18, when the 1948 rabbit hunt ends. But for most rabbits it's like jumping out of the frying pan into the fire for although they may have managed to survive a 46-day hunting season they will be faced with a new menace, old man winter.



Ohio wildlife each year finds the winter time a little harder to endure because of a scarcity of cover and food but the Division of Conservation field men as usual will be providing shelters and food when the going gets rough, especially in those areas set aside as game refuges where game concentrates even during the hunting season. Farmers often leave a patch of standing corn or other grain, sometimes intentionally and sometimes unintentionally, and wild game will somehow usually find it.

A Woman's World? 14 Chefs From West's Cooking Classes Not Sure

By Myron T. Seifert

Cooking, especially at the Christmas season is a "tasty" and popular course among West High students.

Boys who have enrolled in the culinary department at the Hilltop school are "out in front" when it comes to preparing food, teachers there say. And the budding chefs don't object to the menial tasks incidental to becoming experts in the field of cooking!

They, like the girls enrolled in the course, do many 'kitchen chores. They sweep the floors, wash and dry kitchen utensils, wash out the dish towels, scour the sink and utensils when needed, return the kitchen implements to their respective compartments, and perform a host of other duties.

Rumor has it that the boys are proficient in the art already and that West coeds are keeping an alert eye on the boys and their culinary achievements.

Boys who have matriculated in the domestic course include Durward Vincent, Russell Shonting, Raymond Sass, Jerry Imes, John Smalley, Allen Hopkins, Jack Willie, Bill Sanderson, Ronnie Guyton, Walter Meredith, James Martin, Robert Todd, Bill Hill and Bill Cochran.

78 On Starling Jr. Honor Roll

Seventy-eight boys and girls were on Starling's Honor Roll this time. This means that they had all A's and B's and not more than one C.

There were three pupils who had an all A grade card. They were Shirley Carr, Robert Kerwood, and Janet LeVally.

Those who had A's and B's were Vera Adams, Donna Beavers, Betty Boggs, Kenneth Calendine, Joyce Castleman Charlotte Davy, Miriam Demos, Martha Dickson, Phyllis Dunn, Ralph Edsell, Tom Ellison, Richard Farrell, Joan Fisher, June Grigsby, Gail Grubb, Jack Hansher, Wilma Headley, Phillip Hock, Joyce Jones, Judith Kaiser, Sylvia Lusignolo, Richard McAninch, Phyllis Martin, Shirley Merritt, Sallie Moore, Nancy Munk, Evelyn Neil, Edna Parsley, Richard Phillips, Carol Roby, Doris Saunders, Robert Southworth, Barbara Squeo, Sue Stutsbery, Katherine Thomas, Bernice Turner, Mary Vance, and Betty Wheaton.

The rest of the honor students who had A's, B's, and One C were Betty Alexander, Bonnie Allis, Evelyn Bartleson, Barbara Biddle Barbara Blake, Yvonne Brewer, Charlene Cordell, Barbara Daily, Doris DeWeese, Madeline Eben, Wayne Feen, Jack Fleming, Richard Fleming, Barbara Fulks, Margie Grover, Delores Gomez, Joyce Hackney, Clarence Hoodlet, Norman James, Mary Iler, June Leftwich, Arlene Myers, Shirley Pusecker, Dwight Reynolds, Lynette Ripley, Ronald Schoemer, Adeline Schwartz, Connie Sonners, Norman Sparks, Mary Stacky, Joan Stamper, Jacqueline Stumbo, Dorothy Swiss, Joan Watson, Phyliss Wenger, Ina Wilson, and Selma Wolfe.

A Woman's World? 14 Chefs From West's Cooking Classes Not Sure

By Myron T. Seifert

Cooking, especially at the Christmas season is a "tasty" and popular course among West High students.

Boys who have enrolled in the culinary department at the Hill-top school are "out in front" when it comes to preparing food, teachers there say. And the budding chefs don't object to the menial tasks incidental to becoming experts in the field of cooking!

They, like the girls enrolled in the course, do many kitchen chores. They sweep the floors, wash and dry kitchen utensils, wash out the dish towels, scour the sink and utensils when needed, return the kitchen implements to their respective compartments, and perform a host of other duties.

Rumor has it that the boys are proficient in the art already and that West coeds are keeping an alert eye on the boys and their culinary achievements.

Boys who have matriculated in the domestic course include Durward Vincent, Russell Shonting, Raymond Sass, Jerry Imes, John Smalley, Allen Hopkins, Jack Willie, Bill Sanderson, Ronnie Guyton, Walter Meredith, James Martin, Robert Todd, Bill Hill and Bill Cochran.

78 On Starling Jr. Honor Roll

Seventy-eight boys and girls were on Starling's Honor Roll this time. This means that they had all A's and B's and not more than one C.

There were three pupils who had an all A grade card. They were Shirley Carr, Robert Kerwood, and Janet LeVally.

Those who had A's and B's were Vera Adams, Donna Beavers, Betty Boggs, Kenneth Calendine, Joyce Castleman Charlotte Davy, Miriam Demos, Martha Dickson, Phyllis Dunn, Ralph Edsell, Tom Ellison, Richard Farrell, Joan Fisher, June Grigsby, Gail Grubb, Jack Hansher, Wilma Headley, Phillip Hock, Joyce Jones, Judith Kaiser, Sylvia Lusignolo, Richard McAninch, Phyllis Martin, Shirley Merritt, Sallie Moore, Nancy Munk, Evelyn Neil, Edna Parsley, Richard Phillips, Carol Roby, Doris Saunders, Robert Southworth, Barbara Squeo, Sue Stotsbery, Katherine Thomas, Bernice Turner, Mary Vance, and Betty Wheaton.

The rest of the honor students who had A's, B's, and One C were

CHRISTMAS NIGHT

Christmas night, and snowflakes,
Shops along the street,
We stopped for tea at Sherry's;
Stomped snow packs from our feet.
You ordered wine and bon bons,
I said that I'd have tea,
You kissed my ear, and sniffed the scent
That you once bought for me.
We purchased gorgeous flowers and then
Some holly for the house.
Remember when I caught you buying me
A pink-nosed mouse?
Oh, it's all so vivid,
Swing tunes, bright and new,
Blue candles in the windows
Along Fifth Avenue.
But all of this has vanished
And slipped from us to go,
To stardust, simply leaving
Dream prints against the snow.
Betty Jane Balch, in her book
TO YOU, DARLING.

ONCE HALLOWED NIGHT

In olden times, the shepherds scanned the skies;
Gazed at the stars and knew the night was good.
Though they were humble men,
their hearts were wise;
The simple ways of life they understood.

Their flocks slept quietly upon the hill,
Where moonbeams spread
white silver on the grass;
All was serene; the very leaves were still;
One might have heard the sombre shadows pass.

Oh, shepherds, it is well you are not here;
The skies are scarred with thundering wings of steel.
The silent, friendly stars which seemed so near
Are lost to view, where once you used to kneel.
Sleep on, good shepherds,
sleep beneath the light
Of ancient stars and a
once-hallowed Night.

189 Dutch Children To Have Happy Christmas As Result Of Efforts Of Few Hilltop People

By Libby Downing

The "spirit of Christmas" has again enveloped the Hilltop. But this year, local residents have found that there is a new meaning for the Christmas spirit. For this year the Hilltop is in a position to bring happiness to 688 persons, not just at Christmas time but all year through, and the only cost is that which a letter or package being sent to a resident of Ritthem, Holland, would demand.

Already a letter of gratification has been received from the Burgomaster (mayor) of the village, thanking the Hilltop for the helping hand which it has offered to lend to the little Dutch town which this locality hopes to adopt.

Last week three West High students, Anita Stout, 90 N. Wayne-av, Sally Kendall, 172 S. Roys-av, and Ann Cockfield, 489 S. Harris-av, put their heads together and collected enough small gifts to insure each Ritthem child, up to the age of 15, of at least one present. They did not work alone. The trio enlisted the aid of friends, neighbors and the senior members of the "adopt Ritthem committee".

However, in less than one week's time they had not only gathered up enough presents for all the 189 Dutch children, but had wrapped them in bright Christmas paper, tied with crisp red and green ribbons, and had packaged them for shipment through the mails to Ritthem. Several dozen extra gifts were sent along also, for the older children.

(The young people of the Hilltop haven't forgotten America in their enthusiasm to help the needy of Europe. While wrapping packages for Ritthem, the girls and their friends also prepared a host of other gifts which Radio Station WBNS has agreed to deliver to needy Columbus children on Christmas morning.)

C. Carlton Hartley, acting chairman of the local Ritthem adoption committee, recently received a letter from Charles L. Todd, executive secretary of Operation Democracy, Inc., in New York City. Mr. Todd wrote the letter from Geneva, Switzerland, and asked that the typing be excused as he was traveling by train at the time. He had just visited Ritthem.

The correspondence read in part:

"I can't tell you how happy I was recently, during my visit to the little Dutch town of Ritthem, to find a letter from your Columbus Committee addressed to Burgomaster Danielse. Mrs. J. C. Bowser had written to me in New York telling of your plans for affiliation with Ritthem, but reading about it in the burgomaster's office made it doubly exciting. I can assure you, from personal experience, that your action has made a great impression on the people of Ritthem, and that it is appreciated throughout all Holland.

"Walcheren Island, from Flushing to West Kapelle, is a grim and saddening experience. As you

A Woman's World? 14 Chefs From West's Cooking Classes Not Sure

By Myron T. [illegible]

Cooking, especially at the Christmas season is a "tasty" and popular course among West High students.

Boys who have enrolled in the culinary department at the Hilltop school are "out in front" when it comes to preparing food, teachers there say. And the budding chefs don't object to the menial tasks incidental to becoming experts in the field of cooking!

They, like the girls enrolled in the course, do many kitchen chores. They sweep the floors, wash and dry kitchen utensils, wash out the dish towels, scour the sink and utensils when needed, return the kitchen implements to their respective compartments, and perform a host of other duties.

Rumor has it that the boys are proficient in the art already and that West coeds are keeping an alert eye on the boys and their culinary achievements.

Boys who have matriculated in the domestic course include Durward Vincent, Russell Shonting, Raymond Sass, Jerry Imes, John Smalley, Allen Hopkins, Jack Willie, Bill Sanderson, Ronnie Guyton, Walter Meredith, James Martin, Robert Todd, Bill Hill and Bill Cochran.

78 On Starling Jr. Honor Roll

Seventy-eight boys and girls were on Starling's Honor Roll this time. This means that they had all A's and B's and not more than one C.

There were three pupils who had an all A grade card. They were Shirley Carr, Robert Kerwood, and Janet LeVally.

Those who had A's and B's were Vera Adams, Donna Beavers, Betty Boggs, Kenneth Calendine, Joyce Castleman Charlotte Davy, Miriam Demos, Martha Dickson, Phyllis Dunn, Ralph Edsell, Tom Ellison, Richard Farrell, Joan Fisher, June Grigsby, Gail Grubb, Jack Hansher, Wilma Headley, Phillip Hock, Joyce Jones, Judith Kaiser, Sylvia Lusignolo, Richard McAninch, Phyllis Martin, Shirley Merritt, Sallie Moore, Nancy Munk, Evelyn Neil, Edna Parsley, Richard Phillips, Carol Roby, Doris Saunders, Robert Southworth, Barbara Squeo, Sue Stotsbery, Katherine Thomas, Bernice Turner, Mary Vance, and Betty Wheaton.

The rest of the honor students who had A's, B's, and One C were

Dutch Children—

know, it was necessary to flood the island to a depth of six feet to drive the Germans out after the British landing at West Kapelle. Therefore, nothing in the town of Ritthem was spared. There was some bomb and artillery damage, but most of it is solely the result of the entire village having stood under water for so many months.

"Ritthem, like other Dutch towns, needs the following items especially: working clothes, wool underwear, sheets, pillow-cases, wool stockings, etc. There is no further need for food, soap, or sugar products. School supplies for the children would be very helpful: sewing kits, colored crayons, copy books, pencils, etc. Also sports equipment, such as soccer balls, gym equipment, etc.

"As I left Ritthem, I handed my last package of life savers to a little Dutch boy. The look on his face convinced me that, despite the return of candy to Holland, the kids would always appreciate things like that—for the wrappers as well as the candy. Actually, the mere fact that these things are "obtainable" now in Holland doesn't really mean much. In a town like Ritthem, even the best are miserably poor. They have largely rebuilt their houses in the space of two years. But one has to remember that they lost everything. On top of the physical damage was the great terror they lived through for so long, and the final heart-breaking evacuation.

"All around Ritthem are enormous German pill-boxes. The expense of dynamiting and removing these is far too great for the village to bear. Thus, they have become grim playgrounds for Ritthem children. All over Walcheren the war is very near. The beaches at nearby Vlissingen are still lined with barbed wire and tank-traps. There are still live mines in the sand-dunes. Despite this, I have found, nowhere in Europe such determination to make life over again.

"There is immense curiosity about America, but you must remember always that we are regarded as the inhabitants of an unbelievable land. Columbus, Ohio, is a dream-city of fabulous proportions somewhere out among the Indians and cowboys. If you can let them know that you are real people, just as interested in peace as the folks in Ritthem, it will be a great contribution. Holland is more insular than ever now, for no one can afford to travel even into nearby Belgium. Currency restrictions have taken care of that. But with patience and understanding, you can tell them a great deal—and also learn from them."

In addition to this correspondence from Europe, Mrs. J. G. Bowser, 35 N. Hague-av, received a letter from Burgomaster Danielse.

A part of the Dutch mayor's letter read:

"I beg to acknowledge receipt of a letter of Nov. 8, and I have spoken to Mr. Todd about the things mentioned. I kindly request you to be willing to transmit a salutation to the burgomaster of the capital Columbus.

"People are highly pleased here with the splendid plan, projected by you to help the inhabitants of our formerly so beautiful village. I have the pleasure of enclosing to hand you a few pictures of our

A Woman's World? 14 Chefs From West's Cooking Classes Not Sure

By Myren T. Seifert

Cooking, especially at the Christmas season is a "tasty" and popular course among West High students.

Boys who have enrolled in the culinary department at the Hilltop school are "out in front" when it comes to preparing food, teachers there say. And the budding chefs don't object to the menial tasks incidental to becoming experts in the field of cooking!

They, like the girls enrolled in the course, do many kitchen chores. They sweep the floors, wash and dry kitchen utensils, wash out the dish towels, scour the sink and utensils when needed, return the kitchen implements to their respective compartments, and perform a host of other duties.

Rumor has it that the boys are proficient in the art already and that West coeds are keeping an alert eye on the boys and their culinary achievements.

Boys who have matriculated in the domestic course include Durward Vincent, Russell Shonting, Raymond Sass, Jerry Imes, John Smalley, Allen Hopkins, Jack Willie, Bill Sanderson, Ronnie Guyton, Walter Meredith, James Martin, Robert Todd, Bill Hill and Bill Cochran.

78 On Starling Jr. Honor Roll

Seventy-eight boys and girls were on Starling's Honor Roll this time. This means that they had all A's and B's and not more than one C.

There were three pupils who had an all A grade card. They were Shirley Carr, Robert Kerwood, and Janet LeVally.

Those who had A's and B's were Vera Adams, Donna Beavers, Betty Boggs, Kenneth Calendine, Joyce Castleman Charlotte Davy, Miriam Demos, Martha Dickson, Phyllis Dunn, Ralph Edsell, Tom Ellison, Richard Farrell, Joan Fisher, June Grigsby, Gail Grubb, Jack Hansher, Wilma Headley, Phillip Hock, Joyce Jones, Judith Kaiser, Sylvia Lusignolo, Richard McAninch, Phyllis Martin, Shirley Merritt, Sallie Moore, Nancy Munk, Evelyn Neil, Edna Parsley, Richard Phillips, Carol Roby, Doris Saunders, Robert Southworth, Barbara Squeo, Sue Stotsbery, Katherine Thomas, Bernice Turner, Mary Vance, and Betty Wheaton.

"It is a matter of common knowledge that there is friendship between America and Holland. Our ancestors were established in the 17th century in the east of the Hudson department. In 1846 a great number of Dutchmen established themselves in America.

"I wish to express to you the gratitude of the people of these community for your to be undertaken relief and assistance to our inhabitants during the period after the hostile occupation.

"Your admirable and effective cooperation in lending a helping hand to the population of our municipality and your loyalty to the cause of the liberality have earned for you both our respect and our grateful recognition.

St. Mary Magdalene "Turkey Party" To Be This Evening

The first annual "turkey party" will be held at St. Mary Magdalene Church, corner of S. Roys-av and Parkside-dr, Dec. 22, at 8:30 p. m.

The turkeys will average about 15 pounds each, in weight.

Proceeds from the party will be applied upon the new altar and communion rail in the new church.

Two Visitors At This Yule - Tide

There are two mysterious visitors that go abroad in our land during this season of the year. You know that Santa Claus is one of them. But have you ever given much thought to that other visitor?

That's the one garbed in black instead of red and white—the one that sneaks into our homes and haunts our streets and highways —bringing tragedy instead of joy, death and injury instead of gifts and good will.

That visitor is ACCIDENT! And Accident really has a field day during the Christmas and New Year's holidays. The Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, therefore, asks you to be WARY as well as merry.

Don't be reckless or thoughtless in your driving or walking, in your home celebrating or your regular home activities. A little extra care may mean a lot of extra cheer. Don't let death take your holiday!

500 Hilltoppers Honor West Musicians At Christmas Party

By Myron T. Reifert

Five hundred Hilltoppers attended the annual West High Christmas party, held at the Powell-st school, Wednesday, Dec. 15.

Band parents were host to the Christmas revelers, including the senior high marching band, junior high marching band, school orchestra, dance band and school officials. Many gifts were showered upon Charles Bennett, retiring director of instrumental music at West, who lives at 239 Belvidere-av.

A dinner service of two silver butter knives was presented to the Bennetts by the Band Parents Club, and a beautiful sweater was given to his daughter, Karen Jo. Students in the various musical organizations supplemented their elders' gifts to Mr. Bennett with a photo-flood lamp and a tri-pod for his camera.

Many guests played bingo in the cafeteria.

A gift exchange was held with a huge lighted Christmas tree adding atmosphere to the party.

Two mammoth cakes, representing the junior and senior high, and 60 home-made regular-size cakes donated by the Band Parents for the occasion were the principal refreshment served with ice cream, candy, punch and coffee completing the menu.

Committee heads who helped make the party a success were Mrs. Paul Nippert, 263 S. Roys-av, in charge of decorations; Earl Cline, Sr., 2984 Crescent-dr, heading the entertainment group; and Mrs. James Camp, 188 S. Terrace-av, chairman of the program.

A Woman's World? 14 Chefs From West's Cooking Classes Not Sure

By Myron T. Seifert

Cooking, especially at the Christmas season is a "tasty" and popular course among West High students.

Boys who have enrolled in the culinary department at the Hilltop school are "out in front" when it comes to preparing food, teachers there say. And the budding chefs don't object to the menial tasks incidental to becoming experts in the field of cooking!

They, like the girls enrolled in the course, do many 'kitchen chores. They sweep the floors, wash and dry kitchen utensils, wash out the dish towels, scour the sink and utensils when needed, return the kitchen implements to their respective compartments, and perform a host of other duties.

Rumor has it that the boys are proficient in the art already and that West coeds are keeping an alert eye on the boys and their culinary achievements.

Boys who have matriculated in the domestic course include Durward Vincent, Russell Shonting, Raymond Sass, Jerry Imes, John Smalley, Allen Hopkins, Jack Willie, Bill Sanderson, Ronnie Guyton, Walter Meredith, James Martin, Robert Todd, Bill Hill and Bill Cochran.

78 On Starling Jr. Honor Roll

Seventy-eight boys and girls were on Starling's Honor Roll this time. This means that they had all A's and B's and not more than one C.

There were three pupils who had an all A grade card. They were Shirley Carr, Robert Kerwood, and Janet LeVally.

Those who had A's and B's were Vera Adams, Donna Beavers, Betty Boggs, Kenneth Calentine, Joyce Castleman Charlotte Davy, Miriam Demos, Martha Dickson, Phyllis Dunn, Ralph Edsell, Tom Ellison, Richard Farrell, Joan Fisher, June Grigsby, Gail Grubb, Jack Hansher, Wilma Headley, Phillip Hock, Joyce Jones, Judith Kaiser, Sylvia Lusignolo, Richard McAninch, Phyllis Martin, Shirley Merritt, Sallie Moore, Nancy Munk, Evelyn Neil, Edna Parsley, Richard Phillips, Carol Roby, Doris Saunders, Robert Southworth, Barbara Squeo, Sue Stotsbery, Katherine Thomas, Bernice Turner, Mary Vance, and Betty Wheaton.

A Woman's World? 14 Chefs From West's Cooking Classes Not Sure

By Myron T. Seifert

Cooking, especially at the Christmas season is a "tasty" and popular course among West High students.

Boys who have enrolled in the culinary department at the Hilltop school are "out in front" when it comes to preparing food, teachers there say. And the budding chefs don't object to the menial tasks incidental to becoming experts in the field of cooking!

They, like the girls enrolled in the course, do many kitchen chores. They sweep the floors, wash and dry kitchen utensils, wash out the dish towels, scour the sink and utensils when needed, return the kitchen implements to their respective compartments, and perform a host of other duties.

Rumor has it that the boys are proficient in the art already and that West coeds are keeping an alert eye on the boys and their culinary achievements.

Boys who have matriculated in the domestic course include Durward Vincent, Russell Shonting, Raymond Sass, Jerry Imes, John Smalley, Allen Hopkins, Jack Willie, Bill Sanderson, Ronnie Guyton, Walter Meredith, James Martin, Robert Todd, Bill Hill Bill Cochran.

78 On Starling Jr. Honor Roll

Seventy-eight boys and girls were on Starling's Honor Roll this time. This means that they had all A's and B's and not more than one C.

There were three pupils who had an all A grade card. They were Shirley Carr, Robert Kerwood, and Janet LeVally.

A Woman's World? 14 Chefs From West's Cooking Classes Not Sure

By Myron T. Seifert

Cooking, especially at the Christmas season is a "tasty" and popular course among West High students.

Boys who have enrolled in the culinary department at the Hilltop school are "out in front" when it comes to preparing food, teachers there say. And the budding chefs don't object to the menial tasks incidental to becoming experts in the field of cooking!

They, like the girls enrolled in the course, do many kitchen chores. They sweep the floors, wash and dry kitchen utensils, wash out the dish towels, scour the sink and utensils when needed, return the kitchen implements to their respective compartments, and perform a host of other duties.

Rumor has it that the boys are proficient in the art already and that West coeds are keeping an alert eye on the boys and their culinary achievements.

Boys who have matriculated in the domestic course include Durward Vincent, Russell Shonting, Raymond Sass, Jerry Imes, John Smalley, Allen Hopkins, Jack Willie, Bill Sanderson, Ronnie Guyton, Walter Meredith, James Martin, Robert Todd, Bill Hill — Bill Cochran.

There were three pupils who had an all A grade card. They were Shirley Carr, Robert Kerwood, and Janet LeVally.

'Twas the Night Before Christmas

. . . a bitter cold, dark and fearsome night at Valley Forge. No Santa Claus, no Christmas tree, no holly in the window . . . only grim determination in the hearts of Washington and his soldiers.

Determination to hand down to you and your children the freedoms that make America great.

But today our cherished tradition of liberty is being threatened . . . in a quickly shrinking world . . . where un-American isms and ideologies are insidiously spreading their gospel of slavery.

What should you do about it? Think about the steadfast men at Valley Forge who refused to knuckle under to despotic tyranny. Then act . . . and prove to the not-so-free peoples of the world that democracy works, here in America.

Yes, you can protect our freedom by being a citizen . . . a full-time citizen . . . an American who accepts the duties and responsibilities of citizenship along with its blessings . . . a citizen who does all the things listed at the right.

If you, and all Americans, do these simple but important things, you'll be fighting for freedom . . . you'll be protecting the precious freedom that we all want and have to have.

WHAT TO DO ABOUT IT

FIND OUT ELECTION ISSUES. Attend local political gatherings. Hear both sides. Ask questions. KNOW the issues.

VOTE INTELLIGENTLY. No election is unimportant. Vote in all of them . . . according to your conscience. It's your government.

SERVE GLADLY ON JURIES. If you haven't served before, you'll be surprised to find how interesting and important it is.

JOIN LOCAL CIVIC GROUPS. Parent-Teachers' Association or School Board, if opportunity permits. Good education is vital.

VOTE IN UNION ELECTIONS AND STOCKHOLDERS' MEETINGS. Take part in the decisions that affect your life. Don't let someone else do it.

A Woman's World? 14 Chefs From West's Cooking Classes Not Sure

By Myron T. Seifert

Cooking, especially at the Christmas season is a "tasty" and popular course among West High students.

Boys who have enrolled in the culinary department at the Hilltop school are "out in front" when it comes to preparing food, teachers there say. And the budding chefs don't object to the menial tasks incidental to becoming experts in the field of cooking!

They, like the girls enrolled in the course, do many kitchen chores. They sweep the floors, wash and dry kitchen utensils, wash out the dish towels, scour the sink and utensils when needed, return the kitchen implements to their respective compartments, and perform a host of other duties.

Rumor has it that the boys are proficient in the art already and that West coeds are keeping an alert eye on the boys and their culinary achievements.

Birthday Meditations

By Deaver H. Smoot, Pres. Hilltop Ministerial Association

The Junior High youth department was worshipping on Christmas Sunday and had just finished the last verse of the Christmas carol, "O Little Town of Bethlehem".

"O Holy Child of Bethlehem, descend on us, we pray, cast out our sin, and enter in; be born in us today . . .". The Sunday School teacher asked the boys and girls to bow their heads and meditate upon the meaning of the birthday of Jesus for them. The teacher directed their silent thoughts by asking, "What can I give Christ on His birthday?"

Then followed prayers of thanfulness to God for His Son, Christ. They prayer that this Christmas season might be lived unselfishly.

The stage was set, and it was natural to talk about God's birthday gift, so Mary quoted John 3:16, "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoscever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

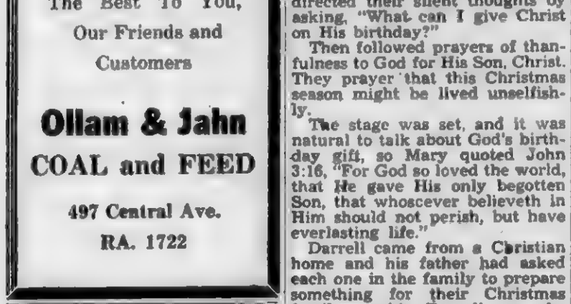
Darrell came from a Christian home and his father had asked each one in the family to prepare something for their Christmas family worship. Darrell was asked to find the best scripture. He decided to read Luke 2. He felt that the service that morning would not be complete without reading the Christmas story. As Darrell read the scripture, a new meaning of Christmas came to Jim. Jim was from a non-Christian home and had only recently come to church at Darrell's invitation.

Max had recalled what the pastor had said last Sunday about the spirit of the gifts we would give and receive. He suggested that each one of us try to give an "Inasmuch" gift. Nancy went home after Sunday School and did not know what Max was talking about, so Max read the scripture, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

Jim said that he had saved some of the money he had earned last summer and was going to give a gift to the Ritthem, Holland, fund which the Hilltop community was sponsoring. Alice hadn't heard the news that the Hilltop was adopting a project to help this town in Holland, so Jim explained it to her. "You see, my brother was killed in Holland and is buried there. I want to show the people in Holland how much I appreciate their placing flowers on his grave."

The teacher had little chance to speak up to this time. Now she asked if others would like to tell what their "Inasmuch" gift would be. Some thought of the children who lived at the Children's Home and said they were going to talk with their parents to see if they could bring them to their homes for Christmas. One boy knew a lonely man who lived nearby who had no relatives, whom he was going to help. Another girl said, "We are going to send a CARE package to the people in Europe." Bob reminded the students that people in Asia needed help, too. He said that many were bringing their special Christmas offerings to the church on Christmas eve so that Christ could be taken to people around the world.

Tom Yates, the Junior High youth president, said, "I think that the best gift we can bring to Christ for His birthday is ourselves." He suggested that they bow their heads in prayer-meditation and give their lives to Christ as Miriam sang the last verse of "O Little Town of Bethlehem". "O Holy Child of Bethlehem, descend to us, we pray; cast out our sin, and enter in; be born in us today. We hear the Christmas angels the great glad tidings tell; O come to us, abide with us, our Lord Emmanuel." After Miriam sang that verse, Janice continued playing the piano while the teacher directed their meditation with these thoughts.



"When you give Christ the best gift—yourself, then Christ is born anew in your life. When you give Christ your life, you have accepted Christ as your Savior and His way of living. Christ brings an inner peace in your life, and that brings "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

The last bell rang as the teacher was ending her short but thankful prayer, and these Christian youth went to the sanctuary to worship and listen to the Christmas sermon, because life had taken on a new meaning for them since they had given the best gift to Christ on Christmas and had promised to live every day for Him.

A Woman's World? 14 Chefs From West's Cooking Classes Not Sure

By Myron T. Seifert

Cooking, especially at the Christmas season is a "tasty" and popular course among West High students.

Boys who have enrolled in the culinary department at the Hilltop school are "out in front" when it comes to preparing food, teachers there say. And the budding chefs don't object to the menial tasks incidental to becoming experts in the field of cooking!

They, like the girls enrolled in the course, do many kitchen chores. They sweep the floors, wash and dry kitchen utensils, wash out the dish towels, scour the sink and utensils when needed, return the kitchen implements to their respective compartments, and perform a host of other duties.

Rumor has it that the boys are proficient in the art already and that West coeds are keeping an alert eye on the boys and their culinary achievements.

Boys who have matriculated in the domestic course include Durward Vincent, Russell Shonting, Raymond Sass, Jerry Imes, John Smalley, Allen Hopkins, Jack Willie, Bill Sanderson, Ronnie Guyton, Walter Meredith, James Martin, Robert Todd, Bill Hill, Bill Cochran.

78 On Starling Jr. Honor Roll

Seventy-eight boys and girls were on Starling's Honor Roll this time. This means that they had all A's and B's and not more than one C.

There were three pupils who had an all A grade card. They were Shirley Carr, Robert Kerwood, and Janet LeVally.

Hillcrest Plans Christmas Eve Candle Service

An impressive late-hour candlelight service is announced by the Hillcrest Baptist Church, to be held Christmas Eve, from 10 to 11 p. m. The service, arranged by the pastor, Rev. A. L. Roth, will utilize a large number of people.

A junior group of candle-bearers costumed in traditional carolers' capes and hoods, shepherds, a youth group and a modern family will constitute an Adoration group, which will assemble for Christmas prayers and devotional moments at a manger shrine beside which a Madonna keeps vigil.

The choir will present selected music, directed by Mrs. A. N. Lanthorn, with Mrs. Paul Crosier at the organ.

Soloists will be Mrs. M. Thompson and Joe Bliss Balthaser.

Carol singing will climax the hour at its close. It is expected that the service will establish a precedent in Hillcrest Baptist Church and will become traditional in the church's Christmas calendar.

Family Helped By Bellows Church Class

Class 13 of the Bellows Avenue Church of the Nazarene has adopted a West Side family which it helped at Thanksgiving, and will again "do for" at Christmas.

F. L. Strahm teaches the class of 20 members, and Vernon Creasap is president.

He began preaching within a year after he was converted and has been preaching for 47 years.

In 1907 he entered the evangelistic field.

Rev. Browning was for ten years pastor of First Church of the Nazarene in Columbus, Ohio, and during those years maintained "The Nazarene Hour" over radio stations WAIU and WHKC. Protest To Liquor Board Of No Avail

In an interview with a Hilltop Record reporter this week Rev. Russell J. Olson revealed the text of his protest at the State Liquor Control Board hearing Dec. 22, to the liquor permit recently granted to James V. Phillips.

Rev. Olson based his charge of contempt on (1) the refusal of the board to grant a postponement of the hearing. Rev. A. J. Wold and other community leaders were out of town. (2) The board's belated appearance, amounting to one hour and five minutes. (3) The attitude of the board toward Harold V. Milke, witness, who asked a question and was told to "shut up". (4) The board's refusal to allow witnesses to examine testimony of previous hearings. (5) The attitude of one board member who chewed gum, turned his back to witnesses and left the room at various instances.

Second contempt charge was aimed at the board's faulty procedure. Basing his objection on Sec. 7, page 10 of the "Regulations of the Ohio Liquor Control Board", entitled "Burden of Proof", which states, "In all such hearings the burden of proof in case of an appeal from any order by the director shall rest upon the appellee," Rev. Olson stated that burden of proof in this case rested on the witnesses and not the holder of the permit.

Olson added that he "and other witnesses did not know they would be on trial and had made no preparation for a lawyer."

Underlying the plea made to the board to re-open the case, by Rev. Olson, Rev. A. J. Wold and M. E. Sensenbrenner and other community leaders is the belief that there are too many liquor outlets in the five-block Hilltop business area on W. Broad-st.

Chairman Walter Mitchell's answer was, "The quota for the city is unfilled." He asked Olson at the hearing if he wished a local option.

Olson said the issue was not a question of dry or wet, but of the extension of new permits, which could prove detrimental to the community.

Rev. Olson has written four letters to Mitchell since the final hearing Dec. 23 requesting further action. None has been answered.
